OREGON STATE FAIR.

Davis Boy took the lead from Encounter up the back stretch. They fought for it all the way to the finish. Encounter broke. Sophia R stole up with that easy movement of hers and went under the wire first. Davis Boy second, Encounter third, Rosemon fourth, Carrie S fifth. Time 2:30.

The next two heats went to Sophia R without a fight for them. In both heats she took the lead from the wire and kept it all the way around. Davis Boy won second in the second heat and Rosemon captured second place in the third.

Summary 2:17, pace 3 in 5, purse $500.

Time 2:30, 2:20, 2:20

The second race of the day was called at 3 o'clock. The riders not bringing their horses on the track as Captain Apperson wished he gave them a severe lecture. Without further ceremony the horses were sent to the three-eighths pole. There they found Starter Looney awaiting them. At the first score for place the flag dropped and away they went. The little "babies" (only two years old) let no grass grow under their feet and as they came down the home stretch each "jock" plying whip and spur, the clatter of their feet sounded like a "heel and toe" dancer shuffling through a "dog" dance. At the wire the horses was so bunched that it was hard to tell what horse won. By announcement from the grand stand, however, Tiny won in 1:02, Daylight 2nd La France 3rd.

Summary, 1/2 mile dash, selling race $250.

T. Maley's Tiny, (Cleary) 1
Mr. Lewis' Daylight (Harmon) 2
W. T. Sullivan's La France (Williams) 3

This being a selling race the winner was bid in by her owner for $400. The mile and a quarter hurdle race for a purse of $500 was the next number. This was a good race clear through. The first hurdle was knocked over by one of the horses in making the jump. Minnie Beach went down at the second one but was on her feet again in an instant. Dottie Reed cut her leg on one of the hurdles and finished a bad sixth. Lonnie B won, Wag 2nd and Minnie Beach 3rd. Two minutes and twenty seconds were required to cover the distance. Then came the side-splitter, the bull race. The way those beasts cut up and bucked around the track caused lots of merriment. A shorthorn beast ridden by a Wild West man took first money $25 while a spotted terror ridden by Nay Gird, got 2nd. Another one will be run on Friday.

Although it looked like rain last night it is very bright this morning.

CYCLE RACES TODAY.

The quarter mile boys' race was the first one called on Wednesday morning. Entries, Chas. Cleaver and Chas. Smith, and Lester Weal, of McMinnville. This was about the same race as the one of the same class run yesterday with the exception of the finish. Weal, of McMinnville, won in 38 1/2 minutes. Cleaver 2nd, Smith 3d.

Mile run.—2:50 class.—A—"Doc" Wright set pace for the boys in this race and he didn't loaf either. He set a hot pace clear to the finish when he dropped out and let them finish alone. Townsend took the pace from the start and held it to the finish winning at an easy clip with his hands off. Griley a poor second, Woods third. This was a very good race clear through. In fact, it was the most interesting race of the season. They finished under the limit too in striking contrast to the class B men, the crackjacks of the northwest who ran their race four times before winning it. Time 2:36 flat.

Oregon Championships.—Class B Entries Hewitt, Winesett, Lee and Rucker, Rucker set the pace to the quarter in the final heat. Hewitt set pace up the back stretch. At the home stretch Lee and Rucker were both out of the race, Winesett and Hewitt finished in 2:32. Winesett won the heat and race. Four times these boys run this race without coming under the time limit. The difficulty seemed to be in getting one another to set the pace. It is disgraceful that these experienced riders could not do as well as the boys in the 2:50 class. The crowd hissed them and called for the little boys to set pace for the B men. "Elli" Lee was the favorite with the grand stand receiving many cheers whenever he finished well.

A foot race of 50 yards between Ray from Woodburn and Givens of Silverton was to be run just after the championship bicycle race, $500 a side. But the competitors could not agree on judges and at last accounts the race had not been run.

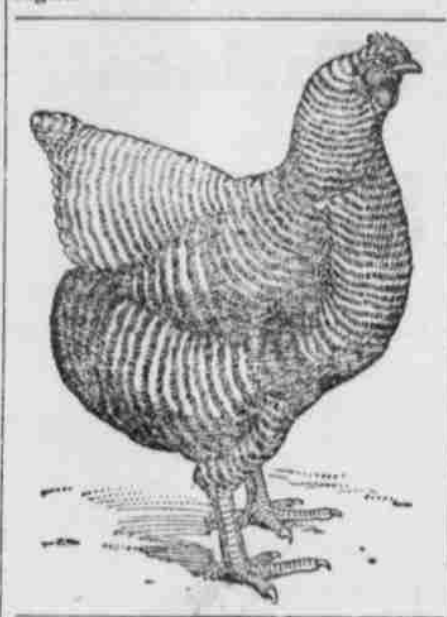

Later.—The foot race was run at last and Ray was again too much for Givens, beating him with quite a little to spare.

