BASEBALL CHALLENGE.

Salem Bartenders Desire a Match Game With the T. H. Artists.

The Salem bartenders have formed a baseball organization and have issued the following challenge to the t. h. artists of the capital:

"We the undersigned members of the Salem Bar Tenders baseball club, do hereby challenge the T. H. Artists baseball club, to a game of baseball on a date to be hereafter named. The following are the list of players of the bar tenders club:

Mel Hamilton—Capt. and manager.

Cliff Meilen—Catcher.

F. T. Neckerman—Pitcher.

Clell Nash—1st Base.

Geo. Gibson—2nd Base.

Frank Haas—3rd Base.

Joe Alken—S. S.

A. Klett—L. F.

N. Ferrell—C. F.

Geo. Kramer—R. F.

F. P. Talkington—Secretary.

Subs.—W. Benson, A. Conover, D. McFadden, and W. Davis.

As the t. h. artists have never organized a team, there is no question but that there is material in those following that business to form an unusually strong team.

As will be seen by the personnel of the bar tenders team, it is a heavy one in many respects and will be hard to beat. The JOURNAL would be pleased to see the "Knights of the Razor" accept the challenge immediately and put up an intensely interesting game. We predict they will give their robust competitors a close shave.

CORONER'S INQUEST

Held Over Mackey's Body—Jury's Verdict.

At the inquest over the remains of Eli Mackey, the young man who lost his life by the overland Tuesday night, the testimony of Conductor P. H. Tynan, James W. Jory, Willie F. Mackey, O. L. Darling, Alfred Gobalet, Frank Szedove and Dr. J. N. Smith, was received.

In a short time the jury rendered following verdict: "We find that Eli Mackey, was a native of Missouri, 20 years old, and he came to his death on the 11th day of May, 1897, by attempting to board the southbound overland while in motion; in so doing missed his footing, fell under the wheels and was crushed to death. And we further find that death was occasioned by his own deliberate act and no blame can be attached to railroad employees of the Southern Pacific company."

Signed—H. D. Patton, foreman, J. H. Cavannah, Isaac Miller G. G. Gaus, H. Cadwell, E. B. Smith.

REMAINS INTERRED.

Late Wednesday evening Coroner A. M. Clough, received a dispatch from John Mackay, of Walla Walla, father of the deceased, instructing him to have the remains interred at Salem. They were taken to the Rural cemetery.

HOUSE CLEANING.

The house-keepers of Salem are now in the throes of spring clean-ups, and many a home is being literally turned inside out when all is settled down they will want some new dishes to complete their supply. Graduating Class of Public Schools Will Visit Monmouth Friday.

The pupils of the Sacred Heart academy, accompanied by their instructors, spent the day most enjoyably in the oak grove just beyond the asylum. The young folks with faces beaming with anticipation of the many pleasures in store for them in a day's recreation in a delightful grove, went out on a special electric car at 9 o'clock this morning. They were pleasantly entertained for about an hour after arriving with music, kindly furnished by the asylum orchestra. At the noon hour a most delicious luncheon was spread and eagerly partaken of by the young folks. Games and other amusements followed and the merry party returned to the city about 4 o'clock this afternoon feeling much refreshed after their day's pleasant outing and feeling more like entering upon their school tasks with renewed vigor. This is an annual event in the life of the academy and it is looked forward to with a great deal of interest by the pupils.

TO VISIT MONMOUTH.

The members of the graduating class of the Salem public schools, for past few weeks have been contemplating taking an excursion to some delightful and suitable picnic grounds in the country and spend a day away from the constant din and monotonous routine of the school room. The class finally decided upon a visit to Monmouth.

The happy crowd of bright young people will leave Salem at 6 a. m. tomorrow in private conveyances for that educational center which they expect to reach in season for the opening session of the school. The forenoon will be spent visiting the Normal school.

Suitable picnic grounds will then be sought where luncheon will be had and the afternoon will be pleasantly spent. The young folks will be accompanied by their popular teacher, Prof. C. H. Jones, and expect to reach Salem on the return trip early Friday evening.

STATE HOUSE NEWS.

Governor Lord, Secretary Kincaid and Treasurer Metcham went to Derry to attend the funeral of the late J. J. McArthur of Portland.

The supreme court is at Pendleton and matters about the state house are very quiet.

E. P. McCornack of Salem was made a notary public today.

Ex-Governor Moody and Banker J. H. Albert also went to the McArthur funeral at Derry.

All county school superintendents have made their annual report to the state superintendent of public instruction, except Superintendent E. W. Daggett, of Gilliam county, where delay is occasioned by sickness, and the report will be forwarded in a few days.

County Judge Terrell and the resident engineer of the Southern Pacific will view the Santiam river near Golden's ferry, where the railroad and the county road were washed out last winter, with a view of taking concerted action looking to confining the river in its regular channel.

A Washington special says:—Complaint has been filed at the pension bureau against the Soldiers' Home, at Roseburg, Or., alleging that it is violating the revised statutes making it a misdemeanor for any one pledging or receiving as a pledge, the mortgage, sale, assignment or transfer to any right, claim or interest in any pension certificate, or to hold it as security for any debt or promise.

The bureau has made an investigation and exonerated the management of the home. The evidence shows that the home directors have required all pensioners to surrender their pensions to the treasurer of the home. Four dollars a month is then allowed each person for personal expenses, and the remainder is paid to dependent relatives; or, if there be none, the money is accumulated for the benefit of the pensioner. This practice is similar to that in operation at 21 other soldiers' homes.

The pension bureau takes the position that it is not expedient to intervene in the case, as the act of March 3, 1883, by implication, sanctions the requirements which have been enforced in most of the state soldiers' homes.

CASTORIA.

Burned in His Cabin.

GOLDENDALE, Wash., May 13.—Tom Firman, of Pleasant, arrived in Goldendale and reported to the county coroner that Wesley Williamson a bachelor and farmer, resident of Washington county, Or., had been found dead in the smoldering ashes of his cabin.

Suspicion seems to point to a well-known Kilkent Indian. One link is needed to complete the chain of evidence that will show the crimes of murder and arson, and possibly robbery.

Boundary to Be Fixed.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The necessary action for settling the vexatious dispute over the eastern boundary line of the Southern Ute Indian reservation, in Colorado, was taken when Samuel S. Gannett, of Maine, a topographer in the geological survey, was designated as special agent, at $10 a day, to fix the line permanently.

His instructions are to locate the intersection of the 107th meridian with the Mexico-Colorado boundary line. The work will begin immediately and upon its early completion the exact location will be proclaimed. The Utes claim the line is too far west.

The surplus of unallotted lands on that part of the reservation lying east of range 14 have been held up from opening to settlement pending the location for some time. Some 48,000 acres of land valued at $60,000 are involved in the advance between the present and claimed boundaries.
