THE STATE FAIR TRADUCER.

A Discharged Official Tries to Injure the Fair.

According to the Statesman (edited by the deposed secretary) there is il-lible to be no fair this year yet Oregon will have the best fair ever held.
This same ex-official reports that six officials have resigned, when only Z. F.
Moody's resignation is on file, and he does this after he was informed that he was not correct. It is apparent to anyone that this is all because he was not re-elected secretary of the society.
He had foraged at that crib for several years, until the board was compelled to elect a competent man, and one who would not drag down the fair, consequently he can see no more good in anything they do.
All his rot about the matter is untrue. Mr. Scott of the board started in to kiff everybody but Scott. He thought petty larceny of every member but Scott, Scott, by the way, drew nearly $500 last year on his sheep, and at this meeting insisted that sheep premiums must be raised still more, while some others were lowered. Scott and Irvine will hardly be able to run the state agricultural society. Rule or run seldom wins.
Jeff Meyers yesterday offered the following resolution, which is pernicious, and would seem only fair to exhibitors:

"Resolved, That no member of the state board of agriculture shall have any ownership by purchase, lease or lien, directly or indirectly, in any stock or article upon which an award or premium is made; or purse is offered for speed. Any member violating the above provisions shall forfeit the full amount of said premium or purse to the association, with the stock or article entered."

This was voted for by several heavy stock men on the board, but was not carried.

It is the opinion of the entire board and all interested, that the fair of 1897 will be the best in many years.

THEY WERE SEA SICK.—Douglas Minto and Geo. Waters are expected to arrive home, tonight, from Carson City. They reached Portland, Friday morning, via steamer, but were so fatigated after the trip on the deep blue ocean that they were unable to come to Salem, last evening.

THE RIVER FALLING.—The Willamette at Salem is slowly falling. She registered 16.2 feet above low water mark this morning. The decrease in the stage of the river is occasioned by the cold weather.

We Are Selling

Our new pattern suits, all the staple dress goods, linings and trimmings at reduced prices. The same thing can be said of the corset stock, all the R & G's and other makes as well as the kid gloves—prices reduced on all of them. Then there's the hosiery department, prices all reduced including the celebrated "Albert" hose and the "Iron Clad" for children.

The Fine Stock is booming. All the new black, brown and red Oxford's reduced in price. The same with Crockett's men's shoes and the Little Giant school shoes. We do repairing and half selling the same as the best shoe stores.

These small wares in plain tone, ladies' shoes at $1 a pair are going fast. Will be glad to show them. We are reducing stock before moving to our new quarters on Commercial street.

MODJESKA THE GRAND

Found Paine's Celery Compound the Best of Remedies

For the Nervous Exhaustion Consequent Upon Her Arduous Work--The Re- markable Artiste Who Stands Pre- eminently at the Head of Her Pro- fession.

The news of Modjeska's recovery from the recent severe sickness that compelled her to leave the stage will be a source of congratulation to the whole world.
Modjeska, in a letter to Wells, Richardson & Company, says she has found what thousands of people in every

There is the danger that in their eagerness to take a spring remedy a thoughtless person may carry home some bogus concoction prepared with only such a smattering of medical knowledge as can be picked up behind station of life have so often heartily testified that Paine's celery compound is the very best of all remedies for nervous exhaustion.

Joseph Hawthorn rightly calls, Mod-jeska "the peerless queen of artists."

Modjeska's health is a matter of world-wide interest, and her testimonial to the value of the great remedy which makes people well is of particular moment in the early spring, when from every quarter reports come of men, women and children who are taking Paine's celery compound, and are gaining in nervous vigor, weight and every other indication of better health.

The thoughtful portion of the community knows the need of purifying the blood and regulating the nervous and alimentary systems as spring comes on.

In exact accordance with the prescription of Prof. E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college. Its curative effects have been closely watched by the ablest physicians of every school, and they are today agreed that it stands alone as the reliable remedy for building up a person's health in the spring.

