ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.
The undersigned hereby announces himself as a candidate for the office of county school superintendent, subject to the action of the Republican county convention.

H. H. SMITH.

FOR ASSESSOR.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of COUNTY ASSESSOR subject to the will of the county Republican convention.

J. A. VAN EATON.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

I have consented to have my name borne before the Republican county convention for representative.

E. W. CHAPMAN.

Italy is bankrupt.

Portland has no free press.

Free speech is working in Portland.

The old ring in Portland will be buried.

Portland has no newspaper. It has a ringorgan.

Why is the Populist party like a bicycle? Because it can't run without inflation.

If the gentlemen of the United States senate don't stop, they will talk the Cuban revolution to death.

The "sound money" Republicans of Kentucky will deal a death-blow to the Republican party if they elect Mr. Carlisle.

Good old-fashioned protection, all around reciprocity, and genuine bimetalism, are the ace, king and queen Republican trumps.

At times Rev. Dr. Brown is extremely nervous and threatened with prostration. Whether innocent or guilty he is certainly being severely punished.

It may have escaped notice but the Oregon short line was recently reorganized. A few Portland lawyers reorganized it once in a while for what there is in it.

That Salem tailor made only one mistake—he should have included the editor of the Post in his invitation to be summoned before the county court with the Statesman editors.

If Mr. McCleary and the Populist managers of the genius of the Santiam will possess their souls in patience, they will get all the joint debating they care for when the campaign opens.

The Republicans in the last legislature of Oregon who refused to vote for Mr. Dolph never were guilty of voting for a Cuckoo Democrat, like the "sound-money" Republicans of Kentucky.

Indications are that there will be but one ticket of delegates in the field in each precinct of Marion county and that will be for Mitchell for the United States senate. The numerous candidates for county offices these hard times makes it almost possible for each one of them to make up slates for himself.

Our genial Democratic friend who digests Republican brain fodder in the Daily Post for the Weekly Independent (Populist) has not yet told his readers what the total appropriations of the last four legislatures were. A great deal that he has told had the single merit of being untrue, and he ought now to give his readers the facts. They can stand it, if he can't.

Children Cry for Pinner's Castoria.

THE NEXT SENATE.

Speaking of the twenty-nine United States senators whose terms expire in 1897, the New York Mail and Express says:

"Only twelve of these are Republicans, and none of them are in any danger of being supplanted by Democrats or Populists. Three are Populists, and of these, two, Peffer and Kyle, are sure to be succeeded by Republicans, while the other, Jones, of Nevada, may be his own successor. The silver senators, elected as Republicans, Teller, Dubois and Hansborough, will probably succeed themselves, or be succeeded by Republicans. The other silverite, Cameron, will be succeeded by a Republican. Allison, if not elected president, will succeed himself, and so ought Platt, Mitchell and Morrill."

This New York paper is making the fight for clean politics in the empire state. It says:

If Col. du Pont is seated, there will be forty-five Republicans in the present body, or exactly one-half. No Republican losses are discernible among those whose terms expire exactly a year hence, while eight, and perhaps nine, Democrats and Populists will give place to Republicans. A senate of sixty-three Republicans out of a total of ninety will provide a neat majority in the senate, to join with a Republican president and a Republican house in bringing back the good old Harrison times of 1883-1892. Hasten the day!

This New York paper classes Senator Mitchell as a sound protectionist, and his able speeches on March 5 and 6, in championing the title of Col. du Pont, are among the historical productions in the political forum for 1896.

No state on the Pacific Coast possesses a man in the senate of the recognized standing, political influence, ability and popularity of Senator Mitchell. The politicians in this state, who are plotting to defeat him, if there be such, should remember what prestige Oregon will have in the councils of the nation when we have a senate two-thirds Republicans.

A SIMON DEMOCRAT.

Senator Cogswell, who for the past four years has been considered the "Democratic war horse" of Lake, Klamath and Crook counties, and who has been twice elected state senator on the Democratic ticket, now admits that he feels very friendly toward the Republican party and may vote the Republican ticket next year. Senator Cogswell has been training with Joe Simon so long that he would no doubt feel more at home in the Republican ranks than anywhere else. —Times-Mountaineer, (Dem.)

Cogswell has also stood in for political plunder and got his share. Such men make excellent spoils converts, only the fact remains that there has been no conversion, because the same principle animates the man supposed to have been converted. Such converts should first be taken on probation for about sixty years to determine whether the convert has that real contrition of spirit he should have.

The politicians are all for John H. Mitchell now, to get into the Republican primaries. After they get in they may be something else. While all appears to be in favor of Mr. Mitchell's re-election now, THE JOURNAL'S advice to the people is to turn out to the primaries in every precinct and county in the state; and to put none but Mitchell men on guard, and see to it that outspoken Mitchell men who will not have to be paid to vote for him for senator are put on the legislative ticket.

For an alleged metropolitan newspaper, there was never an exhibition of smallness, meanness and weakness equal to the Oregonian's garbled report of District Attorney Hume's scathing exposure of the sham reform politicians of that city. A running comment was introduced in the report of Mr. Hume's remarks to obliterate and counteract their influence, the force of which must have been tremendous if such means had to be resorted to in order to overcome their effect.

BIMETALLISM AND THE TARIFF.

