

FLAX.

The Corvallis Experiment station recommends that all ground intended for flax fibre should be well plowed and thoroughly cultivated and then left lying for ten or twelve days so all foul seeds can have an opportunity to sprout and just before seeding give another thorough harrowing in order to kill all weeds.

The association has made arrangements for seed and it will be ordered immediately, so farmers wishing to put in seed can have it in a short short time.

The seed will all be well cleaned so there is no danger of getting in any foul seeds. The seed will be examined by a thoroughly competent judge. Farmers need not fear noxious weeds of any kind.

A portion of the seed is already arranged for and pronounced first class prime seed.

All seeds should be sown as soon as the danger of frost is over. Flax is a very tender plant in this respect and therefore no risk should be run.

The North Dakota Tax Case.

It has been discovered that the last legislature made a very serious mistake and one that is liable to be far-reaching in its consequence. It was the purpose of the legislature to enact a complete revenue law, covering all forms of taxation and one that would be clear, easily understood and correct, and remedy many errors and omissions in the then existing revenue law of the state.

Section 60 of the new revenue law provides: "All personal property taxes shall become due on the first day of November in each and every year for which the tax is levied and become delinquent on the first day of March next after they become due." Section 71 provides that "All real estate taxes shall become due on the first day of November in each and every year for which the tax is levied and become delinquent on the first day of January following." This law was approved on March 8, 1897, and it expressly repeals each and every section of the Revised Codes, (specifying each by number) relating to the subject of revenue and the assessment, levy and collection of taxes. It contains a further general and sweeping clause as follows: "All other sections and parts of sections of said code and of all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed." Thus, every provision of law under which taxes have heretofore been assessed and levied and all procedure for their collection have been repealed, without any saving clause whatever.

The act passed with an emergency clause and therefore went into effect on the date of its approval. The language quoted from section 60 and 71 clearly shows that this act was intended to apply only to taxes to be hereafter assessed and levied under the provisions of the act and not to taxes heretofore levied. There is not a word or a clause in the act making its provisions applicable to taxes heretofore levied and assessed. Many leading lawyers in that state are of the opinion that there is no law in force by which collection can be enforced. If this view of the case be correct, the taxes of 1896 cannot be collected. The effect of this will be most disastrous and unless the difficulty is overcome very state institution will be closed.

From Victoria, B. C.

I venture to say that three out of four who go to Rossland and other camps will come out poorer. It is an easy matter to call a ledge or a hole in the ground a mine, give it a name, organize a company of $1,000,000 capital, shares $1 each and try to sell shares at five cents to obtain enough cash to dig the hole deeper, if anything is found. It is the other fellow who pays for it, and the promoter has 600,000 shares more or less for nothing but a little printing, talk, etc. If no paying ore is struck the loss comes on the poor chap who was induced to buy shares. It is stated that out of the 100 mines, or so-called mines, incorporated for hundreds of millions in British Columbia, that only to lock promising, and only two are paying dividends—others may. I hope they will, but I don't care to risk either my health or comfort for chances. History will tell if I am wise or not, neither do I care to go to China or Japan. I see enough of these people here—it is stated that at least one-third of the population of Victoria are Chinese or about 6000. My Alberta venture ended worse than 0000. My agent harvested what the hail did not drive in the ground. It cost, so he writes, some $13 more to harvest than the crop will sell for. Unfortunate for me that he did not turn his cattle in and allow them to eat. My old neighbors up there write me they are getting poorer every day. Many of them are gone, and all others that can will come out this spring. Some are gone and going to the Kootenay country and a few are going back to California.

The man who lends himself to the railway or land companies to influence a man to leave the Pacific coast or any other comfortable place and home to go up to Alberta ought to be sent and compelled to stay there two years. He might not starve for if the mosquitoes did not eat him and he did not freeze although the frost and hail will more than likely ruin his crop of grain, he may be able to save some potatoes and turnips and he may be able to catch rabbits to cook with them—I know one man who got through the winter on that diet.

