GOLD FIND IN ALASKA

France Fears Our Monroe Doctrine.

THE SENATE RESOLUTION.

Hearings to Begin on the Pacific Funding Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The rich gold discovery in Forty Mile creek, Alaska, belongs to the United States. The 141st meridian of longitude has been accurately determined by an employee of the British government, and properly marked at certain places. General Duffield, chief of the coast survey, says it shows that but 16 miles of the creek as the bird flies, and 25 miles as water floats, is in the British territory, and in this portion no gold has been discovered. All remaining portion of the creek is in Alaska and belongs to the United States.

SOME BRAGGING.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—Eclair today commenting upon the suggested additions to the Monroe doctrine, remarks: "Does the American government think it is strong enough to appropriate in its own interest one of the two hemispheres, and forbid Europe from having access to at least half of the world? If it pushes its extravagant pretensions to this point, the only thing that can happen will be that all Europe will arrive at an understanding by which they will close their ports to American ships, a measure which will make America ask for mercy within a week. Why does America assume an attitude she cannot maintain?"

MONROE RESOLUTION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Senator Davis of the senate committee on foreign relations, today reported favorably on the resolution enunciating the Monroe doctrine. The resolution went to calendar. Gray announced that the report was not unanimous.

THE FUNDING ACT.

WASHINGTON, Jan.—The house committee on Pacific railroads today decided to begin hearing next Monday, preparatory to framing a plan for the adjustment of the debts of the Central and Union Pacific roads to the government.

Bayard's Unfortunate speech.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The president has sent the house his reply to the resolution calling on him for information as to what he had done about the matter of the speeches delivered by Ambassador Bayard. He transmitted copies of the two speeches in full and also copies of letters from Bayard, explanatory of them. No action was taken by the president on the speeches except to notify Bayard of the action of the house.

Floods and Land Slides.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 20.—Railroad traffic has received another hard blow this morning when four hundred feet of track were washed out at Dunnigan by high water between that place and Willows. Trains on the Oregon road are delayed by landslides on the Shasta division. Rain is falling heavily in the mountains and valleys and all the streams are swollen.

The Turkish Indemnity.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—A dispatch to the World from Boston says:

A naval officer who has just returned from Washington says:

"There is absolutely reliable authority for the statement that the administration has prepared a plan of campaign against Turkey to force the government of that country to comply with the demands of the United States for indemnity for loss of property and for the future protection of Americans within her domain.

The authorities do not deny this statement, though they have not hesitated to say that no orders whatever have been issued to the vessels of the navy for carrying this order into effect. Upon excellent authority it is stated that the department of state recently entered into correspondence with the foreign powers and that none of them will interfere.

"The plan, as I understand it, contemplates a naval demonstration against Turkey and perhaps an occupation of one of its cities. It has in view the concentration of practically the entire United States navy in Turkish waters. The real reason why Rear Admiral Bunce's fleet has been held at Hampton roads, instead of sailing about Christmas time, as was the original intention, is because the authorities have considered the dispatch of the fleet to Turkish waters. The Asiatic squadron has also been considered and there are some officers at Washington who believe that it is on the way to the Mediterranean, as the Asiatic station, usually so prolific in movements, has not been heard from in several weeks. The Newark in South Atlantic waters, was also talked of.

"The United States would be able to make an imposing demonstration against the Turkish government, for the Turkish navy could not act effectively against it. It is quite antiquated, and could easily be blown off the seas by the United States vessels. It is certain that some decisive stroke is being considered. In any event, there is occasion for believing that the department will increase the European squadron by the New York and probably two other vessels. The transfer of Admiral Bunce's flag to the Maine, is regarded in this connection as significant."

Two Santa Fe Officials Held Under Indictments.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—In the United States district court today Judge Grosscup handed down an opinion on a motion to quash indictments of the Santa Fe Railroad company's alleged violations of the inter-state commerce act. The indictments were upheld in part and quashed in part. John A. Henley, general traffic manager of the Santa Fe, and ex-President Reinhart were adjudged to have been properly indicted on two counts. Those counts set forth that the two officials violated the act by giving rebates and drawbacks. The indictments against Isaac Thompson, a Kansas City shipper, and Maager Jenkins, of the Hammond Packing company, were quashed.

These decisions are in effect that a shipper could not be held for violation in accepting a rebate, and is the first legal interpretation of that part of the inter-state commerce law making shippers equally liable with carriers, to violation of the law in discriminating.

UNITED STATES RESISTS.

