SUGGESTED COMMENT.

Remember the April road convention at Salem.

The Coxe platform is free square meals and flat money.

Another silver coinage bill has been introduced. It will meet with another defeat.

Farmers' Tribune: As a positive political force, Democracy is dead killed by Mr. Cleveland in one year.

Fruit growers, if you would prosper, attend your horticultural meeting at Salem Tuesday April 17th.

Mrs. Amanda Smith, an American colored woman, is now in England lecturing on temperance under the auspices of the Lady Somerset.

C. B. Moore will make as good a speaker of the next legislature as by made a chairman of the Marion county convention. Republicans will see to it that he is elected.

The Democrats have two elephants and an unweaned calf on their hands. The elephants are Grover Cleveland and the government of this country. The calf lives in Oregon.

Warren Cranston, of Silverton, is now talked of for joint-senator from Marion and Clackamas. There is a sentiment growing in favor of a substantial former for that position.

Why do the Democrats not try to pass the silver bill over the president's veto and appeal to the country? That is what they would do if a Republican president had written such a veto.

Job would have something worse than boils if he lived in Oregon and had to listen to Populist orators pour out their steady stream of woe, calamity and flatism for two or three hours at a time.

If Polk county does not propose to help maintain that big bridge over the Willamette then that county had better make over to Marion county the territory that is dependent on that bridge for an outlet.

President Cleveland says this of silver certificates: "We have now outstanding more than $338,000,000 in silver certificates issued under existing laws. They are serving the purpose of money usefully and without question."

The Chicago Inter-Ocean March 18th contains a description of Hall house, a charity that was established to bring about social relations between the wealthy and highly educated and the poor denizens of a tenement house region.

Col. Breckenridge who is on trial for breach of promise to Miss Pollard makes the usual plea. "Man, as I was, I took liberties." Exactly there was where he failed to be a man. The many man takes no liberties. When he does he becomes an animal. The confessions of a base sensual materialism under the plea of manhood are an insult to humanity and society.

Voters should not be misled by lies and rosiaracks against a single man on the Republican ticket. A desperate element of fusionists and malcontents, who belong to no party and represent no principle but discord, who have no case to go before the people with, will resort to lies to strike down a man here or there if they can. They are commencing earlier this year than usual.

We take these figures from Congressman Springer's speech: The aggregate mortgage debt on all real estate, homes and business houses in 41 states is $5,967,492,904. In Nebraska it is $123 per capita. In New York it is $208 per capita. Georgia has only $15 per capita. New York is the richest state in the union. Georgia is the poorest. Illinois has $384,299,150 mortgages recorded, but $219,010,088 are on city property, principally Chicago. Draw your own conclusions.

There is a great deal of talk of cheap raw material in our country. But the cheapest of all cheap raw material in our country is the man who voted for Cleveland in the hope of bettering the condition of the laboring men.

Yamhill County Reporter: Marion county Republicans in their nominating convention instructed their representatives to vote for abolition of the railroad commission, the establishment of maximum freight charges, and reduction of passenger rates to three cents a mile. The railroad commission is an expensive and colossal fraud and the demands of the Marion county fellows will be found to have struck the key note to public sentiment all over the state.

A Populist speaker the other night went of his way to abuse John Knight, present sheriff of Marion county, saying he had never made any money until he got into the sheriff's office, etc. He probably earned more money in one month with his own hands in his blacksmith shop than many of the Populist orators ever earned in a year at honest labor. Most of these professional orators of Populism are in it for revenue only they talk not, neither do they spin. But their whole existence is summed up in one overwhelming desire to get their hands on the county, state and national government.

Republicans, Democratic and Populist campaign committees are at work getting ready for the canvass, in Marion county. The second largest county in the state, and having eight members in the next general assembly, the election here is of more than local importance. Marion county being also the location of the state capital and most of the state institutions, the state at large has an interest in the campaign here. The local issue in Oregon is economic reform. Large taxpayers and the men who laid the foundations of this commonwealth are being fully aroused to the importance of reducing appropriations. The people have lost control of legislation and feel the necessity of some check being put upon extravagant appropriations. This is all the more imperatively demanded because of the prevailing commercial, agricultural and industrial depression. New state officials are to be chosen, with few exceptions. There will be a new legislature. Oregon will start in with a new state government adjusted and adapted or at least it should be—to the necessities of present conditions.

