ELDER BARKLEY'S MEETINGS.

Hon. H. L. Barkley will speak at the following:
Oregon City, September 10; Albany, September 11; Eugene, September 12; Corvallis, September 13; Medford, September 14; Astoria, September 15; Lebam, September 16; McMinnville, September 17; J. L. Lyon, September 18; Grant's Pass, September 22; Clatskanie, September 24; Kalama, Wash., September 26.

FREE RIDES TO CANTON.

The whole railroad system of the middle states is working to elect McKinley, and hauling all who will go to Canton to see Major McKinley at 1 cent a mile, while manufacturers are taking their entire pay rolls free to the Mecca of trusts and the patron saint of the gold syndicate.

American middle-life human nature don't want deadhead free rides to Canton. Carnegie lines up his employees, as the superintendent of a prison does his convicts, and marches them off down to Canton, with McKinley badges on their coats.

People must see that this unAmerican combination of the aristocracy, the corporations, and the taxpayers cannot be permitted to take control of the national government.

CIRCULATING SILVER.

The hop growers for about one month in the year circulate an enormous amount of silver. Last year the banks shipped in a great deal more than was needed. Most of it goes in to the hands of business men, who in turn deposit it with the banks.

The government sends the silver to the banks in exchange for gold or government paper money. But the silver cannot be sent back to the mints. The surplus not needed in the Salem banks is sent to other banks where it is needed at the expense of the shipper.

The Salem bankers are not to blame because there is not silver enough at this time to pick hops with. The government itself does not pay out silver. The government banks are all against silver. Silver will never circulate freely as it should until the grip of the gold speculators is broken.

Sam A. Clarke, the Salem writer on the staff of the Oregonian, is a grand whooper for Mark Hanna, protection and "sound money." McKinley has no sounder supporter in Oregon than this most distinguished contributor of Harvey Scott's paper.

Idleness is for free coinage of gold only. His salary will buy twice as much of the farmers' products as it would with free coinage of both gold and silver. And besides, it would be impossible to carry on agriculture in Oregon without an attorney-general.

Attorney-General Idlemann's handbills did not tell whether he was for gold or silver. Perhaps he didn't want too small a crowd.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison, Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle at Fred A. Legg's Drug store.

MANLY VIGOR

ONCE MORE in harmony with the world, 2000 completely cured men are singing happy praises for the great set, grandest and most successful cure for sexual weakness and loss of vigor known to medical science. An account of this wonderful discovery, in book form, with references and proofs, will be sent to suffering men (sealed free). Pull manly vigor permanently restored. Failure impossible. ERIE MEDICAL CO., BUFFALO, N.Y.

MAINTAINING THE PARITY.

Awful Job Before the Government if McKinley Goes In.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—Very interesting is the query what the Republican party proposes to do to "maintain the parity" in the event of McKinley's election. The country has viewed with alarm the increase of the public debt by $262,000,000 in time of profound peace, in order that the government might run a gold warehouse for the benefit of gold exporters! But that the Republican leaders endorse the policy of President Cleveland is proved by ex-President Harrison's speech at Carnegie hall (suggestive name) New York. Mr. Harrison said: "In connection with this financial matter, do we all realize how important the choice of a president is? Do you know that as the law is now, without the passage of any free coinage of silver at all, it is in the power of the president of the United States to bring the business of this country to a silver basis. All he has to do is to let the gold reserve go, pay out silver when men ask for gold, and we are there already. It is only because the presidents of the United States that we have had, and the one we have now, have regarded it under the law, as his public duty to maintain the gold basis, maintaining that parity between our silver and gold coins which the law declares is the policy of the government, and because he has had the courage to execute the powers given to him by the resumption act to carry out that declaration of public law. I undertake, therefore, to say that if Mr. Bryan, or a man holding his views, were in the presidential chair, without any legislation by congress we should be on a silver basis in a week's time."

One might laugh at this if it came from any other source than the "logical and dignified" ex-president. For Benjamin does not inform us how the president is to "let the gold reserve go" unless he pays it out "when men ask for gold." The average man, who doesn't wear his grandfather's hat, might infer that if the president didn't pay out gold it would stay in the treasury just as silver does now for the reason that it isn't paid out! It might be well for Mr. Harrison to explain why France is enabled to keep on gold, perhaps the largest stock of gold in Europe, through her policy of exercising the option of paying out silver whenever French obligations are presented at her treasury counter, and which has enabled her on two occasions to preserve intact the credit of the great gold standard Bank of England by loan of French gold at critical moments.

