BY HOPER BROTHERS

MONDAY, MARCH 9, 1896.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of COUNTY ASSESSOR subject to the will of the county Republican convention.

J. A. VAN EATON.

THE PRIMARY STRUGGLE.

The first and great struggle for good government in Oregon will take place in each county at the Republican primaries. In Marion county the primaries will be held on Friday, March 20.

It is likely that no Democratic ticket will be put in the field in many counties in the state. The large majorities rolled up by the Republican party last year and the discussions in the people's party, forces the whole fight for reform into the Republican primaries.

With four years of federal patronage in sight the struggle to get into positions that compel party recognition will be fierce. In such a struggle the old Portland ring that has dealt in these federal offices for twenty years past has a great advantage. Independent voters and reform elements within the Republican party should unite in electing men as delegates to the county conventions who will nominate people's representatives.

THIS IS A FREE COUNTRY.

Some timid people and politicians are inclined to criticize THE JOURNAL for bringing out the real issue in the school election at Salem. We have only to say that this is a free country, and we believe in free speech and a free press.

THE JOURNAL is a free newspaper. Its policy is not dictated to it by politicians. It believes in free, open discussion of all questions of public importance, presenting all the facts and both sides fully and fairly, and letting the people do their own thinking. If its editors make a mistake, it is their own error; not because some one told them so.

The people should not encourage indirect methods in politics or public affairs. The candidate or party that fears discussion or publicity is not worthy of encouragement in a free country. The utmost publicity is the best protection against public abuses, as the electric lighted street is the most efficient police power. Our public school system especially is a public institution.

THE ISSUE GROWS CLEARER.

In the Kentucky legislature, the Populists are voting for Blackburn, and the Republicans seem to be inclined to vote for Carlisle with the sound-money Democrats, who have been voting against Blackburn. This is right. Blackburn is essentially a Populist, as are all Democrats and Republicans who share his views about money. Politicians of this kind ought to flock together. Mr. Carlisle is a firm upholder of the principle most strenuously maintained by the Republicans in the state election. If they cannot elect one of their own party, they cannot do better than to vote for him. The sound-money vote from both parties would elect him unquestionably, and he would do nothing to discredit the principle on which he was chosen.—Sunday Oregonian.

"This is right," says the Oregonian. "Every man who is not a gold monometalist is a Populist." Well, well, just as we expected. The Oregonian will bolt any Republican who does not stand with Cleveland and Carlisle.

The Populist Independent of Salem has said to much in abuse of Oregon legislators—especially the last—it ought to be willing to print the records of the appropriations the past four years.

SALEM AND APPROPRIATIONS.

A state senator from Marion county who was in the last legislature and will be in the next is credited with saying that the appropriations at the next session will be at least as large as they were last term. While there will be a slight reduction in appropriations to homes and in the abolishment of commissions, this saving will be offset by additional appropriations to state institutions.—Medford Mail.

We hope the Salem senator does not speak by the card. The last legislature appropriated $600,000 less than its predecessor, and the next one will better that a great deal or we miss our guess. There is room for $100,000 clear cut on existing salaries and securities, and they will be made or the people will know the reason why.

The last Oregon legislature spent $23,000 for clerks. A good business man could take the contract for doing the same amount of work at $2,500 and make money out of the job. Is it any wonder that taxes are high?—Times Mountaineer.

The Oregonian and Populist papers have repeated this lie so often that they believe it. The last legislature spent a little over $16,000 on all its employees. The total legislative expense was $10,000 or ten thousand less than in 1893. The expense for clerks in 1895 was $4002.42 less than in 1893, according to the Independent Salem Post. The truth is good enough for most people, and yet some of our exchanges handle it so gingerly, they appear to think it is too rich for the blood of their readers.

The question of money is large, yet simple and self adjusting. The honest official will strive for conclusive legislation on the question, and if conversant with the causes and conditions as they exist now, will labor for the lessening of the legal rate of interest and the ultimate returning of money to its true office as a mere lawful medium for the exchange of commodities instead of maintaining in it all the elements of a wealth giving product.—Monmouth Monitor.

The Salem Post (Independent) has said some awful mean things about politics in Oregon, a little grain of truth in it all. Will not Governor Fletcher, recently of Dakota, print the state and county tax levy of that state, and the per-capita indebtedness of the state. The governor is such a severe critic of Oregon men and government that we would really like to see some comparative figures from his own state, as well as some of his own immaculate political record.

While THE JOURNAL lives, Salem shall have one free newspaper open to the people, that cannot be muzzled by any selfish faction or in the interest of any underhanded element. The Salem Post always hides under cover by abusing THE JOURNAL.

Washington, Lincoln, Blaine, Webster, Teller, Mitchell and the rank and file of the United States, were and are, all bimetalists.—Baker City Blade.

When the Salem papers can't see any other way out of a tight place they can always get in and score Hofer.

The state sewer will be built with free labor.

The Oregonian says: The drain of gold from the treasury is heavy and constant. Though the reserve is well above the $100,000,000 mark, it will not remain there long after the payments under the last loan shall have been completed. There is over $140,000,000 of currency in the treasury, of which at least $100,000,000 probably is legal tender. Clearly, this is not enough to relieve the excess of credit currency in circulation, and another bond sale will be needed.

The following are the candidates nominated for the forthcoming town election, to be held Monday next: Mayor, L. Green; recorder, J. B. Grier; marshal, Henry Bruer; treasurer, John Sander; councilmen, Geo. Brown, F. M. Henline, J. N. Weddle and Joseph Miller.—Stayton Times.

The Higher Patriotism.

Patriotism as exhibited in song, in story and romance, has been associated almost exclusively with the martial spirit, with heroes who rush to battle and sacrifice themselves for their country's good. The very world has been filled with the spirit of war, with the sound of clashing swords and roaring guns. This old patriotism is grand, but the new is grander, still, for it retains all that is worthy of the old and adds to it something of yet higher worth and of diviner quality. It is a love that lives all the time and everywhere, in days of peace as in days of war; a love that expresses itself in the common events, duties and obligations of civic life, as well as on rare and extraordinary occasions. This patriotism needs no trump of war to call it into life, no scent of blood to arouse it to action. It is a virtue which belongs in all its fullness and glory as much to the man as the plough and the anvil as to the man at the bayonet's point or at the cannon's mouth; lives not only in the breath of dying men on glory battlefields, but in the joy and strength of living men doing their duty in the world day by day.

It is not a patriotism which sees its country's enemies only in aliens who "insult the flag" or deride a cherished doctrine coming marching in with waving torch and sword, but finds even deadlier foes than these in the men who profess the name of loyal citizens, while they bear the hearts of assassins and traitors: men who befool the very springs of civic life and fraud and bribery, who buy and sell the sacred rights of citizenship, who pervert the ends of justice for a price and pollute the statute books with unjust and unrighteous laws. In enemies like these, in intriguing politicians, in base demagogues, in cunning and unscrupulous bosses in Tammany Hall rings, in these and all their slavish following the new patriotism sees the chiefest foes for it to fight, the only foes which really threaten the life of the country, and give present occasion for dread and alarm. Against this array of treachery, greed and base ambition, the new patriotism feels called upon to set in opposition its largest resources and utmost powers, to strive, to battle unceasingly. It hears in these things a call to arms sounding through all days and years: a call to unceasing vigilance, to never-ending duty. Happy and prosperous shall this land be when this newer and nobler patriotism, this true love of country inspires every breast; this love that loves all the time and never loses so much or so well as when it actuates to faithful, honorable and intelligent service in the common duties of civic life.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a ringing sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
