House Cleaning Day.

One of the busiest places in town Saturday was Hattie & Lawrence's cash grocery. Farm teams were unloading produce and fruit, customers were carrying off armfuls of the staples, delivery wagons were sliding out in all directions. Small margins and wide-awake methods have built a fine trade for the postoffice grocery. 3 t dw

BIG BUSINESS TODAY.

Judge Edes' Police Court Crowded With Hobos and a Drunk.

The camp of hobos that have infested the grounds about the depot and up and down the Southern Pacific railroad track for several days were gathered in by the Salem police Sunday evening and put in the city jail, when they appeared before the police judge this morning. Their names were given as Dan O'Donald, Frank Wells, John Kelly, Harry Cramer, Thom. Graham, J. B. Fayant, John O'Neal, Chas. Parker, Johnnie Murry, Ole Olson, Geo. Brown, John Mullen, Andrew Johnson, Mike O'Connell, Emil Weber, and Peter Rene. They were all found in a boxcar and are charged with vagrancy.

ONE DRUNK. John McCue was up for a plain drunk and paid a light fine.

PERSONAL.

E. M. Waite is recovering from a severe attack of fever.

Chas. T. Ford went to Albany today to sell a Concert Grand piano.

Jas. Kyle went to Albany today for the Oregon Fruit & Produce Co.

Major F. E. Hodgkin, assistant state treasurer, spent Sunday in Portland.

Rev. Whiteman, of Turner, occupied the Presbyterian pulpit at Independence yesterday.

H. J. Workman went to Sodaville today to join his family for a week. They have been there for six weeks.

Major D. C. Sherman went to Roseburg today to hold a term of military court for the Oregon National Guard.

Mrs. John Dennis and daughter have removed from Portland to Salem. Mrs. Dennis is a sister of Mrs. F. N. Gilbert.

Mrs. F. H. Gwynne and daughter Edith left this morning for a visit to Wales and Great Britain. Rev. Gwynne accompanied them as far as Portland.

Dist. Atty. Jas. McCain, Stenographer Pogue and Attorney Geo. G. Bingham, went to Albany today to attend court. Judge Burnett went up Sunday evening.

M. Scheydecker, of Salem, an architect and landscape gardener, is spending a few days in Ashland. Mr. Scheydecker had charge of the laying-out and ornamentation of the capitol grounds this spring.

Prof. P. A. Getz, formerly of Ashland, will remove with his family this summer from Monmouth to Ellensburg, Wash., where he is to take the principalship of the new State Normal school for which the Washington legislature has made provision.

TURF TOPICS.

Jack, 2:12, has been shod all round with aluminum shoes.

Collingwood says, "Bottom beats speed in the long run."

A. D. Heal, prominent in horse circles at Bellevue, O., was recently elected to the majority of that city.

Stafford, Kan., a burg of 900 souls, has formed a trotting and pacing association and built a half mile track.

An advertisement in a Lexington paper offers an extensive line of gold and silver "unredeemed" horse timers for sale at low prices.

There is a hackney mare in Alexander Morton's Gowbank stud, near Glasgow, which last year produced a foal when 27 years of age.

Robert Bonner has been elected president of the Scotch-Irish Society of America, which held its sixth annual congress at Des Moines recently.

At Calcutta a betting man is not allowed to lay odds until he has planked $700 with the club, which holds the amount until satisfied that he has paid all claims.

Polo in Chicago is now assured. Twenty ponies have arrived from Indian Territory, which, with the others already in the city, will afford satisfactory selections.

Sir Claude de Crespigny, a noted English cross country rider, walked 44 miles the other day between breakfast and dinner time just to reduce his weight by two pounds.—Horsman.

RAILROAD TIES.

Good railroad ties are expected to last eight years.

The pay rolls of the Big Four show that there are employed on the system 643 station agents.

The average rate of dividend paid on railroad stock in the United States in 1893 was 2.11 per cent.

Italy loses $40,000,000 annually on the railways run by the state. That is as much as her army costs her.

The National Association of Railway Surgeons is going to publish a paper devoted to the growing interest of that branch of surgery and will call it The Railway Surgeon.

There has been a dispute among the members of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid association as to whether they were obliged to participate in the insurance department of the association. The grand lodge has decided that they must.

IN THE HOP FIELDS.

Half a Crop in Washington - Big Prospects in Oregon.

Puyallup Citizens: No market. Lice are not increasing, but growers ready to spray at any time.

