EXERCISES

Held at Reed's Opera House

An Excellent Program Presented—Rev. Gue's Address.

Before 7:30 o'clock Monday evening every available seat and nearly all the standing room in both the main auditorium and gallery of Reed's opera house were filled with an appreciative audience. The exercises presented fitting conclusion to the services of the day.

The committee to whom is due the credit of decorating the opera house with flowers, bunting and the "Red White and Blue" consisted of Mrs. Lucretia Burton, Mrs. Lou Smith and Mrs. Annie Matthews; Messrs. E. K. Hall, L. D. Henry, H. I. Brown and C. Daniels.

Major D. C. Sherman, State Commander of the G. A. R., officiated as presiding officer and after welcoming the large audience that had assembled to enjoy the evening's exercises, announced that owing to the unusually long program it was desired that no encores be given as they would not be considered.

Rev. A. Kershaw, pastor of the Leslie M. E. church was introduced and formally opened the exercises with a fervent prayer. Misses Nina Bushnell and Mabel Heritage followed in a vocal duet, "One Flag, One Country Still" and were warmly applauded.

The flag drill as executed by sixteen little girls dressed in snowy white from the Park school, was a beautiful exercise and the young "color-bearers" were warmly received.

Little Miss Dolly Mead acquitted herself very creditably in the recitation with solo parts, entitled "The Soldier's Cradle Hymn."

Prof. R. A. Heritage was next heard in a vocal selection, "Barbara Fritchie," in which one of the most thrilling events in the military life of General "Stonewall" Jackson was recited in song. The selection received its merited recognition at the hands of the delighted audience.

The recitation "Why We Would Not Sell the Farm," by Miss Bessie Buckingham was a clever bit of impersonation for one so young.

The Decoration day drill by forty-eight pupils of the North school, all appropriately attired in national colors, though rather long, was very creditably enacted. The individual and concert recitations, choruses and marches were especially good and exhibited a great amount of preparation.

In the unavoidable absence, owing to sickness, of the quartette from the East school, Miss Mattie Southwick very happily filled the vacancy with a beautiful solo, "Lay Him Like a Soldier," which was sung with expression. The number won a hearty applause from the audience.

Miss Adda Pugh, in her recitation of "Kentucky Belle," again distinguished herself as an accomplished elocutionist.

A feature of the evening was the selection "Home Sweet Home," as presented by the "Cardinal Quartette." This company of talented vocalists consists of Misses Ethel Hughes, Oakie Matthews, Genevieve Hughes and Esther Collins. "Aunt Melissa On Boys" was the selection by Miss Musa Geer, in which were recited the mischievous performances of "Hezekiah." The recitation received a generous applause as is invariably the case when Miss Geer, recites.

Rev. G. W. Gue, D. D. of Portland, who had been invited to deliver the address of the evening, was next introduced but owing to the lateness of the hour declined making an address but the hundreds who were anxious to hear the gentleman insisted that he make a few remarks to which he consented. The address, though short, was an eloquent one in which the speaker dwelt on the plan of educating the younger generation to the highest conceptions of patriotism and impress them with what constitutes good citizenship.

In all, the exercises of the day were a decided success and the program at the Reed in the evening was a fitting finale to the impressive ceremonies of the day.

An Unusually Large Law Class Being Examined

At 1 p. m. sharp Clerk J. J. Murphy of the supreme court called the roll of those intending to be examined at this term.

Prior to this the court had ordered following entries for the day: U. R. Burrows et al vs. J. H. Parker respondent, appeal from Baker county. M. L. Omssted for appellant. W. F. Butcher, affirmed by Bench, J.

In Falconio vs. Larsen, motion for rehearing overruled.

THE LAW CLASS were seated at tables about the court room by Bailiff Perrine and State Librarian Putnam. They were given a legal cap sheet of paper closely typewritten with the examination for admission.

Age, name, address, with whom or where have you studied law, and similar inquiries preceded the problems in juridical science that followed. Those answering to roll call were: L. L. Langley, H. T. Bagley, John W. Reynolds, B. F. Jones, W. A. Moore, Roswell L. Conner, Arthur McPhillips, W. C. Fischer, Conrad W. Durette, Frank Holmes, Chas. A. Wintermeier, C. E. Dentler, Geo. A. Hall, James Watson, E. H. Belknap, Wm. Thomas Gardner, J. B. Eddy, W. J. Freeman, R. J. Hendricks, B. K. Sargent, Dexter Price, Robt. L. Stevens, W. P. Adams, Robert S. Farrell, Chas. M. Kahn, L. L. Paget, Orville M. Rankin, John Gebbie, A. M. Shannon, Frank Schlegel, H. B. Holman, Narcisse Conn, James C. Menzies, W. J. Moore, James P. Moffatt, J. G. Phillips, Wm. A. Sprout, Robt. W. Galloway, F. O. Burekhardt, Nelson H. Carter, Reuben F. Robinson, W. G. Hayes, J. W. Rowland, K. K. Kubli, C. Schaefer, Florence Olsen, Harry E. Northup, Clarence H. Gilbert, G. O. Nolan, F. H. Coyne, Gustavus A. Wickander, John Van Zante, Carrie M. Scherer, 53 in all.

