The squirrel and gopher scalp nuisance cost the county $6.20 yesterday.....A delightful cool clear day for the races or anything else for that matter.....Mrs. Miller, residing on the Poole farm near this city, while feeding one of the family horses yesterday had the end of the third finger of her left hand nipped off. She was giving the horse a handful of grass, resulting in the above injury.

MARRIED.

WICHSER—BOOTH—In Salem, June 20, 1894, by Rev. P. S. Knight, Mrs. Varina Wichser to J. C. Booth, both of Salem.

The groom is a well known pioneer of this county, and a leading real estate man of this city. The bride is since many years a resident of South Salem, and, together with the husband of her choice, they are highly respected and beloved by all who know them.

LOWNSDALE—McNARY.—At the residence of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Gray, on State street, June 20, 1894, Miss Rita Lownsdale to Mr. H. P. McNary, both of Salem, Rev. G. W. Grannis officiating.

The cermony was performed in the parlors of the Gray residence in the presence of the families and a few old family friends at 12 o'clock high noon. The bride and groom were accompanied through the trying ordeal by Wilson D. McNary and Miss Gussie Lownsdale. A dinner was served to forty odd guests, of which a score or more were Grays.

The bride is the oldest daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Lownsdale. She wore a silk demi-train. She carried some white roses and presented a charming appearance, being one of the capital city's prettiest daughters, a great favorite and as good as she is pretty. Mr. McNary has been cashier with the Williams & England Banking Co., for many years and like the bride is a representative of one of Salem's oldest families, enjoying an envirable position socially and in every way.

Mr. and Mrs. McNary, escorted by a score of friends, were driven in a carriage to the 1:40 train for Portland, and will visit the sound cities and Victoria, B. C., before returning to Salem where they will make their future home.

Professional Rivalry.

A surgeon met the son of a friend of his in the Calle Alcala and said to him:

"How is this, Pepito? You here is your leg all right now?"

"Yes," replied Pepito.

"Who cured it for you?"

"Your colleague, Dr. Galindez."

"Allow me one question. How much did Dr. Galindez charge for his attendance?"

"Fifteen hundred pesetas."

"That's a lot of money. If you had called me in, I would for the same price have cut off your leg!"—Exora.

NOTES OF THE TRUF.

The track is in better shape than ever before. There were never so many horses at the grounds at a June race before in Oregon.

The first day's attendance in spite of hard times has surpassed any previous record. The attendance from the country threatens to be very large.

The blacksmiths of the state grounds; Gardner & Darr, were very busy all this week, and give good satisfaction to all requiring plating done.

The bar this year is conducted by Mart. Childers, the Salem man, and judging from the crowds there is money still in the country.

Perry Manzey returned from the Indepence races crowned with glory. He brought Argo, Archie S, Old Gold, and Jim. Lotan with him.

W. M. McMullen won the pacing race at Independence, with the beautiful brown mare, Juliette, in two straight heats, time 2:31½; 2:32½. Juliette is five years old, sired by Tibalt, dam Son of Vermont. FIRST ORDER.—The first of the new series of money orders at reduced rates was issued from the Salem postoffice to Miss Agnes Gilbert for 25 cts., payable on the Indianapolis, Ind., office. The young lady will have to go there to collect it, but Postmaster Gilbert will not insist upon it, as he issued it to his little daughter more as a souvenir or memento of one of the reform achievements of this administration. The order is made out with a notched margin like an express order.

THE FLOOD.—The Columbia and tributary rivers continue to fall; since the 7th, when the maximum height was reached, the river has fallen six feet. At 9 a. m. of the 19th it read 27 feet. At The Dalles the river has fallen from 59 5 feet to 46 feet; the water now being off the streets of The Dalles. The water yet covers a portion of the business streets of Portland, but within the next sixty hours the streets will again be clear. The conditions are favorable for a continued fall in the height of the rivers.

HIS MISTAKE.—An old Salemite, who has been sitting on juries for a week or more says: "It was once thought that lawyers were to bring out what there was for and against a man. But the practice has changed. Their object seems to be now to let out as little information about him as possible, and rulings of the court to that end. This leaves the jury to grope after the facts in the dark, as best they may. But in spite of this we have averaged sending one a day to the penitentiary."

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS.—First papers declaring hymenial intent were taken out today by Rosa M. Davis and Radway T. Stephens, of Hazel Green, T. J. Lousignant, witness. Also by Rita Lownsdale and H. P. McNary, of Salem, F. K. Lovell, witness.

SPOT CASH.—After July 1st all fees at the offices of county clerk, recorder and sheriff will be payable cash in advance. These offices will be paid a salary after that date, and as all fees go to the county they must be paid spot cash.

COYOTE SCALPS.—D. Foster brought in five wolf scalps today from the foothills, and got $25 bounty. He says the sheep destroying wolves are becoming very scarce, and was a happy man after drawing his warrant.

TWO CONS.—Sheriff Hailey, of Umatilla, brought to the pen today Chas. Montgomery for assault with a weapon, two years, and Dave Johnson for stealing a mare, one and one-half years.
