SOUTH SALEM BURGLARY

Residence of Elmer Kightlinger entered and Robbed of $25.

Between the hours of 7 and 11 o'clock Friday night a bold burglary was perpetrated and successfully carried out in South Salem. While Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kightlinger were attending the Ida Fuller performance at the opera house, some party or parties entered the residence of Mr. Kightlinger in South Salem and removed $25.

Mr. and Mrs. Kightlinger did not learn of the burglary until they reached home about 11:30 p. m. when the general appearance of the rooms indicated that someone had ransacked the premises during their absence. A search was at once instituted to ascertain what, if anything had been removed, when it was learned that $25 that had been kept in the building, had disappeared. The police were immediately notified of the burglary and are working on the case. There is no clue whatever to the perpetrators.

Entrance to the building was effected by breaking into a window at the side of the door which permitted the person to unlatch the same from the inside.

The loss is felt quite keenly by Mr. Kightlinger, who is one of Salem's industrious residents, and is at present conducting a dairy in South Salem.

AMUSEMENTS

Reed's opera house has had an interesting week.

This evening "Engaged," an amateur performance by Miss Viva Mason of the Frawley Stock company of "Frico" will be presented. Miss Coppeland, the favorite local terpsichorean artist, will take part. Miss Tinta Kimball is down for a comic recitation. Mrs. Carey Martin and Miss Georgia Davenport sing a duet. There are other splendid features.

"Virginius," under the auspices of the Knights of Pythian lodge, is to be presented on April 7. Prof. Rasmus, assisted by local talent will present this classical drama.

April 20th, the Y. M. C. A. present the first of series of entertainments. It is to be a musical performance.

The Ida Fuller Company was greeted by a better house than is usually given to 50 and 75 cents seats. The performance was highly appreciated by all present. Miss Fuller is an artist who rivals her sister, the noted "La Loie." The company were superior in every feature of the program and Patton brothers feel encouraged at the reception given them.

Patton brothers, are preparing a showing of their receipts for the first year of their management, and will be able to convince the public that they have paid out a great deal of money in licenses and to local musicians and that the hotels have been benefited by a popular management of the only theatre in Salem. It is to be hoped that they may consent to take the management for another year.

BRILLIANT SOCIAL EVENT

The Friday Night Club Holds Its Last Meeting

An event long to be remembered in Salem social circles took place last evening in the final party of the "Friday night" club. The ladies were "in the saddle," as it were, and they set a "pace" that their husbands will not soon equal. It was the last session of the season of this popular married folks' club, and was a brilliant success from start to finish. The ladies had Hughes' hall elaborately decorated in evergreen and bunting and about fifty couples enjoyed the dance as never before. The ladies appeared in evening dress, and the affair was most brilliant in every respect.

Constant surprises were in store for the sterner sex, first by a variety of favors for the "cottillions," and as a finale, an elegant luncheon at Geo. F. Smith's restaurant. One of the favors consisted of torpedoes, which with a slight pull exploded and revealed a tissue paper cup, affording much amusement and lending a fantastic touch to the event.

During the last course of the luncheon, Ex-Mayor Claude Gatch as toastmaster drank the health of the ladies in which all the gentlemen arose and participated. This was followed by most appropriate after toasts by a number of the gentlemen as well as the ladies. The greatest merriment prevailed throughout the evening, and all went to their homes thanking the ladies from the bottom of their hearts for the delightful closing of the season's parties.

MILLINERY

Our Spring Opening a wonderful success. Over five hundred ladies availed themselves of the opportunity to see exclusive styles and dainty effects shown by the "Nonpareil." 317 Commercial street.

State Government Affairs

News and Personals About the Different Departments

Sheriff Kilburn, of Baker county, was in town last night and was taken down very sick at the Cook hotel. He returned home on the morning train.

Prof. Washburn, of the chair of biology at the State university, was in conference with state officials today.

The Congregation Novah Zedeck of Portland, a Bohemian religious organization, filed articles today by S. Kafka.

Ira Shelley, an epileptic, who was received at the asylum about three months ago from Lane county, has been let out on leave of absence, and returned to his home by the Roseburg train at 11 o'clock. The institution last evening had 1,112 patients under care, making quite a good-sized army.

A. C. Sanford, of Portland, was today commissioned a notary public.

Krieg & Levy, of Portland, general commission merchants have filed articles of incorporation with a $2,100 stock.

There is general regret expressed by the state officials over the controversy at Eugene between Prof. D. V. S. Ried and President Chapman. Both are strong men, in their lines, and of great usefulness to the people of this state. It is doubted if either could be replaced in the public service without a loss and detriment to the people. Reid made a great run for state superintendent of schools.

Jack Hargard, aged 75, was brought to the asylum from Baker county. He is not dangerous to himself or others, but belongs to that class committed because of debility and requiring care.

Ezra Durand, of organ fame, was received at the penitentiary from Multnomah county, for a period of 12 years.

The widow of the late Joseph N. Dolph has, by her attorneys, filed notice in probate of her acceptance of the monthly allowance of $250 of her deceased husband's estate, in lieu of the dower. The executors say in their petition that their is an indebtedness of less than $1000, and the appraisal of the property shows it to be of the value of $123,014.

CLASSES OF CLAIMS

A Salem letter to Portland has this: The question of claims against the state is a matter that has not yet been set at rest, nor is it likely to be until the supreme court defines the powers and duty of the secretary of state. The secretary continues to issue duplicate vouchers to employes of state institutions, and those whose salaries are fixed by law, as they demand them.

