THE "PALACE" BURGLARIZED.
A Commercial Street Store Entered Thursday Night.

Scarcely can a day pass except we are called upon to chronicle a hold up or burglary of some nature transpiring in our usually peaceful city.

Last night a Commercial street store was entered and no one dare predict what may take place tonight.

Some time Thursday night, the "Palace" dry goods store located on Commercial street between Court and Cheneketa, conducted by H. S. Belle, was entered by burglars and quite thoroughly ransacked but thus far nothing of any value has been found missing.

Entrance was gained through the back door which was guarded by a heavy iron door, fastened with a hook. The burglar had broken a brick in the wall, using a sharp instrument of some kind for the purpose, and with the assistance of a stick about thirty inches in length, succeeded in unhooking the door.

FORCE.

First Display of Muscle.

Special Police Sworn in to Serve the Bensonites.

The first attempt at employing force to get possession of the speakers chair and prevent speaker pro tempore from occupying the chair was made this morning at 9 o'clock. Ten men, specials of the Salem police force, had been sworn in as assistant sergeant-at-arms last night to keep Speaker Davis out of the chair.

Before he reached the steps to the speaker's platform he was met by the sergeant-at-arms who said: "In the name of the State of Oregon, I warn you not to enter the speaker's stand or attempt to occupy the chair." Davis called on the bystanders to witness the forcible efforts to prevent his taking the chair. He had made up his mind to offer no force, but to jump behind the clerk's desk and call the house to order while they were guarding the steps.

At four minutes to 9 Speaker Davis was followed by a posse of assistants that advanced at the snap of Sergeant-at-arms Murphy's fingers. Davis wore a calm indifferent look and was as cool as a cucumber.

At one minute to 9 o'clock Speaker Davis was escorted to the speaker's chair to call the house to order. He was met by a body of the Salem special police sworn in as assistant sergeant-at-arms who resisted him.

Speaker Davis: "Upon what authority do you resist my taking the chair?"
Sergeant-at-arms, (as white as a sheet): "On authority of Speaker Benson."

Barkley and Biley escorted Davis to the left side. Here he was again resisted.

Benson called his forces off and Davis took the chair. He called the house to order and on motion the house adjourned to Saturday at 2 p. m.

THE SPECIALS sworn in for duty at the state house in the interest of the Benson faction are as follows: Tom McNary, Frank Farrell, Jas. Perrine, Bert Savage, Ab. Mead, Geo. Townsend, Charles Charlton, David Baird, Ed. Arnold, David Scott. Chief of Police Dilley ordered them to do special duty in preventing hold-ups.

Owing to the great number of hold-ups and housebreakings these men were selected at a conference of Mayor Richardson and Chief of Police Dilley and were sworn in before City Recorder Edes. A posse of these men went to the state house last night under direction of the Benson houses official with instructions to remain until seven o'clock this morning, when they were to be relieved. These men were ordered out of the state house last night by Secretary of State Kincaid, custodian of the state house. They refused to go when he said: "I'll put you out of here if there is any law for it." And they went.

Speaker Davis was told of all the preparations made to keep him out and said: "We are proceeding strictly according to the constitution and I will go into that speaker's chair at 9 a. m. if I am alive." And he did.

Speaker Davis is a man of great coolness and greater nerve and has backers who are as determined as he is to assert their rights. They declare they have done no wrong, violated no law, and offered no violence, but if any is offered them they will defend themselves to a finish. The situation is growing critical and violence may result.

IN ADJOURNED SESSION.
Salem City Council Considers Proposed Charter Amendments.

The city council met in adjourned session last evening for the purpose of considering proposed amendments to the city's charter pending their enactment by the legislature.

Mayor J. A. Richardson submitted the matter, which made a voluminous document, and the same was read to the council by Recorder Ed. N. Edes. Upon motion the matter was referred to the committee on ordinance for final report.

The proposed amendments relate almost entirely to streets and public works, which if obtained, will tend to facilitate the administration of the matters in those departments.

Adjournment was then taken.

Information for Persons Receiving Copies of This Issue.

THE JOURNAL has in the past year gained a state circulation. It is the only paper in Oregon, besides the Oregonian that is taken in every part of the state as the postoffice records show. You are asked to circulate it because:

1. It is a clean paper.
2. It is an independent paper.
3. It is an opposition paper. It opposes corrupt politics, corrupt methods and corrupt men in all parties.
It supports aggressively the GOOD it finds in public and private life and in all parties. It attacks the evil wherever it finds it.
THE JOURNAL advocates old fashioned honesty and Jeffersonian simplicity. It doesn't know the meaning of compromise or principle. It is always on the side of the people as against the aggressions of power that tend to destroy freedom and equal rights.

HELPS IN ECONOMY.

HOW TO MAKE A FEW DIMES SAVE A GREAT MANY DOLLARS.

Small Cost—New Clothes for the Whole Family—No Need of Looking Shabby Even in these Hard Times.

"I hope to help many who are trying to economize," says a writer in the Ladies' Journal. "With a few packages of diamond dyes wonders can be done in making old dresses look like new. In our family we actually did not buy a single new dress or cloak last fall, yet we dressed comfortably and in style, by dyeing over clothes that had been cast aside."

Diamond dyes come in convenient packages which color from one to ten pounds of goods for ten cents. Full directions make it impossible for one to have "poor luck" with the diamond, and they are so simple to use that perfect, non-fading colors are obtained without any experience in dyeing.

A book of free directions for home dyeing will be sent to anyone by the proprietors, Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt.
