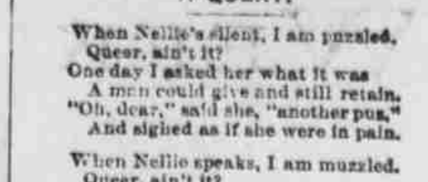
In the Early Days



of cod-liver oil its use was limited to easing those far advanced in consumption. Science soon discovered in it the prevention and cure of consumption.

Scott's Emulsion

of cod-liver oil with Hypophosphites of lime and soda has rendered the oil more effective, easy of digestion and pleasant to the taste.

Prepared by Scott & Bowne, N. Y. All druggists.

This extraordinary Rejuvenator is the most wonderful discovery of the age. It has been endorsed by the leading scientific men of Europe and America. Hudyan is purely vegetable. Hudyan stops Prematureness of the discharge in 20 days. Cures LOST MANHOOD

Constipation, Dizziness, Falling Sensations, Nervous twitching of the eyes and other parts. Strengthens, invigorates and tones the entire system. Hudyan cures Debility, Nervousness, Emissions and develops and restores weak organs. Pains in the back, losses by day or night stopped quickly. Over 2,000 private endorsements.

Prematureness means impotency in the first stage. It is a symptom of seminal weakness and barrenness. It can be stopped in 20 days by the use of Hudyan.

The new discovery was made by the Specialists of the old famous Hudson Medical Institute. It is the strongest vitalizer made. It is very powerful, but harmless. Sold for $1.00 a package or 6 packages for $5.00 (plain sealed boxes). Written guarantee given for a cure. If you buy six boxes and are not entirely cured, six more will be sent to you free of all charges.

A QUERY.

When Nellie's silent, I am puzzled.
Queer, ain't it?
One day I asked her what it was
A man could give and still retain.
"Oh, dear," said she, "another puz,"
And sighed as if she were in pain.

When Nellie speaks, I am muzzled.
Queer, ain't it?
"I can't imagine what there is
That you can give and still retain.
Conundrums seem to be your biz."
"My word," said I. She sighed again.

I thought one day I would propose—
My queer resolve.
I told my love and asked her hand.
She coyly blushed and sweetly said:
"You wish it? You may have it," and Upon my bosom dropped her head.

Alas, doth man reap what he sows?
My query solve.
When her I asked to set the day,
She pertly said, "This hand is mine,
For I can also give away
A thing, yet keep it—draw the line."

SCENES IN NAPLES.

Some of the Incidents of the Street Life of the Neapolitans.

The commonest people of Naples seldom buy anything from the stores or shops, but patronize peddlers and street hawkers almost exclusively. At the portable kitchen booths a bill of fare is offered to the hungry wayfarer that is laughingly reasonable in price and varied in kind. Besides the ever present macaroni the principal articles of food are the frutti di mare, "sea fruits," including mussels, polypi and sea spiders, all regarded as most tempting delicacies by the ever hungry lazzaronie.

Then there are roasted fishes of all kinds, maize dumplings, so called spighe, and finally the national meat food, called braccinole, which is really a dumpling or cake made of lamb meat and lard. Snail soup is another delicacy as well as cheese with bacon (la pizza). Like all southerners, the Neapolitans show a marked fondness for sweets of all kinds, and they would be quite lost without their portion of struffoli, a rather tough cake made principally of honey. Then nothing appeals to the lazzaroni appetite so insidiously as the famous Easter cake of Cassatello, which is sprinkled most temptingly with fluid pork fat, and in which whole eggs are baked, shell and all, a questionable dainty to uneducated palates.

The lazzaroni women are seldom beautiful and generally not even pretty. They are usually poorly built, with swarthy complexions and irregular features. Now and then one finds a lustrous pair of eyes of great beauty, but rarely. The Neapolitan women are not to be compared with the women of the country as seen in Rome and in the Campagna, whose trim figures, graceful movements and frequently charmingly fascinating faces so often greet the eye of the traveler. Their fullness of form, proud bearing and fine profiles are all conspicuously absent in the wives of the lazzaroni. And how could it well be otherwise? Are they not "beasts of burden" for "beasts of burden?" Are the facchini, by reason of their occupation, much more than this?—Home and Country.

One Way of Saving 5 Cents.