The man who wrote me about the country a year ago, stating that was a good place to get on in, to make a home, that he had lived in different states, including California and that he and his family were satisfied with the prospect, now says, I guess we are in the wrong country, and he is going to get out in a few weeks. It is unfortunate for me that he had not had a little more experience before I heard from him. If any of your people are almost discouraged say to them to stay with the homes. I have never seen the place yet that will grow more food and products to the acre than the land around Salem and in the Willamette valley.

South Salem Reading Circle.

The home culture club met Saturday evening last at the residence of Mr. J. A. Morrison on South High street. The special topic was Longfellow. The club became so interested in the Turkish war situation that it decided to take up the Russian people, and their greatest writer, Count Tolstoi for their subject this week. It is understood an effort will be made to help start a historical library for the South Salem public school. Following is the program for Saturday evening April 10, at 7:30 p. m. at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jory.

"Toll" (by Tolstoi).—Rev. A. Ker-shaw.

THE pain that sometimes strikes a man at the most inopportune moment is due to indigestion. It may come in the midst of a dinner and make the feast a mockery. It is a reminder that he may not eat what he chooses, nor when he chooses.

He is a slave to the weakness of his stomach. Frequently he doesn't even know whether the thing he ate is going to agree with him or not. The things that please his palate most are often the worst for him to eat. Even the simplest food is likely to cause him misery and sleeplessness. His first trouble was very slight—very simple—very easy to cure. He ate something indigestible and it stuck some place in his digestive system. He ate more things and they stuck. Part of his digestion stopped altogether—that is constipation.

Constipation is so common that more than half the people in America are troubled with it. It is so serious that nine-tenths of the sickness of the world is traceable directly to this common cause. A man's health and strength depend upon what he gets out of his food. This depends on his digestion. Constipation stops digestion. Anybody can see that. The commonest kind of common sense will tell you that. When digestion stops, nutrition stops, and the whole body is thrown out of order.

The way to start digestion is to remove the obstruction. The way to do that is to take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are a positive cure for constipation and its attendant ills—headaches, sour stomach, flatulence, dizziness, biliousness and "heartburns." They are very gentle in their action. They simply assist nature. They give no violent wrench to the system. They cause no pain, nor griping, nor discomfort of any kind.

The Best is Not too Good.
There never was a truer saying than that "The best is not too good" when speaking of the accommodations for a long overland journey and therefore it will be well for the traveller going east to remember that he will be very weary when he gets to St. Paul or Minneapolis, and that he should make a wise choice of routes from there to Chicago or Milwaukee. The Wisconsin Central trains run between these points making close connections with all trains at both terminals. Fastest travellers seek this route for many reasons, one of which is, they can get a well cooked meal at a moderate price, and eat it at leisure as they speed to their destination. Address Geo. S. CIRCULATION
Of the Daily Journal Increased 75 Per-Cent.

Following letters need no explanation:

SALEM, Or., Feb. 25, 1897.
B. F. Bonham, P. M., Salem, Or.
DEAR SIR:—Will you not please to advise us if the weights of mails now received from the DAILY JOURNAL are fully 75 per cent more than a year ago at this time. As we have not increased the size of the DAILY JOURNAL during the past year, we wish to estimate the comparative increase in circulation, by the comparative weights mailed.

Yours very truly,
HOFER BROTHERS, Editors.

SALEM, Or., Feb. 25, 1897.
Editor Daily Journal:
DEAR SIR:—The weights of mails now received from the DAILY JOURNAL are fully 75 per cent more than a year ago at this time.

The circulation of the Portland Telegram is stated at 2500 copies daily. The average circulation of THE ONE CENT DAILY has been for sometime larger than that and the WEEKLY JOURNAL has a larger circulation than ever before.

THE JOURNAL is now established as the paper having the largest circulation in Oregon, next to the Oregonian. Advertisers are invited to inspect our lists of subscribers, and are reminded that our mail subscriptions are all paid in advance, and that such are a desirable class of people to do business with. They take this paper because they want it, not because it is forced upon them, and they can't get rid of it.

THE JOURNAL outsold all other papers in Oregon during the legislative session.