But the drift of Harrison's speech is that it practically endorses Cleveland's policy of issuing bonds to buy gold to "maintain the reserve." Now this may be a fine thing for national banks on the one hand, who want bonds issued as a basis for their "flat" currency, and on the other hand for the benefit of those brokers who have been collecting gold to fill European war chests and to enable Austria to refund her immense silver debt into gold bonds for the benefit of the Rothschilds. These are the men for whom we have been maintaining a national sinkhole into which bonds may be dumped to infinity, while the gold sharks are gobbling the proceeds as they emerge from the outlet in "payment of national obligations." That Bryan could stop this little game "in a week's time" by paying out silver (coin of the Constitution) when "men ask for gold," Mr. Harrison et. al. are well aware. Hence the howl against the "revolutionary" candidate.

Now to show that the people of the United States—and the gold brokers also, unless there is some foreign demand as of late—do not care for a gold currency, let us quote from President Hayes' first message after the resumption act came in force: "I congratulate Congress on the successful execution of the resumption act. At the time fixed and in the manner contemplated by law, United States notes began to be redeemed in coin. Since the 1st of January last they have been promptly redeemed on presentation, and in all business transactions, public and private, in all parts of the country, they are received and paid out as the equivalent of coin."

The demand upon the treasury for gold and silver in exchange for United States notes has been comparatively small, and the voluntary deposit of coin and bullion in exchange for notes has been large. The excess of the precious metals deposited on exchange for United States notes over the amount of the United States notes redeemed is about $40,000,000.

It will be noted that Hayes uses the terms "coin and bullion" or "gold and silver," as given or received in exchange for United States notes or greenbacks. WALLACE YATES, Ballston, Sept. 20.

LETTERS FROM THE EAST.

A Journal Editor's Notes En Route to Iowa.

St. Louis, Sept. 18.
As our train passed through Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri, we began to feel that politically we were upon uncertain ground, and all for the simple reason that political speculators are here at work, all looking out for No. 1. There is nothing in the physical or moral conditions of these states that should make them different from other western commonwealths.

In Nebraska there is a class of Republicans who would like to bask in the glory of having defeated Mr. Bryan in his own state, but verily they cannot base their hope upon anything that will bear the test of reason or logic. Bryan in his own state has the triple advantage of, first, the enthusiasm created for a home man; second, the fact that the Republicans are there a minority party; and third, because the large producing class, which is sadly impoverished, wants something more than such glittering promises and direful results as Clevelandism has brought. It is predicted that Bryan, whose candidacy is looked upon as a new deal, will carry the state by 25,000. The people in both Nebraska and Iowa are in about the same frame of mind that Oregonians were two years ago, and not even Mark Hanna's "slush fund" can break the magic spell of, or thwart the dreamed for, a genuine "new deal."

In Missouri, the Republican bosses are turning heaven and earth to get some of Hanna's boodle. They put on a bold front and claim everything, all for the stuff. In old Iowa, where under ordinary conditions there is a Republican majority, the G. O. P. bosses are adopting the reverse methods, all to pull the strings on Hanna and his god. So it is easy to see that while Bryan's forces have no money in sight, they are working faithfully for their candidate and their cause, while Mr. McKinley's local managers spend their time magnifying conditions that will put the filthy lucre in their pockets. Whatever view anyone may take of the gold or silver issues, he must realize that this is a campaign of principle on the one side against mammon on the other. Inasmuch as the methods of the one side are eternally right and the other eternally wrong, it is easy to conclude which will ultimately win.

I have talked with people at scores of stations along the road and nearly everywhere is found some well-coached talker for sound money, but the crowd either keeps mum, smile, jeer, or ridicule the apostle of gold, according to their regard for his personal feelings.

Predictions are running wild in Western Iowa, as to Bryan's majority, and especially is this the case down in the blue grass region, and it is probably safe to say, as goes Nebraska so goes Iowa. The spirit that elected Boies governor is rife in an intensified degree, and if I still harbored the pride in a Republican victory in Iowa that I have for 25 years past, I fear the results next November would overwhelm me for the rest of my days.

In Illinois as in Iowa the Republican managers are using every argument to make themselves and Mark Hanna believe they are lost, and at present it looks as though they might prove good prophets. A. F. H.
