THE SUBSIDY IS RAISED

The $25,000 Added Stock at Last Secured

TO REBUILD THE WOOLEN MILL

On a Larger Scale—Total Sum Subscribed, $25,400.

Wednesday morning the committee on the woolen mill subsidy went out to get the remainder of the $25,000 stock subsidy taken, feeling anything but hopeful. There were still a dozen men to be seen who had not subscribed but who had not retuffed the committee entirely. These were canvassed as the animals were said to have gone into Noah's ark, "two by two." The rebuffs were more plainly given, however, and at noon there was not a dollar in sight, except one of the committee who had agreed to raise the committee's subscription to $1000. But in the afternoon three subscriptions came in for $750 that were not expected. The clouds lifted. The committee breathed easier. The $750 was a perfect godsend. It was made up by $500 from Sutton and wife of Liberty fruit farm region. He has a nice home out there and has felt friendly toward this enterprise from the start. Considering the condition of farming, the fact that the farmers have taken nearly $2000 of this stock is quite remarkable.

Then came $150 from Mrs. Steves proprietor of the Court street bakery, a woman who has a heart for the laboring people. The women were not specially called upon to take stock, but the volunteers, whose names are found in the list below deserve the commendation and good will of the committee and of the public.

The other volunteers were Walter Jenks, for $100 J. J. Murphy had been looked upon to assist in the hour of need and he very generously subscribed $200. Mr. McCracken added $300 and that swelled the total to $25,300. There should still be $700 added, as these subscriptions always shrink and it is said business men subscribed to the gift of $20,000 six years ago who have never paid.

The complete list of bonafide subscribers comprise 72 names and the list is an interesting one—both for names it contains as well as for the names it does not contain. The subscriptions are all voluntary. No pressure or improper influence was brought to bear by the committee. The stock is all taken as a bonafide investment.

The committee had the assistance of a number of gentlemen who do not care to be named who did as much if not more than the committee to make the subsidy a success. To these gentlemen and to the subscribers the committee can do no more at present than to simply thank them. The hard times, the temerity of capitalists, the failure of so many stock companies, made the task of securing the taking of this extremely difficult and delicate task. But the splendid record of the Salem Woolen Mills in the past, the fair dealing and honorable methods that have characterized the management in the past, more than overcame all the obstacles. Those who could not take stock spoke well of the enterprise. Those who did take stock urged others to do so. Those who had stock gave a favorable report of the way they were treated by Mr. Kay, Thos. Kay, Sr., and Thos. Kay, Jr., were constant workers for the cause of the subsidy and most effective workers. They could look every man square in the face and ask his assistance without apology. They made it possible to raise this subsidy and did as much as the committee. THE JOURNAL wishes to thank these gentlemen for laying aside their modesty and taking hold as they did. Their work was constant and very effective.

WHAT WILL BE DONE. Thomas Kay, Sr., and an architect will go at once to inspect several mills in California that are more modern and better adapted for the larger works that will now be put in here at Salem. Work is to begin at once clearing the site and preparations for a model fire-proof building are well under way. The new stock-holders will no doubt be fully apprised of movements as they are made. We have confidence that in all that is done the utmost fairness will prevail. Too much stress can not be laid on the importance of a fire proof building. Too much stress should not be placed on the means of fighting fire when fire proof material is as cheap as it is now.

MORE TODAY.

Harritt & Lawrence, the postoffice grocers, today informed the committee that they would take $100 stock. They say it is better to make the subsidy entirely safe. In this they are right and THE JOURNAL believes there should be another thousand dollars stock taken to make sure.

THE SUBSIDY COMMITTEE AND THE WOOLEN MILL.

SALEM, Dec. 12, 1895.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—I heartily rejoice with the citizens of our city on the completion of the subsidy for the new woolen mill, and feel like publicly thanking the soliciting committee for their earnest efforts and to congratulate them on the triumphant success of all their labors in this regard. Years ago, when a subsidy of $20,000 in cash was asked to erect woolen mills in this city, I was on the soliciting committee, and not only gave a generous subscription to further that object, but, leaving my business wholly for four weeks, labored early and late with my associates until at last success crowned our efforts and the required sum was obtained, and those who were with me on that committee know what the words "labored early and late" imply. We were met with all kinds of taunts. "The sheriff will close the mills in six months." "The whole thing will fail, and we shall have the elephant on our hands." "It will never pay," etc., etc. Years have come and gone, but since the splendid first showed life and motion to the hour when the flames destroyed the enterprise and factory, "Success" has been written on every move the directors of the mill have made; and through the last three years of general business depression there has been no curtailment of the pay roll, no cessation of labor, but early and late, night and day, for six days in every week, the machinery has run, and when the mill was destroyed, orders for many months ahead of the capacity of the mill were on file in the business office. Over half a million dollars have been distributed in our city, the credit of the mill ranking No. 1 to the last hour. On the broad foundation of honest, prudent and successful management of this mill by Thos. Kay and his associates, the new and larger mill will be erected, and I predict greater success than ever for this enterprise. Then, the mills had a reputation to gain; this has been secured, and the experience gained in this management will still further insure triumphant success.

