BY HOFER BROTHERS.

SATURDAY, MAY 29, 1897.

Monday, May 31, will be obesrved as Memorial day, in Salem. Saturday was observed at Portland and Sunday will be observed by some communities. Business houses will be closed all the afternoon, of Monday, in this city.

The custom of decorating the graves of the fallen with flowers had its origin early in the war, and was observed by friends of the blue and gray alike. As early as 1862 the soldiers graves in the South were remembered. In the first year of the war, some little girls, in a town in Virginia, gathered baskets of flowers and covered their soldiers' graves. On the 16th of April, 1862, some ladies and a chaplain, from Michigan, were chatting together at Arlington Heights. They were talking about the horrors of the war, and one lady said: "How lonely and cheerless the bare graves of the soldiers look." Another proposed gathering some flowers and laying them on the graves of the Michigan soldiers that day. They did so—and the next year they decorated the same graves. The third year the same chaplain and ladies were in Fredericksburg, and they decorated the soldiers' graves there. So the beautiful custom grew and spread its influence with its flowers each year.

The idea of a general public demonstration orginated in the Empire state. A gentleman, then a general in the army, whose home was in Waterloo, consulted with a druggist of the place as to the propriety of inviting the whole town to take part in scattering flowers over the graves of their fallen camrades. The plan met with great favor, and on the 30th of May, 1866, thirty-one years ago now, hundreds of flags were flying at half-mast, draped with mourning, in the town of Waterloo.

The ladies met and made crosses and wreaths of flowers and bouquets. Then all joined in the procession and marched to the cemetery, where impressive services were held. This was the inauguration of the time honord Decoration day in New York state. Two years later, General John A. Logan, as commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued a command that the 30th of May should be observed as Decoration day throughout the United States.

The veterans who march now to quiet cemeteries each year to lay flowers on the soldiers' graves, will soon pass over the other side of the river where the soldier boys are. The Grand Army of the Republic each year very appropriately calls upon the school boys and girls to help them, for this is no common holiday but a day sacred to every person in the land.

"Strew flowers above the Nation's dead,
O, gather tenderly around;
With garlands deck their lowly bed;
Tread lightly o'er the hallowed ground,
For us they died—the brave, the true,
Peace hovers o'er each honored bed,
Sterw flowers above the Nation's dead."

The Vanishing Veterans.

Col. C. F. Ainsworth of the war department has figured it out that the grand army of the Republic will disappear in the following way:

Year.	Survivors.
1900	999,939
1905	820,687
1910	626,231
1920	251,727
1930	37,033
1940	340
1945	0

The colonel denies that the mortality rate is greater among old soldiers than among the rest of the people.

He says it is lower for the reason that the government gives them the preference in many lines of employment, removing them from the strain and stress of the competitive struggle, and pensions, which tend to give peaceful days to the old, at the same time tend to prolong life. The old soldiers in 1900 will be in round numbers 1,000,000, a tribute to the longevity of the American soldiery, for it will then be 35 year since the war closed. The pension expenditure, Col. Ainsworth estimates will be at its highest slightly after the year 1900 and from then on it will decline rapidly in bulk.

A War Relic.

Comarde Gus. Thomas of Sedgwick Post has preserved a copy of the "Daily Natchitoches Union," dated April 2, 1864. It is printed on the blank side of wall paper, hence is only a two-page paper of four colums each. The paper is yellow with age and was mailed from camp to Mrs. Mattie I. Thomas. On the lower margin is a note saying: "I send this paper to you to let you see what kind of paper the rebels use; and as the editor ran away when our boys arrived in town, the general detailed four men out of the ranks to run the press. "Mr. Thomas was one of the men." The paper contains many rare gems of facts and history and is a treasure worth preserving. It contains the call of President Lincoln for 200,000 more men, the order of President Lincoln appointing General Grant commander of the Union armies.

An item of rebel news reads: "Thirty of the forty soldiers, who mutinied in Fort Morgan have been shot." Here is an item that was to insignificant to have a head put over it: "Two men of the 48th Ohio and one of the 24th Iowa, were captured today within half a mile of our lines. One of the men escaped, and one was shot while attempting to escape." The head of the editorial page swings out old glory to indicate its politics and announces for President Abraham Lincoln of Illinois; for vice-president, Andrew Johnson, of Tennessee. It verily carries us back to the days of 1860.

Direct Legislation.

[A series of articles written for THE JOURNAL by Max Burgholzer, Buxton, Ore.]

EDITOR JOURNAL.—Your advocacy of direct lawmaking by the people is certainly appreciated by the friends of just government.

The actions of congress and legeslatures during recent years are convincing observing voters that some form of the initiative and referendum is imperatively a necessity as you said in your weekly of March 18.

History proves that governments by a few have always become more or less perfect machines for the subjugation and plunder of the many, and if the people of our United States would much longer delegate their lawmaking power entirely to a few representatives our government too would become just such a machine.

That the people of our union have been losing ground in their battle with the monopolists is plainly proven by the fact that the people are now trying to get laws passed which were once in operation but were repealed by our so-called representatives at the command of the few privileged wealthy.

