THE SILVER MEN MEET.

The Second Day's Convention at Memphis.

SPEECHES BY PROMINENT MEN.

Report of the Committee on Resolutions.

LAST NIGHT'S SESSION.

MEMPHIS, TENN., June 12.—Ex-Governor L. Bradford Prince, of New Mexico, called attention to the fact that several Western and Northwestern states did not respond to roll call, which was due, he said, to the fact that within a few weeks these states had held a silver convention at Salt Lake at which a committee was appointed to represent them collectively at this gathering. The fact that the delegates were not present indicated no lack of interest in the movement or lack of sympathy with the silver convention. The chairman then introduced Hon. Alex. Delmar, of California, the eminent coinage author, who spoke at length.

Addresses were made tonight by Congressman Sibley, of Pennsylvania, G. S. Thomas, of Denver, and Anson Wolcott of Indiana. Tomorrow will be devoted to speeches by some of the distinguished visitors and consideration of the report of the committee on resolutions, of which Senator Jones, of Arkansas is chairman.

Politically, the most significant incident of the day's proceedings was the clear and emphatic statement of Senator Harris, of Tennessee, who, it has been clearly demonstrated, is the controlling spirit in the convention, as to the object of the gathering and the single subject to which it is expected to confine its deliberations. The strength of the men who are for silver first, last and all the time, and whose purpose to advance the candidacy of Congressman Sibley, of Pennsylvania, for the presidency has been frequently manifested, is formidable, and the result of an encounter between these two opposing forces—the conservative and the radical silver men—as it will be shown in the declarations of the convention, is watched with great interest.

THE SECOND DAY.

The second day's session of the great silver convention opened with no sign of a diminution in the supply of speeches, and it is doubtful if it will complete its labors before late at night. A number of distinguished guests are set down for speeches today, and, in addition, there is the most important business of the meeting, the report of the committee on resolutions to be considered.

Senator Stewart was introduced and made a speech of an hour's duration. In conclusion he said: "Thanks to Mr. Cleveland, the purposes of the enemy are disclosed. If the people submit to financial bondage and lose their liberty they will have been warned in time. The gold standard, falling prices and hard times are as much the policy of Sherman, Harrison and the great mass of leading Republicans as it is of Cleveland himself. The only difference is that Cleveland proclaims openly what the hypocrites do secretly."

At noon the committee on resolutions is locked in the parlor of the Gayles hotel engaged in a discussion that is sure to last the greater part of the day. There is no likelihood of a report at the morning session.

An injection of the Populist element into the membership has caused trouble, though this trouble has not yet assumed a more serious form than the necessity of listening to innumerable speeches and voting down the propositions of extremists.

Seven Populists added to the committee last night, with their allies in that body as originally formed, are making an earnest fight for a declaration upon independent lines. In addition to this complication the Sibley boom has not yet been disposed of. There is not much likelihood, however, that the resolution committee will have to face the direct proposition to endorse the candidacy of Sibley.

There was considerable dissatisfaction expressed by influential Democrats at the radical utterances of Sibley last night in his appeal for independent political action in 1896 and the obliteration of party ties. The attempt to swing the gathering into a third party boom, presumably in Sibley's personal interest, was not relished by such men as Senator Harris and Governor Clark of Arkansas, and they were not slow in expressing their disapproval. There was some talk of a bolt of the two conservatives, but as it was obvious that the third party were hopelessly in the minority, that sentiment had not many exponents. Governor Evans, of South Carolina, says:

"I believe the proper course to pursue is to capture the Democratic convention. If free silver men capture the Democratic convention the gold bugs will join the Republican party."

"If it became necessary, governor, would you give up your Democracy for free silver?"

"I would give up anything and go anywhere for free silver, if it became necessary. Free silver Democrats will not go into the Populist party, for that is a stench in the nostrils of the people. They will not go into the Republican party, and yet the Democratic party under Cleveland is little better."

Sues for Libel.

TOPEKA, June 13.—Judge C. G. Foster of the U. S. district court, today brought suit in the Shawnee county district court for criminal libel against Major J. K. Hudson, editor of the Topeka Capital and state printer-elect. The two have long been at enmity and in the Capital of June 21 appeared a long editorial charging Judge Foster with interfering in the contest between the present state printer Snow and Hudson. The editorial referred to Foster as a "legal tyrant," and "judicial cadaver," accused him of drawing a salary as district U. S. judge for services he was not able to perform, and also stated that he packed the grand jury, that this travesty upon a just judge gave such instructions as to insure a verdict against the collection of fees which he himself endorsed as correct.

Corbett Fitzsimmons.

DALLAS, TEXAS, June 13.—The seating capacity of the mammoth structure in which the Corbett-Fitzsimmons will take place, will be forty thousand. There will be 250 boxes with ten chairs in each. Prices for boxes has not been settled but the general admission will be $10, with reserved seats at $20. Reduced rates have been secured on several railroads.