While I live I shall live in Salem, and I rejoice to know that the good name of our fair city has enjoyed for enterprise and thrift, is still unimpaired, and that we have already regained one of the greatest losses of the last forty days.

A WAIL FROM ARMENIA

Over 100,000 of Their People Massacred.

HAVE A MILLION HAVE FLOWN.

Take Refuge in the Mountains and Are Starving.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—A dispatch addressed to the Associated Press and signed by Armenians of Constantinople, has been received here. It says: "Armenia is at her last gasp. The number of people massacred reaches 100,000, and half a million survivors have taken refuge in the forests and mountains, where they are feeding on herbs and roots. Hunger and cold have begun to make great ravages among them. In the name of humanity and Christianity save us."

A Panic in Turkey.

ROME, Dec. 12.—A dispatch received from Constantinople says the British gun-boat Lryad and the Italian gun-boat Archimedes passed the straits of the Dardanelles today, owing to a brawl at Stamboul. A panic is said to prevail at Galata and Pera today.

Further Outrages Reported.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—A dispatch to the Times from Urumiah, Persia, says: "It is now certain that the Hamidieh cavalry have destroyed 200 villages in the province of Van. Fifty thousand homeless people are flocking into the city of Van, and the government is doing nothing to prevent further outrages."

A Vienna dispatch to the Times says:

"News was received from Trebizond today of fresh atrocities. The bishop and five ecclesiastics were burned alive while seeking refuge in a building. Fresh outrages have occurred in other parts of Asia Minor."

The Standard's Constantinople correspondent says:

"The ports are absolutely deserted by his ministers, who hide day and night at the palace, where confusion reigns supreme."

A dispatch to the Daily News from Constantinople reports the arrest by police officials and the subsequent liberation of the chief messenger of the British postoffice, who is an Armenian.

The Chronicle's dispatch from Constantinople says:

"It is reported that the sultan swore on the Koran to respect Said Pasha's life and give him a large sum of money down and a pension of £205 per month. "The sultan seems to have had a fit of generosity toward those he suspected, and has presented to Kiamil Pasha a rosary worth £1000 and has increased his salary to £2000 yearly. It is the general opinion that Said Pasha, has acted foolishly, while others consider that he is playing a deep game."

Mission Work Suspended.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—A cablegram received by the Christian Herald says: "News received from Van states that fully 50,000 refugees are crowding the city from 200 villages which have been destroyed in the province of Van. The Turks are greatly hampering the relief work conducted by Dr. Grace Kimball and her missionary associates. Mission work is necessarily suspended for the present. The schools are closed. "Information comes from Bitlis that the missionaries' lives are in danger and that they are taking any chance to escape to places of safety."

The Christian Herald telegraphed to Clara Barton, president of the Red Cross association at Washington, offering to contribute $25,000 for relief if the Red Cross assumed the responsibility of the work in that country.

Pacific R. R. Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Senator Thurston of Nebraska, today introduced a bill for the settlement of the Pacific railroad debts. It provides for the sale of the government interest in both the Union and Central railroads July 1 1896, to the highest bidder, but there shall be no sale unless the bid be at least 50 per cent of the government interest. The bill is very long and devoted mainly to the details of transfer and the manner of sale. Its main features have already been published.

A NEW ALLY FOR CUBA

A Revolt Reported Brewing in Porto Rico.

FIRST BLOW WILL SOON BE STRUCK

Declaration of Independence Prepared By the Leaders.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—A local paper says:

In her struggle for independence, Cuba has found a powerful ally in the island of Porto Rico. According to the latest intelligence, Spain has now two insurrections on her hands, or will have if the plans maturing are carried out. Porto Rico has gone so far, it is said, as to issue a declaration of independence, and will soon join her sister land in the active struggle for liberty. An army is being formed by the separatist party of Porto Rico, and as soon as the leaders are chosen the new campaign will open. As in the Venezuela affair, the revolutionists are Cuban compatriots, residing in this city, and the same secrecy attended their movements. At a meeting held at the home of Dr. J. Julio Hanna, business that was calculated to further harass the Spanish government was transacted. It was there that the initial steps were taken in this country toward a revolution in Porto Rico. If these plans, and those formed by the leaders on the island, are carried out, the first blow against Spain will be struck in a very short time.

It may be but a few days before the people of Porto Rico, the only Spanish province in the West Indies which is not revolting against the mother country will be in arms against Spain. The leaders here claim that a vigor-