The most overwhelming testimony to the value of Paine's celery compound that has recently appeared from men and women of national reputation:

Hon. George B. Swift, mayor of Chicago:

Francis Murphy, the foremost apostle of temperance in the world:

Mrs. Matthew S. Quay, wife of the great Republican senator from Pennsylvania:

Ex-President Cook of the National Teachers' Association:

It makes people well. It is the one true specific recognized and prescribed today by eminent practitioners for diseases arising from a deliberated nervous system. Prof. Phelps gave to his profession a positive cure for sleeplessness, wasting strength, dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, all nervous diseases and kidney trouble.
For all such complaints Paine's celery compound has succeeded again and again, where every thing else has failed.

When Modjeska in a letter published in Boston said: "I have found Paine's celery compound the very best of all remedies for the nervous exhaustion consequent upon the arduous work of my profession," she voiced the experience of every tired-out, run-down, exhausted woman who ever went to this greatest of all spring remedies for relief.

No one ever yet failed to find strength and health returning who faithfully used nature's true remedy—Paine's celery compound.

The steamer Boscovitz reached the wreck on Sunday afternoon, and brought on the passengers and food to ing, the purser, engineers and 12 Yukoners only coming down to Nan-at Bella Bella had only about 10 days supplies, and hoped for the arrival of a steamer soon.

Alaska Steamer Sunk.

A Nanaimo, B. C. Special to the Post-Intelligencer says:

The steamer Barbara Boscovitz arrived from northern ports with 18 of the passengers and crew of the steamer Willapa, which sailed from Seattle from Dyea, March 18, with as much freight and as many passengers as she could carry, the steamer having run around on Regatta reef, seven miles north of Bella Bella, opposite the lower end of Queen Charlotte Island.

The accident occurred last Friday morning at 2:30 o'clock during a bliz-zing snow storm and heavy gale. At the time she struck the engines stopped and the steamer, drifting with wind and tide, slid on a rock, bow first, without a jar, but could not be pulled off, and as the tide was falling rapidly, she was soon hard and fast. A strong sea soon swept the stern to windward, the bow acting as pivot. The vessel, getting into shallow water on the lee of the reef, settled down on a sharp rock with the falling tide, listing her over on her bow. In spite of the large number of passengers, there was no panic or disorder, Captain Roberts showing admirable coolness.

The passengers stayed on board several hours, until it was found that the tide was rising as fast in the hold as outside, and the pumps had no effect. The women were then taken in boats to Campbell Island, a distance of two miles, and afterwards men, dogs and baggage. A camp was formed, and 60 or more passengers were made as comfortable as possible, the deserted shacks on shore serving cook-houses. The ship stores, which were not damaged, were brought ashore.

Until Sunday no vessel passed, and during that time the captain and crew worked removing supplies, baggage and freight, much of which, being such goods as rice, beans, and flour, was lost. There were nine horses on board, but, as they could not be removed without steam, they were shot in the hold.

During the two days after the accident the steamer was badly battered by winds and seas, and Sunday was only a derelict, being sprung and badly broken up. Captain Roberts and crew stayed by to remove the cargo to the island.

Bella Bella, where they are now stay-
Yukoners only coming down to Nanaimo and Victoria. The contingent

The Great Illusion Dancer.

Ida Fuller, the wonderful dancer, supported by a strong company, is coming to Salem. She will begin Friday evening, April 2. Managers Patton Bros. are to be congratulated upon receiving the appearance of this great artist and her company.

Miss Fuller carries all her own electric lamps, paraphernalia and mechanical effects, thereby guaranteeing the dances given her to be the same as those of the original production.

"Town Topics"—Reed's opera house was comfortably filled last evening to witness the laughable farce "Town Topics" in three acts. The audience was kept in almost constant laughter throughout the performance. The ef-ference through which the farce passed while in the city of New York was portrayed in an attractive manner. The dancing specialties were especially fine. Mr. World's burlesque interpretation of the "light fantastic" sent the house wild. The singing was a feature of the performance, particularly on the latest ballads being especially good. While the performance contains no plot whatever, yet it is presented in such an easy way and is so replete with strictly up-to-date jokes, that no end of amusement is furnished an audience before whom it may be presented.
