THE MURDEROUS COAL MINERS

Strikers Attack the Deputies and kill Several.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEES AT WORK.

The Trouble at Cripple Creek Possibly Settled.

SCOTSDALE, Penn., May 28.—Three Hungarian strikers proceeded to get through the lines of deputies at the Meher Coke works at 11 o'clock last night and Geo. B. Keffler, chief watchman, attempted to arrest them. One shot Keffler in the breast, inflicting probably fatal wounds. The Hungarians fled, and as they ran, Keffler raised himself from the ground and fired six shots. Blood along the road indicated that the shots took effect.

The body of an unknown man, supposed to be Deputy Woolman, was found at Fayette Creek yesterday. His head and face were battered out of substance to human features, and the clothing nearly stripped off his body.

Strikers Organizing.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 28.—Despite the efforts at arbitration the strikers have not abated their preparations for warfare, defensive or aggressive. Three new forts sprung up on Bull Hill. The four forts are said to be occupied by 1,000 men. They are provisioned and prepared for a siege in every way except a large supply of water. A troop of cavalry has been organized.

The Troops Recalled

DENVER, May 27.—At 5 o'clock Sunday morning Gov. Waite recalled his order for the troops to start for Cripple Creek. He passed the night considering the various phases of the situation, and decided the law should take its course. The troops are, however, held in readiness to move at an hour's notice.

Reinforcements.

POMEROY, Ohio, May 28.—At 8 a. m. a steamboat load of miners passed down the river to move on Senator L. Camden's works at Spalman, W. Va. They will be reinforced by land forces. The miners are not armed, and propose to camp at the mouth of the mine until it is shut down.

Conference Asked.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Col., May 28.—The deputies have moved up to the Midland terminal, where they have gone into camp. The union has appointed a committee to go to Colorado Springs and confer with the mine owners in regard to arbitration.

To Move Trains.

MINONK, Ill., May 28.—Col. Duncan with four companies of militia, arrived here today to move the Illinois Central trains, that have been delayed by strikers.

Bridge Gives Way.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., May 28.—A fatal accident occurred on the Northern Pacific, near Lappenish station, 18 miles east of North Yakima, at an early hour Sunday morning, as the result of the prevailing flood. An East-bound freight went through a bridge, crossing a slough, burying Fireman Ed. Morrell beneath the wreck. Engineer Charles Wirth, of Ellensburg, jumped as the engine was going down.

PENNOYER'S RECORD.

The Journal Representative at Macleay.

SCORES A PRETENTIOUS REFORMER.

To the Satisfaction of an Immense Audience.

THE MAN WHO BETRAYS HIS PARTY.

And Has Betrayed the People at Every Point.

An immense crowd of people witnessed with eminent satisfaction and frequent bursts of applause the exhortation of the political and official record of Governor Pennoyer at Macleay on Friday afternoon. The Republican and Democratic candidates were both there that day and several of the speakers yielded their time to Mr. Hofer to enable him to reply to the governor as follows:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—Governor Pennoyer, in his speech at this place devoted a good deal of his time to me, and I am told he is seeking to defeat my election to the legislature. I am sure he would not depart from his usual custom and single me out for attack, if as editor of THE JOURNAL I had never criticized his official acts. The right of a newspaper to show up the shortcomings of so pretentious a reformer and unsparing a critic of other men cannot be disputed. At the risk of incurring the further ill-will of his excellency, the governor of Oregon, let us review together some parts of his official record not yet made public. The people do not expect perfection of any man. Governor Pennoyer was elected as not a mere partisan, but as a champion of the people, and as such he must stand or fall. The people of this state had a right to expect that in matters of public economy he would not be guilty of the same abuses that he had criticized in other departments of our state government.

They had a right to expect that he would expose jobbery and corruption instead of standing in with it. They expected that he would rebuke extravagance instead of increasing the burdens of the people by enlarging his emoluments. They expected that he would impose his imperial power of veto in their behalf instead of joining in the scramble for spoils of office and salary-grabbing at the expense of the taxpayers. In all these respects they find that they have been disappointed and betrayed by a pretentious reformer.

