THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

The Commissioners Issue a Proclamation.

WARNING THE INDUSTRIAL ARMIES

Not to Assemble at the Nation's Capital.

NEW YORK, April 24.—General Coxe, commander-in-chief of the army of the commonwealth was asked: "How do you view Mr. Cleveland's proposed proclamation concerning your army's visit to the capital?" He replied: "We shall march on to Washington regardless of Mr. Cleveland's proclamation. Before he can legally make any movement against us he will have to get us to violate some law. It would be in violation of the constitution for him to prohibit our right of free speech in the capital."

DENVER, April 24.—A movement has originated in this city looking to the home reserve of the Coxe army. The idea is to form a home guard to show their sympathy with the active members of the army in a substantial manner and to lend them encouragement and aid. It is the intention of promoters to extend this organization to every state in the union.

Commissioners of the District of Columbia yesterday issued a proclamation regarding the Industrial army now moving on to Washington. The proclamation says: "The commissioners, while in entire sympathy with all people out of employment and having no desire or purpose to deal harshly with all honest men who seek relief by reasonable and lawful means, are in duty bound to give notice to those who are tempted under any pretext to come here, that there are a great number of unemployed persons already here, that there is neither work for them nor means for their maintenance in the district; that the law does not permit soliciting of alms in our streets; that it is possible by surrendering the duties on wool, copper, lead ore and some other articles, to negotiate similar arrangements with Mexico, Chile, Uruguay and the Argentine Republic, whose foreign trade annually exceeds $500,000,000 and whose imports annually pass $250,000,000. All the articles I name, except lead ore, are placed upon the free list, without asking anything in return or giving an opportunity by diplomatic negotiations to secure valuable concessions for the benefit of our farmers and mechanics. Not only does this bill repudiate and reject all advantages that have been obtained for our producers in the Southern nations, but it throws away forever the prospect of obtaining a market for at least $100,000,000 of the surplus products of our farms and factories. The only increase in our trade the past year was with the reciprocity countries."

Coxeyism is Endorsed.

DENVER, Colorado, April 24.—Governor White delivered a political address before nearly 4000 people at the Coliseum Sunday night. He began his remarks by denouncing the old political parties as corruptionists and bribers, and declared the Populists party the only honest one in existence, and that through its influence only can the country be saved from passing into the hands of plutocracy. The governor expressed himself as decidedly opposed to any international conference having for its purpose the settlement of the silver question. He believed such a conference would be controlled by the gold advocates of Wall street and England, and the result would be a ratio virtually a gold standard, and the further depreciation of silver and the retirement of silver coin and silver certificates in America. The only way to settle the question, he declared, was for each state to coin her own silver dollar of 37 grains of fine silver, regardless of any action congress may take upon the subject.

Speaking of the commonwealth army now on its way to Washington, he declared the men were honest and upright unemployed laboring men, exercising a privilege any citizen had a right to, and said: "This cause is just and they should be aided in their march instead of hindered. Were I called upon to order out the militia against them as Governor Jackson, of Iowa, and West, of Utah, did, I would probably do so, but it would only be the commissary department. Were those men going to Washington to demand the issuance of $600,000,000 of government bonds, or to advocate the funding of the Pacific railway bonds, congress would take a recess to receive them, and the railroad companies would send them to Washington in palace instead of cattle cars and take them home again free of charge."

Washburn on the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Washburn addressed the senate in opposition to the bill, opposing strongly the repeal of the reciprocity treaties already existing and favoring and applying the same principles in all our foreign trade. He then went on to say:

"You will find, Mr. President, that the abrogation of these arrangements will be a most unpopular piece of legislation congress has enacted or will enact, and it will be resented by the citizens of the Southern republics and colonies, as well as by the people of the United States. The United States stands in a position to command and control the greater share of the trade of the tropical portion of the Southern colonies, and it is possible, by surrendering the duties on wool, copper, lead ore and some other articles, to negotiate similar arrangements with Mexico, Chile, Uruguay and the Argentine Republic, whose foreign trade annually exceeds $500,000,000 and whose imports annually pass $250,000,000. All the articles I name, except lead ore, are placed upon the free list, without asking anything in return or giving an opportunity by diplomatic negotiations to secure valuable concessions for the benefit of our farmers and mechanics. Not only does this bill repudiate and reject all advantages that have been obtained for our producers in the Southern nations, but it throws away forever the prospect of obtaining a market for at least $100,000,000 of the surplus products of our farms and factories. The only increase in our trade the past year was with the reciprocity countries."

A hot exchange of compliments followed. Many of the Sacramento division announce their intention to split at Atlantic, and follow Speed to Washington.

Nahor is now in custody, and Horn is at the hospital.

About the Tariff.

that the Wilson bill had many defects and that it professed to raise revenue, while really creating a deficit of $50,000,000. He concludes by declaring he is willing to stand or fall by the present bill, which he says, makes far heavier reductions on the necessities of life than either the Mills, Morrison or Wilson bill.

