THE COMMISSION OFFICES.

Will Not Be Paid Until There is Some Authority.

The question whether Oregon's railroad commission, fish and game warden, and food and dairy commissioner holdover, in view of the fact that the legislature adjourned without electing, has advanced a step nearer solution today.

The auditing clerk, Mr. Lovell, has been instructed by secretary of state Kincaid to issue no vouchers for the salaries of these officers for any service rendered later than Feb. 23d, the date when the legislature might have elected but did not do so.

This is not to be considered as placing any construction upon their legal status by the secretary of state, but that official simply declines to take any chances of committing what the courts may hold to be illegal.

The governor has the matter under advisement also but declines to say anything except that the courts may have to settle it.

The attorney general has the whole matter of the legal status of these officials under consideration and is formulating an exhaustive opinion.

The first official to encounter the order not to pay any of the salaries later than February 23, was Fish and Game Warden McGuire, who, today, presented his bill for the first quarter but was informed that if he would make a bill for services to February 22 only it would be paid.

RIVER NEWS.

Steamer Kinross will be up from the metropolis tonight bound for Corvallis.

The Alice A makes her regular trip each day between Salem and Independence arriving at Salem about 10:30 and on the return trip leaves at 1:15 p. m.

Passenger steamer Altona came up from the metropolis this afternoon with a fair load of freight and usual number of passengers. After making her landing and discharging Salem freight, she proceeded on up the river to Independence.

The refreshing Oregon showers, which have been looked for by the river men for some time, have come and the steamboat men are now happy over the prospect of a noticeable raise of the river which will permit the boats to carry even heavier loads than they have been carrying for the past three months and at the same time make schedule time.

Trade on the river, which has been rather dull for the past month, is beginning to pick up. More potatoes and grain are being shipped, there being a slight advance in the market. The potatoes are shipped direct to San Francisco, while the wheat is unloaded at the Portland Flouring Mills at Oregon City.

Time to Call a Halt.

All of these reports telegraphed abroad by irre possible newspaper correspondents and flatteringly headed "Sinful Salem," "The Wicked Capital City," "Oregon's Monte Carlo," etc., are unjust and are doing the city more harm than good.

It is not time to go to work and set for the Capital City's good qualities and hold a public meeting setting forth the merits of our city and heralding them forth to the world.

Police Court.

Young Hepburn, who is so infatuated with a Japanese woman in this city, with whom he ran away, but returned again, is now involved in a peck of trouble.

Last Monday evening at a joint meeting of Sedgwick Post and Relief Corps, to which all old soldiers and their people were especially invited.

Those present were happily disappointed and highly enjoyed by the address of Major Nash, U. S. A. His topic was "The duties of citizenship," and in his talk discussed that broad subject in all its phases, and especially dwelt upon the importance of pure motives and patriotism in public life.

Major Nash has been in the service since 1861, and while he is a plain, ostentatious gentleman, his ideas and life long training have given him a broad culture that was the admiration of all whom he met.

An effort will be made to have him again visit our city when opportunity offers.

The Brown Case.

In the supreme court, Thursday, a ruling was made allowing R. G. Brown, murderer of Alfred Kincaid, at Oakland, Or., who is appealing from the decision of the circuit court for Douglas county, until May 1st to file his brief, says the Eugene Guard.

This will drag the case along through the summer before the higher court will pass upon it. Thus Brown's neck is in no immediate danger, Brown is the man who murdered Alfred Kincaid in cold blood last July at Oakland, Or. He was convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to be hanged, but his attorneys carried the case into the supreme court. It is to be hoped Brown will receive his just dues.

Happy Graduates.

Graduation diplomas from our public schools have been issued by County Supt. Graham to six young graduates of the Hubbard school district where E. T. Moore is teacher.

Their names are Walter Dimick, Willie Plaster, Walter Priest, Ivan Grim, Carl King, and Joseph McQuinn. The graduating exercises will take place in the auditorium in that town, Friday evening. Diplomas will be issued shortly to the graduates of the Gervais school. There are four in the class, viz: James Hargreaves, Kittle Smith, Omer McQuinn and Hugh Egan. They have been receiving instructions from W. R. Powers. The examination was held at Mehama by W. P. Mulkey, deputized by the superintendent.

Retired.

Walter Lyon, late of the Daily Post, has retired from the paper, and will resume his law studies at the office of Shaw & Hunt. Mr. Lyon will also continue to represent the Oregonian in the news field. Walter is one of the ablest and most deserving young men in the state, and will some day be an ornament to the legal profession. His numerous connections as sole proprietor of the Daily Post, while the Fletcher served as editor of the Post and proprietor of the Weekly Independent.

THE LORD'S WILL BE DONE.

If it is, Oregon will be minus its greatest ornament. A thing of beauty and of joy will be lost forever. The Oregon railroad commission is still in a state of equivoical desuetude.

Governor Lord refuses so far to even appoint a stenographer in his own office, for which the legislature made provision. How can he appoint or retain a thing for which there is no provision?

Col. Jim Eddy is scared and is making application to the Lord to be re-appointed. But the Lord turns a deaf ear to his importunity.

General Compton still keeps his typewriter, but that office like his own is coming to be quite a sinecure.

Oregon's $20,000 scandal appendage now hangs as it were suspended by a single hair. That hair is a possibly favorable opinion of the attorney general.

The appendiculus of Oregon politics still exists, but its existence is like one of the nebulae of Orion—can only be seen with a telescope.

Citizens' Meeting.

WOODBURN, Or., March 21.—There will be a meeting of citizens at Baro's hall Saturday evening, March 23, to place in nomination candidates for mayor, marshal, treasurer and recorder, also four councilmen, two for a two years' term and two for a one years' term.

FINE SUPPER.—The supper given at the Sunnyside school house, seven miles south of the city, last Saturday evening was a great success as a royal good time was had. About $10 was realized. Rev. and Mrs. Belknap were present.

UMBRELLA HOSPITAL.—John J. Maurer, M. D. New ribs, new covers, new handles. With C. M. Lockwood, 288 Commercial street. 11 27/11

Common Sense.

Should be used in attempting to cure that very disagreeable disease, catarrh. As catarrh originates in impurities of the blood, local applications can do no permanent good. The common sense method of treatment is to purify the blood, and for this purpose there is no preparation superior to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills cure constipation by restoring peristaltic action to the alimentary canal.

The Ladies of Salem.

Are invited to call and inspect our stock of bonnets, hats, etc., before purchasing. We have a well-selected stock of all the latest novelties and an elegant line of patterns, also beautiful hats for $1 and upwards. (See south window). Our trimmer is first-class, and as this is our first spring season in the millinery business, you can rest assured that you will have nothing offered you but entirely new and fresh goods direct from the Eastern markets. Goods all marked in plain figures and one price to all. Call in today and see what we can do for you. At the Ladies' Bazaar.
