He is a bard bitter and cool headed. I saw him fight Dempsey and posted myself on his style. He is my equal almost in height and reach, though after care-fully comparing his method of boxing with mine, I can't see where he has any advantage over me, as I am younger, stronger and shiftier, hit oftener and mix my blows more. Fiz simmons is foxy-he was cuts enough to feign grogginess in several of his battles, thus throwing his opponents off their guard. He can't fool me by working the groggy dodge. I will take no chances with him. I think I can whip him within fifteen rounds. After my fight with Fitzsimmons I will devote my entire attention to my theatrical enterprises and retire permanently from the prize ring. I have $60,000 invested in the spectacular drams; "The Cotton King," one of the biggest suc sses on the road, "The New South," Bobby Gaylor's new faree comedy, "After Dark," and my play, "Gentleman Jack." My partner in these attractions is W. A. Brady, who is also my manager. Of course I shall continue to act; I am in love with the

KINDERGARTEN CHRISTMAS.

Miss Lona Knight yesterday forenoon treated her Kindergarten pupils to a Christmas tree and accompanying pleasures, at her home on Liberty street. Aside from their own school work the little tots were made happy with a variety of juvenile presents, all of which had some bearing on their daily play-work. The Kindergarten seems to do more in the way of giving the child pleasure in what it does with when his battle with Bob Fitzsimmons its hands and mind than by bestowing 170 years ago.
