A Treat.

After attending an entertainment and investigating into the methods of teaching and living of the blind there can be but few who begrudge the small appropriation annually used in Oregon's school for the blind.

Several hundred came together last evening, upon invitation, to partake of a treat in store for them.

All were delighted and the pupils were in their best mood, and none can doubt, after hearing a program rendered, that if teaching is an art, indeed teaching the blind is a fine art.

The pupils all seem to have explicit confidence in Superintendent Carter and bear the highest respect for their matron, who really has the responsibility of another and is looked up to by the entire school in that capacity.

To one who frequently visits the institution it is apparent that they are making great strides in education; even the little tots, who have been there but a few months show that their training has been all that could be desired.

The program was well rendered and all the numbers but reflect the master hand of their instructor.

The first number on the program, an overture, by Misses Skeel and Bristol was finely executed. The anthem, "Sing ye Jehovah's Praises" by the school showed excellent chorous training.

GRAND JURY REPORT.

The grand jury completed its labors late Wednesday afternoon and submitted the following report to Judge Burnett after which they were discharged from further duty:

"To the Hon. George H. Burnett, Judge of said court: We, the grand jury for this court, beg leave to report. We met in secret session at 2:30 p. m., February 2, 1897, and chose C. B. Updegraff as clerk, who was excused from further duty on the grand jury the morning of February 9th, by your honor, on account of serious sickness in his family, his place being filled by C. W. Knox, who was chosen clerk by us, since which time we have met from day to day, consuming nine days, carefully considering the various matters and listening to the testimony of fifty-eight witnesses in the different cases brought before us by the district attorney of this district, endeavoring to arrive at a just and right conclusion according to the facts as brought out in the testimony of the witnesses before us.

"We have, also, patiently and carefully listened to the complaints of different citizens, residents of this county, who have felt themselves aggrieved in person or property, and in order to properly understand these different matters we have caused twelve different witnesses to be brought before us who were aware of the facts in the case. In some instances we believe wrong has been done and the party has good grounds for a case in our civil courts, but from the testimony produced we do not feel warranted in placing them on the criminal calendar.

From time to time we found and reported to this court fifteen true bills and three not true bills.

"As no complaint has been brought before us in regard to the management or condition of the public institutions in this county we do not feel justified in putting the county to the expense that would be necessary to visit and properly inspect the same.

"All of which is respectfully submitted. Signed this 17th day of February, A. D., 1897. (Signed)

"W. T. GRIMM, Foreman; "C. W. KNOX, Clerk; "JOHN S. RICHIE; "OSCAR A. MENDEL; "WILLIAM SULLIVAN; "S. H. BURSON; "M. A. SLOCOM, "Grand Jury."

"The action for money in case of Phil Nels vs. Kola Nels occupied all the time in the circuit court. Wednesday afternoon and this morning, shortly before noon, today, the case went to the jury consisting of C. W. Yanke, T. Rubens, Frank Culver, T. E. Caulfield, William Miley, Lee Tate, Ben Gesner, P. Cartwright, John Lichty, A. D. Hall, Adam Snyder and S. H. Linton.

At 2:30 the jury was still deliberating over the case having not yet submitted a verdict.

J. R. Harris, under indictment on two charges, that of forgery and embezzlement, this morning entered a plea of not guilty on each charge. His case will be disposed of by the circuit court tomorrow.

At 1:30 p. m. the action for money case instituted by Mrs. Sayres against W. D. Mohney et al., went to trial before the following jury: W. H. Goulet, S. H. Linton, A. D. Hall, B. Pearson, L. Hobson, Lee Tate, Elias Burkholder, Wm. Miley, C. L. Watt, J. G. Rennie, Charles Ramsby and H. J. Miller. The case had scarcely opened when Messrs. Bigger and Bingham, counsel for the defendant, moved for time in which to argue a non-suit in the case. The motion was granted and the jury withdrew from the room at 2:30 p. m. At press hour the motion for non-suit was still being argued.

SCARCITY OF FLOWERS.—One can scarcely realize how few flowers there are in Salem at the present time. Persons who wished flowers to present the members of the public school graduating class early this month, experienced not a little trouble in obtaining what they desired. It only required a few orders to exhaust the supply of Salem's florists and those who were not fortunate enough to have the flowers engaged beforehand were obliged to have them shipped from Portland, at an exorbitant price or to do without all together.

It appears as though it might be a happy and profitable venture for some Salem florist to engage in that business on a much larger scale than is now attained by any who are in the business at the present time. We know of a young woman who daily receives a shipment of different varieties of flowers from a wholesale florist at Portland. These are rapidly disposed of at a reasonable profit. In conversation with the young sales-lady this morning, she remarked of the difficulty she experiences in keeping a sufficient supply on hand. Pink, of various hues, carnations, daffodils and last but not least, the roses sell very readily and command a good price.

JOURNAL "X" RAYS.

Directed Upon the Oregon Legislature and Lobby.

