Visit Salem.

A special train of five coaches, containing besides President C. P. Hantington, General Manager Kruttschnitt, Manager R. Kohler and Division, Supt. L. R. Field, of the Southern Pacific, reached Salem about 5 o'clock Thursday evening from Portland. The party remained in Salem until 6 o'clock this morning when they returned to Woodburn, en route to Albany via the East Side division. The party is returning to San Francisco after the annual inspection tour.

A Wood Train.

Adam Ohmart, has conceived a new scheme for transporting cord wood. Instead of the horse and whip he has adopted a steam engine and has built a large wood rack, the dimensions of which are 16 x 8 feet, so arranged that wood to the height of one and a half or two cords can be loaded there on. The wood-rack is placed upon substantial trucks. Mr. Ohmart's "wood train" requires the services of two men, an engineer and fireman, for its operation and equally as good time is made with the wood train as with the teams.

THE BEST.—Mayor J. W. Lyons of Garden Road addition to Lyons has produced the best strawberries seen at this office so far this year. His Barton Eclipse are a wonderful berry. The even size and perfectly even ripeness are what Lyons seems to aim at and it must be satisfactory to his customers. A consumer with a large mouth for strawberries, with strong jaws, and to have those jaws come together, each time on a large juicy mass of deep red highly flavored pulp respects a man like Lyons.

CHEMAWA MEETS DEFEAT.—The first baseball team, of the Chemawa Indian Training school, experienced its "Waterloo" on the home diamond, Thursday afternoon, when they met the St. Pauline. The game resulted 15 to 12 in favor of the St. Pauline. It was quite an interesting game, both teams doing very creditable work. On Saturday afternoon the Chemawa team will play the Multnomah nine on the Portland diamond.

L. A. Roberts, of Myrtle Point was appointed notary.

The Willamette Boating club of Portland filed articles of incorporation.

A Valuable Prize.

Dean S. T. Richardson, of the W. U. Law department, last evening conducted an examination before a class numbering fourteen. The student making the best record will be given a valuable set of books constituting the American and English Law Encyclopedia, which has been offered by an eastern publishing house through the university. Among those taking the examination are a number of prominent deputy Marion county officers. The papers have been submitted to an examination committee and the result will be known in a few days.

WELL DONE.—Supervisor Ohmart is doing his part towards smoothing up South Commercial street for Memorial day. He has had all the loose stones and rubbish raked up and carted off. The property owners along the street have rebuilt the sidewalks in some instances. But there are yet some bad walks and crosswalks, with rank growths of weeds and brush that ought to be cleared up and made passable.

ANNUAL TEACHERS INSTITUTE.

Marion County Pedagogues Will Hold a Two Weeks Session.

The annual institute for Marion county teachers will be held in the East Salem school building commencing Monday, June 14, and continuing for two weeks. County Superintendent G. W. Jones will preside and a very interesting and profitable session is anticipated.

The following announcement of the institute has been sent to the teachers of the county by Superintendent Jones:

"The Annual Teacher's Institute for Marion county, will open Monday June 14, and continue for two weeks. Teachers holding commissions in this county, and others who intend to teach here during the coming year, are expected to be present during the whole session if possible. There is an impression among teachers that the law requires but three days attendance at the county institute. Such is not the case. The superintendent of schools is required to hold an institute for at least three days; if one is held for a longer period, teachers are expected to attend it. Even if the law only required three days attendance it is to be hoped that no teacher would be satisfied to go back to his school with only three days preparation for the coming year's work.

Every effort has been made to provide competent instructors and devise plans to accommodate all classes of teachers and the success of the institute now depends upon the teachers of the county. You are respectfully urged to be present during the ten days of its continuance and share in its profits.

During the daily session of the Institute, Prof. Geo. A. Peebles, city superintendent of Salem public schools, will conduct the "Reviews" in U. S. history, arithmetic, spelling and in physiology. The purpose in these reviews being to assist those preparing for examination for teachers' certificates to make thorough preparation for such examinations, and, also, to get the benefit of the various methods of teaching and methods of illustration presented during the discussions of the daily lessons in these branches. In order that these reviews shall be profitable all of the teachers that are enrolled in these classes should review these branches in advance of the institute, and so come prepared to take hold vigorously in all of the work outlined under these subjects: Text-books in history, physiology, grammar, and arithmetic should be a part of the teacher's equipment to bring along with him to the institute, and not forgetting, also, to bring a tablet for taking notes."

