THE CLERKSHIP ABUSE.

The growing evil in connection with the legislative clerkship abuse is the practice of ex-officials of the legislature, and ex-officials of all classes, poisoning upon these perquisites to the exclusion from this employment of deserving young men and women. The opportunity for this employment is one that should not be monopolized by the class who use the experience they have gained at the expense of the people to further plunder the public treasury. Although the clerkships are mostly sinecures, and there is very little labor performed by any of them, there is a redeeming feature about this indispensable evil in our public life, in that many a young man or woman is given a lift in the new plane of activities that often leads to the development of talents and abilities that become of great value to the public.

The legislature is a wonderful school for training in the practical work on politics and self government. We cannot throw open too many for deserving young men and women, or women of good character who are depending upon their own exertions for their support, or who are contributing to the support of others. A clerkship has often been the means of opening a career to an individual who became noted in the state and nation, when that individual would otherwise have perished in obscurity.

THE OELLO PORTAGE VOTE.

Following is the roll-call on final passage of the Oello Portage Railway bill, and appropriating $300,000 for construction and operation by the state, or allowing the state to use the O. R. & N. tracks around The Dalles or the Columbia. It was a move in the interest of open rivers and stood as follows:

Ayes: Beach, Boothby, Burke, Burlingame, Cole, Cook, David, Davis, Gardner, Hofer, Hoffman, Hope, Lester, Lyle, McGraw, Myers, Patterson, Rinehart, Shurtz, Young.
Nays: Baker, Barkley, Blundell, Buckman, Calvert, Cleston, Cooper, Craig, Curtis, Daly, Dunn, Gates, Gowdy, Hillegas, Jeffrey, Key, Long, McCracken, Minette, Moorhead, Nealon, Scott, Schirrede, Stanley, Stewart, Smith of Polk, Smith of Josephine, Smith of Linn, Tompkinson, Thompson, Tigard, Yates, Mr. Speaker.

POOR DIGESTION

Leads to nervousness, fretfulness, peevishness, chronic dyspepsia and great misery. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy. It tones the stomach, creates an appetite, and gives a relish to food. It makes pure blood and gives healthy action to all the organs of the body. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

RIVER NEWS.

The Eugene came down from Harrisburg this afternoon, and will leave for the metropolis at 6 a. m. tomorrow. The Alton came up from the metropolis this afternoon and proceeded on to Independence.

Steamer Elmore will not come up tonight, having to remain in Portland for the purpose of having her gears cut down so as to enable her to pass through the locks easier. She will come up Saturday evening.

The Madon will come down from Harrisburg this evening, bound for Portland.

Macleay Dramatic Club.

This amateur organization fully delighted and pleased the audience, which had gathered from far and near to hear it in its infancy. The young people did beautifully and merit the praise bestowed upon them. The stage was decorated to represent an outdoor scene, the naturalness of which could not be surpassed by nature itself. The general manager, Mr. Amos Taylor, had, by 8 o'clock, seated some over two hundred people. Now all were eager for the play to begin. The orchestra played several pieces before the curtain rolled up. Then, with Herbert Witzel as organist, Miss Bertha Taylor sang, in pleasing tones, "Withered Leaves." The curtain went up and in the woods sat Mary Rivers, (Kate Craig). Near by, fishing, was Cecil Vane, (Joe King). All the way through these two young people represented the two characters true to nature. Mr. King showed talent for stage work. Miss C. was perfectly charming, and appeared quite natural in manner, while listening to a strange recital. Lady Congers was represented by Bertha Taylor, Miss Taylor was perfectly at home on the stage, and all through the scenes played her part beyond criticism and with ease, grace and forethought, brought about a reconciliation between father and son. Sir Congers, (Ass. Hoff), represented the stern but forgiving father; he did his part exceptionally well. Tom Congers was represented by Robert Craig. Mr. Craig was the one to represent him. Arthur Middleton, an average Christian and perfection of gentleman, was represented by Amos Taylor. Mr. Taylor showed superior talent for stage work. His voice was cultured, and his manner of delivery most excellent. He promises to be a leader.

The farce was capital. Mr. Levi Bower added much to the evening's enjoyment, who, for the first time, appeared in the farce. Mr. Craig kept the audience in continuous laughter.

The company did well financially, and all went home with happy hearts, once more reminded of Macleay's superiority over many much larger towns.

Hood's pills become the favorite cathartic with every one who tries them.

Saw the Asylum.

The members of the state press who are connected with the legislature, took tea with Superintendent and Mrs. Rowland Tuesday evening. They were hospitably entertained with the best the house afforded and received many courtesies at the hands of the officials and the efficient force of employes and attendants. The gentlemen then went through the asylum and over the grounds at a rapid newspaper gallop, but taking it all in. Those present were the Hon. Editors Patterson, Moorhead, Burleigh, Hofer; Reporters Brown of the Oregonian, Davey of the Statesman, Worsley of the Oregonian, Nickell of the Jacksonville Times, Worthington of the Klamath Falls Express, and Patterson of the Heppner Gazette.