It is the understanding, however, that mandamus proceedings against the secretary are to be instituted right away, to bring the matter into the courts. Besides claims that are provided for by the statute and claims for the current expenses of state institutions, there are other employes, such as clerks in the secretary of state's office, superintendent of public instruction, office in the land department janitors, etc., that have been presented so far. It is desirable that a decision cover the three classes.

Secretary Kincaid does not see that a court decision would help matters materially, unless it should be to the effect that the secretary has power to audit or reject all claims, prior to appropriations therefor. The secretary is now refusing to audit for the reason he thinks he has not the power. If the supreme court, however, decrees he has, the secretary, of course, will be governed by the opinion of that tribunal.

There have been reports—some of them emanating from officers of state institutions—to the effect that Salem merchants have put up the price of supplies to the state 20 to 25 per cent. Speaking of the matter, a responsible merchant said that such reports are not true, and are calculated to give the town a black eye. His store, he said, is selling goods to the state on the same terms as to farmers who run a yearly account.

Revival Meetings. Evangelistic services at both morning and evening services. Preaching by the Evangelist Rev. J. N. Smith of Seattle. Rev. Smith will preach during the evangelistic meetings all this week. Special music by the large choral choir under the directions of Prof. Parvin assisted by Prof. Dilley organist, and Ray Parvin, cornetist. The greatest interest is being manifested in the meetings and immense crowds are filling the church nightly to hear the able evangelist.

SUNDAY AS THE DAY.—On which George Bros. serve a chicken dinner at their State street lunch counter and the agreeable feature of it is, they charge only 15 cents. Their cooking is done to the queen's taste.

PAYMENT OF 1896 TAXES

Treasurer Brown Receives $3,235.75—

Turn Over of State Taxes.

Sheriff F. T. Wrightman today turned over to County Treasurer G. L. Brown $3,235.75 in 1896 taxes to be credited to the following funds:

Table with 2 columns: Fund Name, Amount. Total: $3,235.75

Treasurer G. L. Brown today turned over $2000 in state taxes to the state treasurer which in addition to a previous payment of $3000 makes $5000 that has been turned over from Marion county into the state treasury. These payments are made by Treas. Brown in compliance with an order made by county court recently, directing that state taxes be paid into the state treasury the same as in the past, notwithstanding the fact that the legislature failed to organize and pass an appropriation bill.

Debating Societies

The Y. M. C. A. literary and debating society last evening elected officers for the ensuing quarter as follows: President, Geo. F. Rogers; vice president, John McCourt; secretary, Luke Lynn; assistant secretary, J. J. Kaufman; treasurer, Jay Bowerman; censor, Jos. H. Albert; sergeant-at-arms, John Reynolds. The question for debate last evening was: "Resolved that appropriations to the state university and state normal schools should be discontinued." A decision was rendered for the negative. The subject for discussion next Friday evening is: "Resolved that the United States should send Mr. Corbett." John McCourt was named as an assistant in the coming debate between the Y. M. C. A. and Philodorian societies, vice W. J. D'Arcy. The subject for discussion and the time for debate have not been definitely agreed upon but due to an announcement will be made.

At the regular meeting of the Philodorian literary society last evening there was a lively debate on the question, "Resolved that the civil service should be abolished." The subject was very thoroughly handled and a decision was rendered affirmatively. The programs rendered by this society are increasing in interest with each succeeding meeting. The members who carefully apply themselves are deriving great benefit from the meetings; not only becoming more thoroughly acquainted with parliamentary rules but are learning to speak while on their feet. It is a valuable factor in the students life and is being quite generally taken advantage of by the students of the school.

The Oregon school for the blind had their semi-monthly literary meeting last night. These meetings are growing in interest and are becoming a source of great benefit to all the pupils. All are required to take part.

In Police Court

Ed Mauzey was today given a trial before Recorder Edes, charged with assault and battery on the person of John Savage Sr. on the 1st inst. Prosecuting Attorney S. L. Hayden appeared for the state while P. H. D'Arcy was counsel for the defendant. By agreement the case was heard before a jury consisting of three, viz: Messers E. J. Swafford, Thos. Holman and Clarence Hamilton. After all the testimony had been introduced, the jury retired and after a few moments deliberation, returned a verdict of guilty. A fine of $20 and costs was imposed on Mauzey in default of which he was committed to the county jail. The trouble originated over the payment of 50 cents that Mr. Savage claimed from the defendant.

CHEMAWA

A large party consisting of 27 new pupils arrived at the school on Saturday morning. They were accompanied by Indian Agents Patrick.

Prof. C. C. Narding departed for Warm Springs Saturday. Mr. Narding leaves many warm friends and we wish him a success at his new post of duty.

Incendiarism

This morning when Hon. John G. Wright got up he discovered that during the night an attempt had been made to fire his house. At the door which leads from the dining room into the kitchen it was found that a quantity of coal oil had been poured in under the door, by means of placing a newspaper under it, and pouring the oil through on the paper. The oil thus saturated the carpet in the dining room, and the latter, as well as the bottom of the door and the floor near by, was badly burned and charred. A quart bottle about half filled with oil was found outside on the kitchen floor. The kitchen had evidently been entered by the person who attempted the dastardly deed but nothing further was injured or destroyed. Look out for fire bugs.

FIRST BAPTIST.—Prof. S. T. Matthews will preach at the First Baptist church at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning. No services in the evening. Sunday school and Y. P. S. C. E. at usual hours.

HOME CULTURE CLUB.—The South Salem Reading circle meets this evening with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Morrison, second house south of Lincoln school, on High street. Topic: "Longfellow and his poetry."
