WASHINGTON HOP NEWS,

The County H pgrowers' Association met Chehalis Saturday to take final action on secured pickers enough at 75 cents.

The condition of the growing crop in these valleys is fairly good, but the continued dry weather is undoubtedly shortening in somewhat. Low prices and the discourging pro pect ahead have led many hopmen to decide shat they will not pick at all, Nevertheless when the season opens, from the 5th to the unless outside help can be secured.

The Payallup Citizen August 9, says: The past week has made great improvenent in the vine and the hops are coming out rops of clean hops unless a late attack of fly nters their yards.

Most of the yards in this immediate vicinity tre comparatively clean. There is total inaction in the market. Stock are cleaned out and consequently no shipments iave been made. Generally speaking hops look bad and there is no reason to make better estimate than have been made earlier in the season. The latest intelligence leads one to the belief that Germany will have three fourths of a crop and England and New York half a crop. The talk about '94 cold storage hops filling he needs of '95 is quite bearish. It takes good fresh hops and plenty of them to make good beer. While inferior grades can be made short this year but plenty of good bear will be consumed and it is but logical to believe Never, however, have the lice been so little inder control, There will not be many hops picked and choice samples will be very exceptional.

H. E. McGowon, of Puyallup one of the leading hop manipulators of Washington, offers prizes of $10 and $5 respectively, for the best two samples of of Washington hops that may be aent to him. Entries will be accepted until October 1. Expert judges will pass upon the merits of the samples. Mr. McGowan's object is to determine which side of of the mountains will succeed in raising the best hops. Samples should be carefully marked with the growers names, and post office acdress and the amount of their crop.

there appears to be no hope of effecting a if." change in the only office of the association worth having, namely, the office of treasurer. Charles Nickell, of the Jacksonian Times, appears to have a life lease on this office and all have despaired of every succeeding in dislodging him. In no other way does this man Nickell fill so completly every requirement of the Jacksonian Democrat as his desire to hold office.

Editor Nickell is possessed of the happy faculty of "springing himself" and spending money with the magnificence of a prince. This quality has recommended him as prominently qualified to show off the association of which he is the honored treasurer to better advantage in the expenditure of its unearned increment, than any other member. However, he should aid in instilling new life into the O. P. A. by allowing some other impecun- us on a postal card. ious pencil pusher to pack around the three or four hundred dollars now being hoarded up for the purpose of "bulling" the cocktail

The "bosses" must recognise before it is too ate that the chronic office holder must loosen his grip and give the young men a chance in the O. P. A. It is said Mr. Nickell has grown quite obese during the time he has held the office of treasurer and the large number of editors in this state, who have a 'lean and hungry" look, demand new bload change-rotation .- Pendleton Tribune,

VALLEY LOCAL NEWS.

Aumsville,

While going to Salem last week and the question of prices for picking. At a former just as we passed the reform school we meeting it was decided to adopt the 75-cent missed the stones that formerly filled rate, provided growers representing 700 acres the road bed, going a little farther we would not pay more. The committee to met three men busy raking the stones secure signatures reported yesterday that it from the road. They looked like angels had been unable to secure more than about to us, for no angels could be engaged 650 acres in the the agreement, cousequently in better work. A little farther we the price for picking will be governed by the met a fine looking young man with a ability or inclination of the individual growers very poor rake in his hand, short of to pay 75 cents or more. The failure of the handle and short of teeth, but one plan to reduce the price was due to the fact wave of it stopped our team, when a that a number of large growers and some long paper was handed to us with a it would be impossible to hire pickers at 75 was our approval that was wanted. It request to sign it. We thought that it cents a box. There will probably be a scarcity of pickers at any price, for the number of idle people in the vicinity is much smaller than the vicinity is much smaller than the reform school doing this?"

Not much? was answered, "the sucording to statement now made, will pay $1 a perintendent would not subscribe a box, as formerly, though some say they have cent." We went on wishing that some law could compel such men to use the side of the road where the stones were The long sickness of Mrs. Dan

Smith terminated in death last Wedneeday to the great relief of the sufferer and to the great sorrow of her friends. Mrs. Smith was loved by all toth of next month, there will doubtless be who knew her and the entire coma demand for more pickers than can be had, munity followed her remains to the grave as mourness. The funeral service was held in the church, Rav. Roberts officiating and the burial took place at Turner. The floral offerings were beautiful, the casket and grave The Meeker companies will all have large being entirely covered. Every one extends sympathy to the husband and his two little children. Great honor is due to James Moyer for the arrangement for the services. Thomas Johnson, Sherman Swank and wife have returned from Newport this week.

Three Christian women of Aumsville did a Christian act last Thursday, August 8, that should be made public , but they do not wish it, "Their right hand to know what their left hand doeth," hence no names at present.

Willie's new building is assuming some importance. It is getting broader and higher every other out of old, cold storage stocks and extra day. From reports it is to be a degood beer that is in best demand must be partment store, a butcher shop and a made from fresh hops. The hop crop will be millinery counter and a general assortment of other things.

The hop men are now busy praying that enoice hops will sell at a fair for the destruction of the hop crop in England and New York, also for an increase of her conusmption.

It is possible for a woman to do a more disgraceful thing than run races. Farmers living along Mill creek took advantage of the water being let out to clean out the creek.

Charle's Hein's new store room is nearly finished. It is a fine two-story building 37x44 and this added to the old building which is 55 feet deep makes one of the finest store buildings in the country. Mr. Hein has shown good taste in finishing and painting. The upper part of the building will be used as a hall; a much needed want in Sunnyside.
