JOURNAL "X" RAYS.

Directed Upon Persons and Things by the Good Natured Man.
Gone to Europe for a summer outing—the gold reserve.

The single-gold-standard free silver papers are now turning their attention to good roads, and other rural topics.

Out of fifteen Republicans interviewed in Sunday's Statesman four are for Bryan. The other eleven are office holders and bankers.

Free silver will reduce the American laborer to the wages of the English workingman, who works under the single gold standard!

If the gold Democrats nominate a candidate for president, of course the gold men will be sorry that a square test of the question has been prevented!

Hereafter the Republican speakers will not call them "Pops," "middle-of-the-road yawpers," etc., but they will hereafter be brilliant, heroic, patriotic citizens!

Free silver will make 50 cent dollars, and at the same time it will double the value of the product of the silver mine owners! Verily, the gold man thinks it a worthless argument that will not work both ways.

Eugene Willis, as an advocate of the single gold standard and high protective tariff, resigns the secretaryship of the Democratic county central committee in a very manly letter. He will support McKinley.

It is now reported that John H. Mitchell will come out for the single gold standard. Silver men are not ready to believe that, as Mr. Mitchell more than any other one man is responsible for the silver sentiment in Oregon. He is not the man to go back on his convictions or friends as a rule.

McKinley has so far refused to meet Bryan in debate and declines to make deals with them. McKinley evidently believes in the old adage: "He that refuses to fight, and runs away, may live to fight some other day." He does not dare to meet Bryan as he well knows that he cannot cope with the "Boy orator of the Platte."—Bea.

Senator John Mitchell is coming home in a couple of weeks to participate in the campaign. He would stand just as good a chance, perhaps better, to succeed himself if he stayed away. Mitchell is an able man and we would like to see him re-elected, but if he is he must make as few enemies as possible during the campaign, for a most determined effort will be made to defeat him.—Jefferson Review.

FORGET MINOR DIFFERENCES.

In the speech of Temporary Chairman Newlands at the national silver convention at St. Louis yesterday, he used this language:

A simple question is now presented to sincere bimetallists throughout the country, and that is whether they will permit difference as to non-essential issues to divide them—thus insuring the defeat of the common cause—or whether, preserving their independence of conviction and action as to non-essentials, they shall accept the brilliant leader whom the Democracy has named; and, uniting all the silver forces wherever organized into one invincible army, march to victory in November next.

That is the proposition in a nutshell. The vital issue of the War of the Rebellion was the perpetuation of an indissoluble Union. Before that, all other questions gave way. In the presence of that, men who differed with the majority on various matters to which the Army of the Union became afterwards consecrated, drew their swords and gave freely of their blood. United on one point, these dissenters from other principles subsequently set forth, said:

"The one vital question now before us is the preservation intact of our union. For that, we are brothers of the sword; for that, we forget for the time being all differences; for that, we will march on conquering and to conquer. Let the bugles sing truce on all minor discussions. 'Our country undivided and indivisible, be our watchword and our rallying cry.'"

And so the silver men, armed in the right, panoplied with justice, and adorned with everlasting truth, say: "We are companion crusaders in this cause of the people. As our dear brothers, living and dead, fought to preserve this union from rebellious hands that would tear it asunder so shall we—forgetting all minor differences, laying aside all trivial jealousies, burying temporarily all lesser subjects of dispute—march shoulder to shoulder for the reprobation of union, this time from the strangling clutch of the money gamblers; and for the liberation of the common people of this glorious republic from enslavement to Wall street and the Roths' child."—Sacramento Bee.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. The dealer who says, "I have no Hoe Cake soap," practically admits that he does not sell first quality goods. If he says he has something "just as good" you will know at once that he is trying to sell you an inferior article. There is more clothing destroyed by poor soap than by actual wear, as the free alkali rots the cloth. Hoe Cake contains neither free alkali nor worthless filling.

HERR MOST'S BOLT.
A bolt from Bryan which has not yet been chronicled by the home gold press is that of Herr Most. The eastern gold press is full of this achievement, but for some reason the press associations have failed to chronicle this Republican gold standard acquisition. It may be with pain that the gold press will note this loss of "anarchists" from the supporters of Bryan, but they will see that the language in which Herr Most declares himself, is that in which the gold bolters from Bryan have usually expressed themselves. Most says, "I am, as all Anarchists know, a better gold standard advocate than even the most rapid Wall Street banker."

Then this waver of the red flag of "revolution" and "destruction" says: "I am, moreover, in favor of a scarcer material than gold as the unit of value. I would have the carat of diamonds, if diamonds could be utilized, as the maximum of exchange. As for silver money, why silver is so cheap and plentiful that shoe nails might as well be put in circulation as currency. Gold is the only correct standard of value. I do not know whether any citizen anarchist will consider himself bound to support McKinley and Hobart in the present emergency, but I do know that the Bryan-Sewall combination will not gain any of our votes; of that I am sure."

The gold standard advocates will please care for their bedfellow. They need recruits, and are to be congratulated on their new accession. He and all of his can well be spared from the reform forces,—in this campaign, for we have votes to burn. Most has landed apparently just where he belongs.

A Railroad Official's Experience.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Restores Health.
M. R. EDWARD EDWARDS, long connected with railroad construction in Nebraska, writes: "My heart troubled and pained me for 19 years. Shortness of breath was the constant and most common symptom. Intense excruciating pain, generally followed any severe exertion. Faintness, hunger without any appetite; fluttering that made me clutch my breast, and palpitation that often staggered me as if I would fall, were frequent attacks. Again, everything would turn black if I arose from a stooping posture quickly. Sleepless nights with their prostrating unrest were numerous and I could get no rest day or night. I consulted leading physicians and tried advertised remedies. They gave me no relief. One of Dr. Miles' circulars described my case so exactly that I took Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and I am now a well man. I hope every one troubled with heart disease will try Dr. Miles' remedies. If they will write me personally, I will gladly give them full details of my experience." EDW. EDWARDS, P. O. Box 55, David City, Nebraska. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold on guarantee that first bottle benefits or money refunded.
