JOURNAL "X" RAYS

Directed Upon the Oregon Politicians and Public Men.

Let us all pull flax together in Oregon.

Why not make Salem the cleanest city in Oregon?

Penoyer is a good fighter in politics, but a much better trader.

Is Dr. Hercules Smith editing the Statesman? It reads that way.

These are the devil's own hard times. They don't even produce revivals.

Henry Clew's prosperity reports are regularly received by our waste basket.

Several hundred minister's salaries are still in arrears waiting for prosperity to strike.

The school election developed as many liars for a little affairs as a presidential contest.

Senator Corbett will not come back to Oregon and tell the people, "I am as good a silver man as any of you."

Disgusted politicians are advised to try flax culture. If their disgust does not disappear they can take the flax cure.

It would be just like Penoyer to make war on the little gamblers and let the big ones go. He's built that way.

There will be no difficulty in getting certificates of indebtedness issued from all the state institutions; the difficulty will be to keep down the volume.

The Portland manufacturers' association did not want the flax scutching mill located away from Portland. The women were broader-minded and immediately took stock for a mill at Salem.

The late congress appropriated $54,000,000 more than the one before, and $61,000,000 more than the one before that. And yet Cleveland vetoed about a hundred millions, and Reed killed as many more.

The Oregonian refers to Hon. J. K. Weatherford as ex-state secretary, wherein it is a little off; but Mr. Weatherford once was a nominee for the office on an off-year and polled a big vote.

An Albany paper says: A stock company has been organized in Salem with $10,000 for a flax mill. Mrs. W. P. Lord is at the head of it. The more mills the better, but the Democrat is skeptical on the flax mill question, perhaps because Albany once had one that was a failure.

Albany Democrat: The Salem Statesman keeps wanting the supreme court to give an opinion on the legality of the Benson house. The house decided that itself. It did not even have confidence in itself enough to appoint committees.

The Dalles T. M. Martin Luther Pipes ought to have put his autograph to the letter in Sunday's Oregonian, signed by "Sound Money Democrat," lauding Senator Corbett. He would get himself more in favor with the administration if he would quit "hiding his light under a bushel."

Mitchell's hired man has discovered what it considers a bright performance. Snyder, a Mitchellite, who smuggled himself into the clerk's desk as assistant, puts in a bill for $30 and hands up the record because Snyder would not audit his bill. This is about the size of the boy politics the Statesman can appreciate.

Albany Democrat: Cal. J. B. Eddy, ex-railroad commissioner, passed through Albany, this noon, for his home at Roseburg. We put that ex there on the authority of Governor Lord, and Mr. Eddy and his co-conspirators had better scrounge weekly. They still scrounge enough of the commission. Have had enough of the commission.

Albany Democrat, you talk sense: President McKinley pleads for laws that will raise more revenue. What the country needs is laws that will create less expense. It costs fully $100,000,000 too much to run our government. That much is absolutely thrown away every year. Out of that amount of expense and there will be a surplus under the present tariff law.

A neat Corbett! A neat millionaire makes a typical senator of the United States, as the senate is now constituted. Still he may be an honest man and no demagogue. A trifier with principles, betraying all parties, and compelled to sell himself to secure the means to carry on corrupt political practices, is the man who is dangerous to a republic. That is Mit. hell.

One of the duties of the legislature is to elect a United States senator, and it was considered such a monstrous duty that Oregon's law-making body was unable to cope with it this year. However Governor Lord was equal to the emergency and named a man. So it is one man has chosen a representative for the other 400,000 and over people of the state. This seems like the approach of a one-man government.—Times Mountaineer.

Pendleton E. O. H. W. Corbett's appointment by Governor Lord shows the fine Italian hand of Joseph Simon. Mr. Simon's all along insisted on Mr. Corbett, and so Mr. Corbett was appointed. Joe Simon's political dimensions are not to be measured by his physical proportions. However hated the thought, Mitchell Republicans and Bryan silver men must concede that Corbett, senator, is the political creature of Simon, manager. Corbett could not of been a senator without Simon had so willed.

Along with its other paid standing advertisements appears following in the organ of the Mitchell push: WHY DON'T THE MEMBERS OF THE BENSON HOUSE CARRY THE LEGISLATIVE MUCKLE INTO THE COURTS AND HAVE IT STRAIGHTENED OUT?—Statesman.

Yes, why don't they? They appointed a committee once to make a test case in the courts, and Rep. Smith asked Rep. Huntington why that committee never reported. Huntington told him and Smith dropped it like a hot potato. The Statesman don't know as much as Little Doc, Smith or it would drop it, too.

