

Harvey Scott of the Oregonian is a curious combination of plutocrat, populist and pessimist. After borrowing $300,000 to build a marble palace for his newspaper, and agreeing to pay the taxes on the loan for ten years, he gets in and has the mortgage tax law repealed and thus unloads about $120,000 of taxes on the taxpayers of Portland. In order to carry out this stroke of plutocratic socialism he relieved $30,000,000 of foreign capital from taxation and threw it on the shoulders of the people of the entire state. Another stroke of plutocratic socialism was getting up a bill to buy the Morrison street bridge and Stark street ferry, when it afterwards appeared that interested parties who own the Oregonian had a mortgage on both, and no sooner were the $200,000 bonds transferred when the ferry was tied up and the people found the bridge let to the Electric Street Car Company for a long term, and the only gain to the public is the privilege of paying for the bonds and interest. The check of a man, who helps carry out schemes of this size, to say nothing of city hall commissions, waterworks jobs, Trinidad paving companies, railroad receivership swindles, and the very old nick knows what not—then turns Populist and howls about the poor hick-poleker and the unrighteous steals of the legislature, when the big steal and jobs were concocted by him and his gang and they reap the benefit while unloading the burdens on the people. In Monday's Oregonian Harvey Scott says:

The state administration, notorious for the violation of every promise of retrenchment in public expense and reform in methods that preceded its inauguration, has a further lease of power for two years.

This is copied by Populist papers with great glee.

The above is a bare-faced lie about our present state officials as results will show at the end of the first two years. These officials are keeping the pledge made the people to cut down the expenses of state government to meet the conditions of hard times. Their work at the end of two years will show reductions of hundreds of thousands of dollars. The state tax is lower than ever before. The statements of the Oregonian and rottenness and corruption in Portland politics are no doubt true. Harvey Scott and his gang have monopolized the politics of that county. They have had little or no opposition until late years. They have run the city five millions in debt. This gang controlled the last senate where every member had all the $5, or $10 a day clerks he asked for. Of the $16,000 expended for clerks more than two-thirds of the expense was incurred by Harvey Scott's gang in the senate. But even that is a drop in the bucket compared to the big jobs which his paper and his influence has imposed on the people of Oregon. Then he has the impudence to talk about state officials keeping their pledges to the people.

HOW IT COMES BACK.

The Bank of England is getting more gold these days than it knows what to do with. It has about $90,000,000 more than it had two years ago. This is all right, however. The Bank of England is as good a place to keep the world's spare cash in as can be found anywhere. When business gets lively again in this country much of the gold which we have recently lost will come back in the shape of investments.

The above paragraph is from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The Bank of England may be as good a place to keep the world's gold as there is. But it will be no particular benefit to this country to have that money come back here to be invested. Our country has too much foreign capital now. We are owing England and other European money lenders hundreds of millions payable in gold. American gold mines last year produced only $4,371,949 of gold bullion according to the report of the mint. We do not produce gold enough to pay the bondholders of Europe the annual interest which we owe them. It is folly to talk about more gold coming back here for investment. The next bonds our country puts on the market should provide that neither the interest nor the principal should be payable to other than a bona fide American citizen. The bonds should be sold to our own people for what they will bring. The credit and integrity of the Americans formed a good enough basis for finance in time of war, and should be good enough in time of peace.

Mr. Hermann, of Oregon is second on the committee of rivers and harbors. He will be able to do a great deal more for Oregon in that position than he would as chairman, as he will have Oregon alone to look after.

SPEAKER REED'S COMMITTEES
GRANT VERSUS GROSS.

The new house committees have been announced by Speaker Reed and show that he has New York, Pennsylvania and England the important places, and Illinois the two most important committees—foreign affairs and appropriations. This looks like feathering his nest for the presidency. Henderson, one of the strongest men in Iowa, gets second place on rules—one of the strongest men in the house. The younger and weaker men from Iowa are given prominence, Iowa and Ohio have leading candidates for the presidency in McKinley and Allison—hence!

Reed has made friends with Cannon of Illinois—the nestor of the house and a Republican who has never had much patience with Reed's tyrannical methods, of over-riding men even of his own party, when it suited his notion to make a point by doing so. His age and ability put Cannon in a position where Reed could not ignore him and he is chairman of the appropriations committee.

Mr. Hermann was not given the chairmanship of rivers and harbors. That also went to New York as part of the deal that will unite Reed's fortunes still more strongly with those of Platt and Quay. Mr. Reed's objection to Hermann, that he always had his sleeves rolled up working for appropriations, is a small objection when compared to the theory of the newspapers, that Reed had his sleeves rolled up for the presidency although his committee incumbency. There is to be said of Reed: He would have been charged with fostering his presidential aspirations, no matter how he arranged the committees. He has boldly arranged them for that purpose and there is no concealment about it.

