

JUST AS A FLYER WE OFFER

PRINTED LINEN LAWN

—AT—

5c PER YARD.

SEE WINDOW.

J. J. DALRYMPLE & CO.

NEW BOOKS

JUST RECEIVED AT
DEARBORN'S BOOK STORE.

- "The Indiscretions of the Duchess"—by Anthony Hope.
- "The Idol"—by John Kendrick Bangs.
- "A Change of Air"—by Anthony Hope.
- "The Master"—by Jerome K. Jerome.
- "The God in the Car"—by Anthony Hope.
- "The Trespasser"—by Gilbert Parker.
- "The Trial of the Sword"—by Gilbert Parker.

Kaiki's Slaughtered.

In connection with our big sale of Dress Goods we have placed our line of Kaiki wash silks on the block. We showed only two qualities this season, and they were the very best. Styles, colorings and finish the richest.

40-cent line, choice styles in plain and broken checks, best of colorings. 29c. All at one price.

50-cent line—plaids, stripes and checks. Finest line shown. Elegant patterns. Fine colorings. $1c.

Don't delay your purchase. Assortment can't last long.

T. HOLVERSON & CO.

PERSONALS.

Dr. J. A. Richardson visited the reform school today.

Prof. Z. M. Parvin went to Albany on the morning local.

Wm. Dugan, the plumber, transacted business in Albany today.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Bowersox returned on the afternoon local from Waterloo.

L. B. McClaire, manager of the Salem Gas Works, is seriously sick with malarial fever.

J. O. Bozorth transacted business in the metropolis today, going down on the morning train.

E. F. Parkhurst went to Eugene on the morning local in the interest of the State Insurance company.

Hr. and Mrs. H. H. Vandervort were passengers to Portland on the Altona this morning on a visit to relatives.

Mrs. Eva Cox and Mrs. C. L. Ogle, two of Salem's kindergarten, left this morning for Chautauque, New York.

Mrs. J. M. Patterson, of The Dalles, who has been visiting at the parental home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Gray, returned home this afternoon.

A. W. Giegy, manager of the State Insurance company, went to Portland on the 1:40 local. He will make a tour of Eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho, and will be absent from Salem about two weeks.

Gov. and Mrs. Wm. F. Lord, State Treasurer Phil Metcalen, Chief Justice R. B. Bean, Regent A. N. Hush and daughter Miss Nellie and K. P. McCormack returned this afternoon from Eugene.

Miss Lillian Gwynne, one of North Salem's accomplished school teachers, left on the morning overland for Martha's Vineyard, Mass., where she will attend a seminary this summer. Miss Gwynne was accompanied by her father to Eastern Oregon, where he will engage in missionary work.

To CONGREGATIONAL JUBILEE—The picnic will take place Saturday, June 22. Meet at church at 8:30, from thence to picnic grounds. All members are invited.

Stuyven Flour—Branson & Co.

THE HIGHEST NOTCH.

We touch it in the quality of our goods. Our prices knock the bottom out of the lowest. We mention a few more new arrivals at our store.

Green Mill, Dotted Swiss, Oregon, Chelsea Turtletown, Fan Hose, White Hose, Foster's Kid and Chamis gloves etc, Summer Corsets, Delany Window ties in all colors, Gentlemen's neckwear, Collars and Cuffs, White shirts.

SPECIALS.

Summer coats and vests, good patterns, $1.50 to close—see window.

Robinson Underwear—per suit 50c, $1.50.

Laundered shirts—colored, colored, two colors, one pair cuffs etc. Same in Percale too.

We give wonderful values in all lines.

WILLIAM BRON & CO.
Corner Court and Liberty streets

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.

Swartz Found Guilty of Murder in the Second Degree.

Before adjournment Thursday evening the jury in the case of state vs. Alonzo Swartz returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree. Swartz sat with bowed head and unmoved as the verdict was read and one of his attorneys, John H. McNary, moved for a new trial. The court fixed Saturday at 1 p. m. to pass sentence.

It is reported that the jury stood five for murder in the first degree, five for second degree, and two for manslaughter. The result was a compromise.

THE MITCHELL CASE.

The case of the Great Northern R. R. Co. vs. J. L. Mitchell was placed on trial at the conclusion of the Swartz case. The jury empaneled consists of W. Fosby, W. Hendersbott, H. P. Keller, L. C. Pooler, F. Harren, Colonel Cole, W. T. Bell, H. Munkers, F. B. Southwick, S. W. Jones, W. P. Massey, and G. A. Ehlen. Witnesses for the prosecution were examined and when court adjourned the defendant was on the stand and resumed his testimony this morning.

