W. P. LORD, GOVERNOR OF OREGON.

THE JOURNAL publishers and employes wish the governor of Oregon a Merry Christmas and many happy returns of the day.

William Paine Lord was born in 1839, and came to Salem in 1869.

He was for many years on the supreme bench of Oregon, and has been since one year chief executive of this commonwealth.

Governor Lord is still in the prime of life, in hale, hearty vigorous manhood. He gives close and constant personal attention to the duties of the office. He is on duty as governor six days in the week, and all day, performing none of his duties in a perfunctory manner or by proxy. He is governor.

Governor Lord enjoys the society of friends next to that of his family. He lives in a humble cottage on a retired street, and is seldom found stopping for any length of time between his home and his office, unless it be on business or to meet a friend.

The governor of Oregon is a kind-hearted gentleman, not difficult to approach, and an acquaintance once made by him is seldom forgot, a friendship formed is for life. Governor Lord is impulsive and warm-blooded. When his sympathies or feelings are touched he is quick to act, and he acts, too, seemingly without entering into minute calculations as to the probable results upon his personal or political fortunes. His appointments are made almost without regard to what are a man's political or religious opinions. Is he competent, is he honest? If the governor is satisfied upon those points, and the candidate is a friend, or appeals are made in his behalf by friends of the governor, that settles it, if it is in the governor's power to grant. But, alas, his friends are more numerous than the offices.

THE JOURNAL does not imagine that Governor Lord will make a faultless record as governor. It will not conceal defects in his record from the public. But it believes his work for four years will be performed with a high regard for the duties of the office, with a high sense of official honor and integrity, and a full measure of realization of his sense of the duties of the office. The result he will leave to the arbitration of time and his fellow citizens.

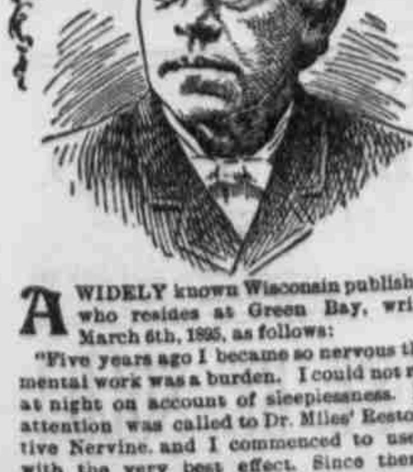
"DR. MILES,

Through His Nervine Is a Benefactor to Thousands."



A WIDELY known Wisconsin publisher, who resides at Green Bay, writes March 6th, 1895, as follows:

"Five years ago I became so nervous that mental work was a burden. I could not rest at night on account of sleeplessness. My attention was called to Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and I commenced to use it with the very best effect. Since then I have kept a bottle in my house and use it whenever my nerves become unstrung, with always the same good results. My son also takes it for nervousness with like never failing success. I have recommended it to many and it cures them. All who suffer from nerve troubles should try it. It is free from narcotics, perfectly harmless, and yet soothes and strengthens. Dr. Miles, through his Nervine is a benefactor to thousands." A. C. LEHMAN.