Militia to Be Placed in Readiness for the Field.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 20.—Sensational stories were afloat here last night. Governor Mitchell, at the request of the war department in Washington, has ordered Adjutant-General Houston to see that the Florida militia be placed in readiness to take in the field at a moment's notice. The governor, it is reported, will call the militia together today. In the meantime, the adjutant-general is quietly issuing orders. Similar requests, it is reported, have been sent to the governors of other southern states. The story has become generally known and is causing much excitement throughout the south.

Governor Mitchell and Adjutant-General Houston were asked in regard to it, but they refused to talk. General Houston has been in his office all day, and has sent telegrams to all battalion commanders in the state. Major Turner, of Jacksonville, commanding the First Florida battalion, has received several messages from General Houston. The battalion commanders at Tampa and Pensacola have also received messages from General Houston.

It is stated, as coming from the executive office, that the Washington authorities have reason to believe that a deal is pending between Spain and England for the sale of Cuba to the latter; that the United States is preparing to resist the transfer of the island, and that the flying squadron is coming to American waters to be ready for the war with the United States which will inevitably follow an attempted cession of Cuba.

Dispatches from various cities in Florida report that the troops are gathering and that the war fever is higher now than the day after President Cleveland's Venezuela message.

THE REPORT DENIED.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—A flat denial is given at the war department today of the report from Florida that the secretary has requested the governor of the state to put Florida's troops in readiness to take the field at a moment's notice.

The president has no constitutional or lawful authority to make such a request and it is said there is no emergency that would justify calling out the Florida militia on account of Cuban affairs.

REPUBLICAN CLUBS.

In Canada's Commons.

OTTAWA, Jan. 19.—There was a wild scene in the house of commons when Mr. Kenny, conservative, of Halifax, accused Wildred Laurier of being an annexationist in disguise. Mr. Kenny read from a Boston paper what purported to be a report of a speech delivered by Mr. Laurier at a banquet in Boston. The report made Mr. Laurier say that the time would come when Canada must be separated from England.

Mr. Laurier said he had not been correctly reported. Still, he believed that Canada was attaining the rank of a nation.

The conservatives here broke into howls of dissent. Mr. Landerkin, liberal, shouted that Canada would soon be as great a country as England. The liberals responded with cheers, and after some further debate, quiet was restored.

It was noticed that the French Canadians remained silent. Mr. Langer, one of their leaders, said:

"We are well satisfied as things are now, but if our religion is not given protection of the law, we will do something more than cheer and shout across the floor of parliament."

Mr. Langer would not elucidate his remarks.

Mr. McGill has given notice that Monday next he will move that, in view of the threatening aspect of foreign affairs, the house desires to assure her majesty's government and the people of the United Kingdom of its unalterable loyalty and devotion to the British throne, and its conviction that, should the occasion unhappily arise, no other part of the empire than the Dominion of Canada would make more substantial sacrifices and attest the determination of her majesty's subjects to maintain the integrity and honor of her majesty's empire inviolate, and this house reiterates the oft-repeated desire of the people of Canada to maintain the most friendly relations with their kinsmen of the United States.

THE GERMANS UNEASY

The Future Full of Apprehension

SAYS A CORRESPONDENT.

Enthusiasm Displayed at the Close of the French War.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times, in the course of a long special article, recalling the splendid enthusiasm of the victory of 1871, says:

"Can it be said that the heart of the German nation responded yesterday with the same enthusiasm, as that in many minds the splendid memories of the past were not so extended dimmed and marred by disappointed expectations and menacing apprehensions?"

"The death of the two emperors has made room for a sovereign of a strangely different type, of whom all that can be said safely is that in this year of his age, and the eighth of his reign, his chief characteristic is his youth."

The correspondent then proceeds to refer to the absence of Prince Bismarck, the King of Saxony, the Grand Duke of Baden and Gen Blumenthal from the fetes, and reviewing the internal troubles and menacing outlook abroad, he says:

Few Germans can look forward without apprehension to the issue to the great conflict upon which it is universally felt the destinies of this young empire still hang. Between the lines of the leading articles, one may read even today something of the disappointed weariness and uneasy restlessness which have cast over the glorious memories of the past the shadows of the anxious future.

The appeal is to aid him in binding the greater German empire across the sea. Though formulated at Saturday's banquet for the first time in such impressive and emphatic form, it probably possessed the kaiser's mind for a long time, and probably furnished the key to Germany's recent action in China and the Transvaal. Yesterday's ceremony was invested with every element of a spectacular pomp, but even in the moderate papers complaints are made.