The Grant's Pass Observer published a fine 16-page Christmas edition. It was nicely illustrated and contained a descriptive write-up of the resources of southern Oregon. It shows a remarkable variety of interests and delights the year around to entice the weary pilgrim seeking rest to settle down amid its heavenly delights of climate, crops, mines, game, and brainy, energetic population. Such a paper cannot but bring Grant's Pass into touch with new people, and stimulate those already there to become thrifty and prosperous. The publishers of the Observer have the entire state under lasting obligation to them for getting out so fine a paper.

The Batings and Rothschilds are threatening to take no more bonds of the United States. It will be a blessed day for our country when they are not asked to do so. This nation should coin its own gold and silver instead of talking about borrowing bullion of the old world Jews, and issue its treasury notes notes on the faith and credit of the people.

The Great Tobacco War.

Many of our readers know of the war existing between the manufacturers of plug chewing tobacco, but few, perhaps, are familiar with the cause. For years some manufacturers have been making enormous profits by giving consumers a small piece of plug for ten cents. Recently a very large manufacturer, seeing that the time had come for better things, has placed a new brand called Battle Ax on the market, which gives the consumer a very large piece of most excellent quality for the same price. This has raised a great storm among those who are hurt by it, but it gives joy to those who use the goods. In Battle Ax they get a greater quantity for their money, while the quality is equal to the finest of other brands. This has naturally had the effect of greatly decreasing the business of those who have held to the old way, and it has materially curtailed their enormous profits. On the other hand Battle Ax now taxes the resources of three large factories, which by running night and day, are still unable to make the goods fast enough to satisfy the enthusiastic demand.

The people want a good thing and the most of it that they can get for the price. The manufacturers who do the best by them will get their trade. Their rivals naturally do not like it. They raise a mighty howl, but the AX will cut them down.

ERIE MEDICAL CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

The Archbishop Was Attacked at Salem.

The following was sent to the Oregonian from Salem, Dec. 18: "The Rev. Roland D. Grant, of Portland, delivered a lecture in the Baptist church here last night on 'The Nation's Perils.' The speaker claimed the advancement of Roman Catholicism in this country is dangerous to the nation, and in conclusion made the statement that Archbishop Gross, of the diocese of Oregon, had subscribed to a list of indulgences which might be extended to sinful humanity. The speaker said the list of sins published in indulgences was graduated, and the guilty person might obtain immunity from punishment therefore by paying the price. The price was said to range from 35 cents for small sins to $1350 for the latter price was said to be sufficient to atone for despoiling the virtue of a virgin. There is much comment in Salem today, pro and con, on the statements made by the Rev. Mr. Grant."

A REPLY TO THE ABOVE.

The absence of Archbishop Gross in the East, is printed in the Oregonian. Only today have I read Thursday's Oregonian, in which a telegraphic dispatch from Salem reports a lecture delivered in Salem, December 18, by the Rev. Roland D. Grant, of Portland, in which he is reported to have said, in a lecture in that city, that Roman Catholicism in this country is dangerous to the nation, and that Archbishop Gross, of the diocese of Oregon, had subscribed to a list of indulgences which might be extended to sinful humanity, and that the guilty person might obtain immunity from punishment by paying the price, which was said to range from 35 cents to $1350, which latter price was said to be sufficient to atone for despoiling the virtue of a virgin.

That Archbishop Gross has subscribed to any list of indulgences, making the payment of $1350 atone for violating a virgin, only ignorant bigots will believe; but that does not, in any manner, excuse such an unbecoming lie. No amount of money on earth can atone for the slightest sin, is the teaching of the Catholic church. Somehow, I can hardly bring myself to believe that Dr. Grant made the statement with which he is accredited; and yet I have heard him utter almost as grievous a lie—a lie, because he knew he was not telling the truth. He told his congregation that the Catholic church teaches that a Protestant marriage is a valid, and that children of a Protestant marriage are illegitimate. If two baptized Protestants are married by a Protestant clergyman, and they are divorced, neither of them can be married to a Catholic by a priest, whilst the other is living; that tells how the Catholic church regards Protestant marriages.

At this very time, Protestants and Catholics are denouncing the Jew-baiter, Ahlwardt, whilst right among us we have one who, clad in the garments of a minister of Christ, willfully and maliciously traduced 10,000 of the law-abiding citizens of Portland.

ROBERT HAYDN,
Editor Catholic Sentinel.

The Oregonian says editorially: That is a very extraordinary series of addresses Rev. Dr. Grant has been delivering in the cities of the valley. They have been reported for the Oregonian with great moderation, and we are assured, with scrupulous accuracy. No intelligent person will believe the statements made in relation to Archbishop Gross, or share in the judgment passed upon the teaching of science in the state university.