Though the vines have made a fair length they are slow at arming owing to the lateness of the season. This is due to the constant cold rains and cloudy weather. The growth of this season has been made in about 15 days of good, warm weather. Growers do not estimate anything like a full crop unless there is a sudden change of conditions.

News comes from all the districts of Washington and British Columbia, on the coast side of the mountains, that the cold late weather has kept the vines from making a good arming and as they have made good length there is little hope of arms growing of a size to insure a full crop. But half a crop is now expected, though the good, growing weather of this week may, if followed by propitious circumstances, change things for the better.

IN OREGON.

Barlow Three Sisters: The yards in this section are in excellent shape. The arms are three and four feet long and very thick. The crop will be early and heavy. No lice are yet reported.

INDEPENDENCE WEST SIDE.

E. C. Merrill says that since May the growing weather has been excellent in Oregon, where there has been less cold than on the Sound, and as a consequence, the vines have thrown out vigorous arms. The flood has done no damage in the larger districts above Oregon City. He estimates a 20 per cent increase of acreage above that point.

IN LONDON.

English hops are practically exhausted. The few remaining are held firmly for an advance in price.

States continue to arrive in moderate quantities, but as quality does not show any improvement, we cannot at present raise our quotations. Choice grades are wanted and would doubtless realize a fair sum, if such could be found.

Pacifics are receiving a little more attention owing to the scarcity of English. Prices, however, do not show any actual rise. Quotations are only nominally higher, for it is difficult to realize a trifle more when it comes to business. The price of Pacifics ought, in view of the general position, to be much higher than at present. Since they were let down with a run in December, they have dropped continually. They are now being offered here at very cheap prices by American sellers. It seems that recovery can only be hoped for in case of the English crop going unfavorable.

THE ANNUAL FIZZLE.—Judging from methods employed, the state fair will again wind up with a big deficit to be made up out of the state treasury, instead of being a self-sustaining institution. Nobody cares particularly about its proving an annually recurring dismal failure, but the public who pay taxes are interested in stopping the drain on their pocketbooks.

WILL LEAVE SALEM.—A great many people were pained to hear Rev. Dr. Freeland announce from the Congregational pulpit Sunday morning that he expected to leave Salem September first. He has been pastor of the First Congregational church a year and the society and Salem people generally will not willingly part with Mr. Freeland.

A HORSE THIEF.—James Finnegan, sentenced 2 1/2 years for horse-stealing, was today brought to the pen by Sheriff Fell, accompanied T. W. Halliday the sheriff-elect.

TO-NIGHT.—Remember the fine bible panorama at the A. M. E. church.

LADIES.—When you are in need of fruit jars or extra tops and rubbers, remember J. A. Van Eaton has a good supply. Also choicest fruits at remarkably low prices.

ALWAYS PAYS.—When building, it always pays to get the best materials into your foundation, hence go to the Salem Improvement Co. for your supplies, 97 State street.

DIED.

HANSON.—At the home of her son-in-law, Mr. Robinson, Silverton at 11 a. m. Sunday, June 24, 1894, aged about seventy years, Mrs. Hanson, of Paisley.

Mrs. Hanson was ailing for several weeks but died of old age as much as anything. She was the mother of Mrs. Ben S. Cook of this city, and has four daughters and two sons in Oregon.

The funeral takes place at Newberg today at 4 p. m. Salem people who knew Mrs. Hanson will be pained to hear of her passing away, and a large number attended the funeral.

WILLAMETTE NOTES.

Messrs. Robnett, De Neui, Martin and Brown are the only students left on the campus.

President Hawley spent two days in Portland this week, looking after the interests of the University and among other things of the new gymnasium.

Mr. C. J. Atwood started out on Wednesday, in search of prospective students, whom he may induce to attend at Willamette next year. Quite a number are expected to accept the inducements given.

Mr. Robnett, the librarian, is busily engaged in changing the museum to new quarters, room 22, the one used this year for a gym., and a part of the books of the library in the former museum room making that a room for the books of reference, congressional records, etc.

No students will room in the University building next year, above the basement. The dormitory rooms on the fourth floor will be used in departments of science. The bell ringer's room will be used for a small laboratory, and room 18 on the third floor, occupied by F. E. Brown, will be used for a committee room and office for the Y. M. and Y. W. C. associations. The cottages on the campus will hereafter be used by students.

