Make the Pacific Roads Pay.

Harris of Kansas, a member of the house committee ou Pacific railroads, has submitted the following supplementary statement to the minority report against the Reilly bill:

"I fully concur in the foregoing (Boatner's) views of the minority, except so far as the opinion is expressed that the government should, in the foreclosure, proceed to sell or trausfer the property acquired to some other corporation or company, as indicated and suggested in the Pattison report.

formance of a public duty have, as a rule, proven incompetent and dishonest; incompetent in protecting the rights and interests of the public, and dishonest in using the powers entrusted to them wholly for selfish ends and for object of the original act was stated to sunshine was slightly below the averbe 'to promote the public interests and sge. welfare,' and to that end subject to alteration, amendment or repeal. Hence the subsidies of lands and moneys were as trustees for the accomplishment or unparalleled and undenied, and their sile excuse is that they did only that lowed the common custom of rallway builders and managers. Why then enter into such an entangling alliance lie duty and functions to private avarice, greed and bad faith?

"I believe that the foreclosure of the government lien should at once follow default in payment, in that a complete transcontinental line should be acquired and operated by the only competent and legitimate power-the people-through their government. Such probably no further changes in the transportation system of the country would be necessary, but that everywhere the public duty and its performance will be recognized as paramount, and that capital honesty invested will be satisfied with a fair and reasonable compensation, honestly and justly

A Bottomless Lake In Sweden.

In Thomas Nashe's "Terrors of the Night"-published in 1594-he says that Lake Wetter, Sweden, is bottomless. He also tells other peculiar things respecting it. "Over it no fowle flies but is frozen to death nor anie mann pass but is mummed like a statue of marble. Awle ye inhabitants around about it are deafened with ye hidioous roar of hits waters when out of its midst as out of Mont Gibell a sulphurous stinking smoak issues that well nit poysons ye whole countrie about."-Louis Republic.

Prevention Better Than Cure. It is no easy thing to cure lung trouble when it once fairly gets a hold upon the system. It can easily be prevented by the use of Alicock's Porous Plasters. Just as soon as any intimation of soreness about the lungs or stiffness of the joints appears, put on one of these plasters, and you will be sure to gain great advantage.
So also with rheumatism. A gold is so also with rheumatism. A cold is a comparatively slight thing. The application of an Alicock's Porous Planter to any part affected by it will not only relieve, but overcome it. If however, the cold gets a firm hold on the joints and muscles, rheumatic pains are not so easily overcome. To cure is good, to prevent is better.

Brandreib's Pills will relieve rheumatism.

SUPERSTITIOUS TRAVELERS.

Veteran Passenger Conductor Palks of the Whims of Tourists. @

No one but the experienced passenger enductor knows just how whimsical and eranky the traveling public really is. A traveler may have some peculiar fad or notion when he is on the road, perhaps worse. In years of experience the conductor ruls elbows with all sorts Crops: Harvesting is progressing of people, and in spite of himself beomes a mind and face reader, who takes back seat for no one except the pro-

"Yes, travelers are superstitious and eranky," said a veteran knight of the punch in response to a query by a reporter. "I think the average passenger conductor deals with more oddities dai ly than the curio collector of a frea. show. As to superstition, I think theris more of it crops out on trains that anywhere else. One day, just as the train was ready to pull out for Chicago a well dressed man came out of the coach on the platform, and in an ag tated manner asked me what day it was

"I told him it was Friday, and with out another word he re-entered the coach and in a moment returned with his luggage and by way of explanation stated that he never began a journey on Friday and would wait until the next morning. "About the only time when some fellows don't kick is when they are on their honeymoons. Everything goes on as smoothly as if it had been ordered so, but let the same men ride on the same train five years later and the chances are they'll kick themselves into exhaustion."-Pittsburg Post.

Myrtis at Royal Weddings.

Near the flag tower at Osborne and bordering on the carriage entrance to the palace is a charming garden, which contains a very large myrtle tree grown from a sprig taken out of the wedding bouquet of the princess royal in 1858. Each royal bride has since carried a piece of myrtle from the bush in her bonquet on her wedding day, and two bits were sent to Coburg for the use of Princess Victoria Melita. Even the Duchess of Coburg had some of the myrtle from Osborne in her bonquet when she was married, the queen having sent the pieces all the way to St. Petersburg in charge of Lady Augusta Stanley .-New York Sun.

A Grand Peature

Of Hood's Sarasparills is that while it purifies the blood and sends it coursing through the veins full of richness and health, it also imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body. Hence the expression so often heard: "Hood's Samsparilla made a new person of me." It overcomes that thred teeling so common now.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, pertectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial.