Pendleton E. O. (Silver Democrat) Politically, Mr. Corbett represents his party. Politically, the appointment is consistent. Politically, his appointment tends to clean up the atmosphere and draw a distinct line of demarcation between the gold standard and the free silver forces in Oregon. Gold standard advocates should rejoice. Free silver advocates should likewise rejoice, not because a gold standard man is appointed to the senate, but because an outspoken man was appointed and because it promises to put an end to vacillating policy. It will be easier now for the free silver forces to win a victory in Oregon. For it will be a fight against open enemies, and not against half baked silver men and half and half gold men.

Steven Jewell has addressed a letter to the preachers of Grants Pass in which he says: "In view of the extreme poverty and distress among the people, I suggest that we donate our preaching during the present year. The annual expense of all the churches in Grants Pass is about $10,000. This would buy about that many sacks of flour and send joy and comfort to many families. If this proposition is not acceptable, I will agree to do all the preaching that the people of Grants Pass need and charge nothing for it. I will pledge myself to preach the gospel of Christ just as we find it in the New Testament. Two sermons each Sunday, one to sinners and one to Christians, would be enough. As to church work the people can attend to that without a preacher. If there is one Savior we should be one people."

The pay of President Cleveland ceased at midnight March 3, not at noon, March 4. The United States does not split days.

VERDICT FOR THE DEFENDANT.—In the action for money case instituted by Andrew Anderreg vs. H. E. Schmidt, which was argued before Justice H. A. Johnson and a jury, Monday afternoon, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant. The amount sued for was $108.24, claimed to be due for services rendered the Capital Soap works, for which company Anderreg was employed.

AFTERMATH.

Light On the Legislature.

Comments From Our Exchanges Too Good to Suppress.

The Dalles Chronicle under date of Feb. 15 states that the refusal of a small minority of the Republican legislators to go in and vote for Mr. Mitchell for United States Senator was the cause of the hold-up of the legislature and the reason it could not be organized, and regards the failure to elect a Republican United States Senator as a natural calamity. The Populists agree to this all up to "natural calamity."

A special correspondent to the Rogue River Courier at Grant's Pass writes a good description article entitled "an all night ride" on the overland train from Grant's Pass to Salem but is not a little inaccurate in describing his arrival in the capitol. He says: It is hardly yet daylight and nobody is stirring but a few hotel men, and a newsboy as we take our seats in the cold bus and ride down the street by the blind school and the dome-crowned state capital.

No bus is run to the depot by any hotel in Salem and to have gone past the blind school the Grant's Pass correspondent must have made a half mile detour out through the suburbs of South Salem.

The Lake County Rustler, is a little sarcastic about the joint representative from Lake and Klamath counties: "Conn, when last heard of, said he would go as went the largest crowd." Conn was elected by 3 votes plurality in the two counties.

The same paper has this remark: "It looks to a man as a tree like the gold standard G. O. P.'s were gradually losing their hold in Oregon when a majority of their representatives have gone back on them and cannot be controlled by the machine."

The Salem Statesman has been saying a great deal about the boodle used to defeat Mitchell—a subject it knows a great deal about, because it got some, and helped defeat him. Its attention is respectfully called to this item that has been going the rounds of the newspapers of Oregon: It is stated that boodle flows like water in Salem, but we doubt the statement. Legislators all over the country are sending home for money to meet their current expenses, which is evidence that there is not a very big barrel on tap. The legislators have all been in politics too long to go hungry when there is a corruption fund in sight.

The lively, independent and Democratic Roseburg Review has this center shot: Representative Crawford does not seem to know where he's at. It will be remembered that early in the session he fathered a resolution in the Benson house instructing the sergeant-at-arms to bring the absentees within the bar of the house, and later on the same day moved a hasty adjournment when he heard that these absentees were on their way to the hall to take their seats. At the Friday morning session Mr. Crawford introduced a resolution declaring vacant the seats of those members who had not sworn allegiance to the Benson house, and contended for its passage, but at the evening session of the same day when the resolution was disposed of, he voted against it. Mr. Crawford is a straddler second only to the great John H. Mitchell.

Bill Clarke of the Gervais Star, son of the distinguished Sam Clarke of Salem, after staying in Salem the greater part of the session with McKinley Mitchell, went home and penned in dismay: "Marion county Republicans are proud (?) of Gosner and Hobson in the senate, and Barkley and Craig in the house! They do the Spartan act grandly. We note the fact that Hobson has sold his business at Stayton and intends going to California; Gosner is reported as having paid up old scores; Craig and Barkley—well, that's their tum-tum and the way they voted last November. As they are fed and bedded free while at Salem, it looks like a "mess of pottage."

