President Isaac Lewis of Sabina, Ohio, is highly respected all through that section. He has lived in Clinton Co. 75 years, and has been president of the Sabina Bank 20 years. He gladly testifies to the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and what he says is worthy attention. All brain workers find Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiarly adapted to their needs. It makes pure, rich, red blood, and from this comes nerve, mental, bodily and digestive strength. "I am glad to say that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a very good medicine, especially as a blood purifier. It has done me good many times. For several years I suffered greatly with pains of in one eye and about my temples, especially at night when I had been having a hard day of physical and mental labor. I took many remedies, but found help only in Hood's Sarsaparilla which cured me of rheumatism, neuralgia and headache. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved itself a true blood. I also take Hood's Pills to keep my bowels regular, and like the pills very much." ISAAC LEWIS, Sabina, Ohio.

PAR WESTERN REFLECTIONS.

Chronicle of New Books and Publications Received.

Nansen's new book "Farthest North," just issued by Harper's, New York, is in two volumes and sells at $10.

Charles Scribner's sons announce a popular edition of the novels of George Meredith, including the two latest, at $1 a volume.

Dodd, Mead & Co., New York, have brought out an American edition of "The Expositor." The editor is Wm. Robert Nicoll, M. A., LL. D. The first number appeared on February 1 and it is safely claimed to be the most scholarly theological magazine in the English language. The price is $3 a year, 25 cents a number. We could wish the contents were less devoted to theology, and more truly American in spirit, but it will probably satisfy nine out of ten theologians.

The March Scribner describes the business of a great cloth factory in New England. The illustrations are from actual life, from the interiors of the mills and types of the employees.

Chas. H. Kerr & Company, 56 Fifth Ave., Chicago, are making a success of their monthly magazine "New Occasions," consisting of timely articles on the reform topics of the day. The price is $1.00 a year.

A Western Journalist, Ambrose Bierce, of the Examiner, has a book on the market, "Tales of Soldiers and Civilians," that has received the most favorable notices from the critics. American Publishers Corporation, 310-318 Sixth Ave., New York.

"Heather from the Brae" are Scottish character sketches by David Lyall, published by Fleming H. Revell & Co., Chicago. His stories are told as well as some of the best of Barrie, Crockett, and Maclaren, and he seems to possess with them the quality of "entering with a keen insight and profound sympathy into the common life of the Scottish people." Price 75 cents.

For many years Harper's Weekly has held a high place as a record of the vital affairs of the world, as a periodical of genuine literary quality, and as a medium of outspoken, unbiased and expert opinion on every subject of public importance. Without losing in vigor it has of late assumed an even finer quality as literature. Its contributors include such writers as Carl Schurz, Henry James, Mary E. Wilkins, and W. D. Howells. "Home and Country" February enters on the fourteenth volume. The 96 pages contain fifty illustrations that are above the average in American magazines. There are short stories and the best of art criticism. The reproductions of great works of art are not for the purpose of inflaming our eyes, but to show real stars of the stage. The Monthly Illustrated Pub. Co., 66-68 Center st., New York, are to be congratulated on their success.

A number of copies of the "Chap-Book" magazine, published by Herbert S. Stone & Company, Caxton Building, Chicago, are taken at Salem and in the new enlarged edition, coming out twice a month, it is very much appreciated. It is to be hoped that one literary publication devoted to free non-commercialized criticism may live in our country and prosper. The number of persons who care for pure criticism is very small, but we have in "Chap-Book" much of the best work of the creative fancy of this age. The price is $2.00 a year but we can give a club rate if ordered at once. You should begin with the Jan. 15 number.

Few persons who do not get the Bookman are aware that it is a high class literary picture gallery. Take the February and March numbers and we find portraits of the following great writers: Walt Whitman, W. D. Howells, I. Zangwill, Washington Irving, Olive Schreiner, Joan Oliver Hobbes, Lord Byron and James Ferri- more Cooper, besides scores of lesser fame. There are besides in each number reproductions of autograph letters, pictures of the homes of authors and famous works of art. The Bookman is published on the 25th of each month and can be supplied, at this office, at a reduction from the regular price, which is $2 a year.

