THE CAPITAL JOURNAL.
(DAILY AND WEEKLY.)
BY HOFER BROTHERS.
FRIDAY, JUNE 21, 1895.

The great American Book Trust is a mighty potentate in Oregon.

Part of the people of Oregon chawtauqua; another part chaw tobacco.

The shingle manufacturers of Puget sound have organized against a rainy day.

Senator Mitchell's position on the financial question will be appreciated by the masses in Oregon.—Albany Democrat.

According to the Oregonian there are no Mitchell Republicans in Oregon, and the senior senator's political wigwam is lost.

"Trolleying the Jungfrau" does not refer to an elopement with an European princess, but to building an electric road over the Alps.

The Post, saying a Salem editor is studying for the ministry, is as far off as though it represented the Prince of Wales as a Sunday school teacher.

Salem will have a new daily local train to Portland after Sunday June 23. It gives our people a better opportunity to go to Portland and spend their money.

In a critical time what relief do the people expect from the national convention of office seekers and professional politicians in session at Cleveland?

Mitchell says: I was elected senator on a certain platform for six years and have stood upon it; if you want to hire me again on the same terms I am willing.

In Judge Burnett's court a rule should be adopted that if you want to get up and go out you must hold up one finger or two fingers, as the case may be.

The Populist state central committee will meet in Salem on June 22d, to perfect a campaign for 1896. Enough $10 subscriptions to amount to $1,000 have been secured to that end.

As the American book trust can supply text books so much cheaper and better than the state, could it not conduct the whole public school system cheaper and better than the state?

The goldbug bankers' is plan to have silver, silver certificates, greenbacks and treasury notes, substituting therefor their own notes for the people to do business with.—Ontario News.

The Democrat speaks of an Albany man, who has moved to Mexico, as "possessing an individuality not enjoyed by many." Does he mean that they did not enjoy "his" individuality?

The political situation is funny. First, the silver question must be settled within the party lines; 2d, if you are a silver man you must get out of the party. Where will you go? How will you settle it?

Mr. Bryan of Nebraska, is in error when he says the struggle in the Democratic party is to determine whether the goldbugs can use the organization as a vehicle for the advancement of plutocracy; that was determined in favor of the "plutocrats" by Cleveland some time ago.

Senator Alley in the Florence West says: "It is well understood that the Roseburg Plaindealer is a party to the scheme to defeat Hermann." This is an egregious mistake. The Plaindealer has not and will not enter into any such scheme. The Plaindealer knows, however, that the editor of the West was in a scheme that did defeat Mr. Hermann.—Roseburg Plaindealer.

Freight on Hops.

The following statement, from the New York price current on hops, would indicate that Pacific coast growers may look for a rise in freight rates:

"From the Pacific coast the advices are generally favorable. No new contracts are making at present. The jump and advance in freight rates from the coast, that was to have gone into effect on June 1, is still under consideration, but we understand that definite action is deferred until after the middle of this month."
