SUGGESTED COMMENT.

Bill Dalton and the Oregon Democracy were killed about the same time in 1894.

Exit—a score or two of unfledged Populist newspapers. On their tombstones will be written: Died, of early political summer complaint.

It was a Republican victory in New York that made possible the investigation of police methods in New York by the Lexow committee, which is startling the world in those parts every day.

Governor Hogg of Texas is travelling; in the commercial centers of the Mississippi valley and descending on the matchless resources of the Lone Star state. That is not the way Oregon governors boom their commonwealth.

M. T. Eggleston, of Ashland, in a able paper on the sugar question in the Semi-Weekly Tidings gives the information that the proposed tariff in the Wilson bill of 1 1/2 cents a pound is a capitation tax on the people of Oregon of $1 23 a year, or $482,000 a year on the people of Oregon.

Newspaper men in Oregon are coming to the front in state politics. The fraternity was duly honored in the recent election by the election of H. R. Kincaid of the Eugene Journal, as secretary of state, and W. H. Leeds of the Ashland Tidings as state printer. Both gentlemen ran far ahead of their ticket.

In the senate Hon. B. F. Alley of Lane will ably represent the press. In the house, Editors Patterson of Heppner, Stewart of Coos and Curry, Guild of Tillamook and Yamhill, Morhead of Lane county, and Hofer of Marion are representatives of Republicanism, Journalism and one of the杰尔 compoart) of Populism.

LOOK AT THE OTHER SIDE.

This is the season of year when great multitudes jubilate over College and University commencements. It is the season when new crops of graduates ripen, when new doctors, lawyers, theologians, dentists and professors are matured. It is the day for exploiting learned essayists who never become writers, eloquent orators that never orate again. In gazing on the glowing scenes of educational enthusiasm we are apt to forget that there is another side; that this is the best side of the picture; that turned to the wall in oblivion and hid from public gaze are thousands of bright boys and girls too poor to go to college or even get a complete common school education; thousands of children growing up in neglect, filth and ignorance for whom society and laws and institutions do little or nothing; yet while the graduating classes are the cream of society, these little ones, these struggling boys and girls, are the salt of the earth from whom arise the ultimate saviors of humanity.

ELECTION OF SENATORS.

Politics is getting closer to the people. The strongest safeguard for the good behavior of a public man is his immediate responsibility to the people. More direct responsibility to the masses is needed in our government. In England, Canada, or almost any representative form of government, there would long before this have been served a vote of want of confidence upon the present administration, and it would have been compelled to change its tactics. Maynard could be appointed judge by Governor Flower but he could not be elected by popular vote. New York would hardly elect Murphy senator at a popular vote. The Gormans, Brees, and other sugar trust heroes could not stand before the people. In Michigan both parties have nominated candidates for senator to be voted on by the people this fall.

Illinois follows Michigan and nominates candidates for U. S. Senator by all three parties to be submitted to popular vote of the people. Franklin McVeagh, Cleveland's first term postmaster general, is the Democratic nominee. The old state of Abraham Lincoln is not afraid to submit this to a popular vote.

THE SQUIRREL SCALP HILL.

It averages from $5 to $30 a day. Thursday it cost the county $20.25. On many poor neglected farms the scalp crop brings more than the wool or the wheat. Of course, no first class farmer who has work to do fools away his time trapping squirrels, or lets his children do it. A well tilled farm, with clean fences and good grassland has few squirrels or gophers. Old fields and neglected cultivation leaves room for squirrels to breed and multiply, like weeds or any other pest. To pay for squirrel and gopher scalps is to pay a premium on shiftless farming. It is to pay public taxes to encourage boys in roaming about the fields with shotguns; it is to encourage barbarism and a relapse into savagery. It is to tax the thrifty good cultivator, the clean farmer to encourage the careless farmer in idleness and vagabondage. A farmer said yesterday that he had no time to hunt squirrels or gophers. He had too much to do to keep his fields clean and his crops in fine growing condition. They grew so fast and so rank that he never saw any gophers and ground squirrels. Another farmer said he could well afford to pay the bounty price himself to have the rodents killed. Why should he not? Why should other people pay it for him? As a matter of fact, most of the squirrels and gophers are killed on wild land, brush land, on land where they do no harm, killed by boys who own no land, have no crops to protect. If farmers would teach their boys not to shoot owls and hawks, and not kill every little snake and weasel they ever come across, the gopher and squirrel would not become pests. One hawk or owl will kill more gray diggers and other rodents than forty boys. That is his bread and butter. But every boy is taught to kill those birds and then the public is taxed to pay the boys for doing what nature already provided a remedy for. A present rate of increase the bill for squirrel and gopher scalps will run up to thousands of dollars before long. If the law is not repealed it should be changed that bounty shall only be paid for scalps on rodents taken off cultivated land. As fast as the boys learn their habits and become expert at the business they will catch more and more. The woods and hills and meadows and brush lands are full of them. The combination of wild land, wild boys and rapidly multiplying rodents is too much for the taxpayer with wheat 40 cents a bushel and wool ten cents a pound.