THE MISSING LINK.

The connection between man and monkey arrived in Salem last night and has taken up his quarters with Edwards' Bros' large collection of Alaska fur animals, that is now on exhibition at the state fair grounds. His name is O'Honlihan. He is an orang outang, the only one now alive in the United States. He is well educated and looks and acts just like a human being. These enterprising young men have gone to a great expense to procure this boy and every one should see him. No extra charge. Ten cents pays for all. Two shows in one. Don't fail to see him.

HOME MADE WAGONS.

Oregon made wagons carried off the ribbons at the state fair, and they deserved it. The all-steel gear farm wagons of the Coast Carriage and Wagon Company were shown on the grounds by Irving D. Burgh, both in wide and narrow tires and called forth universal admiration as a highly finished Oregon manufacture that any farmer might be proud to have in his place. These wagons and a full line of the company's vehicles are for sale by Herman Poble at Salem. If your local dealers do not handle these Oregon made vehicles write direct to the factory at Corvallis for an illustrated catalogue.

STATE FAIR NOTES.

Editor Dunbar, of the Astoria Budget, is at the state fair.

There are still a number of money games running at the fair grounds. It seems impossible to drive them all out.

Now reduce the general admission to the fair to 25 cents gentlemen and see the crowds that will go the last three days.

Mrs. Flester has had ever so many customers call and buy new fall hats after seeing her magnificent display at the state fair grounds.

THE JOURNAL's demand for reduced rates has been heard so far, as women are concerned. They will only pay 55 cents admission today and to the end.

The man with the silver jaw took in hundreds of two bit pieces from delighted customers at Mrs. Southwick's dining hall—opposite Methodist church room.

The asylum exhibit of products and manufactures by the inmates fills a complete booth in the pavilion and extends from the finest needle work to the richest farm products.

Old Bill Anderson's bull races were a drawing card at yesterday's races. The elite of the city and of lots of other cities were out and it was the greatest hit of the fair so far.

Go to the W. C. T. U. dining hall at the state fair grounds for your meals and hear that animated music-box, Mrs. Ramp, of Salem, wipe up the earth with the rest of creation.

Lehman & Hilberry's ten and fifteen cent Boston lunch house, opposite the old Presbyterian dining hall, did an enormous business yesterday. They can fill a hollow sawlog for two bits.

When you see a big broad shouldered man at the state fair with a mouth like a rip in a circus tent looking around to put something in it, he is always hunting for the Baptist dining hall.

The pavilion was thronged with Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder. World's Fair Highest Medal and Diple.

mothers holding babies in arms today, expecting a baby show, but no baby show was held. Like the rest of the program it was left in an uncertain condition as to when it would come off. The board next year, if it runs a ten days fair, must publish its programs in the newspapers if it wants any attendance.

As is usually the case at our state fair, the city is full of the tough elements. These people, male and female, follow the crowds and prey off the ignorant. Gamblers are operating at the fair but are extremely wary of the police and leary of the reporter. THE JOURNAL has some evidence of unlawful practices but it is useless to strike at these unless there is sufficient evidence to make a case.

THE OLD RELIABLE HOUSE.

Since years the large display in the agricultural department of our state fair has been taken up by Gray Bros, the old reliable Salem hardware house. From hardware for the largest public building to the necessary implements for saving any kind of a crop this house is in the lead and gives the greatest satisfaction to its patrons, who number the bulk of the population tributary to the city of Salem. Chas. Gray has charge personally of the entire exhibit and is one of the greatest attractions of the fair. He was assisted by W. S. Waterbury, one of their salesmen, and the public was shown through the exhibit in the most courteous manner. Besides the largest display of road and farm vehicles, they showed the famous Walter A. Woods mowers and binders, the Solid Comfort sulky and gang plows, Spring tooth and spike tooth harrows, made by Bucher & Gibbs, Canton, Ohio, Myer's spray pumps and hay tools were also great.

They showed about forty vehicles. A four wheel ball-bearing pneumatic tire buggy. It was driven about the grounds behind Almax. It is worth $300.

The people of Salem and all visitors at the State Fair appreciate the enterprise of this firm in making their annual display at the State Fair which this year surpassed all previous efforts.

Justice Court.

Dr. E. G. Brown, charged with practicing medicine without a license was arraigned before Johnson at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon when his attorney, Geo. Bingham filed a demurrer to the complaint. The demurrer was argued and Justice Johnson, will render a decision at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

LADIES' WORK.—Mrs. Moreland Harvey, who is well known to residents of Salem, came last evening, as representative of the ladies' Auxiliary of the Portland exposition to visit the state fair and work there and among the ladies of Salem for a display of woman's work in art needle work and embroidery as also for drawings of the past, to help the display of such articles at the coming exposition.