It may seem egotistic for a mere aspirant to the lower branch of the legislature to reply to a candidate for United States senator. But a cat may look at a king. An editor of a ONE CENT DAILY may review the record of a governor of Oregon. The humblest Democrat or Republican may express his opinion about the biggest demagogue or official in the land, and I would prefer being doorkeeper in the house of the Lord to being a candidate for president on the Populist ticket. (Great laughter.) While the governor spent considerable time in ridicule and personal abuse, he never replied to a single criticism or charge that I have ever published against him. He could not answer, because I have never published ought but the truth, commending him when he did well, but denouncing him when he did wrong.

You know it is his habit to get his meals at the state house and never come down town and mingle with the business men and citizens of this county upon any occasion. He varied his custom once in this respect, when he came down to THE JOURNAL office to personally thank us for fair treatment. We have always printed his speeches and messages in full. While I was present in this hall when the governor spoke and was called out to reply, I did not deem it proper. There is a certain respect due the office of chief executive in our state and nation, and I did not wish to follow the capricious example of a Pennoyer, who has not hesitated to insult both Democratic and Republican presidents whenever he has had an opportunity. (Applause.)

You will all recall a remarkable scene that transpired in Oregon, when ten thousand Democrats sought to give expression to their rejoicings as American citizens over the victory of their party, and the governor called out the militia to prevent their using the state cannon on that occasion.

Pennoyer emphatically refused to allow a salute to be fired over the election of a president by the same party that had howled itself hoarse over his election as governor. But the Democrats of Marion county would not be dictated to by their own governor and his militia. They captured the cannon, fired their salute in honor of Cleveland under the state house windows, the great commander of the Oregon militia fled to Portland, where they sent him the following telegram: "Governor Pennoyer—we have got your gun and are firing it over your political grave." And a shout went up all over Oregon in denunciation and repudiation of his attempted political tyranny. (Laughter and applause.)

Democrats of Oregon, we invite you to the burial which will take place on the first Monday in June. (Laughter.) Turn out to the funeral. It is your funeral, not ours. Let us bury the corpse so deep that the ugly form of political treachery will never be resurrected. (Applause.)

The Democrats of Oregon are no longer bowing down at the feet of this demagogue. The Democrats of other states are not. He went to Seattle this spring and made a great speech the night before election. The city went 3500 Republican. If the result of his speech-making tour in this campaign turns out no better he will never parade his vagaries in the senate of the United States.

The governor in his speech at Macleay said the last legislature was not a corrupt one, and that not a single member thereof was influenced by corrupt motives. For a party whose whole stock in trade is the extravagance and corruption of that legislature, Pennoyer takes a singular position as a Populist. But a man who can flatter Coxe's army of tramps for their votes, and in the same breath slur the honest, virtuous womanhood of Oregon can do almost anything. I have always denounced the extravagance of that legislature in hiring clerks. Scores were employed who were not needed. Scores were paid $3 to $5 a day for the whole session when they performed not a week's work. I believe it is an abuse that should be abolished root and branch. But I will not allow even the governor to insult the women of Oregon, as Pennoyer did on this floor when he referred to a bachelor senator from Portland as giving clerkships to a dozen of his young lady friends, leaving the innumerable that their relations were immoral.

The presence of the women in our legislature has a salutary influence, and redeems that body from degenerating into a disorderly, cigar-smoking mob, with their feet upon the desks. We need the elevating and refining influence of women in more of our state institutions, but we do not need so many on the pay-rolls as committee clerks. (Applause.)

Governor Pennoyer says there was no corruption in the last legislature! How does it happen that a member from Eastern Oregon got a clause inserted that the site for the asylum to be located there should not cost over $25,000, how finally he insisted on having it located in the county of this member, how a political friend of the governor happened to have this identical piece of land worth exactly $25,000, and how the governor insisted on closing the deal, when at the last moment he was stopped by an injunction, but declared

"As old as the hills" and never excelled. "Tried and proven" is the verdict of millions. Simmons' Liver Regulator is the only Liver and Kidney medicine to which you can pin your faith for a cure. Of all practical men of whom America is justly proud no one holds a higher place than the late Cyrus W. Field. His son shows that he has inherited the shrewd common sense of the man who laid the Atlantic cable. He writes: 8 EAST 56TH STREET, NEW YORK, May 8, 1883.

Several times this winter I have suffered from severe colds on my lungs. Each time I have applied Alcock's Porous Plasters, and in every instance I have been quickly relieved by applying one across my chest and one on my back. My friends, through my advice, have tried the experiment and also found it most successful. I feel that I can recommend them most highly to any who may see fit to try them.