The Tide Land Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Secretary Howe Smith has decided a case involving the ownership of the tide water lands in the state of Washington and the right of location on the same of Indian scrip. He holds that the title of the state in such lands cannot be defeated by location of such scrip.

Anti Trust Decision.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 13.—The supreme court of Illinois today filed an opinion in the case of the people versus the distilling and cattle feeding company. A judgment of master entered by the lower court is affirmed. The effect of this decision will be to break up the whisky trust.

THE BIG BULL MINES.

Bought Up By an English Syndicate.

TO OPEN THE SILVER MINES.

Work to Be Pushed in the Quartzville District.

The White and Red Bull mining properties in the Santiam country have been sold to a syndicate of English capitalists and will be worked on a large scale. These properties were owned by Am's Strong, Seth Hammer and other Salem men.

The Oregonian today says: "Mr. William B. Lawler, a mining expert, who for a year past has been engaged in advancing the interests of Lion county mines, left Portland last evening for Mehama City. He has purchased the interest of Mr. F. N. Shurtless and G. McD. Stroud in the White Bull mine, and now holds absolute control of that and adjoining properties situated in the Quartzburg mining district."

Mr. Lawler is associated with Mr. J. F. Medina, manager and owner of the London Bank of Central America, and other wealthy capitalists, who intend investing a large amount of money in developing the many resources of Southern Oregon.

A few weeks ago Mr. Arthur Pearce, an English engineer, visited the property, and his report only adds to the favorable mention heretofore made by leading experts. Mr. Lawler is now arranging to commence active work, and it has been entirely due to his energy and persistence that all obstacles have been overcome, and the development of the property really begun. The work of this season will be driving of three tunnels, the sinking of two shafts and the building of a wagon road from Gates to Quartzville. A mill, 40-stamp capacity, will also be constructed, and, before snow flies next winter, the property will be in fine working condition. Hank Smith, so well known on the Comstock in its palmy days, and until recently superintendent on the Bullion-Beck mine of Utah, will have charge of the property, and subsequent development has proven the accuracy of the statements made by Mr. Smith regarding the Quartzburg property.

The State Normal School.

MORMOUTH, June 13.—The commencement exercises of the state normal school at Morrmouth will be opened Saturday, June 15, by an entertainment given by the different literary societies. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached by Rev. William S. Gilbert, of the First Presbyterian church of Eugene. Monday will be class day, and Tuesday field day. The invitations sent out this year by the school have an unusually attractive appearance.

Despondency and Suicide.

SAN JOSE, June 13.—Amelia Reinhardt, aged 22, employed as waitress in the Kurka hotel, committed suicide last night by shooting. The motive which prompted the deed was despondency resulting from a prospective separation from her young lady friend and room mate, Miss Gunnie Munson, another employe at the hotel.

THE OREGONIAN LIAR.

Facts About Secretary Kincaid's Salary

KNOCK THE $20,000 LIE SILLY.

Kincaid Turns More Money In Than He Gets.

That unprincipled monopolistic sheet, the Portland Oregonian, has persistently slandered the office of the secretary of state. It has slurred and insulted both the past and present administration of this office and held both Secretary Kincaid and ex-Secretary McBride up as public robbers who improperly persuaded the legislature to retain their enormous fees and salaries.

The facts do not leave Harvey Scott a foot of ground to stand upon. The facts show that the office at present is not paying over $5,000 a year, and it has never paid the occupant over from $5,000 to $7,000 a year.

The Oregonian has published several times as a fact that the secretary of state receives in salary and fees $20,000 a year. Secretary Kincaid has today made up the figures of the receipts of his office for six months past, salary, fees from insurance companies, sales of books, etc., a total of $4,726.53. Of this he has turned over to the state treasury according to law $2,480.14 and has retained for his services $2,246.39.

The clerical force of the department of state is paid out of appropriations made biennially by the legislature. Not a dollar is paid out for that purpose that is not absolutely necessary. Until last Monday there was work in copying the laws and legislative journals for a number of typewriters. That work was completed Monday and they were all discharged. Of course the Oregonian will not correct its statements to the contrary.

THE JOURNAL does not agree with Mr. Kincaid in all public matters and is not excusing big fees or big salaries. But we want the people to consider the above facts as against the Oregonian's mere slanderous assertions and draw their own conclusions. Harvey Scott will defend a man like Lotan and vilify a man like Kincaid. He probably has reasons for doing so, and has tastes and ideas in such matters that are peculiarly his own. When the people come to pass their final opinion on public officials their judgment will not be unfavorable to Mr. Kincaid.

FULTON IS STRAIGHT.

After all the raving of the Oregonian and the Dolphites over this great victory in the state Republican club convention, one fact as to one public man in Oregon remains—Chas. W. Fulton of Astoria has pursued a straight and consistent course.

While he said nothing and was in court trying a case during the whole gathering, and was not called on to make a speech, he was consulted with his friends and has made no compromise or alliance with the ring as against the people of this state. He has more friends today in Oregon than ever before in his life. There are other straight men in Oregon and the people know where to find them but there is none straighter than Charles Fulton.
