BAD ROADS IN LINN.

A "Journal" Wheelman Swims Through the Mud.

OUT AMONG THE BOLD POPULISTS.

The Waterloo Woolen Mills and Salem People.

ON THE ROAD, June 12.—After leaving Sodaville, I wheeled to the north over some of the worst roads, I think in the state. A team and hack mired in the road on the 9th inst. and the horses had to be helped out. This is in the forks of the Santiam and north an east of the Santiam bridge. After attending a picnic about three and a half miles west of Scio and talking good roads to the people on Saturday evening I concluded to run home for Sunday.

The road down was fine except at a point about three miles south of Turner on the Marion road. This is a disgrace to the whole precinct. There is a deep mud hole extending clear across the road and up into the fence corners and about fifty feet across. It has been there to my certain knowledge fifteen years and in that time there appears to have been no attempt to fix it. Then just north of it is a wide and shallow creek (probably two hundred feet across the water) and out in the middle of this expanse of water is a little bridge, probably twenty feet long, to be climbed onto and over by teams. Footmen and wheelmen can wade or swim. There are hundreds of these water holes all over the prairie in the side roads, but only a few in the main road.

I am comforted sometimes by the sight of a strip of a decently graded road, but most of the supervisors are affected with the "house roof idea" of road grading yet. Sunday I took dinner with the reform school boys, as it was impossible to get a bite in Salem. The conductors seemed to have the call on all the grub in Salem. If the reform school boys know enough to come in on the west they will manage to stick to Hendricks until they are of age or longer. They are not overworked and are fed and clothed better than 99 hundredths of the people of Oregon can feed and clothe their children. One of the boys told his mother, that day, that he would rather stay there than at home. His poor old mother could hardly keep back the tear while telling the superintendent about it.

Monday I visited Scio and surrounding country. This is a nice little town on both sides of Thomis creek, one of the middle branches of the roaring Santiam. They are just putting up a new school house, wood with cement or concrete foundation. The wood-work was repaired by a Salem contractor. This is quite a Populist country and I see that they have the idea of collective ownership of monopolies all right, as the city owns and operates the water and electric light plants. It seems to be a success here.

There is quite a collection of bicycles at Scio. Among the wheelmen are Roy R. and R. N. Gill, who take THE JOURNAL. Dr. Rowler, formerly of Salem, is another JOURNAL reader. Tuesday I ascended the left bank of the Santiam to the city of Waterloo, which is in charge of Mrs. H. Krum. I notice there are no Chinamen at the hotels in this part of the country. Mrs. Krum is a first class landlady, as her numerous boarders can testify. The roar of the falls makes the finest music to lull one to sleep. In the morning I proceeded to interview the wide-awake citizens, and about the first one I met was Thos. Kay of Salem, who is up here attending to the business of the branch woolen mills which are located here. He tells me that the mill is now running on full time, making flannels on orders ahead and they will be running 24 hours per day, as soon as the electric light plant is set up, which will be in a few days now. These mills will then employ 80 hands steady. This is one among the best water powers in the state. Mr. Kay is interested in the townsite and as he wants the town to grow, is doing all he can to improve the place. Their soda spring is across the main channel of the Santiam and comes up through the rocks where the middle of the river is in the winter time, but in a few days they will have a footbridge across over the falls to it. At present it is quite inconvenient to get to the spring. Fred Gross is the "Nasby" of the town, having been P. M. for nearly a dozen years. The postoffice is located at his store. He is talking of leasing his house to a lady resident of the town who will open another hotel soon. Nearly all kinds of business is well represented here. Mr. J. H. Turpin reads THE DAILY JOURNAL as he searches a few minutes time from waiting on his customers in the general merchandise store on Main street. He is, or soon will be agent for Wells Fargo & Co.'s Express.

Filling & Bitner furnish the meats for everybody. The latter, as his name would indicate, was in Deutschland Geboren, but he can talk United States, too. Then O. E. Martin, near the bridge and adjoining the camp ground, sells cigars and tobacco, and has a general assortment of wet goods in stock for the use of those who do not like the soda water. They all read the JOURNAL. I met here Mr. J. C. Hutten, the grandfather of your rose queen and father of Councilman Hutten, of Salem. I handed him a copy of the JOURNAL, having Miss Mable's portrait in it, which had not yet reached this office. He lives here in town and now takes the DAILY JOURNAL.

The roads about here are pretty good now but have the appearance of being terrible affairs in the wet season. There is lots of work being done now on the roads about here and if well applied the roads should be a great deal better by next winter.

The material for the electric light plant has arrived at the depot at Lebanon, and all but the dynamo has arrived here. The wires are in place in the mills and the dynamo will be brought out and put in place right away. This is a 300 light machine, and, as the mill only require 100, Mr. Kay proposes to supply the town at prices that will shut out the Standard Oil Company entirely, as the stores and hotels will be furnished lights at 50 cents per room per month.

The streets will be lighted the same way by next fall. Mr. Kay proposes to fence off a five acre ground and furnish a number of electric lights free to campers in the grove which is now being trimmed and cleaned up.

The patriotic citizens propose to have a 4th of July celebration this year that will be a stunner. Negotiations are pending for a good brass band for the day. Everybody invited.

The residence of Joe, Saltmarsh, near here, was burned to the ground last Thursday. Before the fire was discovered it had made so much headway that it was impossible to save the contents, but the most of its contents were saved by the assistance of the neighbors. The house had been built about three years and cost $1000. No insurance.

Sunday, the 9th inst., the house of Mr. Mummelen, on the road near Sodaville, with the outbuildings, except barn, burned within a few minutes. Loss, about $1000; insurance, $800. These people are old folks and in no condition to stand much of a loss.