Beware of Counterfeits.

Hypocrisy is the homage which vice pays to virtue. So the almost inimitable imitations of Alcock's Famous Plaster are a witness to their genuineness. In proof of their genuineness the eminent Henry A. Mott, Jr., Ph. D., F. C. S., late Government chemist, certifies: "My investigation of Alcock's Famous Plaster shows it to contain valuable and essential ingredients not found in any other plaster, and I find it superior to, and more efficient than any other plaster."

SHOP AND TOOLHOUSE.

Two Plans Suggested That Offer Special Advantages to Farmers.

There is no use trying to keep tools if you have no place to put them. When they are scattered around barn, wood-house or driving shed, they soon become spoiled from rust. It does not require an expert blacksmith to do much of the blacksmithing or a carpenter to do many of the jobs about the farm; hence many progressive farmers advocate a workshop. The accompanying diagram, furnished by Ohio Farmer, illustrates in a rough way a substantial but inexpensive structure. The man who owns it says:

We did all the building ourselves in a slack time of the year; hence we did not lay out much money on it. It is built

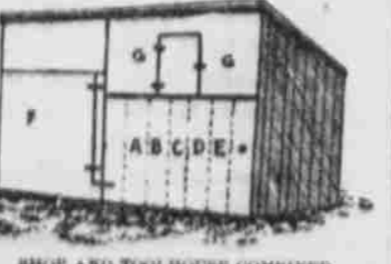

AN OCTAGONAL WORKSHOP, of concrete wall 11 inches thick and 8 1/2 feet high. It has eight sides; therefore it is very near round. The advantages of having it octagonal shape are, there is no waste room in from square corners; besides, the roof you will have on it is the strongest that you can build, and it requires no girds or stays in any way, as it is braced in itself, and it is impossible for it to spread, as the sheathing makes it impossible; besides, the wall is much stronger and will do much thicker, it being braced or bound all around. The sides are each 10 feet long on the outside, and being 11 inches thick make it about 23 feet from side to opposite side (diameter) inside. The main expense is in the roof, which required six squares of shingles.

Fig. 1 represents the floor of the shop; D, the door; W, windows; 1, carpenter's bench; 2, blacksmith's bench; 3, carpenter's vice; 4, blacksmith's vice; 5, the bellows; 6, the fireplace, which is built of solid masonry 8 feet square, with a hole in the top; 7 is the anvil.

In the second cut is shown a tool and implement shed that has given satisfaction. It is 14 by 18 feet, and is thus described by an Ohio Farmer correspondent: On the ground floor is space for the binder, mowing machine, corn planter, three stubble plows and two square harrows. The space for the binder is 8 by 14, without a floor overhead. The rest of the shed has a floor above, 6 feet from the ground floor, for small implements, such as one or two persons can lift readily. This shed is 13 feet high in front and 8 feet at the rear. It has double doors, one (F) 8 feet wide to let in the binder; A, plow; B, corn planter; C, mower; D and E, miscellaneous.

Up stairs, over the 10 foot door, there is a small door 4 by 5, and this part (G) is for small plows and other tools. This

SHOP AND TOOLHOUSE COMBINED. shed can be built in size to suit any one. For convenience there should be a door for each wagon, and for this purpose it should be built longer to admit the tongues. The implement department is just right—14 feet deep. A shop can be located at one end, and the shed can be made as long as desired. There is a stone pillar under each post. No sill. Cost of shed, $25 for shingles, weatherboarding, nails, etc.

USE CONSULTANTS. On the dock at Tripoli may be seen a curious collection of articles. They represent import and export taxes and are sold by the customs officials. The import tax is 5 per cent of the value, and the export tax is 1 per cent. If any one refuses to pay the tax, the officials take possession of one-eighth of the merchandise.

Some time ago a European foreign minister visited Tripoli in the service of his country. He had with him 300 visiting cards. When a tax was demanded on these, he was angry and refused to pay it. A high official of the government was summoned to settle the matter.

He solemnly confiscated 2 per cent of the merchandise in question, 24 visiting cards.

"Very well, keep them," cried the irate ambassador, "keep them, I rough myself. I shall not be obliged to pay you a visit of ceremony for 24 years."

First Glass Windows. The first glass window in England was one put in the Tipton abbey in the year 990 A. D. Glass windows did not come into general use for many hundred years after that date. At last in 1371 the glass windows of Altonworth castle were regularly taken down and packed away wherever the owner and his family would shelter—his, Lady Brouncker.

Spaced From London to Norwich. The longest dance on record is probably that of William Kemp, an actor of some celebrity in the theatre of Queen Elizabeth. He was a dancing and dancing all the way from London to Norwich in a week. He was attended by a butcher, a pigsticker and an oxman.

Testing Milk at the Creamery.