I heard a good story that brings out Russell Sage's laying up for a rainy day hobby. It seems that Russell seldom if ever misses the directors' dinner, spread every day in the Western Union building, after which he is not averse to an inexpensive cigar, and just here it is not amiss to suggest that Russell should smoke tobies, which would furnish his tobacco solace for the small sum of three for five, which is just in his line. While at the cigar stand, fishing around his not at all fashionable costume for the requisite coin, an acquaintance arrived and planked down 15 cents for an imported weed. The cunning old manipulator of the destinies of Wall street lambs saw an opportunity here to make a turn in the cigar line. Producing a dime, he laid it beside the acquaintance's 15 cents and then suggested to said acquaintance to order two for a quarter. As the brand the gentleman wanted retailed for 15 cents straight or two for a quarter the foxy Russell secured a 15 center for 10 cents. This is a lesson in economy, so there's no use saying anything about the other phase of the deal.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Light of the "Lightning Bug."

Of late the naturalists have been losing sleep and filling a great deal of valuable magazine space in discussing the causes that produce the light emitted by fireflies. As is generally the case where much study and investigation is involved, there is a wide difference of opinion. One school of scientists trace the phenomenon to the nervous system of the insect; another to his respiration, while a third school have prepared an article of 6,000 words to prove that the light is entirely dependent upon the poor bug's circulation. The burden of evidence seems to be in favor of those who claim that the luminous tissue is made up of fat globules, which are intermittently acted upon by the oxygen of the air and the phosphorus of the creature's body.—St. Louis Republic.

The Car Cure.

We do not know, but we strongly suspect, that our electric railways are encouraging the car cure. In fact, Europeans are gravely discussing the effects of electric railways on rheumatism, and many sufferers take the car cure with regularity and supposed benefit. They [illegible] as near the motor as possible and [illegible] on the trolley. As a [illegible] English physician [illegible] the point of his life's observation that fifty-two-thirds of the ailments of humanity were purely imaginary, we can readily see how the car cure for rheumatism is very efficacious.—Atlanta Constitution.

NEGROES IN THE DISTRICT.

They Want the Suffrage Restored Because They Charge Discrimination.

At the next session of congress a monster petition will be presented by Representative Murray of South Carolina, the only colored man in either house, praying for the restoration of the rights of political suffrage in the District of Columbia. It will be signed by a majority of the negroes of the District, headed by Frederick Douglass and ex-Senator Bruce. This move grows out of the refusal of the commissioners of the District to appoint a colored man as one of the members of the board of assessors recently created by act of congress. The colored men had an applicant in the person of Daniel A. Murray, an assistant in the congressional library and a member of the board of trade. Frederick Douglass especially interested himself in behalf of Mr. Murray, but the board refused to appoint him. The colored people made a stubborn fight for the assessorship, and now that that has been denied them no offices are left, and they propose to memorialize congress for the restoration of the right of suffrage in the District.

When the suffrage was in vogue in the District, the negroes were an important factor in the government, and a part of the patronage was accorded them. There was a negro assistant district attorney, a tax registrar and a city marshal, and other lucrative offices were filled by them. But with abolition of the right of suffrage they have been cut off one by one until the assessorship was the only place filled by a negro. Now even that has been taken away. Frederick Douglass says that the government of the District is an oligarchy, and it is a wonder to him that the people have tolerated it as long as they have. Under its present form of government he thinks it impossible for the 85,000 colored people to get any civil or political recognition. He says the trend is now against the negro, but that a reaction will speedily set in.

The sentiments of Mr. Douglass are indorsed by other prominent colored citizens of the District, who say that if they are not successful in their move they will at least let the world know they feel keenly the discrimination on account of color in the government of the District. The pastors of all the local churches are in favor of the movement, and the petitions will be placed at the several churches from Sunday to Sunday for signatures.—Washington Cor. New York Sun.

White House Rooms.

In a visit to the White House one is particularly struck with the rich and cheerful effect of the red room, which Mrs. Cleveland's taste furnished. The red tapestry on the walls, the soft, rich shade of the carpet, the harmony of the upholstery on the chairs and in the draperies, all carried out in that particularly pleasing, restful shade which I call Indian red, I admired very much.

