Barn Burned.
As a result of playing with matches, J. E. Baker's barn back of his residence near the corner of Twelfth and Mission streets, was entirely consumed by fire late Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Baker's loss will amount to about $200. Luckily, Mrs. Baker was out driving with a handsome buggy and the family horse or the loss might have been considerably heavier. When the fire was discovered, the son of Mr. Price, who operates the soda works on Court street, secured his bicycle and hastened at once to the fire department who responded promptly but did not reach the burning building until it had fallen in. For a time the spectators thought the row of handsome cottages adjoining that of Mr. Baker's facing Twelfth street, would surely be destroyed, but with a maneuver of the garden hose, the fire was prevented from spreading although it was with a great deal of hard fighting that Dr. Port's barn was saved. While on the way to the fire nine spokes were broken on the horse cart striking a street car rail obliquely.

The Oregon nightingale (male) will warble and Editor Flagg, of the Saturday Night, will try to tell the truth for the first time in his life. Mrs. McDowell, Mrs. Pennybacker and the Misses Hutton will sing.

PICTURE FRAMING AT KELLER & SONS

Fraternal Picnics.
The picnic epidemic is about to hit us. On the 24th the Jefferson City Band will give their annual picnic at the Miller grove, June 11 the Macabees hold their anniversary celebration at the same grove, and on June 22, Green Leaf Lodge A. O. U. W., of this city, gives a big blowout. Jefferson is "long" on picnics.—Jefferson Review.
Salem Workmen are getting the picnic fever, and it is understood that the lodges of that order propose to run an excursion train on June 22, to carry themselves, their families and friends to Jefferson. Neighboring lodges will also be invited to join them. The Second Regiment band will be chartered, and a gay time is in anticipation.

OREGON DELEGATE.—Governor Lord today appointed Miss Minnie C. Holcomb, of Portland, who is at present visiting in the East, as a delegate to represent Oregon at the national meeting of the board of charities and correction, to be held at New Haven.

TAKE A STROLL.—With your best friend on Saturday eve May 18, cut State street to the Imperial ice cream parlors and see how Joe Woodford can dish up ice cream and cake for 15 cents, near Eighteenth street.

BY EXPRESS.—By delivery wagon—in fact laundry is brought to us in every way imaginable and is returned cleaned from dirt and appearing as near like new garments as they possibly can. Give us a trial and we will please you.

LADIES' DAY.

Salem ladies can now see two of the daintiest patterns of decorated semi-porcelain table ware ever imported. They are rich, direct from England. See the show window at SONNEMANN'S, 124 State.

VALLEY LOCAL NEWS.

Marion.
The farmers say that the prospect for an abundant crop in this vicinity is good. The fruit crop also bids fair to be abundant.

Marion was pretty well represented at the state C. E. convention held at Salem, there being ten or twelve from this place.

Rev. L. M. Honorth preached at Jefferson on Sabbath evening. Mr. Daniel Maeson from Klamath county, stopped over night with A. B. George on the 4th, on his way to Payette, Idaho, to visit his daughter, Mrs. M. A. George of that place.

Clarence Farnham was visiting with his parents on Sunday. He left Perrydale at 6 a. m. and took breakfast at 8 with his brother Ed, two miles out of town, having made a run of 32 miles in just 2 hours. Pretty good for a new cyclist.

Rev. Whiteman of Turner, preached at the Presbyterian church last Sunday.

Mrs. Joe Daren, of the Marion hotel, has been quite ill but is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Rutherford went to Salem on Monday, also A. B. and George on same date.

Aumsville.
Mrs. Dan Smith was very sick last week, but we are glad to say she is improving.

Some people are hard to convince if their minds are once made up, especially is the report is bad. It is like throwing water into the ocean to raise the tide, to convince them, for their great minds once formed never change. Aumsville has several of these great minds.

We noticed the report of frost last week. We had no frost at this point, except a very little which was seen only by the early risers.

The hailstorm Wednesday reminded us of Kansas, as it was accompanied by considerable wind, but not enough to do much damage.

