SENATORIAL SENTIMENTS

Umatilla county Republicans are against Dolph. Thus the tide swells as it rolls on to the state capitol.—Baker Democrat.

Evidently Senator Dolph considers it only ordinary prudence to look after his senatorial honors in person. His distinguished services are not specially needed in congress just now, but they might be invaluable a little later on, while his presence in the lobby of the Oregon legislature might have a tendency to restrain the "backing" propensity of some "bunchgrass" member who had become restless under the limited grazing range of his June tether.—Independent Enterprise.

St. Helen's Mist, Rep: The more the Oregonians rant the stronger becomes the sentiment against Mr. Dolph. If that paper will only continue on its present course the people instead of the corporations will triumph in the senatorial contest. Scott says his patience is worn out. Well, the people's patience was worn threadbare at reading his chaff long ago. If the "only paper" wishes Mr. Dolph elected it should oppose him. This is an historical fact.

As the Journal predicted several weeks ago, Senator Dolph has deserted his post at Washington and come home to Oregon to lobby for his own reelection. That's not what he was elected to do nor what he draws pay for, but where his personal interests clash with those of his constituents, Dolph's motto is "the people be damned." However his absence from Washington may prove to be a blessing in disguise, as while he is away some legislation favorable to the people of Oregon may be got through without hindrance. If Senator Dolph had come home a month sooner, there would have been no adverse report in the matter of forfeiture or unsecured railroad lands. Mr. Dolph's return at this time indicates that he is a little scared as to the result, and does not anticipate a walk over.—Fossil Journal.

Senator Dolph is opposed to the forfeiture of unsecured railroad lands, because he did not favor the Democratic measure forbidding the land grant to Northern Pacific from Bismark, Dakota, to the Pacific coast terminus.—The Dallas Times Mountain.

The senator's excuse for his opposition to the forfeiture of these lands is too silly to merit notice. This is his real reason, but it is not. He is secure in his salary of $5000 from the people and the railroad company can afford to pay him $10,000 for his vote against the forfeiture. That's the way millionaire senators are made.—Lebanon Advance.

Republicans are unwilling to maintain the party wholly in the interest of the law firm of Dolph, Bellinger & Simon. Dolph has been senator twice before, Bellinger is U. S. district judge, and Dolph tried his best to get Simon appointed circuit judge, but his plans were frustrated, due to his strong opposition which immediately manifested itself from every quarter of the state. The combination, however, expect to organize the senate next week, and make Simon president. This will place him in a position to carry on his plans more easily. This accomplished, the machine will then attempt to "fix" the legislature for Dolph's reelection. But right here the machine will run against a stone wall. The Dolphites are only 26 strong, while the anti ring faction will present a solid front of 42, besides the eighteen Populists and Democrats who will certainly not lend their aid to the Dolph combine. These 42 members will be found true to the last. They know that at least three fourths of the people of Oregon are opposed to Dolph's reelection. They don't like the Simon ring. They are opposed to bossism. They favor more liberal financial legislation, and a majority of them are pronounced silver advocates. These men will not sacrifice their principles to the Dolph combination, nor will they break the pledges already made to vote and work against him. Dolphism, Simonism, boodle influence and machine politics will be buried. If it is not, and Dolph is again foisted upon the people of this state, the Republican party will become disorganized. Men who did the fighting during the last campaign demand Dolph's defeat. Only a few old fossils are trying to force his election. Their success will cripple the party for years to come, but if they are defeated the Republican party of Oregon will continue to flourish and prosper. Men who are solicitous for the party's welfare, and consider its future success more important than the election of any one particular candidate for United States senator, will not become identified with Simon's machine. The opposition to Dolph does not demand the election of any particular candidate. They will be satisfied with either Lord, Fulton, Tongue or Hermann.—Corvallis Gazette.

Prof. John M. Ordway, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, reports: "Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is free from all adulteration, harmless and pure in its ingredients, and mixed in the right proportions."

Wants Oregon's Law. WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The governor of Alaska addressed the house committee on territories in support of an appropriation to allow him to appoint a number of the justices of the peace for the territory who shall have power to try certain cases under the law of Oregon, which he wants extended to Alaska. At present there is but one federal court in the territory. The size of the territory makes it necessary to go thousands of miles to court, and for this reason he wants justices to decide minor cases, especially liquor complaints.

Democratic Enthusiasm. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 12.—It was a gala day in Sacramento. The partisan friends of James H. Budd made it a Democratic holiday and the ceremonies attending the going out of ex-Governor Markham and the coming in of Governor Budd were marked by a pomp and enthusiasm that threw the whole city into a fever of excitement.

THE INCOME TAX LAW

Senator Gordon Says It Cannot Be Escaped.

APPROPRIATION NOT NECESSARY.

If Delinquent a Heavy Penalty Will Be Added.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Senator Gordon, of Georgia, in conversation with another senator said: "The defeat of the appropriation bill will not defeat the collection of the income tax. Under section twenty-nine all persons and corporations with incomes above $3500 are required to make returns according to a form prescribed by the revenue department, to the secretary of the treasury. Those who hope to escape payment of the income tax through a failure of congress to make the appropriation asked for, and who are thus led to neglect making returns at the time fixed by law, will find themselves involved in 50 per cent heavier taxes, and be compelled to pay them."

The senate galleries were fairly well filled today in anticipation of a speech by Senator Gorman on the currency question, in which it was thought he would propose some solution of the problem from the senate standpoint. Cockrell called up the urgent deficiency bill, and Presiding Officer Harris explained the parliamentary situation coming over from yesterday. Hill offered an amendment to it, appropriating funds for the collection of the income tax, so the legality of the tax can be referred to courts.

The chairman had ruled out an amendment on the point of order. Hill appealed from the decision of the chair and Morgan moved to lay the appeal on the table in order to permit the senators to have further discussion of the income tax. Morgan agreed to withdraw his motion. Teller then addressed the senate in support of the continuance of the income tax. Teller gave his opinion that the income tax would become permanent even though it was limited to five years by the present laws. He believed it was such an equitable tax that the people would not insist on its continuance.

Handed to Carlisle. WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Secretary Carlisle was handed a copy of Senator Vest's new financial bill. He read it with interest, but made no comments.

Better AND Cheaper.

THE ROYAL BAKING POWDER is more economical than other brands because of its greater leavening strength, as shown by both the U. S. and Canadian Government Reports.

The other baking powders contain from 20 to 80 per cent less leavening gas than the ROYAL. So the ROYAL, even should it cost more than the others, would be much the cheaper.

In addition to this the superior flavor, sweetness, wholesomeness and delicacy of the food raised by ROYAL BAKING POWDER would make any difference in cost insignificant.

Highest of all in leavening strength.— Latest U. S. Government Food Report.