A vase filled with exquisite tall lilies, another with a white blossomed plant, the name of which I did not know, and two or three large foliage plants gave the room, which is the only parlor the president and his wife have in the White House, a homelike look. Mrs. Harrison's blue room is also very attractive, the green room is quiet and restful in effect, and the large east room, where the public receptions are held, is harmonious in white and gold, with a soft gray tint on the walls and ceiling, also mixed with dull yellow.—Philadelphia Press.

A Question For an Organization.

Mrs. Arthur Stannard (John Strange Winter) has founded an anticrinoline league counting 11,000 members. And now the question before the league is, "What are we here for?" For the crinoline has never come.—New York Times.

A Gentle Corrective

is what you need when your liver becomes inactive. It's what you get when you take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets; they're free from the violence and the griping that come with the ordinary pill. The best medical authorities agree that in regulating the bowels mild methods are preferable. For every derangement of the liver, stomach and bowels, these tiny, sugar coated pills are most effective. They go about their work in an easy and natural way, and their good lasts. Once used, they are always in favor. Being composed of the choicest, concentrated vegetable extracts, they cost much more than other pills found in the market, yet from forty to forty-four are put up in each sealed glass vial, as sold through druggists, at the price of the cheaper made pills.

"Pleasant Pellets" cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heart-burn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. Put up in sealed glass vials, therefore always fresh and reliable. Whether as a laxative, or in larger doses, as a gently acting but searching cathartic, these little "Pellets" are unequaled.

As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day after dinner. To relieve the distress arising from over-eating, nothing equals one of these little "Pellets." They are tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules. Any child readily takes them.

Accept no substitute that may be recommended to be "just as good." It may be better for the dealer, because of paying him a better profit, but he is not the one who needs help.

A free sample (4 to 7 doses) on trial, is mailed to any address, post-paid, on receipt of name and address on postal card.

FORCED TO TAKE A TITLE.

Its Aquisition Forbidden by Law.

CONTRARY TO THE CONSTITUTION.

How It Has Been Fastened on a Newspaper.

The Constitution of the Unit d States forbids the acquisition of titles.

In the far west not much respect is paid to titles. Nearly every man is a "Colonel." or an "Honorable."

It is so little thought of that many men prefer to be called plain John Smith, Til Ford, Jo Simon.

But titles are sometimes conferred by accident, and become a really good handle to catch hold of. In that case the people catch on and use the handle right freely and properly.

A CURIOUS CASE.

A stack of letters is received at this office in every mail and while many of them are printed in large letters "The One Cent Daily, Salem Oregon," a great many are written and there is a great variety of ways of writing it. Here are some of the forms:

"1 ct. D., Salem, Or."
"1ct. DAILY, Salem, Or."
"ONE CENT DAILY, Salem, Or."
"THE ONE CENT DAILY, Salem, Or."
"THE ONE CENT DAILY JOURNAL, Salem, Or."
"THE GREAT ONE CENT DAILY JOURNAL, Salem, Or."
"THE HONORABLE ONE CENT DAILY JOURNAL, Salem, Or."

That's a queer title for a newspaper to get isn't it? About the last on earth, anyone would think of!

"THE HONORABLE!"

Just think that over, what it means in connection with journalism.

Honorable with itself.
Honorable with the people.
Honorable with its readers.
Honorable in its politics.
Honorable with its contemporaries.
Honorable in all its dealings.
Honorable towards other communities.
Honorable towards every human being.

That's what a newspaper should be.

Perhaps?
Perhaps what?
Perhaps this is all a lie.
Maybe it is.

But the people keep on addressing their letters

HON. ONE CENT DAILY, Salem, Or.

In every mail come orders with the money. It is true the amounts are small. But they aggregate enough to pay our paper bills, to pay Mrs. Jones her rent, to pay our employes, to pay the Water Company for power to run our press, to pay the Electric Light Co. for lights in the office, to pay for ink, to pay the cabbage head editor who worries the Statesman and Oregonian so. We don't know what would become of them if we had real live editors like they've got, instead of just a common dutch cabbage head.

But the orders keep coming for THE ONE CENT DAILY.

25 cents in silver for a month.

50 cents in silver for two months.

$1.00 in silver for 121 days. (Do not send stamps).

We can't stop them sending in the orders.

But we can and do stop THE ONE CENT DAILY when you time is out. No papers sent but what you pay for.