Deputy Attorney Condit opened the case to the jury. Half hour was allowed to each side. He claimed Mitchell was not authorized to incur expenses in acting as ticket agent for the Great Northern. Bynon was to act as Mitchell's assistant. He received and sold tickets. Mr. Condit made a very strong and earnest appeal to the jury.

Walter Holmes opened defense by showing that a criminal act and criminal intent must accompany each other, and that an agent has a right to keep a principal's money if he honestly believes that part of it is due him, and that is not embezzlement; even a wrongful act was not necessarily a felony; if the defendant really believed that he had a claim against the railroad company it might be wrongful on his part but not criminal; he then briefly addressed the jury; defense admitted receiving $10 more than the amount claimed in the indictment was due the company; if it is admitted that any part of this money belonged to Mitchell as commission, he had a right to retain it all until he had settled; now part of this money was Donovan's and if Mitchell is indictable Donovan was also indictable; Mitchell had not tried to conceal anything in the whole case; as soon as he was well enough he tendered the money due the railroad company.

John H. McNary closed case for the defense in a masterly review; he analyzed testimony of Donovan, comparing his letters with his testimony, and making a strong plea for Mr. Mitchell.

Mr. McCain closed the case for the state. He made one of the greatest efforts of his life. At this term of court the district attorney has secured a conviction in almost every case and he did not seem to want to have his record broken in this case.

The instructions given the jury were in substance that they were not to jump to a conclusion; they must hear to the line and let the chips fall where they may; a criminal intent must be shown conversation to his own use with intent to steal; if he had an honest belief, though in error, that he had a right to keep the money, he is innocent, if he had any right to obtain part of the money he would not be guilty; if a partner keeps partnership funds, part of which are his, it would not be embezzlement; if he was to forward all the money and receive back his commissions as compensation and kept it back and converted it to his own use, he must be guilty; if he knowingly, and with intent to permanently deprive the company, and did so with guilty intent, to steal and keep the same, then he is guilty; but if he was not guilty of the criminal act with original intent he is not guilty as charged.

The jury in a short time brought in a verdict of not guilty, completely acquitting Mr. Mitchell of all wrongdoing and he was heartily congratulated by his friends.

The statement out in the case of Swartz vs. Wheeler was read out on trial.

The attorneys for Alonzo Swartz say they will appeal to the supreme court in the event that Judge Burnett refuse them a new trial.

THE SWARTZ MURDER TRIAL.

The Swartz family are entitled to much sympathy in the trial of their father who is convicted for the murder of the son. To begin with Lon Swartz was a habitual drunkard. He was not a stupid set, a naturally kind-hearted man, a man with an appetite for liquor, that, when gratified, seemed to arouse the worst thing about him, a quarrelsome disposition and ungovernable temper. Couple with this condition of mind, more or less friction in the family and we have his case.

Judge Burnett did well to separate the jury for the trial at least from the rest of the community. No one can read the replies of jurors as reported in THE JOURNAL and not conclude that the newspapers, and through them the public, have tried and condemned Lon Swartz to be hung, before there was ever a judicial investigation. The craze for sensationalism on the part of the press is such that it is a standing rule of city reporters to present the worst side of a case, and always to go positively against the apparent offender. Someone must be condemned, someone must be made a scapegoat, someone must be the victim of the community's wrath. On this case it was Lon Swartz. His ungovernable temper, his quarrelsome nature when in liquor, his drinking habit, his quarrel with his family, were all elements of the case charged to him, sins laid at his door, he is made the murderer. Unconsciously all the forms of justice, the coroner's inquest, the preliminary inquiry, the grand jury indictment, (which could never be sustained) led up to the conclusion at which the community jumped through the newspapers. The morbid clamor of the day is to occasionally demand a victim and the shedding of someone's blood that society may be purified. We say under all these circumstances the Swartz family are entitled to some sympathy and Judge Burnett, the lawyers and jury deserve the highest praise for their efforts to secure Swartz a fair trial, which under the circumstances was well nigh impossible. The daughters swore the little boy took the shotgun out of the room. Swartz swore Edward went and took the shotgun down and that he supposed it was to shoot him with. The lawyers for the defense wanted to set up the gun rack in the court room and show that it was a physical impossibility for the boy Walter to have taken that gun out of the rack. That request may think should have been granted by the court. It might have taken more time. A life was at stake. The point about the gunrack was vital because it would have shown conclusively whether the girls had made up a story and were lying about it or not. All seemed to admit that there was a prolonged struggle over the shotgun. The judge should have permitted that practical test when a life was at stake. The fact is the boy could not reach the gun. It was tried before witnesses in the courtroom. The lower notches of the gunrack was nearly seven feet high. For this Swartz may get a new trial.