Some one tied a dog to August's door post. He accused Joe, who politely said "you lie." "Don't you call me a liar." "But you are a liar," said Joe. "I never allow any one to call me a liar," said August. "But you are a liar," said Joe. "Come out into the road and I will wipe the ground with you," said August. Joe followed August into the street, when August raised a hoe and said, "now don't you dare call me a liar again." Joe promptly replied "You are a liar." "You had better not say that again." "You are a liar," said August. "You are a liar," said August. "You are a liar," said August. "You are a liar," said August.

The birthday party of Miss Annie Lateroull was an enjoyable affair. Our Willie got mad at John this week about a little picture that John had and Willie wanted. We think it was wrong in John to plague Willie, for surely John did not want the picture near him, and Willie wanted it so bad, that in a boyish way he said, that he would spend fifty dollars to get the picture.

Mrs. John Kinsey has been and is very sick, at her father's home in Aumsville.

The first part of last week Dr. Klass, proprietor of the Southern Pacific hotel, gave us the rain flag, but the last of the week he allowed the good weather flag to fly. He is very exact, not only about the weather, but about all the arrangement of his hotel and the thrifty landlady places food before her guest that not only satisfies hunger but every refined taste.

We have a person in town who will not let her daughter associate with her own grand child, who is only two years old.

From Macleay.
If you want to see nature in all its beauty, come to Macleay. The birds flying from tree to tree in perfect glee. The earth is carpeted in green, and the trees, with their green foliage and beautiful white blossoms, are a scene wonderful to look at.

On last Friday evening the church was filled with enthusiastic people in the temperance cause. A Salem gentleman delivered a telling lecture on this subject, and gave both old and young some excellent advice. Two young ladies from the Riekey temperance lodge, whose names I did not learn, voiced. We are glad to see this interest manifested.

John C. Craig, our merchant, is again waiting upon his customers. Mr. Brower was in charge during Mr. Craig's absence.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Simeral made a flying trip to the prairie Wednesday.

Mrs. Judge Waldo came up from Portland on Wednesday.

Mrs. Lavinia Craig Downing is visiting her father for a few days.

Dr. Wm. Hurst has a place well suited for gardening. He has taken a great deal of pride in selecting the choicest of all small fruits. Give him a call. The doctor is a sort of "inventor" and you cannot spend a more pleasant hour than in the doctor's company at his home.

Mr. John Bosler has been making some splendid improvements about his home. Mr. Bosler has a beautiful garden, and for items in this line go to Mr. B.

RIVER NEWS.
The river continues to fall slowly. The Elmore returns from Portland this evening bound for Corvallis.

The Altona left for the metropolis at 7:45 a. m. today, having a fair load of freight and a usual number of passengers. She had a good load of passengers on her trip up from Portland Tuesday.

McCall Bros. want eggs at 100 Court street.

Out a short way from Macleay is the farm of Mr. Eos Martin. There you find a fish pond, where many a pleasant hour has been spent by those fond of throwing the line.

There is no end to the improvements made by Judge Waldo on his large farm. With all the varied improvements, it is estimated that he has 2500 feet of gates. Dotted here and there over the farm can be seen the judge's favorite, the C. J. Simeral improved patent gate. He is sound on the financial question. This learned man predicts that "future prosperity can never come until silver is restored and the American mint is open to its coinage."

Hon. David Craig's extensive hop yard is in a splendid condition. The honorable is one of Macleay's strong men.

The Macleay school board held its business meeting in the Macleay school building on Saturday, after school had closed. There were present Directors Craig, Bosler, Sandbrook and Clerk Brower. A number of applications from different educators were read, and each received the courtesy due them. They recognized the fact that the school had been a decided success and re-elected Miss Lizzie Cornelius principal, and Miss Josie Taylor assistant of the Macleay public school.

Brooks.
Grandpa Harris made a visit to Independence this week. Last Sunday our Epworth League met the Woodburn E. L. in joint convention in the M. E. church at Woodburn.

The Christian Science leaders held Sunday School here Sunday. The W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. E. K. Shaw at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, May 22. Everybody invited to attend.

La Follett, Ina La-Follett, and Jessie Collard; following visitors called: County Supt. Graham, Mrs. A. Collard, Clar Emert, and Rolile Lelay. Elton Shaw, teacher.