The March Romance with its twenty complete stories, all of absorbing interest. Its book, stage, and editorial department is without doubt, the best story magazine ever offered to the public for ten cents. That the new editor and publisher of Romance is working on broad-minded principles, is progressive and fearless in the practical working of a magazine is evidenced in the copy before us. In the three months under the new management, Romance has come to be known as the most thoroughly advertised story magazine gaining a reputation, at the same time, as a publication which lives up to its advertisements. Gilson Willets, editor, 1440 Broadway, New York.

The most interesting people of the world just at this moment are the millions of famine and plague-stricken India. But little is known of this region by the people of the United States. Such reports as come to us are the things seen through British glasses. What has been the effect of British rule in India? Why these terrible famines? Why plagues? Julian Hawthorne has been sent by the Cosmopolitan magazine to India to obtain answers to these questions at first hand and depict the situation as it appears to an American. The March Cosmopolitan contains the first of what is probably the most important series of articles ever presented in this magazine.

It may be, and, indeed, it seems quite probable, that the series of manuscripts which has been recently discovered, and which has been secured by Messrs. Dodd, Mead & Company, of New York City, are the original papers, which were carried over by Count de Deux-Ponts. There are not, however, in his autograph, but in that of some unknown person, probably a clerk. Curiously enough, after 115 years, a collection of manuscripts relating to the Siege of Yorktown has recently turned up in Paris. These comprise a contemporary copy of Count de Rochambeau's own diary, from the time the French armies left the Hudson, the 15th of August, to the surrender of Yorktown, on the 19th of October, 1781. Accompanying this, written by a different hand, but enclosed in the same cover, is a diary of the siege by one of the engineer officers, and a most beautifully executed manuscript map, in colors, of Yorktown and vicinity.

Messrs. Copeland and Day, Boston, announce the publication of "The Falcon of Languac," by Isabel Whitley. It is a romance of love and adventure in France, when the invasions of English, Germans and Spanish, and the treachery of the Constable de Bourbon had nearly destroyed the kingdom.

The style is that of the old French Chronicles, easy and smooth, and the story being told in the first person, the actors are kept "in the centre of the stage."

The hero, Arnel de Languac is involved in a series of troubles troubles the difference in the law of inheritance in Brittany and France, and he seeks sanctuary at the famous abbey of Mont Saint Michel. His character and that of the heroine are fictions, but all the incidents related of them are accurately true to the life of the time and wherever real persons or events are mentioned the points are accurately taken.

Dana's Two Years Before the Mast, was such a book for the times of his youth as was Tom Cringle's Log before him, and On Many Seas at once takes its place besides these two as a classic of the sea. It is years since any magazine article has awakened as much interest as was aroused by Governor Gue's (February Midland) disclosure of the authorship of the letter warning Secretary Floyd of John Brown's proposed insurrection. The conclusion of Mr. Gue's article (in the March Midland Monthly of Des Moines) will be equally interesting, relating the story of Barclay Coppock's escape from the effect of Governor Fletcher's requisition, to which escape the author himself was a party.

FREE TO EVERY MAN.

The Method of a Great Treatment for "Weakness of Men."

Which Cured Him After Everything Else Failed.

Painful diseases are bad enough, but when a man is slowly wasting away with nervous weakness, the mental forebodings are ten times worse than the most severe pain. There is no let up to the mental suffering day or night. Sleep is almost impossible and under such a strain men are scarcely responsible for what they do. For years the writer rolled and tossed on the troubled sea of a weak, nervous, and ill health, until it was a question whether he had not better take a dose of poison and thus end all his troubles. But providential inspiration came to his aid in the shape of a combination of medicines that not only completely restored the general health, but enlarged his weak and emaciated parts to natural size and vigor, and he now declares that any man who will take the trouble to send his name and address may have the method of this wonderful treatment free. Now when I say free I mean absolutely without cost, because I want every weakened man to get the benefit of my experience.

I am not a philanthropist, nor do I pose as an enthusiast, but there are thousands of men suffering the tortures of weakened manhood who would be cured at once could they but get such a remedy as the one that cured me. Do not try to study out how I can afford to pay the few postage stamps necessary to mail the information, but send for it and learn that there are a few things on earth that are worth a fortune to some men and mean a lifetime of happiness to most of us. Write a Thomas Slater, Box 396, Kalamazoo, Mich. and the information will be mailed in a plain sealed envelope.