As it is Lon Swartz suffers a verdict at the hands of the jury of murder in the second degree. We cannot but think if his name had not been Swartz, if he had been rich and respected, there would have been more care on the part of the physicians at that Portland hospital.

GARDEN PARTY.—The young ladies of the Presbyterian church will give a Garden Party Wednesday evening, June 20, at H. J. Higgin's on Gately Hill, South Salem. Every one invited. 30 B.

Strictly 20 per cent discount on shoes at the Columbia Shoe Store, 118 State street.

Stuyven Flour—Branson & Co.

THE LITTLE THING

of this world are what make life worth living. Miller, the Odd Cent Grocer, makes a specialty of the little things in his line. In fact, he can please you and save you money on anything, big or little.

Made of "Wheat Gluten"—Not a lie—but our superior summer suits. When we say our goods, we mean what we say. If you would be our guest, one of our summer suits—4. W. Johnson & Son.

Dr. Tyler's Green Baking Powder
World's Fair Highest Medal and Highest

NEW AGAIN I

That elegant line of Decorated Semi-Porcelain ware at Sun nemature's has created such a demand that an enlarged stock became necessary. See the new patterns, 124 State st.

A WONDERFUL BICYCLE.

What a Journal 5000 Mile Rider Says of the Gendron.

R. M. Wade & Co. Salem, Or.

You ask my opinion as to the merits of the No. 19 Gendron for road work. Well after near 2500 miles of average roads of valley counties (not picked roads, but taken as they run) I consider it a remarkable wheel. It is certainly the easiest wheel to run that I ever tried and I have had some experience too, since I first owned a high Columbia, in 1899, having owned five different wheels and ridden more or less on about twenty kinds. The wheel seems to be as good yet, as the day I got it except the tires which show some wear. On the whole trip so far I have never had a puncture and one trip I made over the long plank road by the ferry at Vancouver, Wash., there were a great many wheels of many kinds punctured out of the two or three hundred wheels that made the run that day. Of course part of this must be attributed to good fortune and part also to good tires. You may remember that I "kicked" about the lace tires, because in case of a puncture it would take so long to repair, but I find that you were correct when you said that in a season's run the repairs on the Buckeyes would take less time than any other. One great thing in the Gendron is the short proof bearings, I think I have ridden mine at one stretch over 700 miles without cleaning up, and then only the bearings on the crank shaft needed it. The others were as clear as though just put in. This was after riding in rain, mud and dust and on all kinds of roads, and I think is quite an improvement over having to clean up every 50 to 100 miles, as with some I have used. Then as one man remarked to me on the trip "If R. M. Wade & Co. say they will warrant them, they are all right, because they will make them right if anything is defective." Whereas if you buy of some irresponsible agent, it is dollars to dimes you will get "clobbered." Of course there are several good wheels made now and one has quite a lot to choose from. But after all, the point as looked at, the Gendron does not rank second to any of them.

Yours truly, F. J. BRATTY.

ITEMS ABOUT CROCKERY AND GLASSWARE.

Our finest blown glass comes from Bohemia, and the "Skirt Dance" just received by us is a most unique as well as handsome pattern. Our "Cologne" pattern in semi-porcelain, decorated, is elegant in design and finish. The colors blend in a most harmonious way, while the shape is the newest out. Come and see it. Berry sets are useful as well as ornamental. We have them at all prices.

HARRITT & LAWRENCE.

P. O. Grocery.

THE SWARTZ MURDER TRIAL.

The Swartz family are entitled to much sympathy in the trial of their father who is convicted for the murder of the son. To begin with Lon Swartz was a habitual drunkard. He was not a stupid set, a naturally kind-hearted man, a man with an appetite for liquor, that, when gratified, seemed to arouse the worst thing about him, a quarrelsome disposition and ungovernable temper. Couple with this condition of mind, more or less friction in the family and we have his case.

