

DOWN IN ARKANSAS.

Corbett and Fitzsimmons Will Fight.

AMPHITHEATER TO BE MOVED

In Its Entirety From Dallas to Hot Springs.

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 10.—The Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight goes to Hot Springs, Ark. A decision was made last night and the Florida Athletic club will move its belongings to Hot Springs at once. No change in the date of holding the fight was made.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Oct. 10.—The telegram announcing that the Florida Athletic club had decided to pull off the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight here caused rejoicing. The mill takes place October 31, as originally intended. Stuart and his associates arrived today to arrange the details, and work will be commenced at once on a big amphitheater.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 10.—Governor Clark, when shown the Dallas telegram about the change of the Florida Athletic club to Hot Springs, said he had nothing to say at this time. He would wait and see if the change were made, and then would take such steps as the law authorized.

AUSTIN, Oct. 10.—The Corbett party were permitted to return to San Antonio the grand jury having no further business with them. It is thought the best feeling does not exist between the district attorney and the grand jury on account of his arbitrary action in this matter, and that they "called him down." The prosecution is likely to be a fizzle.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE.

HOT SPRINGS, Oct. 10.—Mayor Watters and Attorney Martin returned today from Dallas, Texas, where they secured the Corbett-Fitzsimmons prize fight for Hot Springs. E. H. Silvan, architect for the club also came. Dan Stewart will arrive Sunday or Monday. Silvan said he would go right to work laying out the ground for the ample theatre. The Dallas structure will be moved here in its entirety and the big fight be pulled off at Whittington park, October 31st.

LETTER OF THE POPE.

Independence of the Papacy and Temporal Jurisdiction.

Rome, Oct. 10.—The letter of his holiness, Pope Leo XIII, to Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state, on the recent fetes in celebration of the 25th anniversary of the entry of the Italian troops into Rome was published last evening. It is as follows:

"The sentiment of humanity, which even minds dominated by passion retain, seemed to permit of the hope of some consideration in our old age, but this has been brutally ignored. We have been reduced to become almost immediate witnesses of the apotheosis of the Italian revolution and the spoliation of the holy see. That which most affected us is the design to perpetuate rather than to terminate the conflict of which no one can measure the disastrous effects.

"The final object of the occupation of Rome was not to complete political unity, but, in destroying the walls of the temporal metropolis, to more closely attack the spiritual power of the pope. The object was to change the destinies of Rome, return to paganism, and give birth to a third Rome and a third era of civilization. This it was desired to celebrate recently under sanction of the new law, by noisy demonstrations conducted by a sect which is the enemy of God.

"The nation suffers, for not only are the promises of mutual benefit unfulfilled, but, morally, Italy is divided and subversive to factions that menace all civil and social institutions in augmenting numbers and force. Nothing will ever confer veritable independence upon the papacy so long as it does not have temporal jurisdiction. This condition they pretend having guaranteed us, subordinated to the arbitrary will of others, and lately there has been a suggestion of a threat to abrogate even the guarantee itself."

The letter of the pope then vaunts the blessing of the pontifical sovereignty, and invites Italians not to be bound up with sects, and to consider how pernicious it would be to perpetuate the conflict which is profiting the enemies of Christ.

To Boom Reed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Joseph H. Manly, chairman of the National Republican Executive committee, will soon visit the Pacific Slope, for pleasure and politics. It is intimated a boom for T. B. Reed will be looked after.

A BAPTIST DEDICATION.

The Fine, New, First Church of Salem, Oregon.

SERMON BY ROLAND D. GRANT.

History of the Church and Present Organization.

Sunday, Oct. 6, 1895, will always be a memorial day with the Baptist denomination of Salem. The entire day was devoted to dedicatory services, connected with the first opening of the beautiful new house of worship, an illustration of which is given below. The dedicatory service proper was held at 10:30 a. m.

A NOBLE DEDICATION.

When the audience of about 1200 read the response—"We now devote this building to the services of humanity, master, conducting the entire song service. The anthem "Hear us, O Father" contained solos by Mrs. Woodworth of Portland, Mr. B. G. R. and Mr. Jenks. Mrs. Woodworth has a very pure, sweet and sympathetic voice, especially adapted to church singing.

Rev. J. P. Farmer offered the opening invocation and it was proper that the first words of prayer should be spoken in this new pulpit by the man under whose tireless industry, patient oversight, wise management and spiritual leadership all this beautiful improvement has been accomplished. Rev. Gilman Farmer, of Oregon City, and Rev. F. H. Gwynne, Presbyterian state missionary, read the hymns and scriptures.

THE DECORATIONS.

The beautiful pulpit was covered with ferns and palms, sprays of deeply colored autumn leaves festooned on the rails of the gallery reserved for the choir; on the rails were umbrellas palms. There were no flowers, the deep green melting into the dark olive upholstery and baptistry curtains.

