MISSOURI DEMOCRAT

Governor Stone Issues Them
a Proclamation.

FOR SOLID DELEGATIONS

Gage of Battle Thrown Down to Gold Standard Men.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 10.—Governor Stone is engaged in sending out a political circular letter, the contents of which clearly indicate that there will not be the slightest disposition on the part of the radical silver element of the Democracy of Missouri to make concessions to the administration or "sound money" wing of the party.

"My purpose in sending out this communication," says the governor, in beginning his circular letter, "is to promote the effort I am making in conjunction with others to organize those Democrats in Missouri who favor a resolution in our national platform declaring for the immediate free coinage of silver into standard dollars at the ratio of 16 to 1, and the nomination of candidates for president and vice-president who openly favor that policy. The state convention to select delegates to the national convention, will meet at Sedalia on April 15, next. The county conventions, to appoint delegates to the Sedalia convention, will meet at different dates during the latter part of March and the first days of April.

The dates for these county conventions will be fixed for each county by its own committees. My hope and purpose is to arouse the Democrats—the people—to the necessity of going actively to work to secure the selection of county delegates to the Sedalia convention who are well known and earnest advocates of free silver coinage, and who can be implicitly trusted to represent their constituencies with fidelity. I believe that a large majority of the Democrats of this state favor the free coinage of both gold and silver; this majority, however, can not have its way, but will be overridden, if the people are inactive, or if they are careless or cowardly in the selection of the delegates. I write, therefore, to urge you, for your interest and for the good of your party and country, to take hold of the work of organizing our party friends in your county, and particularly in your own precinct, with the view of sending free-coinage men to your county convention, and through that convention to send the strongest free coinage Democrats of your county to Sedalia."

Gov. Stone believes that the delegates to Chicago should represent the state as a whole and should vote as a unit. "In this fight," he says, "I state frankly my own position, I shall favor the Sedalia Convention sending a free silver delegation to Chicago. I shall favor the selection of two delegates from each congressional district, as has been done heretofore, as a matter of geographical distribution; but I shall stand with those who will insist on every delegate being a pronounced advocate of free silver coinage. I shall take this position because I believe it is right. I am in this fight to win it, if possible, all the way up from the precinct to the National Convention. I do not want to play politics like children play mimic war, I want to fight as men should fight in battle, knowing that victory means prosperity, and defeat disaster. The delegates to Chicago will represent the Missouri Democracy. They go there to voice the sentiment of this state. They do not go to voice simply the sentiment of a district. If that were so, then the State Convention would have no right to instruct them. If a delegate goes simply to speak for his district, how could he obey an instruction of the State Convention binding him to vote against the will of his immediate constituents? * * * Why do gold standard men want to go as delegates? Is it to promote the cause of silver coinage or to obstruct it? The question answers itself.

"The Missouri Democracy has taken its position on this coinage question. We must press resolutely forward if we mean to achieve practical results. It is worse than child's play to beat the tom-toms and do all we have in the preliminary struggle if we are to strike our flag now when we are come to the real battle. A step backward is to invite if not to insure, defeat. Talk of reading people out of the party is nonsense. Nobody is read out, unless a man chooses to say he is read out because he is not elected a delegate. The proposition is simply to elect delegates to the national convention who are in accord with the party sentiment, and who will strive as a matter of conviction, to execute the will of those they represent. If the gold men are in control at Sedalia I will throw up my hands and so far as I am concerned, give them what they are entitled to, a clear field. If the gold men are in control at Chicago they will adopt a gold platform and endorse Mr. Cleveland's policy. That is as certain as fate. I am in favor of preventing that if possible; but it can not be prevented by sending Cleveland men to represent silver constituencies in the convention."

Two Children Killed.

OAKLAND, Cal., March 10.—Kate Anna Booth, aged 10, and Emily Booth, aged 5, were run down at Eighth and Adeline streets by an electric car of the Oakland Consolidated line, at 6 o'clock last night, and instantly killed. The children were daughters of Frank E. Booth, a commission merchant doing business in San Francisco.

The little ones had been playing on the sidewalk, and they started to cross the street when the car struck them. Kate was struck first. The wheels passed over her head, crushing skull in a frightful manner. The bones of her arms and both legs were crushed. Ida did not go under the wheels. She was found under the car with her skull fractured. There being no fender on the car, the axels passed over her without touching the form. Her fatal wound was received when the car first struck her.

Hundreds gathered at the scene of the accident, ready to assist the children, but there was nothing to be done except remove them from the track. Their remains were taken home and then to the morgue.

They were the only children in the family. A few minutes before the accident they kissed their mother and said they were going to play, and would meet their father when he got off the train.

