GEN. BISSELL RESIGNS.

The Office of Postmaster-General Vacant Today.

CONGRESSMAN WILSON SUCCEEDS.

Thus the Tariff Reformer Will Be Rewarded.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Postmaster-General Bissell set at rest all doubts as to his purpose of remaining in the cabinet, by tendering his resignation to President Cleveland yesterday afternoon. His letter of resignation is said to have been couched in the usual formal terms. The letter was written by the postmaster-general at the close of office hours today, and was by him personally handed to his chief a little after 5 o'clock. This action was not taken hastily. As far back as the early autumn, Mr. Bissell felt that his law practice at Buffalo required his personal attention and at that time he notified the president that sooner or later he would be compelled to retire to private life. Nothing further passed between the two gentlemen with reference to the matter until 10 days ago, when Mr. Bissell again assured the president that he must soon resign his portfolio. Though in the department and congressional circles the air was filled with a number of possible candidates to succeed Mr. Bissell from states ranging from the Atlantic to the Pacific and to Florida, still the feeling was prevalent among men in official life that the president would in some way reward the untiring devotion of Representative Wilson, of West Virginia, to the administration throughout this congress.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The president today nominated Congressman William L. Wilson, of West Virginia, postmaster general, to succeed Bissell, who has resigned.

An Inhuman Monster.

TACOMA, Feb. 28.—An arrest made by the police, brings to light the story of one of the most fiendish series of outrages that has been perpetrated here in years. The prisoner is George Logan, a respectable appearing mechanic, who came here three weeks ago from Michigan. It is alleged that he has been repeatedly, during the past three weeks, brutally assaulted 7-year old Bessie Geizer, and has committed an unusual crime on her 3-year old brother. For two weeks the police have been watching for the criminal. After his arrest tonight, the children were taken to the jail and identified him.

The children's story is that Logan seduced them into the bushes which they passed on their way to school, assaulted them, and threatened to kill them if they told their parents. An examination by a physician, shows that both children were severely injured and bruised. In Logan's pockets were found $50 in money, and checks for $100 more. He denies the charge but refuses to talk further.

The Widow Wins

TACOMA, Feb. 28.—Mrs. Clara E. Nixon was a verdict of $24,370 from the Prudential Savings Life Assurance Society of New York, in the federal circuit court. Her husband, Thomas L. Nixon, held two policies—one for $6,000 and one for $18,000—but it was alleged by the company that his duty in making payments annulled the policies. Mrs. Nixon claimed that notice of when payments were due, were never given, as required by the New York statute. Over $4,000 of the verdict is for interest, Nixon having died in 1885. The decision will be appealed to the circuit court of appeals.

Warship Agreed.

New York, Feb. 28.—It is reported here that the Mexican warship La Albatros, two weeks overdue, is enroute 40 miles from the mouth of the Mississippi.

ALMOST A FATAL MISTAKE.

An Old Woman Takes a Dose of Sulphate of Zinc.

PORTLAND, Feb. 28.—Mrs. P. R. Pugh, a widow, about 50 years of age, living at the corner of Fifth and Columbia streets, had a very narrow escape from death by a dose of poison self-administered by accident. Mrs. Pugh lives alone in her rooms at the place named, and, according to her story, has no relatives or friends in the city, and manages to support herself by doing whatever light work she can obtain. Besides being well advanced in life, she is in feeble health. This morning Mrs. Pugh did not feel well, and concluded to take a dose of salts. It so happened that there was a small package of sulphate of zinc on the same shelf where the salts were kept. Both packages were inclosed in paper, and one could readily be mistaken for the other. Epsom salts and sulphate of Zinc also took exactly alike.

About 6 o'clock Mrs. Pugh arose and took down what she supposed was the harmless purgative, but which proved to be the poisonous drug. It was not very light at the time. She took a teaspoonful of the sulphate. Very soon she grew deathly sick and began to vomit violently. She grew alarmed, and with great pain and difficulty made her way to the drug store of Mr. Geo. H. Strowbridge, at No. 223 Yamhill street, reaching there about 7 o'clock. She brought the sulphate along with her, and, as soon as the nature of the poison was known, Mr. Strowbridge and his clerks immediately applied the proper antidote. Relief was quickly afforded, and the woman was soon past the danger point. However the effects of the poison left her in a very weak and exhausted condition. The nature of the poison was such as to leave one's stomach in a highly irritated state. About 8:30 o'clock Dr. C. H. Wheeler, city physician, was telephoned for, and, after making an examination of Mrs. Pugh, had her sent to St. Vincent's hospital at once, where she can receive proper care and attention. A few days' quiet rest will, no doubt restore the woman to her usual health.

She is a German, and speaks English croakily. She says she came from Minnesota to Portland last fall. She is a poor, forlorn old woman, feeble, and without means or friends, and her case should certainly be looked after by the proper authorities or some of the city's benevolent organizations.

FINANCIAL LEGISLATION

The Debt Certificate Movement Is Abandoned.

THE NICARAGUA CANAL KILLED

Geary's Pacific Coast Relief Measure Lost Today.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—That Congressman Geary's Nicaraguan canal bill has died in death is something more than scolding. That measure for which the Pacific coast hoped so much, has been hopelessly shelved. Representative Geary is perhaps more disappointed than any other member of the house at the failure of his pet scheme to become a law. He says "I can only attribute its failure to pass, to one thing, viz. the present company was not given a large bonus for the concessions which they demanded, and preferred to take chances in another congress. They have had a strong lobby here who have done effective work against us."

