

PRESIDENTIAL TICKET.

For Independent American Bimetallism and People's Government.

For President, WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN, of Nebraska. For Vice-President, THOMAS WATSON, of Georgia.

At the great Republican rally at Albany, October 14, at which Mr. Butterworth and others spoke, there were just 453 people in line.

The McKinley Rally closed last night with a packed house at the opera, preceded by a parade with about two hundred in line including the flambeau club of Corvallis and the band of that city, about fifty coming down at 7:30 o'clock on a special train.

The McKinleyites trotted out ex-Senator Hatch at Brush college Thursday night to meet THE JOURNAL man in joint debate.

The attempt to pack the armory with McKinley shouters at Mr. Tillman's meeting proved a failure, and on a test vote out of an audience of 1200 there were 100 hands went up for McKinley.

Oregon needs a tariff, oh yes. The Statesman will please show why wool, hops, wheat and oats are all going up together.

The Pullman Palace Car Co., declares its usual dividend. Its salary has not been cut in two.

Poor doodlebug Butterworth! He was a silver man too, only last spring.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—The Daily Oregonian of the 15th inst., contains a flash-head registering the meeting held by the Republicans here on the 14th.

While the brass band was playing to collect a crowd at the court house for the Republican meeting, the Bryan boys, ranging from 10 years old up to 14, got some cow and sheep bells and rang and hollowed for the Bryan meeting at the city hall.

More Curative Power. Is contained in a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla than in any other similar preparation.

Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic and liver medicine. Gentle, reliable, sure.

PHYSICAL ECONOMICS.

Marion Discusses Some Life Preserving Points for Women.

Let me ask you, ye goodly women who daily perform a score of unnecessary tasks, do you know that there is one sort of economy of which you are ignorant? You have all heard of many "economies," domestic and otherwise, and some of you have even studied political economy, but did you ever even contemplate physical economy?

Now listen. You have a thousand and one fur-below, frills and ruffles on your own and the children's clothing. To commence with, you bent your back over your sewing and strained your eyes upon it when you first made all that foolishness.

How many arguments are there set forth against too elaborate clothing, and every one a sufficient one? A child's clothing is sufficient, especially for every day wear, if it is whole and clean, and they enjoy themselves much more if their playtime is not haunted by fears of a scolding.

For morning wear for the little girls, the plainest made gingham or crinkled seersucker aprons are good, and for afternoon something a bit daintier, the degree of fineness to be determined by your financial circumstances and place of abode.

Clothing is becoming almost the curse of woman's existence. By all means be neat and whole and clean but don't overdo. If you will give the subject a half hour's thought you can think of more reformation than one can suggest in hours of writing, for the field is almost unlimited.

More matting-covered or bare painted floors, would give more health and comfort than yards of Brussels carpeting. Think how your back and arms ache after sweeping them! Eliminate about one-half the useless abominations you possess, in the shape of "interior decorations," and you have more than enough to make you tired.

Extravagance somewhere, is the root of all impoverishment, be it financial or physical. In either particular it acts and reacts upon the other. Sit down, now, without one thing to occupy hands or brain, except the subject itself, and recount the things which you do that are useless, when considered from the important standpoint of health.

ties in these better ways, you are yourself receiving inestimable benefit. This discourse does not add variety to the table fare, but it will serve for food, for reflection, if thought else.

RESTFUL NOTES. When you become fatigued, do not sit down with "a little work in your hands." That does not afford the rest you need. Lie down. If nowhere else, lie on the floor, flat on your back, with your arms spread out, and by all means with eyes closed.

When your feet are aching from standing a long time give them a quick bath in cold salty water which removes the soreness and the tired feeling the quickest of anything. It is a great help to change one's shoes daily, as no two pairs are exactly alike.

A rubber tap on the heels of your shoes is a great comfort, as it is really a cushion—like "walking on velvet carpets," you know.

When you iron, place something thick and soft on the floor to stand on; the thicker and softer the better. Don't laugh, just try it.

Lay aside corsets. At least don't wear them while you do hard work. Of course you will feel more tired at first without them.
