FOR A NEW UNIVERSITY.

Students of Old Willamette Inaugurate the Movement.
A grand building boom for Willamette university was inaugurated this morning by the students of that pioneer educational institution when a mass meeting was held in the chapel immediately following chapel exercises. A lengthy petition bearing the name of nearly every student was presented the faculty, this morning requesting that they be granted the use of the chapel during the forenoon. The petition was granted and the faculty quietly departed from the room, leaving the students in full possession. W. P. Matthews was unanimously chosen as chairman who appointed C. J. Atwood as secretary, Helen Matthews treasurer.
The object of the meeting was stated by Chairman Matthews. After speaking of the limited amount of room in old Willamette's halls and the need of a better equipped educational institution in the capital city, Mr. Matthews referred to what had been accomplished by the Forest Grove college students who raised $15,000 under similar circumstances not long since. Any movement of the kind started by Willamette university students would receive more sympathy and financial support than if inaugurated by the trustees or faculty of the school.
The amount of enthusiasm that abounded among the students during the meeting cannot be imagined by anyone not present, although the applause that followed the remarks of each speaker was indicative of a very enthusiastic gathering.
Individual contributions were announced as being in order and the rapidly with which they were recorded by the secretary showed conclusively that a spirit of loyalty and enthusiasm for Old Willamette abounded in the breast of each student. In less than two hours, $1556 was raised by the students for the promotion of the movement.
After $1516 had been raised and the students were awaiting the return of the faculty, for whom a committee had been sent, Chester G. Murphy, the popular manager of the athletic team arrived, and contributed an additional $40, making a grand total of $1556.
At this point in the proceedings the faculty arrived, and were escorted to their accustomed places on the platform. Chairman Matthews stated what had been accomplished by the students. President W. C. Hawley and each of the other members of the faculty made short impromptu speeches, in which they expressed their surprise at what the students had accomplished, assuring them their hearty sympathy and also their assistance in the movement.
Preceding this a committee consisting of Messrs. W. P. Matthews, F. E. Brown, C. J. Atwood and Misses Helen Matthews, Jennie Jones, Ida Harris and Lou Starrett, was appointed to meet with like committees from the Choral society, the Alumni, the faculty and the trustees of the university, when the subject will be discussed.
This sum, $1,556, is sufficient to insure the most hearty support from the faculty, trustees and friends of the university and it is hoped that they will contribute in proportion to what the students have done.
The value of this educational institution to Salem cannot be over-estimated. Old Willamette has passed through the hard times without any financial embarrassment and has maintained a paying basis while other institutions have been obliged to close or have had receivers appointed to manage the affairs of the school indicating mis-management somewhere. It is not necessary for Willamette to follow their example and she will not if the friends of the school stand by her. She has a bright future before her and may be referred to some time in the future, as not only the pioneer, but also one of the handsomest and best equipped educational institutions on the coast.
Friday, May 8, will prove a memorable day in the history of Willamette university, and it is hoped the desires of the many friends and students of this institution may be realized in the near future.

The Mind Reader

Tyndall, the man of mystery, is here, and gave his great blindfold street drive from the Willamette hotel, opposite the JOURNAL office, this afternoon at 3 o'clock as advertised. Fully one thousand people congregated to see him perform his marvelous feat of mind reading and witness his perilous and daring ride through the streets of the city blindfolded.
A committee of prominent citizens was appointed to see that the wonderful mystic resorted to no subterfuge, and its verdict as rendered is that Tyndall is indeed the wonder of occultism, and sways the public by his strange and mysterious power. The committee appointed was composed of Geo. A. Johnson, J. H. Fletcher, C. B. Irvine, E. H. Flagg, J. J. Botger, J. C. Johnson. Mr. C. B. Irvine was appointed by his fellow-committeemen to conceal some object several blocks from the hotel, they to choose the article to be hidden. Tyndall was taken into the hall of the hotel and blindfolded by Mr. Fletcher and then the committee proceeded by a devious route through the city and concealed the six inch rule at State Insufface office returning immediately to the hotel. A hack was

DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVEINE cures nervous prostration. Not miraculously, but scientifically, by first removing the germs of disease, and then supplying healthy nerve food, increasing the appetite, helping digestion and strengthening the entire system. Desperate cases require prolonged treatment as shown by that of Mrs. M. B. Reed, of Delta, Iowa, who writes: "As the result of a lightning stroke, the physicians said I had a light stroke of paralysis, my limbs would all draw up. I would have throbbings in my chest that seemed unendurable. For three months I could not sleep and for three weeks did not close my eyes. I prayed for sleep, and felt that if relief did not come I would be dead or insane. I took Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerveine and the second night slept two hours and from that time on my health improved; slowly at first, but steadily and surely. I took in all 40 bottles, and I cannot express how grateful I am, for I am now perfectly well, and have taken no medicine for over four months." Dr. Miles' Nerveine is sold by druggists on guarantee that first bottle benefits or money refunded.