The sunshine of a bright October day was delightfully softened by the richly tinted autumn windows. It was reflected again in the thousand prisms of cut glass on the central chandelier, and fell upon the assemblage of richly

DURRANT IS A LIAR.

He Tells All Sorts of Deceptive Stories.

BUT FALLS INTO A FATAL TRAP.

Flatly Contradicts Himself Before the Jury.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—Theodore Durrant's reputation for truth and veracity went completely to pieces on the witness stand this morning. Durrant's answers to two or three questions were palpably lies, and he changed his answers to fit the occasion. Besides he told a story about the disappearance of Blanche Lamont that was so gaudy that everybody wonders how Durrant had the hardi-

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH OF SALEM.

The first Baptist Church of Salem is a composite style of building. The building on the ground is 82x103 feet, having about 7,000 feet of floor space. The church fronts on Liberty and Marion streets, and is most centrally located. In short, it is a combination of Queen Anne architecture, with a touch of the old colonial over it all. The tower is very happily and ornamentally. It rises at the southeast corner, and is very ornamental to that part of the day. The building was planned in all its details by Chas. Burgess, architect. The construction was supervised by Rev. Farmer. The building committee in charge of the work were: Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Kay, Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Jessup, St. Beamer, H. S. Gile, S. A. Sundell. The church and its furnishings, including concrete sidewalks, cost $10,500.

extending all possible benefits to the needy and distressed, having always in mind the poor and comfortless."—a silent consciousness fell over all present that this was more than an ordinary occasion, that this was in truth a noble church dedication. The Baptist church stands foremost in the rank of orthodox churches as a champion of liberty of conscience and freedom of thought. The organization acknowledges no creed but the bible and allows the largest individual privileges of inquiry and investigation. It places all men and women on an equality before God and man. It stands for absolute independence of church organization and absolute separation of church and state.

The dedicatory service was no doubt joined in by many who do not know all that the Baptist church stands for in its denominational relation to the larger life of the community, but it is a pleasure to know that a church, standing for such principles, is prospering and prepared to carry on its work on a larger scale and under more favorable auspices in Salem.

THE MORNING SERVICES

were opened and carried out according to an elaborate printed program, containing also the hymns and responses, there being not enough hymnals to serve the large number in attendance. The orchestra, led by Paul Denton, Miss Denton playing the organ, rendered the music in a most accomplished manner. Mr. H. S. Gile as choir dressed people of the capital city like a continuous benediction as the services proceeded. The audience comprised people of all the protestant denominations.

THE DEDICATION HYMN.

It was written by Dr. S. F. Smith, the author of "America," and it had never been used but once before and was used here only by special permission and we give it in full:

Founded on thee, our only Lord,
On thee, the everlasting rock
Thy church shall stand, as stands thy word,
Nor fear the storm, nor dread the shock.
For these our waiting spirits yearn,
For this the house of praise we rear,
To thee with longing hearts we turn,
Come on thy glorious presence here.
Come with thy spirit and thy power,
The Congregate, once the crucified,
Our God, our strength, our king, our lover,
Here plant thy throne, and here abide,
Accept the work our hands have wrought,
Accept, O God, th' earthly shrine;
Be thou our rock, our life, our thought,
And we, as living temples, thine.

REV. GRANT'S ADDRESS.

In eloquent words the Rev. Roland D. Grant, of Portland, congratulated the Baptist people on this splendid consummation of their wishes for a larger house of worship. He chose as a text the following verse from 1 Peter, 2, 9: "Ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood."

He described briefly the three priesthoods of the old dispensation of the Hebrews, of the tribe of Levi, perfect physically in every respect. The old hood to think the jury would accept it as a fact.

The pitfall into which Durrant fell was in telling about the afternoon that he spent at the ferry to see if Blanche would not attempt to cross the bay to escape from the city. Durrant said he had a clew that Miss Lamont would cross the bay that afternoon.

A stranger told him she would. Four of Durrant's friends saw Durrant at the ferry that afternoon and by one of them, the prosecution expects to prove that Durrant went there not to meet Blanche Lamont, but Minnie Williams. Aaron Hoge, an old schoolmate of Durrant, testified at the preliminary examination that Durrant met a woman answering to Minnie Williams' description, and boarded the Howard street car with her, he rode to Mission street. Durrant testified today that he did not meet any woman at the ferry that day. To Frank Mademan, whom he saw at the ferry, Durrant said that he was looking for Blanche Lamont. To Dodge and Duke, students at the medical college, he said he was waiting for members of the signal corps, who were coming over from Oakland. When asked today if he told Dodge and Duke that he was tracing a clew to Miss Lamont, Durrant at first replied that he did. Next moment he realized that he had given a wrong answer, and replied that he did not. He attempted to reconcile his statements by saying that he was looking for Miss Lamont and waiting for members of the signal corps at the same time. The district attorney asked him if he told any of Blanche's friends of the important clew he had received from a stranger. Durrant replied he had not.