After having used the Babcock test for several months and becoming satisfied with its accuracy we sent the following note to each of our patrons:

By request of many of the patrons of this creamery, April 1 we shall start in operation a test vat. All milk entering this vat will be paid for in proportion to the amount of butter it will make, as decided by the Babcock test. All patrons desiring their milk to go into this vat must give a notice on or before April 1, so that we may have time to give the information will be cheerfully given at the creamery.

We anticipated a good deal of opposition from many of the patrons and to preserve harmony proposed a separate vat for all those who preferred pooling their milk in the old way. To our surprise on the morning of the 1st not a pound of milk went into the old vat. Many of the patrons thought that their milk would test low. Certain ones of course, knew that they would have to quit skimming, and in many cases that meant sorghum or mustard on the daily bread, but when it came to putting theirs in with the rest of the poor and dishonest milk each one had conceited enough to think that it would end in a losing game. They preferred the society of the best.

Many of the patrons thought that the test would be unfair through the taking of the sample. This we overcame by punching a little hole in the conductor spout and setting a pint basin under it, thus securing almost a perfect sample. A few drops from each half pound of milk must necessarily reach the basin. Every patron's milk must pass over the same hole, and the patron sees that no favoritism is shown.

During the nine months that we have used the test our yield has been about three-tenths of a pound higher than during the same months of the four years previous. If the test will bring about so great an improvement in so short a time with the same cows, we may reasonably expect a still greater improvement when the patrons have had time to improve their herds. Before the whole object of the patron was milk; now it is butter. The average price per 100 pounds of milk received by our patrons from April to December inclusive was 60¢ cents. Patron No. 1 received $1.17. Patron No. 3 received $1.04. Patron No. 8, 81¢ cents. Patron No. 4, 75¢ cents—a difference between the highest and the lowest of 41¢ cents.

One hundred pounds of No. 1's milk made as much butter as 155 pounds of No. 4's and as much as 129 pounds of the average. In other words, 100 pounds of No. 1's milk brought him 55 per cent more than No. 4's and 29 per cent more than the average. We have heard many creamery men say that they believed it the only fair way to pay for milk, but the extra labor and expense of testing and bookkeeping made them slow to adopt it.

We found that it made considerable extra work and expense for acid at first, but after having a pipette made holding one-third the regular amount and using the test bottle as a composite jar at the end of three days we have the required amount for a sample and have to test but once in three days, or 10 to 12 times a month. We have about 100 patrons in our home factory, and it takes us about three hours to test them all, equivalent to one hour each day.—Manager Hoard's Creameries.

Older Than St. Augustine. St. Augustine, Fla., which was founded in 1565, has long been regarded as the oldest American city, but it now appears that Tucson, A. T., is at least 18 years older. In the year 1552 their Catholic majesties Ferdinand and Isabella of Spain issued a charter to aid for the people of Tucson, which after having been mislaid for a matter of 300 years or more has recently been discovered among the archives of the church of San Xavier del Bac, which is situated about 10 miles below the present town of Tucson.

Blind Cyclists. In England, where good roads are not an iridescent dream, cycling parties of blind persons are sometimes seen. It is not to be inferred that the blind lead the blind, for the steersman of each connected group is fully competent to avoid obstructions.—Boston Transcript.

"RUN-DOWN."

I feel as if I were a woman who complains of backache, headache, loss of appetite, extreme nervousness, and a general feeling as if I were suffering from 'Female Weakness.'"

Free from sleeplessness, nervousness, nervous prostration, indigestion and distressing irritability and indigestion. In all cases of irregularity or suspended monthly function and in all those nervous diseases depending upon local causes, Dr. Pierce's Female Prescription will restore you to perfect health. Instead of the exhaustion and feeling of weight and dragging down in the abdomen, you feel fresh and strong. Put young girls who suffer from irregularities, for the hard-working woman who suffers from irregularities of the monthly function, causing a constant drain upon the system, and who are so often so weak by any physician who can give you a visit to Dr. Pierce's. For over thirty years Dr. Pierce's Female Prescription has been the chief consulting physician for the female sex in all the hospitals of the United States and in all the countries of the world. It is the only medicine that has been so long and so generally used, and is so fully established by the experience of all who have used it.

Dr. J. C. Jackson, St. Paul, Minn., writes: "I have used your Female Prescription for several years, and it has done me much good. Both Cured by Hood's

Dyspepsia, Headache, Etc.

Saco, Maine. C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: "For years I have had dyspepsia, growing worse, and became so discouraged that I thought of selling my farm and going to California. Added to my misery were the painful effects of a fracture on the end of my backbone, which resulted from a crossing accident when a boy. I happened to read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to take two bottles, and before the last one was gone, I could eat a hearty meal without any distress. The fracture of my backbone is also healed and I do not have any lameness. I can truly say I am now well, and I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla saved my life.

It has also been a great benefit to my wife, who had distress in the stomach and severe headaches. She said the first dose of Hood's Sarsaparilla cured her.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine for all kinds of dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, and all liver ills. 25 cents.