A novel feature in this class was the presence of two ladies, their handsomely trimmed spring hats waving over the uncovered aspirants like the plumes of Henry of Navarre, beckoning them on to conquests in the arena of legal science.

The examinations will not be concluded before 5 o'clock. A few of the students will be dismissed tonight, but the result of the examinations will not be known until noon, Wednesday.

Chief Justice F. A. Moore conducts the examination, but all the justices will pass upon the papers submitted. The class contains some of the best public men of the state and in all as bright and keen a collection of law students as could be found in the world.

SUCCESSFUL EMBALMING.

Mrs. Maurer's Body Goes Safely Nearly Four Thousand Miles.

The following gratifying letter was received today by Olinger & Rigdon the Court street undertakers. Mrs. Maurer died on the 15th of May, and was shipped on the 18th via the Northern Pacific Railroad, during the hottest weather we have had this year. Mr. Rigdon regarded this the most difficult subject he has ever handled, owing to the peculiar conditions attending death, and the climatic influences with which he had to contend, therefore the letter is the more gratifying.

CLIFFORD, Ontario, May 26, 1897. Messrs. Olinger & Rigdon: DEAR SIRS:—I am very glad you sent me a letter explaining what you had done with the body of Mrs. Maurer, which was shipped here. In the first place it was almost in a perfect condition. When I removed the face cloths there was a little purging from the mouth, but nothing was even soiled or discolored.

All her old friends knew her. Mr. Maurer was very much pleased with her appearance. There was not the least odor when I opened the casket. The remains arrived here Monday at 10 a. m., buried Tuesday, May 25, 2:30 p. m., in excellent condition, and a very large funeral.

Trusting you may be as fully successful in all cases as you have been in Mrs. Maurer's, for which her family feel grateful.

I remain yours sincerely, J. B. ROBINSON, Undertaker.

Republicans to Meet.

CINCINNATI, June 1.—President D. Woodmansee and Secretary Major Dowling have issued a call for the 10th annual convention of the National Republican League, at Detroit, July 13. Each state and territory is entitled to four delegates from each congressional district, and six delegates-at-large.

The business of the convention includes reports from retiring officers, the election of officers, the designation of the time and place for the next national convention, consideration of amendments to the constitution, and discussion of plans for club work and organization. There will be an evening mass meeting, addressed by Republican leaders, on national affairs. The call says:

"This convention will be the 10th anniversary of the formation of the National Republican League, and it will be celebrated by a reception in honor of the ex-presidents of the league, all of whom will be in attendance.

"We cannot estimate the importance of this convention to the Republican party. Our victory of last year does not guarantee permanency of power. We must keep our organization well equipped for the contest of 1898, when we will again vote for members of congress. In many of our state elections this year, the members of the United States senate are at stake, and as our majority in that body can be hardly seen by the close observer, it behooves us to fortify ourselves against the enemy.

"Let us come together in large numbers at Detroit for the purpose of reviving and enlarging our political enthusiasm, so that we may return to our homes better qualified to defend Republican principles and better able to carry out the purposes of the league."

Silenced.

ST. PAUL, June 1.—A Winnipeg special to the Dispatch says: Communication with Duck lake was resumed when the Dispatch correspondent, with the mounted police, who have been besieging the four Indian murders including the desperado Almighty Voice, sent the following message.

"The Prince Albert volunteers got impatient and prevailed on the officer in charge to allow them to rush up the bluff, where the outlaws were hiding. They were lead by Dr. William Drain, James McKay, Q. C., and Police Officers Wilson and McDonald. In the first rush they did not find the hiding places of the Indians and they again went through, killing the only remaining Indian. Almighty Voice and another Indian were killed by shells from a nine-pounder. No further casualties occurred on our side. The farther of Almighty Voice is under arrest here as accomplice. No further trouble is anticipated.

Five Killed.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Five people were killed and a number injured in an accident at Valley Stream, Long Island. A trolley, with a party of 21 excursionists from the Green Haven Baptist church, of Brooklyn, which started out for a day's outing through Long Island, was struck by a train on the Long Island road, at Merrick boulevard crossing.

Fifteen were more or less injured. Some of the dead were frightfully mangled. The crash came almost without a moment's warning, and the occupants of the coach had no time to make any effort to escape. Before the most of them knew of the impending danger the train was upon them, the coach upset and the engine pushing it along the rails, the dead and injured being cut and mangled beneath it.

Convicts Defiant.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. June 1.—The situation, regarding the recalcitrant convicts at San Quentin prison, remains unchanged, and the officials have taken steps to test the temper of their charges, who will maintain their defiant attitude and make as much noise as possible whenever one of the guards or Warden Hale shows himself in the vicinity of the cells where the strikers are confined. Despite the fact that he has expressed the opinion that the subordinates are weakening, Warden Hale has doubled his guards and armed every available man within his precincts with shotguns, while Gatling guns are trained upon the quarters occupied by the mutineers, ready to be utilized the moment any sign of an outbreak is made by those within the tanks.

Chicagoans Will Fight Trust Bills. CHICAGO, June 1.—At a big mass meeting in Central music hall last evening resolutions were passed denouncing the gas trust and street railroad bills before the legislature, and calling on the legislators in the name of decency, honesty, justice and American principles to defeat these measures.