The Burns Harney County, news, says of Senator Gowen: He helped Dolph's 40 day and Mitchell's 40 day hold up of the people's representatives in order to secure to them a third and fourth consecutive term in office, respectively. It is a sorry sight to see the glorious old State of Oregon held up by one ambitious office seeking politician, tooth to let go the United States Senatorship or U. S. treasury seat, with all other take-off and royal benefits that come in on the side, he has been enjoying all these many years—Evidently Mr. Mitchell has little or no faith in the coming McKinley prosperity.

The Medford Mail, commenting on the recent legislature, says among other things: "When its history is written there will simply be recorded the fact that a United States senator was to be elected and the legislative members placed the success of their favorite candidate so far above the importance of every other thing that the nineteenth legislative assembly of Oregon, was not organized within the period of time prescribed by the constitution. * * * Some will continue to assert, as others have already proclaimed, that the legislature that appears to be now done for was without a single redeeming feature—but then it should be remembered that while no needed legislation was had from it there goes with it the virtue of never having accomplished anything bad.

The Crook County Journal had this on Mitchell: The legislature had not adjourned last Saturday. In fact it is in a condition that it cannot adjourn legally, but from all appearances on Saturday the end will come, or did come last Monday. That Mitchell is beaten is an assured fact, but his friends here have the power to prevent the election of any one else, and this is probably what they will do. Mitchell owes his defeat to no one but himself. His campaign has consisted of one unbroken line of stupendous blunders. With his financial record in the state for McKinley was a great mistake, and then his taking part in the speakership fight was fatal, and his treatment of Riddle little better than a crime, the organization of the "Benson house" under his directions, as it was, was the act of a madman. These acts rendered his election impossible. The legislature will be a landmark in the political history of the state, and will certainly be a beautiful practical (if the term beautiful dare in any sense be used or mentioned in connection with Oregon's stupendous farce) illustration of our present way of electing a U. S. senator.

The Yamhill County Reporter, a conservative Republican paper says: Senator Mitchell finds himself in a very peculiar condition as respects his candidacy for election. While he appears to have made some headway in capturing the legislature in the June canvass, he has succeeded by his questionable methods at that time and by his uncertain and vacillating course since in alienating the people from his standard. He lacks the moral support of the people, whether Republicans, Populists or Democrats, in the contest at Salem, and he is likely to be beaten. There was a time when Senator Mitchell could have placed himself right with the Republicans of the state and harmonized all differences in the party by coming out squarely and openly and taking an unequivocal position on this vital principle of Republicanism. He refused to do so. What he may have said privately to certain members or spoken to three or four in order to secure Republican votes since it became evident that he no longer has the Populist contingent to draw upon, establishes no confidence. If we may gauge the whole state by the sentiment conspicuous in Yamhill county the Republicans who made the hard fight for principle, whose efforts and sacrifices were the means of keeping Oregon in line with the party of the nation, are unanimous in the wish to see some able and honorable Republican other than John H. Mitchell elected to the United States Senate. They have no interest in this man that calls for the sacrifice of all needed work by the legislature in order to return him to Washington.

CIRCULATION Of the Daily Journal Increased 75 Per Cent.

Following letters need no explanation: SALEM, Or., Feb. 25, 1897. H. F. BONHAM, P. M., Salem, Or.: DEAR SIR:—Will you not please to advise us if the weights of mails now received from the DAILY JOURNAL are fully 75 per cent more than a year ago at this time. As we have not increased the size of the DAILY JOURNAL during the past year, we wish to estimate the comparative increase in circulation, by the comparative weights mailed. Yours very truly, HOFER BROTHERS, Editors.

SALEM, Or., Feb. 25, 1897. Editor Daily Journal: DEAR SIR:—The weights of mails now received from the DAILY JOURNAL are fully 75 per cent more than a year ago at this time. Respectfully, B. F. BONHAM, P. M. By J. A. Sellwood, Asst. P. M.

The circulation of the Portland Telegram is stated at 2500 copies daily. The average circulation of THE ONE CENT DAILY has been for sometime larger than that and the WEEKLY JOURNAL has a larger circulation than ever before.

THE JOURNAL is now established as the paper having the largest circulation in Oregon, next to the Oregonian. Advertisers are invited to inspect our lists of subscribers, and are reminded that our mail subscriptions are all paid in advance, and that such are a desirable class of people to do business with. They take this paper because they want it, not because it is forced upon them, and they can't get rid of it. THE JOURNAL outsold all other papers in Oregon during the legislative session.

WOMEN are not the only ones who are sensitive about their faces. A man doesn't like to be told that he is getting old. A man doesn't like to get old at all. But worse than getting old is the appearance of age. Health keeps a man young. It does. I make any difference if he has lived eighty years. If they have been healthy years, he will be hale and hearty and won't look like a man as old as he is. Good digestion and rich red blood make Medical Discovery makes rich, red blood.
