Six or seven hundred Delaware Re. publicans of prominence have signed a statement reading "Gasman" J. Ed ward Addicks out of the Republican party. The statement reads:

"We hereby unqualifiedly condemn the methods employed in this state by J. Edward Addicks to gratify his selfish political ambition, and particu larly his treachery to the Republican party in the late senatorial contest.

"And we hereby declare that J. Ed ward Addicks has for these reasons placed himself in antagonism with and outside the Republican party, and i not entitled to be recognized as a mem-

The statement also reads out of the party Robert J. Hanley, who h charged with co-operating with the Democrats of the general assembly to defeat the election of a Republican senator. Hanley is a state senator, and managed the"Addicks or nobody' campaign last winter.

Among the signers of the statement are some of the most prominent and wealthy Republicans of that state and they have published their names,

There are twenty men in the congress of the United States who have obtained their seats by no more reprehensive means than were sought to be employed by Addicks. In nearly every state men of wealth are tempted to enter politics. Addicks is a millionaire who has made his money by securing franchises and monopolies. senator he would carry on the same business of bartering away the public interests in franchises. The combination of the corporation politician and corruption in general is so well established that the people have no evil to dread so much as that.

Mr. Huntington in Washington, to get his two hundred million debt refunded at two per cent for one hundred years would meet with no resistance from this man Addicks and more of his ilk who are already there or would like to serve the people there.

At the close of this year of 1895 let us thank God there are such Republicans. as those in Delaware who come out openly and denounce the Addicks method of buying and forcing themselves on the people. Addicks had the caucus nomination, but the legislature was deadlocked and he was defeated as he deserved to be. Men who gain their wealth in connection with great corporations can no longer so easily buy seats in the United States senate as once they could. Let the work of purification go on until our political parties are no longer prostituted to the service of any interest, but serve of the general public. We may never see dickses be killed off politically as possible.

OREGON'S GREAT MAN.

Stranger things might happen than the putting of John H. Mitchell onto the presidential ticket. He would certainly be a more drawing card than Whitelaw Reid who was put on last time with Harrison for no other reason than because he was Millionaire Mill's son-in-law and his New York Tribune the mouthpiece of the Goulds and Vanderbilts. A man who has some points of contact with the messes of the people and who represents something that is not repugnant to the common mind, who is not stuck on the four hundred, would be a tower of strength to the ticket. One thing can oe depended upon; the Republican party will not again put up such a man We would like to see a man like Mitchell put up against a man like direction of a plutocracy or a government of the people as it started out to be, but has not very rapidly been be coming the past 20 years. The Repubican party has got to revert back to the good old-fashioned doctrine that Abraham Lincoln loved to dwell upon, that all men are created free and equal, and that conditions that reverse that proposition are in themselves contrary to the spirit of our institutions. It may jar some people's feelings to get back to that proposition, but there will be great deal bigger jar some day the

A writer who knows better says Mr. Hermann will be of more use to Oregon as second member of the rivers and harbors committee than he would be as its chairman-for he will be able to devote all his time to the interest of this state. The fact is that he will be of little more service as second member than he would be were he not a member at all-and the fact that he was named second has no more significance than had he been named last, Had Mr Hermann secured the chair-