For instance the people are demanding the free coinage of silver which we once had, they are demanding an income taxe, which was once successfully collected, they are demanding the issue of legal tender treasury notes of which the people once had a good supply and of which the bulk was ordered destroyed by plutocracy's servants in congress. There was once a federal tax on the capital and on the deposits of national banks. It was repealed.

There were once some taxes on bond and mortgages which were repealed.

These and dozens more of just laws were repealed during the past thirty years at the instigation of the plutocratic element and where we take into consideration that the wealth of the monoplist is fast increasing and with it their ability to bribe public officials, does it not appear probable that plutocracy will succeed in getting the remaining just state ane federal laws removed unless the people secure the referendum—the veto power.

While the referendum is needed to prevent the repeal of wholesome laws and the passage of vicious ones, the initiative is as necessary to force the passage of desirable laws opposed by the monopolist and to compel the repeal of class laws already upon our statute books, to secure reduction of official salaries, etc.

Naturally direct legislation will first be adopted for the regulation of state and county affairs. The people of our western states are ready to go thus far now. They have become thoroughly disgusted with their present helpless condition in which they can neither start nor stop any law with certainnity and future political conventions that will ignore direct legislation will in return be ignored by the people especially by Populists.

The correction of Oregon's state and county affairs through direct law making laws entirely within reach of the people of our own state and will in itself immensely benefit the people of our state.

The correction of national affairs can be but little advanced by the people of our state on account of our limited popolution especially under our present ballot law which enables pluctocracy to help its candidates for congress by ballot box stuffing, repeating and false counting of votes.

The Mount Lebanon Shakers have invented a great many valuable things. They were the first to make brooms by machinery; the first to put up seeds in little packages; the first to manufacture cut nails.

Now they are out with a method of curing dyspepsia by resting the stomach. Their remedy is known as the Shaker Digestive Cordial. It supplies food in an artificially digested form and at the same time aids the digestion of other foods in the stomach. In other words, by the use of the Shaker Digestive Cordial, a dyspeptic virtually gets gets along without the use of his stomach until it is restored to its natural strength and vigor. A single 10 cent bottle will oft-times give marked relief. Get a bottle from your druggist and try it.

Laxol is the best medicine for children. Doctors recommend it in place of Castor Oil.

There is at least one department in the public service that is well cared for, and that is the assessor's. Times are a little dull when there are not from two to four assessors on our streets. One prominent citizen reports having been assessed three times.

Beware of clean-handed Christian Billy Bryan. It took all the money that could be raised (perhaps $20,000,000) and all the skuduggery that could be practiced to beat that 37 year-old boy from Illinois, and he alone and single-handed.

A Salem butcher yesterday reports sixty sales that ranged from 5 to 15 cents. But he says he would rather sell a customer ten cents worth of meat and get his pay than sell half a dollars worth and never get his money.

Mr. Bonham, Judge Bonham, in fact Postmaster Bonham, give us poor ignored sinners down at this end of town one of those green boxes to drop our lettets in. We are modest. We don't want your whole postoffice, but just give us a letter box.

State house nepotism has been carried too far. The junior members of families of the official aristocracy are imposed as attendants at the insane asylum. Mere minors of state officials are forced onto the state payrolls. We have at times criticised Governor Lord's appointments and policies. But he has not appointed any of his family to state positions. He could just as well have a few of his children on the payrolls as others. But it seems he draws the line at that and the people respect him for it. The same class who press their families into the public service will also be found screening jobbery. They will never aid in uncovering wrong doings while participating in the fruits of nepotism. This same class howl loudest against civil service reform. It is time the people gave them a severe rebuke.

A BUSINESS CHANGE.

The Pioneer Store of Salem Changes Hands.

The undersigned wishes to announce that he has sold the Pioneer grocery and crockery store to E. M. Rowley late of East Portland, who will continue the busineas at the old stand. I wish to thank the many who have patronized me in the past forty years, and feel safe in recommending to them my successor as an able, experienced business man, who will endeavor to treat all in the best manner known to the trade.
JOHN G. WRIGHT.

To the people of Salem:
I shall take great pleasure in continuing the Pioneer store, and hope to merit the trade of old and new patrons by strict attention to business, and by offering the best goods in my line at prices that must convince the closest buyers. We shall close out the present crockery stock at a sacrifice, and it will pay all to come in and see our bargains.

INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION.

Y. P. S. C. E. Workers to Meet in San Francisco—A Circular Letter.

Indications are that many hundred Christian Endeavor workers of this state, will attend the international Y. P. S. C. E. convention, which will be held in San Francisco July 7 to 12, inclusive. Greatly reduced rates via steamer and railroad have been assured and the same will no doubt be generally accepted. It is the opportunity of a life time for persons residing on the coast who may ever expect to attend an international convention of this band of christian workers from the fact that it may be years before the convention will be held in another city west of the Rockies.