A series of ten lessons will be devoted to the discussion of methods of teaching written arithmetic including practice work in branches of that study. Spelling and physiology will also be reviewed during the institute.

Prof. E. H. Anderson of this city will conduct reviews in grammar, geography and reading.

Special methods of teaching will be presented by Prof. Wm. H. Allen, principal of the training department of the State Normal school at Monmouth.

Mrs. Effie A. Allen, a teacher of special methods in the same institution, will conduct classes daily in methods of teaching the following branches: Reading, spelling, arithmetic, history, grammar, geography, science. The design of this course is to instruct the teachers, who do not feel a need of a review in the subject matter of these branches, in the methods and devices of presenting them to a class.

Miss M. J. Cosper, will have charge of a school of about thirty primary pupils and will illustrate primary methods by daily work in the school room.

Round table exercises will be conducted during the Institute by some of our live teachers.

A number of lectures have been arranged for to be given during the sessions of the institute and the following prominent educational workers have been secured to deliver one or more each: State Superintendent G. M. Irwin, Pres. W. C. Hawley, of Willamette university, and President P. L. Campbell, of the Monmouth State Normal school.

Water Troubles.

The Salem Water company and the mills of Salem are suffering some inconvenience in the matter of not having the usual amount of water in the ditch. A bar of gravel formed at the head of the ditch, in the Santiam, has been the cause, but this is being removed and the supply will soon be abundant. The water company has been pumping by steam for several days to keep up the high pressure, especially during irrigation hours, when immense quantities of water are needed. THE JOURNAL's press, which is run by water power from the mains, has had no inconvenience so far, which indicates that the pressure must be above 60 pounds.

The governor of Michigan has vetoed an anti-cigarette law.

FROM YAQUINA.

Work May Be Stopped on the Pioneer Stone Quarry.

The Pioneer stone quarry, in Lincoln county, is threatened to be tied up in litigation. A petition for a writ of injunction, restraining George W. Davis & Son from further operating the quarry, has been filed in the circuit court, department No. 2, here. The petitioners are J. H. Howell and J. M. Howell, owners of the quarry. The petition sets forth that Davis & Son, lessees, have not lived up to the contract, and are yet operating the mine in violation of the lease, and that stone is being taken from an adjacent quarry and sold under the name of Pioneer stone, in violation of the lessor's trade mark, filed in the office of secretary of state. Judge Burnett will hear arguments on the petition next Wednesday.

There are other quarries running near Toledo, one discovered by Wash Simpson.

Newport is enjoying quite a boom. The prospects of erecting a large auditorium for a summer school has sent real estate up so that people in the vicinity of Nye Creek are asking twice as much for lots as last year.

Oilsen addition is filling up with applications for summer cottages earlier than usual and that part of the town is holding its own. It is sheltered from wind and commands a beautiful view of the bay.

FINDS A CURIO.—C. W. Helander, who is a collector of curios, has just found one of peculiar interest. As he was digging under an old rotted out sill below the warehouse behind his place of business, he shoveled out a coin-shaped nickel tag with the following inscription on it "W. W. Sellers, 1214 Adams St., Peoria, Ill., K. P." It also bears the Pythian coat of arms, and was evidently nailed to a valise or trunk to identify the same. It must have been under there many years, as it required much polishing before the inscription could be made out. Charlie will refer it to the Peoria, K. P. lodge, and thinks it may be the key to some mystery.

A SEVERE CUT.—Last evening while pruning his roses, ex-Alderman W. T. Rigdon severely cut his left hand. His knife severed the cord of the second finger just below the knuckle, thus making the member powerless. This morning he had the cord stitched and drawn together, and hopes to save the finger from being permanently injured. He will carry his hand in splints for a few weeks.