Such so-called Republican papers as the New York Tribune that assume that they, and they alone, have the right to arrogantly dictate the policy of the Republican party, and they interpret Republican doctrines, make a great mistake in denouncing as traitors to their party those senators who have asserted their right to speak and act as Republicans in opposition to the views only held by the New York Tribune and others of its class. The Tribune will gain nothing, and lose much, by contemptuously referring to those Republican senators who have declared their adherence to a joint policy of bimetalism and protection as dishonest, as knaves, as conspirators.

To the New York Tribune that seems to have long regarded its word, its wish, as law in the Republican party, the declaration of more than one-third of the Republican senators in refusing to implicitly accept the doctrines laid down by the Tribune as Republican policy and submissively to follow the leadership of the Tribune in forcing upon the party two such incompatible doctrines as gold-monometallism and protection, came no doubt unexpectedly and as a rude awakening. It was no doubt unpleasant to the Tribune to awaken to the fact that the exalted position it has assumed as the sole judge of Republican doctrine was no longer respected by a great part of the Republican party. But for the unreasonable wrath of the Tribune and other gold papers, consequent on this, to them, unpleasant discovery, there was and is, no occasion or excuse, and as we have said they will gain nothing but lose much by the trades of abuse they shower on those Republicans who have asserted their right to speak as Republicans in opposition to the views of the Tribune and to declare bimetalism and protection to be inseparable, and as such, Republican doctrines.

The end of the Tribune will not be served by denouncing as traitors those who believe protection without bimetalism must be ineffective and who, consequently, as protectionists, as well as bimetalists, insist on joining the two policies together. The Tribune makes no attempt to meet in manly fashion the arguments of those who have taken the position that bimetalism and protection are inseparable. Unwilling to even so much as to state fairly the position of those who disagree with it as to what are Republican doctrines, it contents itself with the bald, unsupported and reiterated assertion that the arguments advanced, and which it seems unable to comprehend, or unwilling to place in their true light before its readers, are false. —Philadelphia American.

Railroads and Their Stockholders.

The appointment of receivers for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has naturally given rise to much apprehension, and a feeling of uneasiness, as to the true condition, and real prospects of our railroads in general. The Baltimore and Ohio system was supposed to have shared in the general improvement of railroad business reported for the year 1895 over 1894, and to a degree quite equal to the reported improvement of railroad conditions in general.

As reported by Bradstreet the gross earnings of 135 railroads, embracing nearly 80 per cent of the total gross earning capacity of all the railroads of the United States aggregated for the year 1895, $904,870,155 against $850,880,911 in 1894, and $957,414,073 in 1893. Thus, as shown by the reports of these roads to Bradstreet the year 1895 showed a marked improvement over 1894, but still a considerable falling off in earnings as compared to 1893. This improvement was also manifested in the reports of net earnings, of these same roads over and above operating expenses aggregating $286,542,642 for 1895, as against $261,434,535 in 1894 and $296,080,322 in 1893.

In the general improvement, as indicated by increasing gross and net earnings, the Baltimore and Ohio was reported to have shared, gross earnings having been reported at $23,446,719 in 1895 against $21,761,907 in 1894, and $25,240,190 in 1893. An while, as is the case with railroads in general, the net earnings the Baltimore and Ohio fell from $7,073,267 in 1893 to $6,400,615 in 1894, they rose in 1895 to $7,106,424.

Thus it will be seen, the reports issued by the Baltimore and Ohio showed an apparent improvement quite equal to the improvement of railroad conditions in general. As indicated by the reports, 1895 was a year of greater promise than 1894, yet today the Baltimore and Ohio system is in the receivers' hands.

The Silver Dollar in Mexico. It will, perhaps, be remembered that The Post has on several occasions in the past discussed certain silly and extravagant statements by Cuckoo orators and newspapers touching the financial condition of Mexico and the general worthlessness of the Mexican silver dollar. In reply to the assertion, so frequently made by "sound money" speakers, that the Mexican silver dollar was a thing beneath contempt, and that free coinage of silver had brought the Mexican people to penury, The Post has always replied that the silver dollar buys as much in Mexico as the gold dollar does here, and that, instead of tobogganing down the steepest side of Avernus, Mexico is prospering on thoroughly healthy and legitimate lines.

About a month ago Mr. Allen, of Utah, delivered a speech in the House, relative to finance, and as part thereof read a letter from Mr. A. V. Temple, manager of the Mexican Bureau of Information. Mr. Temple has been a resident in Mexico for the past twenty-six years, and throughout that period has been engaged in business and connected with financial and commercial enterprises. It is to be supposed, therefore, that he speaks with authority when he says: "I would say that a Mexican dollar buys to-day as much in this city as it did when I came here, and at that time a Mexican dollar was worth $1.10 in gold in San Francisco. The price of corn, beans, flour, wearing apparel, &c., is almost exactly the same as in former years. Of course, there are fluctuations due to good or bad crops, but the average cost of all the various articles which go to make up the expenses of a family are all most exactly the same as when gold was at par."

Of course, every one who has visited Mexico and in that way acquired information, knows this to be true. The orators and newspapers referred to, however, have been going calmly ahead reiterating the stupid fallacies in question—even amplifying and aggravating them by adding that not only is the Mexican laborer's silver dollar worth less than half of the Yankee laborer's gold dollar, but he doesn't get as many of them for his work.—Washington Post.

Attorney-General Ireland will lecture on genius at Salem next Wednesday evening. If he will kindly tell the public what it is a good many men are looking for a job who are good for nothing else under the sun and would make first-rate geniuses.