Certificates of Debt.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—In the debate on the proposed issue of $100,000,000 certificates of debt, Gorman took the floor and maintained that if relief be given to the treasury the only way to afford it was by the appropriation bill. The question was, he said, what was the present condition of the treasury? If it was found that more money had been appropriated for the year than the receipts of the treasury would amount to during the year, the senate could not afford to adjourn until provision had been made to meet the deficiency, unless congress desired the further issue of bonds of a similar character to those already issued. He claimed that the recent statement of the secretary of the treasury is misleading. He (Gorman) figured out a deficiency of $60,000,000 for the year ending June 30, 1895. He declared it was not wise for congress to adjourn when the president had avowed that in case of emergency he would continue to sell bonds. The mode of obtaining relief, he said, was too expensive and was piling up the public debt.

When the proposed amendment providing for the issue of certificates of indebtedness had been read, Berry said: "I make a point of order against this financial amendment on the ground that it is general legislation." Hill offered a further amendment that hereafter all treasury notes when presented to the treasury shall not be redeemed, but shall be cancelled. He sought to speak in explanation of his amendment, but Mills insisted on the rule and an immediate decision on the point of order.

After order was restored Gorman continued: "That is the whole question," responded Gorman, "and if the senator will permit me, I will, in my own crude way, present the question of the secretary's responsibility." "Is the treasury in such condition that it cannot provide for the wants of the government?" asked Gorman. "Are the revenues amounting insufficient to meet the expenditures and the appropriations we are making? If our actual expenditures are greater than our receipts we cannot afford to adjourn until we meet this emergency unless we make some way to meet our obligations."

A HENTON COUNTY MURDER.

A Father in Law Brutally Murders His Son-in-Law.

CORVALLIS, Or., Feb. 28.—It is reported from Summit, a small station about twenty-five miles west of Corvallis, in the burnt woods district, that John McCalt was shot and almost instantly killed by his father-in-law, John McDowell.

There seems to have been trouble for some time between McCalt and his wife, which finally ended by McDowell having McCalt arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery on his wife. The trial came off yesterday in Justice Luker's court, at Little Elk, when McCalt was acquitted.

McDowell and his family went hidden ahead of McCalt, and the latter followed with avowed intention of taking his children, who were with his wife at his father-in-law's. He rode up to the McDowell place on horse back, and called from the gate, asking if the children were there, to which he was answered by McDowell that they were. He thereupon said that he had come for them, and would take them, when McDowell told him he could not have them, and it is understood that McDowell immediately fired a load of buck-shot, which struck McCalt and his horse. The horse became unmanageable and threw McCalt off. As he fell, he tried to get up, saying: "You have not downed me yet," when McDowell rushed out with a revolver and fired three more shots, all taking effect in McCalt's side.

McDowell is 73 years old, while McCalt is a young man. McDowell claims he shot McCalt through fear he would be overpowered if he allowed him to get too close. McCalt was not armed, and from the information so far obtained, it is thought the killing was for and the inquest has been held.

IT WILL BE OPERATED.

Trustee Wallace Announces That the Salem Cannery Will Run.

We have good news for the farmers. J. M. Wallace of the Salem Cannery Co. authorizes THE JOURNAL to announce that he has completed arrangements to run the cannery and is prepared to sign up contracts on acreage for peas.

He has today received telegrams in response to orders for over $1000 worth of seed, and farmers who wish to make contracts for planting are requested to call at the office of the water company. At least 100 acres of peas will be canned and the farmers are to be congratulated on the consummation of this enterprise. Later on we shall have more good news for the farmers along this line. The situation is a hopeful one and we believe there is a year of prosperity ahead of us.

THE CUBAN UPRISING.

Gen. Julio Saugli and Thirty Leaders Arrested.

CUBA IS UNDER MILITARY LAW.

The Revolutionists Disagreed as to a Leader.

New York, Feb. 28.—The Ward Line steamer, Orintha, which arrived this morning from Havana, brings news that the whole island has been put under martial law since February 24. Great excitement prevailed at Havana, Sunday morning owing to the arrest of the old Cuban, General Julio Saugli, and about thirty members of the first families of Havana, who are imprisoned in the military fort, Cabaeta. It is reported that about three hundred persons, who sympathized with the revolutionists, are also imprisoned. There is no news from the northern portion of the island were in favor of General Manuel Garcia taking charge of operations against the government, while people in the southern part wanted another leader. It was rumored that the threatened uprising of Cuban revolutionists had been betrayed by one of their party.

PROF. FARRAND'S DISCOVERY.

Said to Have Found a Positive Cure for Asthma and Hay-Fever.

Among the few really eminent botanists of America, Prof. Farrand of rank, and a discovery which he recently made will do much to add to his fame.

After long research he has found a happy combination of herbs and leaves that contain the peculiar health-giving qualities of the famous Adirondack regions, where diseases of air passages are unknown. Wherever tried this has given great relief, and 75 per cent of the cases reported a perfect cure of asthma, some of them seemingly hopeless cases.

This Adirondack asthma cure is now offered to the public generally by the Dr. Howard Co., Box E 7, Burlington, Vt., who will mail a large sized box for 50 cents. They do not want pay from those whom they do not cure, and will return the money to any whom Adirondack asthma cure fails to benefit. This remarkable offer should be accepted at once by any of our readers who have asthma or other respiratory disease.

Supposed Murder.