Tired, Weak, Nervous.

Means impure blood and overwork, or too much strain on brain and body. The only way to cure is to feed the nerves on pure blood. Thousands of people certify that the best blood purifier, the best nerve tonic and strength builder is Hood's Sarsaparilla. What it has done for others it will do for you.

HOOD'S PILLS cure constipation by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

Modes of Divination.

If a Scottish maiden desired to summon the image of her future husband, she read the third verse, seventeenth chapter, of the book of Job after supper, washed the supper dishes and retired to bed without uttering a single word, placing underneath her pillow the Bible, with a pin thrust through the verse she had read. On All Hallow eve various modes of divination were in vogue. Pennant says that the young women determined the figure and size of their husbands by drawing cabbages blindfold, a custom which lingers still in some parts of Scotland. They also threw nuts into the fire, a practice prevailing also in England, as Gay has described:

Two hazel nuts I threw into the flame, And to each nut I gave a sweethearts name, This with the loudest voice me sore amazed, That in a flame of brightest color blazed, As blazed the nut, so may thy passion glow, Or they took a candle and went alone to a looking glass, eating an apple and combing their hair before it, whereupon the face of the future spouse would be seen in the glass peeping over the foolish girl's shoulder.—All the Year Round.

Dwarfing Bamboo Trees.

The dwarfing of bamboo trees is an important branch of the Japanese nursery business. A few weeks after the shoots begin to grow, and when the trunks measure about 3 inches in circumference and 5 feet in height the bark is removed, piece by piece, from the joint. After five weeks, when the plants get somewhat stout, the stem is bent and tied in.

U. S. Crop-Weather Bulletin.

Weather: The weather during the past week was cool, partly cloudy and a few showers occurred. The mean temperature ranged from 58 to 60 degrees, which was from 1 to 4 degrees cooler than the week before. The rainfall amounted to less than .10 of an inch. There were no extremes of temperature and an absence of sunshine.

Crops: The weather conditions are very favorable to the growing crops. Wheat, oats and barley have excellent growth; they are now approaching their ripening period and need more sunshine. Some fruit continues to fall from the trees yet the general yield will be generally an average one. Strawberries are ripening rapidly and are now at their full production. Cherries are somewhat backward, but are ripening and being shipped to market in large quantities. Haying is in general progress in the counties south of the Calapoopa mountains and is being commenced in some of the coast and Willamette valley counties. The hay crop is very large and is yielding heavily to the acre, especially the clover hay.

One View of the Transaction.

"Did you hear Banx say that he bought that property for a song?" "Yes." "Ever hear him warble?" "Occasionally."

"Then you must realize that that purchase was about the worst case of intimidation on record."—American Industrialist.

Education.

Education has silently become the one thing which all men who differ ever so much in creed, culture, sect and race now practically agree to believe in.—President G. Stanley Hall in Forum.

Northern Pacific Railway.

Beginning Sunday, June 24, we will resume through train service from Portland, Grand Central station, to St. Paul, without change or transfer of any kind. Trains leave Grand Central depot on regular schedule time.

NOW CARE FOR THE AGED.

Summer With its Debilitating Weather is Here.

The Best of Thought and Care is Due to the Old People—For them to be Strong and Happy, Refreshing Sleep is Necessary—Paine's Celery Compound Must Now be Taken.

Young people in the flush of health are apt to forget that the aged need help more frequently than they, to ward off weakness and to check disease.

Because there are no symptoms of any specific disease they think nothing can be done. They forget that the weaknesses of old age are general weaknesses, a difficulty of the slow organs of digestion and assimilation to properly feed the nerves and body.

The one great need, as hot, debilitating weather comes on, is for new, rich blood, free from the poisonous humors that invariably result from a stagnant condition.

The certainty with which Paine's celery compound quickly sends new blood to every part of the body is shown by a stronger pulse, fuller heart beats, and a brightening of the spirits. Sleep becomes sound and refreshing, and rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, and other results of an underfed nervous system disappear.