"U'Ren is the prince of hold-ups and the people will honor him for it. Does Senator Mitchell pay for his ad. in Labor Exchange checks? There are no indications that the supply of sand in the crops of Bourne, Barkley, U'Ren and Young is giving out.

If those Populists don't quit buying men away from Mitchell, at $10,000 apiece, the Morning Gasp will have a fit.

The men who tried to defeat three of Marion county's five Republican legislative candidates, last June, are now in charge of Senator Mitchell's commissary.

The push is not bothered with convictions or political principles. Will that noble Free Silver Democrat Jim Riley of Umatilla down here to help out Brother Mitchell.

It is a shame after the gold-standard bank-Republicans compelled Mitchell to come back and eat his Railroad to Mars speech, that they can't elect him senator.

The people have had reasons enough to curse and complain of the rottenness and extravagance of Oregon legislatures. They will not cry if one of the regulation style was left unorganized.

Who knows whether those letters read daily from Tom Vaughn, McKinley Mitchell, et al., are genuine? They certainly don't sound like those gentleman's hand writing.

Eugene Guard: If the legislature adourns without organizing and passing any appropriation bill Secretary of State H. R. Kincaid will be kicked at for the next two years harder than the assignee of an insolvent estate with wrytids of creditors.

The hired Mitchell organ issue sure money is the only cause of the hold-up. Yes, it is the money the taxpayer has to dig up to fatten a set of political leeches such as are fastened upon no other state in the union of the population and wealth of Oregon.

Judge Moore, "Peoples" candidate sprung against Dolph to knock him out as the caucus nominee two years ago, was in the lobbies today, actively hobnobbing with members. Was he explaining where he stands on the money question?

A Republican says: "Your X-Ray man hit the nail square on the head in last night's issue when he recalled Boss Iky (McCormack's man Friday) and his shortness of memory by not telling Senator Reed how he has worn out shoe leather between the city and state house 'rustling' for 'good Democrats' and how at present, he has been appointed 'missionary' by a Democratic combination that intend to monopolize a certain portion of the state business, as soon as the general appropriation bill passes. Iky had better take a 'tumble.' There will be a convention next year, and we have good memories, and there are several of us that are Republicans."

Short in His Accounts.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—Inspector MUNRO, of the postoffice department received a telegram from Inspector Gordon, from Eugene, Oregon, that Postmaster T. J. Craig, of that place, is $2000 short in his accounts, and that Craig admitted his guilt when arrested.

LATER. EUGENE, Ore., Feb. 18.—Postmaster T. J. Craig of this city, is an embezzler of postoffice funds in the sum of $2000. The defaulting postmaster was investigated by Inspector J. C. Gordon of San Francisco, who arrived early yesterday morning. The matter was not made public until this morning when Craig was removed from office and Dr. W. V. Haselton, one of his bondsmen, placed in charge. The other bondsmen are T. G. Hendricks, S. H. Friendly, V. Hemenway and E. Bangs.

Postmaster Craig made his last remittance to the general office September 30, 1896. Up to that time his books were kept straight, but since then he has absorbed the sum of $2000, and has made no remittance. The suspicion of the postal authorities were aroused and an inspector was sent here to investigate the affairs of the postoffice. The only explanation Craig offered the inspector embezzled by him was used in paying his personal debts.

To a reporter Craig said with a voice that choked with sobs, "Every dollar that I paid out was for my honest debts." Craig did not drink or gamble. He stood high, being the peer of all in the confidence and esteem of his fellow citizens, and the awful crime which must certainly send him to prison has cast a burden of sorrow upon his friends. His bondsmen would have gladly paid the amount and hushed the matter up had it been in their power to do so.

Because of business failures Craig was in debt five or six thousand dollars when he received the appointment to the postoffice a little over two years ago. The pressure for payment became too heavy for him to meet. He was too honest to attempt to defraud his creditors and drew from the postoffice fund to meet his obligations, expecting to make up the deficiency from his salary, and not suspecting that he would be apprehended so soon.

His arrest will occur some time today.

MARRIED. WILEY—HUGHES.—At the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wiley, on East Marion street, at 8 p. m. Wednesday, February 17, 1897, Miss Clara F. Wiley to Charles Hughes.

The wedding was a very quiet affair. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Bowers in the presence of only the relatives of the contracting parties and a few intimate acquaintances. Following the ceremony, the party repaired to the dining room, where a sumptuous wedding supper was served.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wiley, and by her quiet and unassuming disposition has endeared herself with whom she may have come in contact. The groom is the capable and experienced foreman on the JOURNAL, in which capacity he has most acceptably labored for the past three years.

The JOURNAL joins in extending congratulation to Mr. and Mrs. Hughes and wishes them a happy and prosperous journey through life.

DISCHARGED.—A beastly intoxicated logger, enroute to the city jail in charge of Chief of Police Dilley and Fire Chief Hutton, attracted considerable attention on the street about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. This morning the man was brought before Recorder Edes, but being without funds and anxious to return to work, the man was discharged.

Another lot of those good $1.50 shoes for $1. Prices below all competition.