MULTNOMAH COUNTY FUSION.

Democrats and Populists Unite on a Ticket.

PORTLAND, April 24.—Fusion on the Multnomah county ticket was effected last night by the Democrats and Populists. The Democratic convention made the following nominations: Senator W. W. Thayer; county judge, John Catlin; sheriff, D. W. Taylor; surveyor, O. Fletcher; coroner, Joseph Hughes. The ticket will be completed by the Populists from their ticket nominated some time ago.

PORTLAND, April 24.—The Democrats of Multnomah county last night adopted a fusion platform and ticket in the interest of Governor Pennoyer for United States senator. W. W. Thayer was nominated for state senator, only three out of six representatives, and the county ticket.

THE POPULISTS FUSE.

The proposition submitted to the Populists by the Democratic committee of conferences was as follows:

"First—That the Populists withdraw their candidates for state senator, three representatives, district attorney, sheriff, county judge, surveyor and coroner.

"Second—That the Democrats pledge the Populists to nominate Chapman, their candidate for state senator, as a representative.

"Third—That the Democrats make no nomination for municipal judge in consideration of the Populists leaving vacant the nomination of district attorney.

"Fourth—That the Democratic nominee for sheriff give to the present Populist party nominee for that office the first deputyship in that office.

"Fifth—That in consideration of leaving the nomination of coroner vacant, the People's party nominee for such position shall be appointed city physician.

"Sixth—It is also expressly understood that the nominee for state senator shall be acceptable to the Populists, pledge himself in writing to support the initiative and referendum, and to never vote for J. N. Dolph or any other man for United States senator who would not pledge himself to support free coinage of silver.

"Seventh—That the candidate for mayor in bestowing his patronage after election should give to the Populists equal representation on all commissions appointed by him."

After a lively debate in the Populist convention, the report and recommendation of the committee were adopted by a vote of 70 to 15.

It was returned to the Democratic convention and Chairman Fenton read the report from the Populist convention. It was an approval of the Democrats' proposition, and was received with tremendous cheering. It is proposed to extend the fusion arrangement to the state ticket.

Fused Again.

PORTLAND, April 24.—Democrats and Populists fused on city ticket today. Independent Republicans were given a cold shoulder. R. D. Iman (Democrat) was nominated for mayor.

DENOUNCING THE POPULISTS.

A Prominent Farmer and Once Populist

DENOUNCES THE PENNOYER PARTY

As Composed of Old Wornout Political Demagogues.

John A. Hunt, a prominent farmer, and a man who has served in the Oregon legislature, who last year made the canvass on the Populist ticket, and a man who has always been identified with reform movements, was in the city Monday. He was interviewed by a JOURNAL writer as to why he was not laboring more zealously in the cause of the Populists and replied as follows: "I am not doing much to advance the interests of the present reform move, called Populism, which in truth, in Oregon, should be christened Pennoyerism. I am a reformer from principle, and have been laboring for years to get some reform through the dominant parties.

"When I supported the Populists two years ago I thought they were in earnest, and I believe that the rank and file are. But a political party, like a government, never gets above or more virtuous than its leaders.

"It certainly would be an agreeable thought to know that those who are leading our political reform, were unselfish in their purpose. But when the chairman of the county central committee, a prominent Populist leader, and candidate before the people two years ago for legislative honors, intercepted a colleague on the streets of Salem, and insisted that he join him in chartering one of the saloons of the city, for the purpose of influencing votes on election day—one of the very leading evils they are billed to reform, it leaves no question, as to the purity of such men's motives. It shows rottenness clear to the core.

"It argues that a man who would place such a low estimate upon the voting franchise of his countrymen, would probably fix a very cheap estimate upon the value of his own, and demands at the polls, on the first Monday in June, a befitting rebuke at the hands of every true patriot, who seeks to promote the best interests of good government. It further indicates that the popular leaders of our boasted reform, are a flaunting farce, and that their purity seems to be sadly dwarfed through their greed to partake of the loaves and fishes.

"The party have put some good men in the field, and among them is J. W. Jory, who is pure, capable, accommodating and a pleasant gentleman; his convictions are honest and he possesses the courage of them. Such men are usually found in the rear guard of our political reformations. It gives color and standing to its head.

"When I discovered that the party leaders were largely worn out political demagogues, that had been in and out of, and after office, all their mature lives and had exchanged every golden opportunity to help the farmers for a favorable chance to advance their own individual interests, I knew that the party was overloaded and doomed to a defeat of its purpose.

"I heard a minister of the gospel once say, in referring to a class of men that would lose every opportunity to embrace religion, until they got old and just ready to die. Then they would turn their eyes heavenward, and with their expiring breath say, 'Lord Jesus, I accept Thy truth.' The preacher said, 'The best that can be done for such hardened sinners, is to let them sink down into hell quickly.'

"So these old politicians, who have wasted every chance to do good by lifting up labor, and economizing in government, until they have grown gray in the service of party corruption, need hardly expect at such a late hour in their political life, to inspire the con-
