TARIFF-SILVER TALK.

Remarkable Colloquy in the Senate.

MORRILL VERSUS TELLER

Involving the Future of the Silver Question.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—After the senate had disposed of much routine business, Morrill, chairman of the finance committee, immediately followed with a distinct surprise in the form of a resolution to take up the tariff bill. Morrill began with a brief statement as to the complications in the tariff bill. He said it had been apparent for many months that there was a deficiency in the revenues. During every month since the present tariff bill went into effect, there had been a deficiency.

The announcement that the motion was defeated, 22-23 was not unexpected in view of the vote some days ago. The detailed vote was as follows:

Yeas—Republicans—Aldrich, Allison, Baker, Brown, Burrows, Cameron Clark, Cullom, Davis, Gear, Hale, Hansbrough, Hawley, Lodge, Mitchell (Or.), Morrill, Nelson, Perkins, Proctor, Quay, Sherman, Shoup.

Nays—Republicans—Canon, Carter, Dubois, Mantle, Teller. Democrats. Bacon, Bate, Berry, Caffery, Call, Chilton, Cockrell, George, Gray, Gordon, Harris, Hill, Lindsay, Martin Morgan, Palmer, Pasco, Roach, Turpie, Vest, Walthall, White, Populists—Allen, Butler, Jones (Nev.), Kyle, Peffer, and Stewart.

The pairs were as follows, those who would have voted aye being given first:

Chandler with Murphy, McBride with Smith, Hoar with Pugh, Warren with Jones of Arkansas, Wilson with Irby, McMillan with Blackburn, Pritchard with Blanchard, Wetmore with Vorhees, Pettigrew with Gibson, Frye with Gorman, Squire with Daniels, Wolcott with Brice, Platt with Vilas, Elkins with Faulkner, Sewell with Mitchell of Wisconsin, Thurston with Tilman.

The announcement of the vote was the signal for a remarkable colloquy between Morrill and Teller. As soon as the vote was announced, Morrill again addressed the senate. It was now evident, he said, that the Republican party was in the minority in the senate. A course of derisive laughter came from the Democratic side of the chamber at this statement. Morrill, not noticing the interruption, proceeded to state that in his judgment the tariff bill was defeated by a vote including five silver Republicans and six Populists.

Teller secured recognition. He said: "The senator from Vermont (Morrill) states that everybody has known to be a fact, that there is not a Republican majority in this senate, if those who have voted against the motion to take up this measure, made out of time and unseemly, who sit on this side of the chamber, are in the party, whom the senator seems to think are not. There is a motion here, made by the senator from Montana (Carter), who I believe has as much claim to be called a Republican as the senator from Vermont, to recommit this bill for defects in the bill—patent and apparent defects—defects which everybody who has read and examined it concedes. Mr. President, I charge here (and I shall undertake to make the charge good before this debate is over), that this bill was never introduced in either body, or has it been supported in this body with any reference to its becoming a law. Of that I shall speak at another time. If the senator from Vermont thinks that he can embarrass us who have stood by the Republican party as long as he has, and as zealously as he has, because we do not agree with him upon every subject, he is entirely mistaken.

"The suggestion is that we who have not voted to take up this bill are not Republicans. For 30 days the great Republican metropolitan press has read out of that party enough members to make it in the minority, if it had heretofore a majority here. Every man who voted for the free-coinage amendment to the bond bill, no matter what was his motive for voting for it, whether he was a free-coinage man and anxious to promote the purpose and that end, or whether he was against the bill, has been read out of the Republican party by the Republican press. At the proper time, I am prepared to show that the great metropolitan Republican press has declared that 18 members of this body are not worthy to be called Republicans, and we have been notified that unless we change our views upon financial questions and submit to the Cleveland Democracy and Morrill Republicanism of this country on the financial question, we must go out of the party.