A number of the students paid a visit to Monmouth on last Tuesday, on the event of their field day, expecting that as this was not their first, there would be much for them to learn, having had but one such occasion at home. But they came home feeling that "Willamette" was not behind the times by a good deal, and as far as reports come to us her field day has led the van for this year's work, in enthusiasm, quantity and quality of work done.

Gen. Odell and wife have taken rooms for the summer in the Woman's college, Dean Hanes and mother, and the janitor's family being the other occupants.

A Wheat Aphid.

Prof. Washburn, of the State Agricultural college, writes McGill & McDonald, the Salem armenians, as follows concerning a wheat pest, under date June 21st:

"Your favor of the 20th with specimens received. The insects are the 'wheat aphid' (aphis avenae) and your letter is the seventh inquiry I have received within two days regarding the pest. In the East this aphid has at times proved very destructive to grain and may become so here. On the other hand, it may be kept in check by minute parasites which are even now working upon it. It is said that late rains are hostile to its increase. There is no practical remedy to be used now. Spraying the standing grain with a weak kerosene emulsion will kill the aphid but is not practiced where a large acreage is concerned. As soon as wheat or other grain, is harvested, burn the stubble, and all the straw, weeds, litter and waste of all kinds in and about the field. If you had burned your oats first, supposing they were not to green for this operation, it would have been better than simply plowing them under. T. L. WASHBURN.

FROM JEFFERSON.

Fred Hoekspler has painted his new harness shop.

The dance given at Smith & Jones' hall last Wednesday night was well attended.

Quite a number of Jeffersonites attended the picnic at Jeffrey's grove last Wednesday.

George Witherrite who was called home by the illness of his father returned Saturday and reported that his father was improving some.

J. W. Looney went to Portland last Tuesday as a delegate to the grand lodge of the A. O. U. W.

It is reported that the J. C. B. boys and other invited guests had quite a pleasant time at the beautiful farm home of Hon. J. B. Looney's last Saturday evening. The evening was spent in music and dancing until between eleven and twelve o'clock when a splendid supper was served, after which the many young friends of Mr. and Mrs. Looney, wishing them many such parties as this one took their departure for their many homes.

STAGE GLINTS.

Florrie West goes with "The Dazzler" company next season.

A business building will occupy the site of the burned Albany theater.

Low Benedict, the old time minstrel, has appeared on the continuous performance stage.

Tessie Butler Stevens, wife of John A. Stevens, has fallen heir to $46,000 by the death of an aunt in California.

Frank Daniels and Bessie Sanson were married at Rye, N. Y., recently and sailed for Europe immediately.

Harry C. Cashman and wife—Evelyn Temple—have been re-engaged by Charles A. Loder for "Oh, What a Night!"

Bessie Cleveland, the actress, and Dr. John A. Burke of this city were recently married. The bride will retire from the theater.

Brenham, Tex., has an amateur actor named John Watson, whose friends predict great success for him on the professional stage.

It is reported that B. F. Keith will advance his continuous performance idea in the west, and that he has secured for that purpose Pike's Opera House, Cincinnati.

Namie Craddock has sailed for England. She will support E. S. Willard during his London engagement, playing her original parts in "The Middleman" and "The Professor's Love Story."

THE SUMMER GIRL.

The sailor hat seems to be a sort of perennial. It differs but little from those worn some seasons back.

A pretty turban has a trimming of satin loops and ostrich tips. One rather long plume curls back over the hair.

Waists of fancy silk, the fronts shirred in at the shoulders and waist line, are worn with skirts in black and all colors.

Dresses of black and tan are all the rage. Black velvet, with tan colored cloth, or vice versa, makes an exceedingly effective costume.

A round hat is trimmed with a butterfly bow exactly in front. The effect is somewhat peculiar, as the loops of the bow at some distance resemble ears.

A stylish blouse is made on the old time Norfolk plan, with wide, flat plaids. There are bishop's sleeves and very wide revers of moire, a moire belt and collar with narrow galloon trimming.

The fashion for dressing the hair seems to be tending toward concealing the ears. Some of the new fashion plates have the hair in a fluffy mass that covers the ears altogether, others merely show the tips. The hair is much more puffed out than heretofore, and the prediction is made that any amount of false hair will become necessary.—New York Ledger.

JEWELRY NOTES.

Belt buckles are even increasing in popularity.

The big towel rings of twisted silver are highly desirable.

New watch supports are uprights of silver covered with blue velvet. A fanciful piece below is meant to hold stickpins.

A big pearl in the embrace of a green enamel serpent is a stickpin. The snake seems to think it an egg and has intentions of swallowing it.
