COUNTY REFORM

In the excitement of the state election the people should not overlook the fact there should be a re-adjustment of the salaries of county officials. This should be done in the next legislature to take effect at the beginning of the terms for 1898. The pay of the candidates now to be elected cannot well be changed without litigation. The offices now cost in Marion; clerk $4300, sheriff $5300, (and estimated $1500 more) recorder $1980, treasurer $1200, assessor $5000 to $7000, judge $1200.
The offices of sheriff and assessor cost from $5000 to $7000 each and the other offices cost from $1200 to $3000. The strife for those two fat offices exerts a corrupting influence in our county politics and even on the legislature. They should be brought as nearly to a level as possible.
The assessors office should be abolished and precinct assessors elected by the people of each precinct. That would cut the assessment of the county down to $3000 or less and assess more property.
Collection of taxes should be taken from the sheriff and given to the treasurer. The sheriffs office should not cost all told over $3000 a year.
PRIMARY POLITICS.—The new book on the reformation of the American primary system, is now on sale at Dearborn's book store.

PROTECTION.

That is a great question. It is a broad question. It affects every interest.

The taxpayer needs protection against extravagance in county, state and national government.

The farmer wants the protection of good roads, good schools and good markets.

The politician wants protection against the ballots of the voter that like bullets threaten to end his official career.

Protection, like charity, should begin at home. If you can get the necessities of life at home don't send abroad for them. At the same time when you can get a good suit of clothes in the town you live in don't send away for it. Don't send your money for men in an outside town to make the profit on, when you can give a home man the benefit of that profit. You may get part of it back, if kept at home, but if sent abroad, never.

Protection to our manufacturers without restricted immigration is only a bonanza to the capitalist and a curse to the laborer. It draws laborers here from the whole world, gives the manufacturer the pick of the cheap labor of the world while it shuts out competition with manufactured goods from abroad.

Give us protection. But also stop foreign immigration from Europe as well as from Asia until there is employment for the labor of our country at fair wages.

STATE NEWS.

Forest Grove has a new hose company. It is a volunteer company.

The Eugene celebration has secured the Junction City and Corvallis bands for the fourth.

J. D. Mallow, of Colorado, is in Crook county after cattle. He is after two and three and finds them plenty.

The Lake County Agricultural Society offers $900 in purses for the four days' racing, to come off July 2, 3, 6, and 7.

The city of Ashland has passed a curfew ordinance and now the minor is ruled off after between the hours of 9 p. m. and 5 a. m.

Hose company No. 5, of the Baker City fire department, has started in to drill for the approaching contests which will take place at Pendleton during the first week in July.

Henry Galbreath, of Klamath agency has a freak in the shape of a cow with triplets. He bought a cow for $13 from Mr. Reynolds and the next morning found himself in possession of a cow and three calves. Capitalists and investors should turn their attention to Klamath county, where they can double their money between two days.

YOUTH'S DEPARTMENT

[COLUMNS CONDUCTED BY ONE OF OUR BRIGHT SCHOOLBOYS.]

The Youth's Department will be a regular feature of this paper. It is the intention to make it instructive and entertaining to our boy and girl readers, and also suitable for reading at the family fireside, and for supplementary reading in our public and private schools.

CURRENT HISTORY.

President Cleveland has nearly all our warships ready and the fires burning. He may tell Spain to let up on Cuba any day.

Cecil Rhodes, the man who caused the fighting between the English and the Boers in South Africa, is not going to be punished at all.

A filibuster is one who leaves a peaceful country against the wish of its government to interfere in a foreign country where there is war. A number of filibusters from our country who wanted to help the Cubans against Spain, have been caught and are to be shot or put in prison if Uncle Sam don't save them.

The house passed a bill to have four new warships built. The senate cut the number down to two. They are quarrelling about other things, too.

The biggest volcano in the world, Manua Loa on the Sandwich Islands is throwing out burning lava (melted rock.)

In a trial at the Washington navy yard an 800 pound copper ball was shot through a 15-inch steel armor plate. The ball went 2000 feet a second.

The milennial (1000th year old) world's fair of Hungary, at Budapest on the Danube river (see if you can find that on the map) opened May 2.

KEEPING WELL AND STRONG.

Don't sleep with your mouth open. I believe if boys and girls could sleep just as long as they wanted to they would never be sick. Here's a verse about that:

Said little Johnny Green,
"This is the funniest world I ever seen;
A fellow is sent off bed
When he ain't got a bit of sleep in his head,
And he's hustled out of it, don't you see,
When he's just as sleepy as he can be."

Apply castor oil to a wart once a day for a month and it will entirely disappear.

The bitter wax in your ears is to catch particles of dust and keep insects out. As it accumulates and is covered with dust, it should be removed once a week with a bit of soft cloth or a pencil point.

I read this in a book the other day: The boy who gets four to six years work on a farm between the years of 10 and 20 will be apt to have an iron constitution that no amount of athletic training ever gives.

Scientists have determined that griddle cakes with syrup or sugar contain all the elements needed for healthy growth of the human body.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A boy better learn to box than to smoke cigarettes.

"Cleg Kelley," is the new story of an Edinburgh, Scotland, newsboy. He is described as a barelegged loon of eleven," with "garments picturesquely ventilated."