"Mr. President, we can get along without the party as well as the party can get along without us, but we deny the right of either the newspapers or members of the committee on finance to read us out of the party. We will stay in the party until we get ready to go out, and we shall discuss these questions that are now so important, not from a partisan standpoint, but from the standpoint of the American senator charged with great interests, charged with doing that which the senate has shown itself incompetent to do, and nobody is more incompetent than the man who voted for the gold proposition of this administration; charged to bring to this country prosperity, which has been denied to it under our legislation now for 20 years; charged to devise some system that shall satisfy the people that we can enter upon that degree of prosperity to which we are entitled by reason of advantages which exist in this country. I wish to enter my protest and to say that I am not to be frightened by the sneers of the chairman of the committee, nor by the attacks of the press. I shall do what I think is my duty to do here, regardless of consequences, and it seems to me that it would be in better taste and more in accordance with the dignity of the senate, if we should hear less here and elsewhere about our partisan duty."

SILVER AND TARIFF.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Quay reported the army appropriation bill to the senate and gave notice that he would call it up tomorrow.

Allen of Nebraska returned to the tariff question by referring to the statements of Morrill, Sherman and Platt, during an exciting debate yesterday. Allen said he had believed it was the honest purpose of the Republican party to enact a law placing gold and silver on equal terms.

But the debate yesterday developed that Republican leaders under some circumstances would enact a free coinage act. Allen assured the senate that there were sufficient Populist votes to give a majority in the senate if the passage of a tariff bill was accompanied by adoption of a free silver amendment. Carter, of Montana, took the floor for a speech defining his attitude on tariff bill.

He spoke with great earnestness and deliberation. His statement at outset that he had "no apology to offer was given with explosive force. He objected to being read out of the Republican party.

Land Laws.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The house today concurred in the senate amendment to the house bill to extend the time under the act of 1891, within which the government might bring suits to annual patents to public lands under railroad or wagon grants

NEW RELIGIOUS UNION

Good People to Favor "Practical Christian Work."

THE CHRISTIAN ALLIANCE

The Address Delivered Before the Alliance by Bishop Mills.

EUGENE, Feb. 26.—The following is an outline of the address of Bishop J. S. Mills, which was delivered before the Eugene Christian Alliance at the First Presbyterian church. It is published by request of a vote of the meeting:

Has the time come for an alliance of all the good people of this place for practical Christian work? This city is beautiful for situation, in the heart of this great valley surrounded by the glories and grandeur of nature. Its people are noted for their intelligence, morality and thrift. The pastors of its churches are noted as men of rare culture, piety and progressive spirit. The great university located here has brought the city a large body of educated people. Education means intellectual and ethical progress. Surely all these distinguished elements of society can unite with every other good person for the social welfare of the city. Further, this is an age of social movements. The new philanthropy, social settlements, social science, and social Christian work, all indicate that social welfare, the welfare of the masses, is the great problem of this age. Reform or destroy the causes of social degradation and decay, is the watchword of the people. Surely this city is ready to unite its best elements to save society from the evils of the present life, that each may have the best opportunity in his struggle for existence.

The movement stands for:

1. United work for humanity. It seeks co-operation of every good citizen, whether he is a member of a church or not. We can all stand together in the struggle for the common good.
2. Unselfish work for mankind. It means clear up the malarial swamps, that we may all have pure air to breathe. Destroy the alluring temptations in the social environments. It is better to prevent than to punish evil.
3. Patriotism and good citizenship. Make our own city, more and more a place of union, of peace, prosperity and safety. A place to which parents will delight to send their sons and daughters for education.
4. This movement stands for everything that tends to purify, to beautify, to exalt the standard of social life. It is the friend of and promises to aid every movement that promises to develop noble, ethical character.

Its methods are:

1. To give light. Turn the blazing light of day upon public evils and they will wither before the enlightened public opinion.
2. To aid the enforcement of law. Good laws exist, but the officers must be encouraged to enforce them. This aid will be given.
3. Keep good men in office. In every city, a small majority, composed of corrupt political bosses, gamblers and saloon keepers try to control the elections for their own evil purposes. They too often succeed, because the better element do not co-operate for good government. This evil element has small power when citizens are once awakened up.
4. Utilize latent ethical energy. Why should the evil elements of society be alone vigilant and active? Why will not the better classes learn that eternal vigilance and zealous effort are the conditions of social progress and human welfare. Difficulties to be expected.
1. The political boss, gamblers and saloon keepers will seek to divide your forces. They follow the rule "Divide and Conquer." Surely the best elements of society can act together for home, church, education and every civic good. The evil elements already prophesy your division, but I know you will co-operate for the common good of all.