H. S. Gile, of this city, state president of the Oregon Y. P. S. C. E. has issued the following circular letter:

"One of the grandest opportunities of a life time is about to be offered to the young people, of the Pacific coast, in the great World's convention of young people, which is to be held in San Francisco, July 7 to 12. It is doubtful if, in the range of an ordinary life time, it will again be so near to the people, of Oregon, as it will be this year. Many of the greatest speakers of this and of many foreign countries will be present, and more than 1,000 of California's brightest young people have for more than two years been at work as a reception committee, formulating plans for the care and entertainment of the visitors. From 15,000 to 20,000 will come from the East, many of the far Eastern states will run their own special trains, some of which have already included Oregon in their itinerary.

"Oregon should take her place this year among her sister states with a representation which will demonstrate to the world that Oregon is populated (not with Indians and trappers, wholely) but with a brainy, civilized, up to date people, and we have a country of which we are justly proud. In no other way can Oregon so truly set herself right in the eyes of the world. Plans are nearly perfected for Oregon's transportation and hotel accommodations, and it is now safe to estimate that the entire trip may be made, including Portland and all points south, at a total cost of about $35."

If any of our readers contemplate making this trip full information will be cheerfully furnished by sending your name and address to H. S. Gile, Salem, Ore., President of Oregon C. E. Union.

All the prvileges of rates and all convention privileges will be offered freely to any who desire to take advantages of them, whether Endeavorers or not.

The motto of the Oregon Christian Endeavor Union, is "Oregon For Christ". The officers of the union are: Presideht H. S. Gile, Salem: First Vice President, Miss Addie M. Bristow, of Hillsborow; Second Vice President, B. L. Stowell, Union; Third Vice President, Miss Leona Shupe, Roseburg; Secretary, W. I. Staley, Salem; Treasurer, Fred Lockley, Jr Salem; Editor Endeavor, Will W. Brooks, Oregon City. The superintendents of the different departments are as follows: Junior—Rev. J. C. Templeton, Enterprise; Missionary, Rev. H. S. Wood, Shedds; Temperance, Mrs. Robert McMurphey Eugene; Good Citizenship, Rev. E. E. Thompson, McMinville; Floating Societies, Mrs. Mary E. PROSPERITY.

The Equal Distribution

Of the Volume of Business Makes It Appear Smaller.

NEW YORK, May 29.—R. G. Dunn & Co's Weekly Review of Trade shows that:

People are actually doing more business than they realize. They reckon by values, but these are much lower than in any previous years of prosperity, and leave little margin for profits. In quantity there is all most as much business being done in the years of the greatest prosperity, and though the increase in the population would call for a material expension, tht comparison is not discouraging. The recovery is slow, hesitating and gradual, but more has been done, on the whole, in May than in April.

TRADE LIGHT.

NEW YORK, May 29.—Bradstreet report says:

The result in the spring trade in staples, which is now over, are disappointing. The volume of seasonable merchandise distributed is less than expected, without taking into account an improvement in business, compared with a year ago. Nearly all of the Central Western and Southern trade centers report business very quiet. Dry goods continue depressed. Increased exports are reported from Pacific coast ports, but there is comparatively little gain in domestic trade, except in cattle, wool and hardware at Portland.

Meeting in Paris.

PARIS, May 29.—There were 300 delegates present at the annual meeting of the National Bimetallic league. Dohouty Fougoirol presided. M. Threy secretary of the league, read the report. The report said:

"The English horison is less dark than asserted. The presence of the American delegates in Paris may greatly hasten a solution of the question. France and America could easily come to an agreement, if England was inclined to serious effort in favor of silver, and Germany would follow her example. It is upon this that the question of international bimetallism, therefore, depends for its practical solution."

What an ordinary man eats and the way he eats it would be enough to give dyspepsia to an ostrich—unless the ostrich were wise enough to assist his digestion from time to time with an efficient combination of vegetable extracts. Such a preparation is Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are the pills par excellence for those who sometimes eat the wrong things and too much. They stimulate action in all of the digestive organs. They stop sour stomach, windy belchings, heartburn, flatulence and cure constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, indigestion, sick headache and kindred derangements.

They are gentle, but prompt in removing offending matter from the stomach and bowels, and have none of the unpleasant features of other pills. They do not gripe and cause no violent shock to the system.

One little "Pellet" is a laxative. Two are mildly cathartic. One taken after dinner insures perfect digestion, sound sleep and an absence of foul breath in the morning.

They are unlike ordinary pills, because you do not become a slave to their use. They not only afford temporary relief, but effect a permanent cure.

Once used they are always in favor.

Your name and address on a postal card will bring a free sample package of 4 to 7 doses. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

CAUTION.—Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets—it's an easy name to remember. Don't let some designing dealer persuade you to take some pills represented as "just as good." He makes more profit on the "just as good" kind. That's why he prefers to sell them. That's the reason why you better not take them.

Good Blood

Is essential to health. Every nook and corner of the system is reached by the blood, and on its quality the condition of every organ depends. Good blood means strong nerves, good digestion, robust health. Impure blood means scrofula, dyspepsia, rheumatism, catarrh or other diseases. The surest way to have good blood is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine purifies, vitalizes, and enriches the blood, and sends the elements of health and strength to every nerve, organ and tissue. It creates a good appetite, gives refreshing sleep and cures that tired feeling. Remember,

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier.

Hood's Pills cure Liver Ills; easy to take, easy to operate. 25c.
