Lord Dunraven Writes a Letter On the Interference of the Steamers.

Iselin Proposes to Dunraven That Tuesday's Race Be Resailed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The international series between the Defender and Valkyrie III for America's cup is ended. On the whole it has been an extraordinary series and while the result is satisfactory to the American people, two at least of the contests that made up that match were not. Lord Dunraven said last night most emphatically that he would withdraw his boat on the morrow if a clear course was not provided. He claimed that during the previous races his boat had been greatly interfered with and as everything depended upon the outcome of the third race, he adhered to that decision so closely that the Valkyrie merely crossed the starting line and then retired from the contest. The Defender continued on her journey and went over the course.

DUNRAVEN'S LETTER. NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The Herald says: Immediately after the race on Tuesday last Lord Dunraven sent the following letter to the America's cup committee:

"Gentlemen: It is with reluctance that I write to inform you that I decline to sail Valkyrie any more under the circumstances that have prevailed in the last two races, and for the following reasons: "First:—To attempt to start two such large vessels in such a confined space and among moving steamers and tugboats is, in my opinion, exceedingly dangerous, and I will no further risk the lives of my men or the ship.

"Second:—At the start of the first race the crowding was so great that we could not see the mark boat, and could not tell when we were near the line, and we were much hampered by steamers, especially on the race home. "Today on the reach home, eight or nine steamers were to the windward of me, and what was worse, a block of steamers were steaming level with me and close under my lee. I sailed nearly the whole distance, in tumbling, broken waters, in the heavy wash of these steamers. To race under these conditions is, in my opinion, absurd and I decline to submit myself to them again.

"I would remind your committee that, foreseeing the trouble that might occur, I urged upon them the desirability of sailing off Marblehead, or some locality other than New York bay, and that they refused to do so. At the same time I would testify to my full belief that your committee have done everything in their power to prevent overcrowding. "The fact is that when the representatives of two yacht clubs excite so much popular interest and attract such crowds of people, if the races are sailed in the immediate vicinity of a great city and the dates of the races and times of starting are known and advertised, it is impossible to keep a course free from causes of exceptional danger, and clear enough to assure the probability that the result of the match will be decided according to the relative merits of the competing vessels.

"I have the honor to remain, your obedient servant, DUNRAVEN. ISELIN'S REPLY. NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The Herald says: "The cup committee had a busy day yesterday. When they went into session, early in the day, Lord Dunraven's letter was the first and most important matter to come up for consideration. There was a long and serious discussion. Mr. Iselin visited the club and at once appeared before them. He had learned of the decision of the regatta committee awarding the race to Defender, and his mind was quickly made up as to what course he would take. He formally asked the cup committee whether they should object should he propose to Lord Dunraven to resail the race. They replied that no objection would emanate from them and Mr. Iselin departed.

"The work of the committee did not end there. The matter before them was of a most serious character and demanded careful deliberation. They were still in session when evening came, and members began to throng the club in search of information. There was much speculation as to whether there would be another race, but no official statement regarding the matter was made. Rumor had it that Lord Dunraven would refuse to sail his boat again, but it was no more than a rumor.

"Many members thought it would be thoroughly sportsmanlike of Mr. Iselin to offer to resail the race, but to those of the members who had seen Mr. Iselin earlier in the day he had given no intimation of his proposition before the cup committee. There were probably other details to be attended to, for his proposition to Lord Dunraven was not forwarded until 8 o'clock in the evening and after a second visit to the club. "It was late at night before the cup committee finished its session and its determination and the offer of Mr. Iselin to Dunraven was made known. The announcement gave general satisfaction then, and Mr. Iselin was commended on all sides. That was the true spirit, declared the yachtsmen, and there was strong denunciation of the crowding of excursion boats. "D. B. Smith of the cup committee, speaking unofficially said: "The regatta committee have sustained the protest of Defender against Valkyrie, and consequently the race of the 10th is given to Defender under the rules. After this decision was rendered the American cup committee was called by C. Oliver Iselin to say if they had no objection, he would propose to Lord Dunraven to sail over the race of September 10, to which they replied they had no objection. "Whatever else may be said, it was chivalrous and sportsmanlike for him to make this proposition, which was subsequently made to Lord Dunraven by C. Oliver Iselin. No reply has yet been received from Lord Dunraven by this committee. "This proposition must receive the commendation of all Americans and Britons. "Lord Dunraven, with several young ladies, was the guest of H. Maitland Kersey last night. The party dined at the Waldorf. "A communication was sent to the Earl, asking whether he would accept or decline Mr. Iselin's offer to resail Tuesday's race, provided the committee approved. Lord Dunraven declined to answer the question."

M'GINN IS UNFIT.

Without disparaging Senator McGinn's ability as a lawyer, THE JOURNAL does not believe he is a fit man to appoint to succeed Judge Hurley. Beyond a mere application of personal politics, his appointment would be regarded by the people and press of this state as unwarranted and unjustifiable.