Judge Burnett did well to separate the jury for the trial at least from the rest of the community. No one can read the replies of jurors as reported in THE JOURNAL and not conclude that the newspapers, and through them the public, have tried and condemned Lon Swartz to be hung, before there was ever a judicial investigation. The craze for sensationalism on the part of the press is such that it is a standing rule of city reporters to present the worst side of a case, and always to go positively against the apparent offender. Someone must be condemned, someone must be made a scapegoat, someone must be the victim of the community's wrath. On this case it was Lon Swartz. His ungovernable temper, his quarrelsome nature when in liquor, his drinking habit, his quarrel with his family, were all elements of the case charged to him, sins laid at his door, he is made the murderer. Unconsciously all the forms of justice, the coroner's inquest, the preliminary inquiry, the grand jury indictment, (which could never be sustained) led up to the conclusion at which the community jumped through the newspapers. The morbid clamor of the day is to occasionally demand a victim and the shedding of someone's blood that society may be purified. We say under all these circumstances the Swartz family are entitled to some sympathy and Judge Burnett, the lawyers and jury deserve the highest praise for their efforts to secure Swartz a fair trial, which under the circumstances was well nigh impossible. The daughters swore the little boy took the shotgun out of the room. Swartz swore Edward went and took the shotgun down and that he supposed it was to shoot him with. The lawyers for the defense wanted to set up the gun rack in the court room and show that it was a physical impossibility for the boy Walter to have taken that gun out of the rack. That request may think should have been granted by the court. It might have taken more time. A life was at stake. The point about the gunrack was vital because it would have shown conclusively whether the girls had made up a story and were lying about it or not. All seemed to admit that there was a prolonged struggle over the shotgun. The judge should have permitted that practical test when a life was at stake. The fact is the boy could not reach the gun. It was tried before witnesses in the courtroom. The lower notches of the gunrack was nearly seven feet high. For this Swartz may get a new trial.

As it is Lon Swartz suffers a verdict at the hands of the jury of murder in the second degree. We cannot but think if his name had not been Swartz, if he had been rich and respected, there would have been more care on the part of the physicians at that Portland hospital.

GARDEN PARTY.—The young ladies of the Presbyterian church will give a Garden Party Wednesday evening, June 20, at H. J. Higgin's on Gately Hill, South Salem. Every one invited. 30 B.

Strictly 20 per cent discount on shoes at the Columbia Shoe Store, 118 State street.

Stuyven Flour—Branson & Co.

THE LITTLE THING

of this world are what make life worth living. Miller, the Odd Cent Grocer, makes a specialty of the little things in his line. In fact, he can please you and save you money on anything, big or little.

Made of "Wheat Gluten"—Not a lie—but our superior summer suits. When we say our goods, we mean what we say. If you would be our guest, one of our summer suits—4. W. Johnson & Son.

Dr. Tyler's Green Baking Powder
World's Fair Highest Medal and Highest

NEW AGAIN I

That elegant line of Decorated Semi-Porcelain ware at Sun nemature's has created such a demand that an enlarged stock became necessary. See the new patterns, 124 State st.

THE SWARTZ MURDER TRIAL.

The Swartz family are entitled to much sympathy in the trial of their father who is convicted for the murder of the son. To begin with Lon Swartz was a habitual drunkard. He was not a stupid set, a naturally kind-hearted man, a man with an appetite for liquor, that, when gratified, seemed to arouse the worst thing about him, a quarrelsome disposition and ungovernable temper. Couple with this condition of mind, more or less friction in the family and we have his case.