2. Friends of the end aimed at, may misunderstand the movement. A board of directors, composed of some of the best men in the city, is at the head of the movement. You can safely trust them. Seek full information before opposing the Alliance.

Enforcing the Game Laws.

HILLSBORO, Or., Feb. 26.—That a deputy game warden has been appointed in this county has become apparent in the past few days. Yesterday J. Schiefflin was before Justice Knight, charged with breaking the game law, in that he had caught and had in his possession last Sunday mountain trout. He pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs. S. Green was also charged jointly with Schiefflin, but has not yet been apprehended. Yesterday afternoon Deputy Game Warden George R. Baggerly received word that several persons were breaking the law, on the Tualatin river, near town. As a result of his trip there, a complaint was lodged this morning against Wesley Garrison, but as yet he has not been arraigned.

A Double Murder.

CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—In a fit of rage today, Jacob Dietzel, who is 68 years old, shot his daughter, Mrs. Henry Obner, then himself, inflicting fatal wounds. He was once in prosperous circumstances, but of late has been dependent upon his children for support, and their frequent complaints, it is said, were the cause of his crime.

A Famous Trial.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 26.—The jury in the famous Bartlett-Bigelow breach of promise case today returned a verdict for defendant. The previous trial resulted in a similar verdict. Mrs. Mary L. Bartlett, plaintiff, brought a suit to recover $300,000 from the estate of the late Professor Henry J. Bigelow, of Harvard.

Bank Robbers Captured.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 26.—Foster Crawford and "The Kid," who raided the City National bank of Wichita Falls, Tex., yesterday afternoon, killing Frank Dorsey, wounding Bookkeeper P. B. Langford and securing $400, were captured last night, nine miles from town. There is some talk of lynching.

The Kentucky Senatorship.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 26.—The Warren-Tompkins contested case was reported to the general assembly today. If Tompkins succeeds, Hunter's election is assured. There is much excitement. Threats to keep republicans from taking a seat by force are made.

Steamer Ashore.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—The steamer Lamington, which went ashore off the Lone Hill life saving station on the night of February 4th, was floated ashore by high tide today. The extent of damage has not yet been ascertained.

PARTY INTOLERANCE.

The Salem Statesman this morning has an intolerant article, probably written by some office holder or office seeker who now wants to divide the Republican party on the silver question, and it is headed "Mongrels not Wanted."

The article is not signed, but it breathes an intolerant, prescriptive spirit fatal to any party harmony. Intelligent Republicans are not reading one another out of the party on any economic or financial question. Men who honestly differ can yet respect each other's views and opinions so long as they are held unselfishly.

If the author of the prescriptive article in the Statesman would sign his name he would command more respect. As it is he will be taken, whether rightly or not, for one of those who secretly are fighting to return Mr. Dolph to Mr. Mitchell's seat in the United States Senate and dare not do it openly.

The best way and the only way for Republicans who are Republicans as a matter of principle is to quit calling one another "goldbugs" or "silver lunatics," or any other pet names on the money question, but all seek to unite the party in the cause of good government in state and nation. The best way is to let each member of the Republican party interpret the national plank of 1892 on the money question as he thinks it ought to be interpreted, and then not fall out and quarrel with another fellow because he interprets it in a different way.

When we have another platform we shall reserve the right to interpret that also as we think it ought to be interpreted. That is a right every Republican has. The Republican party is a party of intelligence and independence. Every member of it carries his individual sovereignty under his hat, and we are going to keep it there. There are plenty of questions the Republican party is agreed upon, besides the money question, namely a protective tariff, proper immigration laws, exclusion of Chinese and Japanese laborers, pensions for Union soldiers and veterans of the Indian wars, internal improvements, and many other questions.

The man who signs himself "Republican" better come out over his signature. The true way is to arrive at the consensus of a majority of the people on any great question. When it is fully expressed and has been intelligently arrived at, the true Republican is manly enough to be willing to abide by the wish of the majority, whatever it is.

TACOMA, Feb. 26.—The lost five year old girl, Laura, Blad, was found in the woods unconscious this morning, two miles from home. She had been exposed to the storm for 48 hours and her recovery is doubtful.