Waiting for Uncle Sam.

NEW YORK, March 10.—A World dispatch from Mexico says: As the United States has not formally recognized the belligerency of Cuba, Mexico and Central American Republics are awaiting definite action by President Cleveland. Doubtless recognition by the United States would speedily be followed by similar recognition in Mexico and Central America. Resident Spaniards here have great influence. They control the national bank of Mexico, and their importance in manufacturing and agriculture is out of all proportion to their number. The great mass of Mexican people dislike them and sympathize with Cuba.

Anti-Option Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The subcommittee of the house committee on agriculture today decided to recommend to the full committee that the anti-option bill be reported adversely. The full committee will pass upon it tomorrow.

SALVATION ARMY MATTERS.

LONDON, March 10.—General Booth, of the Salvation Army, has cabled a manifesto to the Salvation Army in New York. Bramwell Booth also has a manifesto in today's War Cry, in which he says the fidelity of the American troops is unshaken, and warns the army against "misrepresentations in the English-American press." He also says the general's heart is torn and sorely wounded, but he is determined to carry on the government without respect to persons.

Gomez Son Here.

ST LOUIS, March 10.—Senor Gomez, nephew of General Gomez, head of the Cuban revolutionary party, passed through the city en route to Chicago. He arrived direct from Havana. The object of his visit to this country is to learn the exact situation regarding the granting of belligerent rights to the rebels. He will visit the principal cities in the East, urging the wealthy Cubans to double their energies for the insurgents. Speaking of the result of the war, he said:

"If the United States recognizes us we will win; but we will lose all we have gained if this fails. Spain is sending additional forces to Cuba every day. We could meet this increase if the United States would recognize us as a republic."

Good Roads in Yamhill.

MC MINNVILLE, March 10.—The good roads question is being discussed and assuming definite shape. The committee on highways will report to the board of trade this evening a proposition to bond the district for $16,000, according to the road law of 1894, the amount to be used in improving all important roads leading to the city. There will be opposition from some of the heavy taxpayers, but if the board of trade approves the proposition men will be set to work at once to secure names petitioning the county court to make the proposed improvements.

Nat Blum Pardoned.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The president has pardoned Nathan Blum, convicted in Oregon of smuggling and conspiracy, but whose sentence was suspended, and F. M. Salsbury, convicted in Oregon of misusing envelopes, and fined $300.

Episcopal Salvation Army.

NEW YORK, March 10.—For a long time men prominent in the affairs of the Episcopal church, especially those interested in missionary work, have been watching closely the operations of the Salvation Army, with a view of forming another organization on similar lines, to be known as the American Church Army. Such an organization in England has proved successful. As a possible result, more or less direct, of the trouble in the Salvation Army, the forming of the Church Army may be hastened, but there is no likelihood that Ballington Booth will be identified with it.

A McKinley Convention.

COLUMBUS, March 10.—There is a large attendance here for the Republican state convention, which meets this afternoon. There is no opposition to Governor Bushnell, Senator Foraker, Congressman Grosvenor and Mark Hanna for delegates at large, as they are known to be the men wanted by McKinley. The organization is being perfected with a view to having such demonstrations tonight and tomorrow as will show other states how McKinley stands in his own state.

Insurgents Defeated.

HAVANA, March 10.—Colonel Sarrero, in command of the Spanish column, operating against the insurgents in the Province of Pinar del Rio, captured the fortified position occupied by the enemy. After an hour's fighting, during which cannon shots were exchanged, the insurgents were dispersed with a loss of 120 killed and wounded. The insurgents burned the village of Martinis in the district of Guines.

STEAMER RIO OVERDUE.

Republican Conventions in Ohio,
Kansas and Rhode Island.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—Rev. C. O. Brown was too ill to appear before the Congregational council this morning and his attorney announced that he was in a serious condition. He appears to be suffering from a slight attack of pneumonia. His bronchial tubes are badly affected, and according to Attorney Nagle, his mind is also affected, as a result of the great metal strain to which he has been subjected during the last few months. His attorney said he doubted if Brown would ever entirely recover. The council proceeded without Brown.

SIXTEEN DAYS OVERDUE.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—Nothing has yet been heard of the missing steamer City of Rio de Janeiro and her 550 passengers and crew. The steamer is now sixteen days overdue at Yokohama. It is thought the Rio may have run short of coal and is proceeding slowly under sail to Hong Kong.

RHODE ISLAND CONVENTION.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 10.—The Republican state convention adopted a platform emphatic in its declaration for sound money. The present state officers were renominated by acclamation. Delegates to the national convention will not be selected until after the state election, on April 1.