The world of worn out, nervous, feeble men and women is indebted to Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth medical school for the discovery of this great nerve regulator and blood purifier—the best and final fruit of a long life devoted to the study of weakness of nerve tissues, and its natural remedy.

Paine's celery compound gently stirs the workings of the vital organs, feeds the nerves when waste in their tissues has exceeded the repair, and thus relieves nervous prostration, dyspepsia and disorders of the liver, kidneys and head.

It builds up wasted bodies, frees weak nerves and nerve centers of irritability by supplying rich, abundant blood to build up the worn out tissues. When there is general debility, lassitude, a loss of appetite and a lack of interest in life that comes at this season; when one looks wretched, and feels so all over, this great modern remedy goes straight to the source of the weakness and immediately gives strength and a vigor of mind and body such as must follow perfect nutrition to every organ and part of the body.

The lives of thousands of men and women past middle age who think it time to stop work, might be prolonged to many years of usefulness if they would only use Paine's celery compound, the great modern blood and nerve restorer. It will give new life, ambition and cheerfulness, as it did to Lewis C. Crossan, of North Cohocton, N. Y., who writes: "Paine's Celery Compound has done me a great deal of good. I have been afflicted with insomnia, nervous chills, loss of strength, and poor digestion for some time, also loss of memory, and all of these troubles are much better now. I have gained in weight since I commenced its use and am much better and stronger in every way. I shall recommend the Compound to all others."

Avenue or in plain words "grain aphid."

They have done considerable damage in past years in the east. There is a minute parasite which preys on the bugs or their ravages may be stopped by rain. Spraying the wheat with a weak kerosene emulsion will kill them, according to Prof. Washburn of the State Experiment Station of Corvallis.

The hops have a most prolific growth and are exceedingly promising. The weather conditions are very favorable to the growth of the hops. The hop house is barely observable in some few yards. Continued cool weather will prevent the development of the louse. The hop louse thrives best during warm sultry weather.

THE DISTRICT DRIER.

As to establishing district evaporators on a large scale, there is considerable objection. A man who has ten or fifteen acres can put up an evaporator to cure 800 pounds of prunes a day and keep it busy all prune time if he has a good half crop. Then, too, he can pick or gather his fruit as it ripens, and have it fully ripe to a certainty, whereas, if it has to be hauled any distance fruit is sure to be gathered in all stages of ripeness, and good prunes are only made of fruit that is entirely dead ripe. No man who buys fruit to dry can make as choice prunes as the one who gathers from his own trees as they become dead ripe. If fruit is to be sent to a great evaporator it will only be possible to make it work well if the gathering is carefully done by experienced and careful men who appreciate the fact that fruit not fully dead ripe will not cure better than scraps of leather.—Riddle Enterprise.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. At Death's Door Blood Poison After Typhoid Fever A Marvelous Cure by Hood's After All Else Failed.

"Dear Sirs: Twenty-five years ago I had bilious fever, and typhoid fever, and for five weeks I lay like one dead, but at last I pulled through and got up around. I soon discovered on my left leg just above the knee a small brown spot about as big as a three-cent piece, which puffed up but did not hurt me or feel sore. I did not pay any attention to it until two years after, when it commenced to spread and have the appearance of a ring worm. It itched and burned and I commenced doctoring, but to no avail."

Got Only Momentary Relief, And sometimes not even that. I could not sleep nights, and on account of the itching I scratched the spot until the blood would run. In hot weather my elbows and all my joints were just the same, and what I have suffered I cannot describe with a pen. Last February I tried an herb for the blood and it broke out in the worst form of a rash all over my body. I began my scratching, and scales would fall off. The sore discharged, and I longed to die. Finally my husband bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and I had not taken more than half it before I began to change for the better. I have had four bottles.

Now I Am All Well but two little spots on my leg. I can now sleep and eat well and work all the time. I am 64 years old, and the mother of eleven children, and think I can do as much as any one my age." Mrs. FRANK L. HALL, Galva, Kansas.

HEART DISEASE.

Fluttering, No Appetite, Could not Sleep, Wind on Stomach.

"For a long time I had a terrible pain at my heart, which fluttered almost incessantly. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I would be compelled to sit up in bed and belch gas from my stomach until I thought every minute would be my last. There was a feeling of oppression about my heart, and I was afraid to draw a full breath. I could not sweep a room without resting. My husband induced me to try and am happy to say it has cured me. I now have a splendid appetite and sleep well. Its effect was truly marvelous.