In the same issue of the Oregonian was this, at the end of an elaborate interview: Tuesday night Dr. Grant lectured at Salem. In the dispatch from Salem the next day, he says he was wrongly quoted. His remark as to indulgences, he says, "was the immolation of a girl's escape of a soul from purgatory." Dr. Grant will speak on "Indulgences" Sunday night at the Baptist church.

A PERSONAL STATEMENT.

In a letter received today by Rev. J. P. Farmer of the First Baptist church, Roland D. Grant says: "I did not say as reported by the Oregonian correspondent, that the indulgence was for the 'spoilation of a virgin.' I did say it was that Gross would have a girl immolated in the monastery at M. Taber for the benefit of the soul who paid $1,350 and that her continued sacrifice of her self would accrue to the man's benefit, both here and after death, and until finally released into Heaven."

John Swinton on Lawyers. "In the business of subverting the liberties of our beloved country, I do not dread the soldier with his rifle, nor the conspirator with his mask, nor the fool, fanatic or demagogue, nor the king in his regalia, nor the cleric with his tongue, nor the editor with his quill, nor the man with his horns, nor yet the millionaire with his millions, if they have but a fair field. The man to be dreaded in this republic is the shuffling lawyer; legal machination is the thing of menace and danger. It is in this country especially that the people need to be on the alert against legal quibblers; here they swarm as they do nowhere else on the globe, not only in the courts, but in the legislatures and lobbies, and every place of power and greatness."

"How often, in searching amid the ruins of popular liberties in other countries that once enjoyed them, do we come on the tracks of the false lawyer? For what oppressor has he not found a legal subterfuge? For what deed of guilt has he not been ready to erect a legal bulwark? Do we not find him with a legal defense of any usurper; with a legal justification for an invasion of every birthright of man; with a legal quibble over every great popular franchise; with a legal gloss for every clear word of freedom; with legal pterygory against every establishment of right; with a legal weapon for nullifying every victory of progress; with a legal jimmy, as Major Haggarty lately said, in the assembly, to pry open every man's safe; with legal mechanism for tearing out every stone in the fabric of justice, and for rearing every pillar in the edifice of wrong?"

"Not a guilty deed has ever been perpetrated by power; not a base treason has ever been hatched against the commonwealth; not a device has ever been set for the suppression of any popular right, but the false lawyer has stood ready to uphold it with the armament of false legality. He battered the twelve tables of Rome, he made of no effect, the ten commandments of Moses; he stifled the genius of Magna Charta, and he is no scuttling the Constitution of the United States."

Oregon and Her Christmas Greens.
The green holly boughs, boys—hugh ho!—and the mistletoe—O, ho! What a great wealth of Christmas greens to make homes cheery and sad hearts glad. Let us all have a share in the beautiful greens. Give the little boys a few pennies and have them troop to the woods and bring great armfuls of the mistletoe and holly, ferns and trailing vines; the red berries and the beautiful white wax berries, and bring good cheer into our homes and to our friends. Hang up the mistletoe and kiss the first pretty girl you can get. Make beautiful wreaths of the wild grape to give to a friend, who will hang it in the window by the bright ribbons, and add the good cheer to the passers-by. Drape the glossy leaves and long trailing stems of the ivy over your pictures and doors, and also the pretty creeping vines of the woods. Have a vase of the hardy fern that snuggles in the cool and moist nooks of the creek and woods. Yes, and let them be a part of the Christmas dinner table, be it spread with the finest of damask, or of the simple snow white cloth of the humblest home. Let us all have a tree, old and young together, and let us not forget that these things and many others were given us that we might know of this never-ending love, so let us carry throughout this Christmas tide peace, love and good will toward all.

In a State of Bankruptcy
—is the condition of our system if the liver becomes inactive so that the germs and poisons can accumulate within the body.
Keep the liver and bowels active and we're in a condition of healthy prosperity and have sufficiently well invested capital to draw upon in an hour of need. The liver filters out the poisonous germs which enter the system. Just so surely as the liver regulates the system, so do Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the liver. Keep this in mind, and you solve the problem of good health and good living. The "Pleasant Pellets" have a tonic, strengthening effect upon the lining membranes of the stomach and bowels, which effectually cures Bilioussness, Sick Headache, Constiveness, or Constipation, Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Bad Taste in Mouth, Sour Risings from Stomach, and will often cure Dyspepsia. The "Pellets" are tiny, because the vegetable extracts are refined and concentrated. Easy in action, no griping as with old-fashioned pills. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day after dinner. To relieve the distress arising from over-eating nothing equals one of these little "Pellets."
Mrs. MELISSA ATWATER, of Steuben, Washington Co., N.Y., writes: "As regards the little 'Pellets,' I think I could not do without them. I do not like to be without them in the house. I have spoken very highly to my friends and neighbors of them, and many are taking them through my advertising. I am well. I say they are the best pill I can take, especially for an after-dinner pill, I think they have no equal."