Two of the best papers to read are the American humane society publications—"Our Dumb Animals," Boston, and "Our Animal Friends," New York.

A new book is called "The Little Heroine of Poverty Flat," the adventures of a girl of ten years in a Rocky Mountain mining camp, published by Thos. Whittaker, New York.

A rich man one morning at family prayers prayed for a very poor neighbor. After the prayer, his boy said to him, "Papa, give me your pocketbook, and I will go over to Mr. Smith's and answer your prayer myself."

OWLS.

At this season people often find young owls in the woods, kill them or cage them up. They make a very poor pet, because they want to sleep all day and play and fly about all night, as their time to be awake and get food is at night. They can see as well as by day and fly with noiseless wings. They go into barns, and have even been known to go into vacant houses, or rooms where the windows were left open, in search of mice and rats. Owls live off frogs, crabs and have even been known to catch fish in small streams. In many states where all the owls and hawks have been killed off the people have to pay thousands of dollars each year to get the boys to trap and kill squirrels. A man went up to a barn-owl's nest and found the owl gone. There were two eggs in the nest and twelve mice dead around the nest, which the owl had caught that night.

CIVIL SERVICE.

The civil service means the offices and clerkships under the national government of our country, just as clerks, travelling-men, book-keepers and employes are required in any large business. These used to be appointed by political influence and as a favor to friends. Now all boys and girls who are old enough are to have a chance to be examined as to their fitness and then be appointed on their merit. In all about 85,000 offices are filled in this way. I think this will be a great deal better than to get these offices through a "pull," as it is called. My father says in Europe and England you have to have a pull to get any kind of a job.

ABOUT CATS.

I hope you will never think lightly of a cat. A cat is about the only animal that will not endure to be deprived of its liberty. A cat would rather live in a barn, get its own living and have its freedom, than to be cooped up in the richest house and fed with the richest food. A cat wounded by a stick or stone, or caught in some trap from which it has either gnawed or pulled its way, and perhaps lost a paw, will crawl to some quiet, out-of-the-way place and endure in silence agony which no human being would endure and get well without a doctor.

Some people starve cats to make them catch mice and rats. This is a great mistake, as they hunt for pleasure as much as for food, and if driven to hunger will not hunt but steal if they are kept about a house. If cats are well fed, and given meat once or twice a week, there will be very few rats or mice on the premises.

WHAT A MECHANIC DID.

A young piano maker left his home in the east and went to San Francisco in 1847. He bought town lots with his money, and when he died in 1876, he was worth $4,000,000. He gave $700,000 in his will to build an observatory on Mt. Hamilton, to contain the largest telescope ever yet made. It is sixty feet long and four feet in diameter. A fine wagon road is built to the top of the mountain, which is 4200 feet high. The man who left the money to build all this, was James Lick.

BICYCLE AND DONKEY RACE.

In Len's "Tour Around the World," occurs this account of a race between that most famous American wheelman, and a Persian donkey: "A couple of miles out of the city I overtook a donkey ridden by two peasants, heavy men, who challenged me to a trial of speed. The Persian donkey is the best in the east, and is not only speedy but as strong as a horse. I must confess that I was very much surprised at the speed and endurance of my present competitor. side by side for almost a mile and then the race ended rather abruptly. To avoid a large stone in the road I turned suddenly to one side, in the direction of the donkey. This unexpected prank of my steel horse he didn't seem to fancy, for out he shot, almost instantly, with one of his characteristic side lurches, precipitating his two unsuspecting riders to the ground. They slowly picked themselves up, rubbed the dust from their eyes and walked to where his asinine majesty stood, with extended ears, looking the picture of unconcerned innocence. "Oh, you grandfather of asses," they shouted in unison; but neither this nor a slap alongside the head seemed to disturb his exasperating serenity.

INTERESTING STORY OF A STORK.
Some children living in a northern province of Germany, discovered a stork's nest upon their roof and all the summer shared their rabbits with their long-legged friend, which became very companionable.
At the signs of cold weather, the stork prepared to flit to warmer climes. The children were sad at the thought of losing their pet, but their parents consoled them with the assurance that the bird would return the next spring.
The children consulted together and wrote a little note, stating that the stork was very dear to them, and begging the good people in whose country it might spend the winter to be kind to their pet, and send it back to them in the spring.
They fastened the note to a ribbon, tied it around the bird's neck, and tucked it under its wing. The next day they sadly watched the stork wing its way toward milder skies. Their little feet used to climb the roof day by day, looking for the stork's return; and behold! one fine morning there it was, tame and gentle as ever.
Great was the children's delight; but what was their surprise to discover round its neck and under its wing another bright band with a note attached to it which the children who wrote the letter the stork brought.

It was from a missionary in Africa, stating that he had read the children's note, and had cared for the stork, and thought that children whose good hearts had prompted them to provide for the comfort of a bird through the winter would be willing to help clothe and feed the little destitute children of his mission.
The children were full of sympathy, and the missionary's note won a golden answer from the family.
Other letters came and went by post between them until by and by the children learned to know the missionary and his little black waifs almost as well as they knew the beloved stork who had proved so trustworthy a messenger.—Our Animal Friends.