Hon. Thos. Reed in discussing the tariff in congress, said: "We are nominally 70,000,000 people. That is what we are in mere numbers. But as a market for manufactures and choice foods we are potentially 175,000,000 as compared with the next best nation on the globe. Nor is this difficult to prove. Whenever an Englishman earns one dollar an American earns a dollar and sixty cents. I speak within bounds. Both can get the food that keeps body and soul together and the shelter which the body must have for 99 cents. Take 69 cents from a dollar and you have 40 cents left. Take that same 60 cents from the dollar and sixty and you have a dollar left. Just two and a half times as much. That surplus can be spent in choice foods, in home furnishings, in fine clothes and all the comforts of life—in a word, in the products of our manufactures. That makes our population as consumers of products, as compared with the English population, 175,000,000. Their population is 37,000,000 as consumers of products which one century ago were pure luxuries, while our population is equivalent to 175,000,000."

THE SOLDIERS' HOME.

There is a good deal of loose talk about abolishing the soldiers' home in this state. It is already built and a general law provides for $12,000 a year to maintain it. If that were repealed the property would still be on the hands of the state. It is said there is already a $5000 deficiency created by the present board of managers. The people of Oregon are not going to look with favor upon creating any kind of deficits in the future. Appropriations are going to be limited to the actual necessities of the people. The state now has the home on its hands and is pledged to a reasonable sum to maintain it, if it appears that there are veterans of the union armies and Indian wars who are dependent upon the state in sufficient numbers to require such a home. If not it will be abolished. There is this to be said in favor of the soldiers' home, and we have not yet seen the point made: The maintaining of a soldiers' home in Oregon means the expenditure of about $15,000 a year in this state by the general government, as for every old soldier kept there by the state, the general government will contribute $100 toward his support. With an economical management, and that is what the people want and must have if they support it at all, the home need be no great burden on the people of Oregon.

The Nurse's Delight.

Every experienced nurse knows the value of a remedy which, without being an opiate, will relieve soreness of the joints or stiffness of the joints, and enable a patient to sleep quietly and naturally.

Just such a remedy are Alleck's Porous Plasters. Placed on the chest or on the back, if necessary cut into strips and placed over the muscles of the limbs they work marvels in the way of soothing and quieting restlessness. Being perfectly simple and harmless in their composition, they can be used freely, and many a sufferer has thanked them for a night of quiet rest, grateful both to him and those who care for him.

How May Be Running Yet.

Manifestations of fear are various, and there is evidently one woman in New York who believes that she who runs away may live to see another runaway.

A runaway team came tearing down Broadway at a terrific rate the other day. At Thirty-third street the horses decided to turn toward Fifth avenue, and as the only thing which could have stopped them—the big apartment house at that corner—did not get in their way, around the corner they went like a flash, and then they "straked it" for the East River.

In the crowd thereabout was a woman who puts not her trust in runaway horses. When she saw the plunging, galloping team turn to the east she turned to the west. Gathering her skirts in her hands she leaped across Sixth avenue at a fairly good trot.

Reaching the pavement she looked over her shoulder, and seeing that the horses were undoubtedly going in the opposite direction she increased her speed to a sharp canter.

Another backward glance soon showed her own and the exertions of the horses were putting a safe distance between her and danger, they having gone a block from the corner in one direction while she went 50 yards in the other direction, so she was encouraged to get into a lively gallop.

This, together with the speed of the flying animals, was so successful in stretching space between her and them that she settled down for a long, swift run. Nobody in the neighborhood stopped the horses. Nobody stopped her.

Perhaps she is running yet.—New York Tribune.

Every Eye Upon Him.

"I never in my life," said a clergyman to his wife after a sermon in Westminster abbey, "so touched the congregation. They were entranced. Every eye was upon me from the first word to the last."

"No wonder," said his wife. "Your gloves were inside your hat, and when you took it off they remained in top of your head all through the sermon."—London Tit-Bits.

The Great One Cent Daily.
The Daily CAPITAL JOURNAL.
The Peoples' Paper of Oregon.

EVERYBODY WANTS IT. EVERYBODY WILL TAKE IT.

Only $3 00 a year. $1.50 for six months. $1.00 for four months.

No papers sent after time is out for which it is ordered. YOU.—You are the man. If we cannot get you to act, hand this to someone who wants one of these grand premiums for simply getting up a club. Almost anyone will take this paper upon merely seeing it. It sells itself. It is so cheap no one can afford not to have it. It suits readers in city and country of all classes and parties.

An Oregon Newspaper—California news does not suit you—Eastern papers will not answer—This is distinctively the Oregon Newspaper entirely covering Oregon interests.