Judge Burnett did well to separate the jury for the trial at least from the rest of the community. No one can read the replies of jurors as reported in THE JOURNAL and not conclude that the newspapers, and through them the public, have tried and condemned Lon Swartz to be hung, before there was ever a judicial investigation. The craze for sensationalism on the part of the press is such that it is a standing rule of city reporters to present the worst side of a case, and always to go positively against the apparent offender. Someone must be condemned, someone must be made a scapegoat, someone must be the victim of the community's wrath. On this case it was Lon Swartz. His ungovernable temper, his quarrelsome nature when in liquor, his drinking habit, his quarrel with his family, were all elements of the case charged to him, sins laid at his door, he is made the murderer. Unconsciously all the forms of justice, the coroner's inquest, the preliminary inquiry, the grand jury indictment, (which could never be sustained) led up to the conclusion at which the community jumped through the newspapers. The morbid clamor of the day is to occasionally demand a victim and the shedding of someone's blood that society may be purified. We say under all these circumstances the Swartz family are entitled to some sympathy and Judge Burnett, the lawyers and jury deserve the highest praise for their efforts to secure Swartz a fair trial, which under the circumstances was well nigh impossible. The daughters swore the little boy took the shotgun out of the room. Swartz swore Edward went and took the shotgun down and that he supposed it was to shoot him with. The lawyers for the defense wanted to set up the gun rack in the court room and show that it was a physical impossibility for the boy Walter to have taken that gun out of the rack. That request may think should have been granted by the court. It might have taken more time. A life was at stake. The point about the gunrack was vital because it would have shown conclusively whether the girls had made up a story and were lying about it or not. All seemed to admit that there was a prolonged struggle over the shotgun. The judge should have permitted that practical test when a life was at stake. The fact is the boy could not reach the gun. It was tried before witnesses in the courtroom. The lower notches of the gunrack was nearly seven feet high. For this Swartz may get a new trial.

As it is Lon Swartz suffers a verdict at the hands of the jury of murder in the second degree. We cannot but think if his name had not been Swartz, if he had been rich and respected, there would have been more care on the part of the physicians at that Portland hospital.

GARDEN PARTY.—The young ladies of the Presbyterian church will give a Garden Party Wednesday evening, June 20, at H. J. Higgin's on Gately Hill, South Salem. Every one invited. 30 B.

Strictly 20 per cent discount on shoes at the Columbia Shoe Store, 118 State street.

Stuyven Flour—Branson & Co.

THE LITTLE THING

of this world are what make life worth living. Miller, the Odd Cent Grocer, makes a specialty of the little things in his line. In fact, he can please you and save you money on anything, big or little.

Made of "Wheat Gluten"—Not a lie—but our superior summer suits. When we say our goods, we mean what we say. If you would be our guest, one of our summer suits—4. W. Johnson & Son.

Dr. Tyler's Green Baking Powder
World's Fair Highest Medal and Highest

NEW AGAIN I

That elegant line of Decorated Semi-Porcelain ware at Sun nemature's has created such a demand that an enlarged stock became necessary. See the new patterns, 124 State st.

To THE COAST.

Ladies contemplating a trip to the Coast or Mountains should now avail themselves of the opportunity to buy Imported Storm Serges far below cost. These are the proper outing suits.

Everything in dry goods goes without reserve. Prices no object.

THE PALACE.

SPECIAL SALE TOMORROW.

SATURDAY!

CORSETS!

BIG REDUCTION.

S. M. & E. H. STOCK
REGULATORS OF LOW PRICES.

115 STATE STREET.

IT MUST GO.

ALL THE STOCK OF THE LEADER MILLINERY

must be closed out this month at retail. We propose to give the benefit of cost wholesale prices to our patrons who have stood by us in the past. Ribbon sale continues. Everything must go to make room for an elaborate stock in the fall.

D. B. FISK & CO
Leader Millinery.

FREE EXCURSION TO "THE FAIR"

For Underwear, Neckwear, Footwear, Handwear, Trunks, Woodenware, and most anything else at spot cash prices.

37 COMMERCIAL ST. 6-14

SUMMER DISCOUNT MILLINERY

All Trimmings Good Flowers and Fancy Goods sold at spot cash prices. Now is the time to buy as everything must go to make room for Fall Goods.

MRS. D. L. FIENEN
"THE FAIR" 6-14

TAKE A SEAT!

The latest designs in Chairs, Rockers and Sofas, and all the latest styles. Call on us for prices that will astonish you.

ROTHAN, the Furniture Man.

PENNYROYAL PILLS

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all druggists.

HOUSE PAINTING, Decorating, Hard Wood Finishing.

Our skill and experience, guaranteed to give satisfaction. We have the best of materials and workmen. Call on us for prices that will astonish you.

GEORGE W. BROWN & CO., 115 STATE STREET.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

For Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, and all the ailments of the throat and lungs. It is the best remedy for all these troubles.

Pitcher's Castoria, 115 STATE STREET.

BURGRAF, THE ARCHITECT.

BEFORE YOU BUILD, Office over the Daily Statesman.

E. E. WAITE PRINTING CO., BOOK AND JOB PRINTERS.

Legal Blank Publishers. Best of Book Stock over the bank. Call on us.

SALEM WATER CO.

Office: Willamette Hotel Building. For water service apply at office. Write for rates and conditions. 115 STATE STREET.