This is the most popular and really meritorious comic opera ever written. It is but a satirical farce against English nobility. The music is all good yet popular and catchy. Not one in ten of the people have heard larity. The prices are made very low is the comic opera that holds its place above all others on the English stage, It will be presented on board her majesty's steamship Pinafore in full costumes with flag flying at Reed's opera house, Monday, June 8. It will also be put on with good staging and excellent music—such as has never been heard in this city. Prof. Heritage as Captain Corcoran is equal to the best Boston baritone who ever appropriate the control of the c the best Boston baritone who ever appeared on the Pacific coast. He also helps out the choruses with his magnificent double-bass. His "Never, Never, Hardley Ever," is equal to the richest opera bouffe ever heard in our country. Heritage is a surprise in this. "Dear Little Buttercup" by Miss Ethel Hughes as the Bumboat woman will also be a surprise to Salem people. A reporter who was permitted to see a rehearsal of the leading parts can say truthfully that Salem people have never seen the equal of Miss Hughes in this part. She is easy, graceful, suited to the part and throws a remarkable degree of dramatic force and expression into it, as she carols gaily on the ship's deck, surrounded by an admiring group of midshipmen. J. W. Bickford makes a surprisingly realistic Dick Deadeye, as does Master Jimmie Patton, a coal black cabin expression. Sir Joseph is presented by J. O. Bozorth, who plays that part with splendid effect, a good voice and his part is very well guest of Miss Nora McClane. acted. Scott Bozorth is a handsome and very appropriate Bill Bobstay, as is Jas. R. Davis an excellent Ralph Rakstraw. Hebe by Miss Lona White, the alto singer, is also a perfectly charming appearance. The choruses comprise twelve gentlemen, Thompson. and twelve ladies, the best singers ever got together in Salem. The grand chorus of 24 voices, led by Prof. Heritage, and accompanied by Herr Winkler, will produce music, such as Salem people have not before heard. The solos and separate part songs, are all mastered to perfection, and comprise a grand evening's entertalment.

A GRAND CONCERT. intercollegiate field day contests will be concluded this evening by a musical and literary entertainment in Reed's the various colleges will have a member on the program. It promises to be a most enjoyable entertainment. charge. The championship cup will gram is as follows:

Final Count.

And Give Tom Tongue a Lead of 125 Votes.

The poll books in this county show seven precincts in this county where the return is Illegal. The precincts on treasurer was: Brown Minto......2040 Brown's plurality......246 THE VOTES THROWN OUT. In throwing out seven precincts the candidates lose as follows:

According to this Minto loses 546 less than Brown, and as that was Brown's plurality the result if it stand in the court leaves Brown and Minto a tie, 2040 votes.

Brown .....

The canvass was coducted this forenoon by the county Clerk L. V. Ehlen, through his deputy R. D. Allen, and Justices Johnson of Salem and Hayes

Throwing out these precincts does not defeat any of the other county candidates in Marion county. But the votes on congressman would be cut down as follows:

The total of Mr. Wrightman shows a gain of 90 votes over that heretofore published. Mr. Minto gained 72. CHANCES FOR CONTEST.

Irregularities in the matter of swearing to the poll-books in Englewood, Marion, North Salem, Howell, St. Paul, Labish and Lincoln precincts have been discovered by the Marion county canvassing board. Should the contest be carried up the result would be largely in favor of Mr. Tongue and Mr. Minto is of the opinion it would place him in the treasurer's office for the next two years.
