

...MIST A CONQUEROR

...TALMAGE PUTS OLD TRUTHS IN A NEW GARB.

...Sermon Full of the Well

...March 4.—From the star-

...to BATTLE.

...to go out to

...to a wide difference

...to the stage of this

...to the standard.

...to the battle came.

...to the hour came.

...to the weapons begin

See how faint he looks! There the blood starts, and there, and there, and there. If he is to have re-armorments, let him call them up now. No; he must do this work alone—alone. He is dying. Feel for yourself of the wrist; the pulse is feeble. Feel under the arm; the warmth is less. He is dying. Aye, they pronounce him dead. And just at that moment that they pronounced him dead he rallied, and from his wounds he un-sheathed a weapon which staggered the Roman legions down the hill and hurled the satanic battalions into the pit. It was a weapon of love—infinite love, all conquering love. Mightier than javelin or spear, it triumphed over all. Put back, ye armies of earth and hell!

The tide of battle turns. Jesus hath overcome. Let the people stand apart and make a line that he may pass down from Calvary to Jerusalem, and thence on and out all around the world. The battle is fought. The victory is achieved. The triumphal march is begun. Hark to the hoofs of the warrior's steed and the tramping of a great multitude, for he has many friends now! The hero of heaven and earth advances. Cheer, cheer! "Who is this that cometh from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah—this that is glorious in his raiment, traveling in the greatness of his strength?"

WE BEHOLD HERE A NEW REVELATION OF A blessed and startling fact. People talk of Christ as though he were going to do something grand for us after awhile. He has done it. People talk as though 10 or 20 years from now, in the closing hours of our life or in some terrible pass of life, Jesus will help us. He has done the work already. He did it 1,861 years ago. You might as well talk of Washington as though he were going to achieve our national independence in 1950 as to speak of Christ as though he were going to achieve our salvation in the future. He did it in the year of our Lord 33—1,861 years ago—on the field of Bozrah, the captain of our salvation fighting unto death for you and my emancipation.

All we have to do is to accept that fact in our hearts, and we are free for this world, and we are free for the world to come. But, lest we might not accept, Christ comes through here today "traveling in the greatness of his strength," not to tell you that he is going to fight for you some battle in the future, but to tell you that the battle is already fought and the victory already won.

You have noticed that when soldiers come home from the wars they carry on their flags the names of the battlefields where they were distinguished. The Englishman coming back has on his banner Inkerman and Balaklava; the Frenchman, Jena and Eylau; the German, Versailles and Sedan. And Christ has on the banner he carries as conqueror the names of 10,000 battlefields he won for you and for me. He rides past all our homes of bereavement—by the door-bell swathed in sorrow, by the wardrobe black with woe, by the dismantled forests of our strength.

Come out and greet him today, O ye people! See the names of all the battle passes on his flag. Ye who are poor, read on this ensign the story of Christ's hard crusts and pillowless head. Ye who are persecuted, read here of the ruffians who have chased him from his first breath to his last. Mighty to soothe your troubles, mighty to tread down your foes, "traveling in the greatness of his strength." Though his horse be brown with the dust of the march, and the fetlocks be wet with the carnage, and the bit be red with the blood of your spiritual foes, he comes up now, not exhausted when he went into it—coming up from Bozrah, "traveling in the greatness of his strength."

THE GREAT CONQUEROR. You know that when Augustus and Constantine and Trajan and Titus came back from the wars what a time there was. You know they came on horseback or in chariots, and there were trophies before, and there were people shouting on all sides, and there were garlands flung like a triumphal arch was sprung. The solid masonry today at Benevento, Rimini and Rome still tell their admiration for these heroes. And shall we let our conqueror go without lifting any acclaim? Have we not flowers red enough to depict the carnage, white enough to celebrate the victory, fragrant enough to breathe the joy?

THE HERO OF EARTH AND HEAVEN. The hour came. Oh, what a time it was! I think that that day the universe looked on. The spirits that could be spared from the heavenly temple and could get conveyance of wing or chariot came down from above, and spirits getting furlough from beneath came up; and they listened, and they looked, and they watched. Oh, what an uneven battle! Two worlds armed on one side; an unarmed man on the other. The regiment of the Roman army at that time stationed at Jerusalem began the attack. They knew how to fight, for they belonged to the most thoroughly drilled army of all the world. With spear-glittering in the sun they charged up the hill. The horses prance and rear amid the excitement of the populace—the heels of the riders plunged in the flanks, urging them on.

The weapons begin to tell on Christ.

Before he gets to the infected regions he passes crowded rail trains, regular and extra, taking the flying and affrighted populations. He arrives in a city over which a great horror is brooding. He goes from couch to couch, feeling of pulse and studying symptoms, and prescribing day after day, night after night, until a fellow physician says, "Doctor, you had better go home and rest; you look miserable." But he cannot rest while so many are suffering. On and on until some morning finds him in a delirium, in which he talks of home and then rises and says he must go and look after those patients. He is told to lie down, but he fights his attendants until he falls back, and is weaker and weaker, and dies for people with whom he had no kinship, and far away from his own family, and is hastily put away in a stranger's tomb, and only the fifth part of a newspaper line tells us of his sacrifice—his name just mentioned among five. Yet he has touched the furthest height of sublimity in that three weeks of humanitarian service. He goes straight as an arrow to the bosom of him who said, "I was sick and ye visited me." Life for life. Blood for blood. Substitution!

THE CRIMSON TIDE. Some of our modern theologians who want to give God lessons about the best way to save the world tell us they do not want any blood in their redemption. They want to take this horse by the bit and hurl him back on to his haunches and tell this rider from Bozrah to go around some other way. Look out lest ye fall over the flying hoofs of this horse, lest ye go down under the sword of this conqueror from Bozrah! What means the blood of the pigeons in the old dispensation; the blood of the bullock; the blood of the heifer; the blood of the lamb? It meant to prophesy the cleansing blood, the pardoning blood, the healing blood of this conqueror who comes up from Bozrah, "traveling in the greatness of his strength."

I catch a handful of the red torrent that rushes out from the heart of the Lord, and I throw it over this audience, hoping that one drop of its cleansing power may come upon your soul. O Jesus, in that crimson tide wash our souls! We accept thy sacrifice. Conqueror of Bozrah, have mercy upon us! We throw our garments in the way. We fall into line. Ride on, Jesus, ride on! "Traveling, traveling is the greatness of thy strength."

But after awhile the returning conqueror will reach the gate, and all the armies of the saved will be with him. I hope you will be there and I will be there. As we go through the gate and around about the throne for the review, "a great multitude that no man can number"—all heaven can tell without asking right away which one is Jesus, not only because of the brightness of his face, but because while all the other inhabitants in glory are robed in white—saints in white, cherubim in white, seraphim in white—his robes shall be scarlet, even the dyed garments of Bozrah. I catch a glimpse of that triumphant joy, but the gate opens and shuts so quickly I can hear only half a sentence, and it is this: "Unto him who hath washed us in his blood!"

RAILROAD TIES. The Grand Trunk has paid all its back taxes to the state of Maine. The Jersey Central is going to build a 3-mile branch from Perth Amboy to connect with the factories along the Raritan river. The Canadian Pacific railroad is taking steps to acquire the Windsor and Annapolis and western counties railways in Nova Scotia.

L. G. Ernest of New Orleans has been elected supreme chief inspector of the Car Inspectors' Protective Association of North America. A recent record of one of the Royal Blue line fliers was 54.9 miles in 53 minutes, deducting six minutes for a stop. It was made between Bound Brook, N. J., and Wayne Junction.