RAFT ARRIVED.—Jack Hall, of Corvallis, arrived today at 12 o'clock with the material for the new O. C. & E. dock to be built at Salem immediately. The raft is 24x84, containing about 30,000 feet of lumber. The raft was delivered without a mishap, and left the Albany bridge at 1 o'clock, yesterday. The float went just three miles an hour.

GRADUATING EXERCISES.—W. J. D'Arcy and George Kraemer went to Lincoln this afternoon to attend the graduating exercises of the public school there. Winfield Sanford, of this city, has conducted the school and the address to the class was delivered by Mr. D'Arcy. A pleasant time was had.

NEEDS RAIN.—The hay crop and spring grain needs rain and will be short if they don't get it. This part of the Willamette valley has paid large sums of money the past year for hay and feed and unless rain comes soon will not have much to export.

BIMETALLICS.—There will be a first class program at the Bimetallic club meeting Saturday night at the W. C. T. U. hall on Court street. Good music. Everybody invited.

GREECE—May be "out of the race" but we are strictly in the race of supplying groceries at Salem. High grade goods always command ready sale.—Branson & Co.

FOURTH OF JULY.—Salem may not celebrate this national holiday this year, but the many hundred admirers of the 10 cent La Corona cannot part with that popular cigar.

A BUSINESS CHANGE.

The Pioneer Store of Salem Changes Hands.

The undersigned wishes to announce that he has sold the Pioneer grocery and crockery store to E. M. Rowley late of East Portland, who will continue the business at the old stand. I wish to thank the many who have patronized me in the past forty years, and feel safe in recommending to them my successor as an able, experienced business man, who will endeavor to treat all in the best manner known to the trade.

JOHN G. WRIGHT.

To the people of Salem: I shall take great pleasure in continuing the Pioneer store, and hope to merit the trade of old and new patrons by strict attention to business, and by offering the best goods in my line at prices that must convince the closest buyers. We shall close out the present crockery stock at a sacrifice, and it will pay all to come in and see our bargains.

E. M. ROWLEY.

GREECO-TURKISH

Latest Peace Negotiations.

Have Taken a Turn More Favorable to Greece.

LONDON, May 28.—The correspondent of the Times at Athens says:

The dispatches which the government has received from representatives of Greece abroad all indicate that the peace negotiations have a turn more favorable to Greece. Turkey's proposal to occupy Thessaly no longer receives consideration, owing to England's attitude, while the proposal to abolish the capitulations in the case of Greek citizens in Turkey is rejected and the suggested extradition treaty is apparently set aside.

The powers have fixed £5,000,000 as the highest limit of indemnity, and will allow only such a strategic alteration of the frontier as will not involve the subjects of any inhabited districts to Turkish rule.

PROTEST FROM GREECE.

ATHENS, May 28.—The Greek government has sent a memorandum to the powers, protesting against the indemnity demanded by Turkey, and also against the proposal of rectification of the Greek frontier.

It is reported the Turks have confiscated 12,500 bushels of wheat at Volo. The Turkish commander has issued a proclamation calling upon the peasants to return and gather the harvest or their crops will be confiscated.

TROUBLE LIKELY.

LONDON, May 28.—A dispatch to the Times from Constantinople says: The attitude of the grand vizier is the subject of much comment. He was regarded as merely the instrument of the sultan, but he now shows unexpected vigor as an advocate of an exacting policy toward Greece. The reply of the porte delivered last evening confirms the report that it would not discuss the conditions of peace.

The Salem Statesman intimates that Jo Simon is out of politics. For a man who is out he worries fellows a great deal who think they are still in. The Populist Eye, Burwell, Neb., says: Found, perpetual motion; "poverty makes rags, rags make paper, paper makes money, money makes banks, banks make poverty, etc."

BORN.

FISHER.—At the family home near Fruitland, Thursday, May 27, 1897, to Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Fisher, a son.

DIED.

VAN DORN.—At the state insane asylum, Thursday, May 27, 1897, Henry Van Dorn, aged 60 years, of heart disease.

Deceased was received at the asylum on the 20th inst. His remains were interred in Lee Mission cemetery this afternoon at 2 o'clock.