The political friends of Mr. McGinn have seen fit to urge his claims in person. The people have some right to be heard in advance of the appointment being made, as it is assumed by many that Mr. McGinn is likely to be appointed. The best that can be said in his behalf is that he would only serve a part of a year before an election would be held, and the people would determine whether it had been a fit appointment or not. The facts are, Mr. McGinn's term as senator is out, and whether he would be the nominee for judge, or be elected if nominated is highly problematical. If he is appointed the machine and the bar would unite to force him upon the people in a presidential year.

Mr. McGinn's measures, speeches and record as a senator do not entitle him to the gratitude of the party or of the people. He has never risen above being a mere henchman of Mr. Simon. The latter could set him on to attack those whom he disliked and punish those who would not stand in. That was the scope of his work as a legislator. On every occasion Mr. McGinn has shown himself to be possessed of a highly unjust temper. No one knowing the man and familiar with the influences that surround him, doubts for a moment that he would not punish and discipline men as a judge, whom he failed, not through any fault of his, to punish and discipline as a legislator or political loss.

His appointment would intensify the bitter feeling now prevailing in Multnomah county politics. The only result of his appointment would be to weaken the Republican party in Portland and throughout the state. Mr. McGinn's elevation to the judgeship will not meet with favor from a professional or political standpoint.

WHY SCOTT DON'T LIKE QUAY.

Senator Quay will probably be the next national Republican chairman. Harvey Scott of the Oregonian don't like Quay, and his paper is full of sneers at Quay. Why? Quay has never been the tool of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, or of the Standard Oil Co., the Sugar Trust, or of the Western Union Telegraph Co.

Quay is a bimetalist. He is a heart and soul American Protectionist. There are some things about Quay that are offensive to many Republicans. But on the great issues that vitally affect the welfare and prosperity of American citizens, he is all right.

OREGON'S TAMMANY WINS.

The Supreme Court has refused a rehearing in the case of Kincaid vs. the Railroad Commission.

The Railroad Commission will get its pay. All the other useless and rotten boards and commissions will get their pay. What is worse, the ring and machine incumbents will remain. The people will not even get the chance of a new man, who possibly might take the people's side in public affairs. The people's supposed they were going to get some relief and a new deal, from the way the platforms and candidates talked in 1894. But the people will not be balked. They will get it yet.

Grand Army Accident.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 12.—The unprecedented hospitality and good will in connection with the twenty-ninth national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic closes with sadness. Fully 100 people were suffering from injuries at the collapse of the grand stand during the display of fireworks last night. About 100 persons were injured altogether. Everybody reads THE ONE CENT DAILY.

FOUR-AND-A-HALF MILLIONS GOES

For the Sole Purpose of Forcing Another Issue of Gold Bearing Bonds.

But Enough Gold Is Promised to Protect the Reserve— Other News of the Day.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The news that $4,500,000 of gold coin had been withdrawn today from the United States sub-treasury at New York for export, was received here with surprise. The announcement created, for a few moments, something like a sensation in the treasury department.

This feeling, however, was not shared by high officials of the treasury. By the same officials it is thought the withdrawals are made with the sole purpose of forcing another bond issue.

It can be stated, however, on excellent authority, that there will not be another issue of bonds and none will be needed. Those cognizant of the facts state that the Morgan Belmont syndicate under the terms of the contract, with Cleveland and Carlele undoubtedly will protect the gold reserve at $100,000,000. No doubt it expressed that as soon as grain shipments from the northwest come in, there will be an abundant supply of foreign bills on the market to meet every demand, and withdrawals, it is thought must cease.

Wheat Jumping Up. The price of wheat at Salem today advanced a half cent, the mills paying 36 1/2 cents.

CHICAGO WHEAT TODAY. December 37 1/2, Highest 38 1/2, Closing 37 1/2. May 6 1/2, Highest 6 3/4, Closing 6 1/2. The wheat crop in 1893 was 179,404,036 bushels; in 1894, 160,995,823; in 1894, 460,267,416, by report of the Department of Agriculture. The estimated population for these years is 33,365,000, 34,046,000, 68,375,000, making a production for the years in question of about 5.3 bushels, 4.7 bushels and 6.7 bushels per head in the United States.

City Wins on Receiver.

TACOMA, Sept. 13.—A. R. Titlaw was this morning appointed Receiver of the bank of Tacoma on petition of the City, which had $225,000 on deposit, when the bank ceased. The bank officials are not pleased with the selection. He said that if Gulet attached to any one it should be fixed and the Parties punished.

A Great Paper.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—This morning's World was probably only a regular issue of a newspaper which contained not a line of advertising. Flooding the press room on account of fire reduced the press capacity so that it was possible to print only eight pages. Eight solid pages of advertising were thrown away rather than cut the news.

A Fearful Fall.

TACOMA, Sept. 13.—Andrew Nelson and Isaac Smith, bricklayers, were knocked from the third story of the new peoples store, in course of erection, to the ground this morning, by a falling plank. Nelson had his leg broken and in injured internally. He will recover. Smith is badly bruised. No bones broken.

Tunnel on Fire.

LIVINGSTON, Mont., Sept. 13.—The Muir tunnel on the Northern Pacific, seven miles east of here, is afire. It has been sealed and all trains are delayed. The passengers and mails are transferred over the mountains.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.