The Spanish Forces Are Losing Ground in Cuba.

FIRE AND DYNAMITE AT WORK.

Insurgents Gaining Victories On Every Hand.

TAMPA, Fla., June 14.—The following proclamation has just been received from Cuba: To the Cuban people: "Maximo Gomez is in command with 2,000 men. Marquis of Santa Lucia with the cry of 'Cuba Libre,' has joined him with 1,500 men. Twenty of the most noted gentlemen of Puerto Principe accompany the worthy son of Gamequey. There is no hope for Spain. ReMidas has protected the landing of Roloff and his 280 men. He brings munitions of war and 5,000 pounds of dynamite. The landing of Yeoo and Searphin Sanchez is confirmed. They bring American pyrotechnics. Santo Spirita has already seven armed bands. General Macez with 6,000 Machetes is destroying and burning everything which he finds in his way. Liberal Spaniards have nothing to fear. Lives and property will be respected while assistance is not rendered to the government."

The daily expenses of the Spaniards runs up to $150,000. Martinez Campes has lost already 10,000 men. Soldiers in the city of Manzanillo die in the streets of fever and dysentery. Famle spreads through the province of Cuba. At Baracoa and Guantanamo there are 15,000 insurgents in arms.

Liberal Spaniards, sons of Riego and Pino, hurrah for liberty. To arms and down with metropolitan government and tyranny. Hurrah for Maximo Gomez." (Signed) Revolutionary Committee of Havana.

SAFE FROM GORE.

Boss Buckley Buys His Freedom From Murder.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—The "Bulletin" says Chris Buckley now walks on the streets, after months spent in seclusion through fear of Jake Rudolph. Rudolph has been in jail charged with an attempt to murder Business Manager Elliott of the Chronicle. Rudolph escaped prosecution by pleading insanity.

He was afterwards discharged from the asylum, then re-arrested for threatening to kill Buckley, alleging the latter had defrauded him out of property. Upon Buckley transferring to Rudolph 100 shares of local lottery company stock and a house and lot, Rudolph agreed not to molest the ex-conv.

A World Realization.
BRUSSELS, June 14.—Alphonse Aillard, a delegate from Belgium to the international monetary conference in 1892, in an address to a conservative association asserted that the only real remedy for the industrial and commercial depression is to rehabilitate silver. That the world was realizing this was shown in the wide spread bimetallic movement.

The Pioneers.
PORTLAND, June 14.—The twenty-third annual pioneer reunion is being held here today. The annual address was delivered by Wm. Galloway, of Yamhill county.

Wilamette Commencement Next Week.

The societies are making great preparations for the annual reunion tonight. This literary program will be given in the society halls, and the banquet to follow, given to members and special friends in the gymnasium building.

The president's office is a busy place now, made so by a number of those who are being examined for a state diploma, including most in the graduates of the college and academy classes.

President Hawley is still ailing, not being able to attend to all his duties. Tomorrow night will be the medal contest in Indian club swinging at the gymnasium at 8 p. m. Two medals will be awarded to the best lady and gentleman swinger respectively. The medals are given through the kindness of W. W. Martin. The judgments will be made on position, grace and accuracy.

All present and former Philodorian and Philodorian are cordially invited to attend the annual reunion of those societies tonight at 8 o'clock in their halls in the university. A banquet will be served after the program.

June 13th was the second anniversary of the organization of Co. I, O. N. G., so in the evening the members of the company organized a little banquet under the lead of Captain Perry Willis, and a very enjoyable season was the result. Major C. E. Hoblin, Capt. T. F. Welch, Lieutenants K. H. Leach and Chas. Murphy were invited guests and partook of the hospitality of the "I's" within the banquet hall of singing. Delicious refreshments were served, and the boys will remember the occasion as one of the happiest events of their national guard life.

NEW TREASURY.—State Treasurer Metcalf got an appropriation of $2000 in the last legislature to refit and refurnish his office. A contract was let to the Water Co. of Portland for about $1400, and the elegant new outfit arrived today. It was intended to purchase a new safe, but as so much has been expended to fix up the office no safe will be bought at present. Harsh and Olinger are putting in the new furnishings.

JIM MEAD.—Wade all his old-time friends to remember that he is in the steam wood saw business. Leave orders with R. H. Woodruff, lack of post office.

Ten Operatives Are Killed by a Boiler Explosion.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC IMPLICATED.

Accused of Assisting in Government Land Cases.

FALL RIVER, Mass., June 14.—The worst catastrophe that has visited this city since the Granite Mill fire, occurred this morning. In the Langley harness shop, a four story building, on County street, a new boiler exploded in the basement, blowing out the entire side of the structure, and allowing the upper floors to settle into a mass of ruins. Mayor Green announces at 11 o'clock that 10 persons are killed. Three are still missing. Only about 30 persons were in the building when the explosion occurred. There are a number injured and several may die. The fire is now all out, but the building is so badly wrecked that the search of the ruins is progressing slowly.

Most of the employees were women. Flames communicated with the ruins soon after the explosion. Firemen made heroic efforts to rescue the imprisoned work people. The shrieks from girls in the ruins were mingled with the agonized cries of their friends. There were 20 people in the building. Four were burned beyond recognition. Twelve escaped with hardly any injuries. Engineer Lepage was arrested. He says the boiler was five years old.

Southern Pacific Boodie.

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—A special to the Globe Democrat from Santa Fe, N. M., says the James Addison Peralto Reavis, who for some days has been on the witness stand in the famous Peralto land claim case, has made admissions most damaging to the Southern Pacific Railroad management. The Southern Pacific is furnishing the money for the contest. If successful, they are to receive half of the grant, so he states.
