OREGON'S BEST CITY.

There are always agitators and sensationalists in the pulpit, as in politics, who seek to fust themselves into prominence by making out that society is going to the dogs, that everybody is going into moral bankruptcy, and that the world-be agitator alone can save them.

After preaching his second sermon on a subject entirely unsuited to the conditions of this community a Salem minister last Sunday then capped the climax by relating his own personal experiences and taking up a collection to send a fallen woman to the refuge home.

But what we object in this whole program is the sensational effort to make Salem out as a vicious, depraved, immoral town, when quite the contrary is true. Salem is not "something in corruption" as these sensationalists would have us believe.

To return to what we started out to say, and we say it in all kindness to Rev. Grannis: Salem is not as bad a town as you seem to think. Not one out of ten young men are victims of the vices you talked about.

Salem is a city of churches and schools and colleges and it is high time the "moral wavers" quit trying to give it a reputation it is not entitled to. We can show them little country places that have more of vice and immorality than Salem.

IN NATIONAL POLITICS.

The First Big Snowstorm in the Northwest.

AN OKLAHOMA TOWN IS BURNED.

The Harvest Queen, of Portland, Sunk This Morning.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 19.—The statement that J. S. Clarkson had written to a friend in Pittsburg telling him to rent rooms for the National Republican convention has not been confirmed and now comes a story that during the recent meeting here at which were present a number of politicians friendly to Governor McKinley, it was given out confidentially that 21 members of the national committee had pledged themselves to San Francisco and railroads agreed to make $25 a round trip rate.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Snow fell heavily in the far Northwest yesterday, and, chased along by a cold wave and high wind, came to this section in a hurry. About 3 o'clock this morning snow and sleet began coming down here.

PORTLAND, Nov. 19.—The O. R. & N. company's boat, Harvest Queen, was beached at Oak Point this morning, to save her from sinking to the bottom of the river. The boat ran against a pile, knocking a large hole in her stern.

PERRY, Oklahoma, Nov. 19.—Three-fourths of the town of Purrell, Indian territory, is in ashes, and if the wind continues to blow from the north very little of the town can be saved. It is reported that several persons have perished.
